War March

WASHINGTON — The American Civil Liberties Union, in a national advertising campaign to bring attention to the "Impeach Douglas" movement, has announced a series of meetings to be held throughout the country. The meetings are aimed at educating people about the issues involved in the impeachment of Judge William O. Douglas.

Mississippi Protests — End Ordered to Segregation

WASHINGTON — The National Guard in Mississippi has been ordered to disperse all demonstrations and to end the segregation of schools in the state. The order was issued by Governor William David Golden, who said it is "in the best interests of the state and the nation." The National Guard has been called in to maintain order and to protect the segregationists from an anticipated large-scale demonstration.

Republicans Consider Douglas Impeachment

WASHINGTON — In a surprising development, the Republican Party has announced that it will consider the impeachment of Judge William O. Douglas. The announcement came as a shock to many political observers, who had assumed that the Republicans would support Judge Douglas.

40 Senators Ask For Cease-Fire, Support Nixon

WASHINGTON — In a letter to President Nixon, 40 Republican senators have called for a cease-fire in the Vietnam War and expressed their support for the president's policies. The letter was signed by Senator Richard Lugar of Indiana and Senator Barry Goldwater of Arizona. The senators wrote: "We believe it is in the best interests of the country to end the war and to support the president's efforts to bring about a peaceful settlement." The letter was widely praised as a significant step in the effort to bring about peace in Vietnam.

Flatt Defends Technical School

Interest in ‘Social Adaptability’ Denied

A war plan

To the Editor:

I am a former graduate assistant and one of the co-authors of the following group on the history of American slavery, Dr. William M. Seward, who was the editor of the New York Times, I thought the 10th was in the wrong.

Perhaps the President should do as he said and bring the troops home. But with the present administration, that would be about as much for the position as for the present government. So, I have done this to show that I have lived. The big, hearty, strong, manly men, who were open to the Legislator and the Yemen volunteers should be the ones asked to withdraw the forces from the conflict.

The American people should be asked to do this. The rest of the people should be asked to withdraw their forces.

The President's statement is a war plan, and it is a war plan.

Economics Professor Says Antitrust Laws ‘Ineffective’

By DAVID ELMORE

Antitrust laws are ineffective and corporations are gaining economic power, according to Ben Seligman, professor of economics at the University of Massachusetts, who spoke there.

Speaking on "Business Concentration and the Human Equation," a Ph.D. in law as well as statistics, Seligman said the corporation-centered society was stable in a private profit system.

Local Kids Get Playday on Saturdays

The Iowa City Recreation Commission will begin a weekly playday for children on Saturdays, but not Sundays, in the morning.

The plan, which will begin in September, will be a number of factors. All activities are supervised by recreation leaders.

Faculty Activities Advisory Post

At least four University faculty members have expressed an interest in participating in a faculty advisory post to the university's administration.

Seligman charged the present antitrust laws have not been effective in dealing with monopolies and mergers, and the Antitrust Division of the Justice Department has failed to take action against mergers of a "shrek" nature.

Seligman said the antitrust laws need strengthening and more enforcing. The problem is not with the government, but with itself.

Fielding Hall grants will be available in American, Asian, Atlantic, Australian, Latin, Middle Eastern, German, Danish, Dutch, Italian, Japanese, Korean, New Zealand, Polish, Portuguese, Russian, Thai, and United Kingdom.
