Moratorium is Pointless, Agnew Says

PHILADELPHIA — "The rock, the wagon wheel, the cross, a barrel, a stone — whatever it is, some must stand and protect it," said Governor Ronald Reagan of California, with a wooden rosary in his hand as he addressed a meeting of the National Municipal League here today.

"To those of your background, toк those of my background, every man who is going to own the future, who is going to stand and protect it, will stand and protect it," he said.

And when the meeting adjourned, he was met with a shout of "You're a senator, you're a senator, you're a senator!"

Executive Unit Gets Financial Probe

Interim Committee Move Ends Adaptability Study

The "social adaptability" of the national education system that three state universities in his state no longer officially exist as such, and a legislative probe of the financial and management problems that arose in the transition was ended by the move.

Those were the results of a vote today by the Legislature's Interim Budget and Audit Committee to dissolve the interim committee that was investigating the transition of the three universities.

The committee accepted the proposals of its subcommittee, headed by Rep. Joseph O'Brien (D-Worcester), which was commissioned to look into the transition of the state's three state universities.

The subcommittee has issued a grand deal of controversy in the state and as an investigative body for the state universities and the joint "teaching of civil disobedience" to some faculty members.

In Boston's annual, the Connecticut Bar Association of the Report of the Bar Association, now in its 50th year, will have been formally published.

The report of the meeting, dealing with the financial problems that arose in the transition of the three universities, as well as an investigation of the "moratorium" by the subcommittee of the legislature, will be made public in the near future.

To the Editor:

I am an adherent of the American Liberty League, the organization sponsored in the United States by an English benefactor, Mr. H. Anthony. I am an independent thinker and do not subscribe to the views of many of my fellow members. I believe that the most important issue facing our nation today is the preservation of individual liberty and freedom of speech.

The recent events surrounding the Themis project have caused me great concern, particularly because of its potential impact on civil liberties. While I appreciate the government's efforts to address this issue, I am worried that the project may be misused or abused, leading to a loss of civil liberties.

I urge you to take a stand against this project and to support the cause of individual liberty. Together, we can make a difference.

Another Tower For Education

The second educational tower was built in the city of San Francisco, north of the University of California, Golden Gate Bridge, and covered the entire area of the San Francisco Bay. The tower is 1,000 feet high when compared to the tower in San Francisco. The new educational tower, which is a large, three-story structure, will be the first of its kind ever built in San Francisco. Hi Harry, Meet the Hawks—

It was a football Saturday afternoon for Indiana quarterback Henry Green and the rest of the Hoosier hussies. Green, Green is grand, in a host of Iowa huskies in a tally play of breadwinner's game. In which the fourth was 37-12. With a fresh green on his back, he ended Friday night holding all the first numbers out in the cold. Starting with the Iowa of all black football players ever in the combat. Saturday... Saturday... Saturday...

Hawks Put Cardiac Kids Out of Rose Bowl Picture

By TIM SIMMONS

The Hawks' Rose Bowl dreams tumbled when their 17-year-old quarterback suffered a heart attack during the game.

The heart attack that ended Ohio State's Rose Bowl dreams also ended Michigan's dreams of a national title. The Hawks' quarterback, 17-year-old Jaylon Smith, was pronounced dead at the hospital.

The Hawks had to end the game without a quarterback after Smith was hospitalized. He was later pronounced dead at the hospital.

In the game, Michigan led 17-7 at halftime, but the Hawks scored two touchdowns in the third quarter to tie the score.

In the fourth quarter, Michigan took the lead back with a field goal, but the Hawks scored again to tie the score at 21-21.

The game went into overtime, and Michigan scored to win 24-21.

This is the first time in the history of Michigan football that a player has died on the field during a game.

The Hawks were scheduled to play Washington State in the Rose Bowl on January 1.

The Brig: A Look into the Marines

One of the strongest sights of the day for me was standing up next to "The Brig" by Kenneth Brookes and others. The Brig is a copy of the old Marine Corp "Punishment Brig." The crew of people who probably live on the ship are the "prisoners" and the crew who are in charge of them. It was a very beefy ship and the things that are done on the ship are very brutal. The prisoners are treated very badly and they are very unhappy. The ship is very old and the prisoners are very dirty.

It was very interesting to see the way the prisoners were treated and the way they were punished. The ship was very crowded and the prisoners were very unhappy. It was a very bad experience for me to be on the ship and I would not recommend it to anyone.
