UI Senate Formulating ROTC Bill

Student Senate voted to establish a committee to formulate a referendum on the question of ROTC on campus at its meeting Tuesday night.

A committee of volunteers was formed after the meeting to attempt to set up the referendum "as soon as possible."

The resolution, proposed by William Bloomquist, A2, Des Moines, passed by a unanimous voice vote.

The resolution came at the end of nearly two hours of debate on the question of ROTC on campus.

During the discussion, some of the senators questioned whether a resolution by last year's Senate which called for the abolition of ROTC here was still binding. Student Body Pres. Robert Beller claimed that the old resolution was still in effect and the discussion ended.

Another point discussed was whether disruption of ROTC interfered with the rights of those students who wish to participate in ROTC functions.

Both Randall Stephenson, A3, Des Moines, and Beller claimed that "something" disruptive would occur at the Governor's Day festivities Saturday. Iowa Gov. Robert Ray is scheduled to appear at a ROTC drill for the Governor's Day activities.

Much discussion at the meeting centered on a statement announcing the student boycott scheduled for today and calling for "nonviolent disruption" of ROTC, made by Beller.

Some senators wanted to accept Beller's statement while others interpreted his support of "nonviolent disruption" as adding to an "explosive" situation. This judgment referred to the demonstrations against ROTC in Iowa City this week.

The Senate decided not to endorse Beller's statement, but did, in another action, endorse the proposed student boycott.

In another action Tuesday night, former Student Body Pres. James Sutton, G, Iowa City, newly-appointed Senate research director, outlined some proposed research projects for this summer.

Among Sutton's proposals was research on the creation of a corporation to take over such offices as the Union and Student Health. Sutton claimed that such a corporation should be composed of students and faculty members, and that it would not overlap with the present corporation, Iowa Student Agencies, Inc. (ISA).

ISA, a non-profit corporation to provide student services, was created by Senate, and was finalized in February, 1970.

ISA, according to Sutton, was created to give students independent financial autonomy and to initiate projects the administration wouldn't touch.

Judiciary Committee Approves Blackmun

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee unanimously approved Tuesday the Supreme Court nomination of Judge Harry A. Blackmun, President Nixon's third choice to fill a year-old vacancy.

The 17-0 committee vote pointed toward early Senate confirmation of the 61-year-old Rochester, Minn., judge, a close friend of Chief Justice Warren E. Burger.

Majority leader Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) said it is possible the Senate may consider the nomination Friday.

In Rochester, Blackmun said he was "deeply honored by the action of the Judiciary Committee." Referring to last week's hearing on his nomination, he said "each and every member of that committee, while penetrating in examination, was most kind and considerate to me."

Blackmun, a member of the 8th U.S. Court of Appeals since 1959, was nominated by Nixon on April 15 after the Senate had rejected two Southern judges, Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. of South Carolina and G. Harrold Carswell of Florida.

A crowd of protesters block the intersection of Washington and Clinton Streets. The car was forced to go west on Washington by the crowd. The intersection was blocked after a pentacrest rally, protesting the Cambodian invasion, was concluded. In the early part of the evening, after the rally, a maximum of 10 intersections were blocked at one time. The crowd later moved to Riverside Drive below Hillcrest Dormitory and blocked it for a period of time. —Photo by John Avery

City Council Gives Mayor Emergency Curfew Power

In the wake of increased protests and violence in the Iowa City area, the City Council rushed passage Tuesday of a measure which increases the mayor's power during emergency situations.

At a meeting of city officials, law enforcement officers and University representatives about possible incidents at Saturday's Governor's Day ceremony, the Council decided to call a special meeting.

At the "meeting within a meeting," the Council unanimously passed an ordinance giving Mayor Hickerson the power "in times of emergency" to invoke a curfew. Under the ordinance, Hickerson could enforce the curfew, binding on all persons under 21 years of age, for as long as he deemed necessary.

The Council also authorized City Atty. Jay Honohan to seek a District Court injunction which would enable law enforcement agents to charge people participating in violence or destruction of property with contempt of court.

Hickerson said the Council was not establishing a curfew, but just creating the power to set one. He said sufficient notice would be given through the news media before a curfew would go into effect.

As of Tuesday night, Hickerson had not called for a curfew and said he hoped he would not have to.

Council rules were suspended to pass the curfew ordinance immediately. Three readings at three successive Council meetings are the usual procedure for adopting an ordinance. The ordinance was given three readings at the meeting.

The immediate passage of the ordinance was protested by several people attending the meeting.

Calvin Pryluck, G, Iowa City, told the Council that people should be given the opportunity to express opinions before the adoption of the ordinance since the Council was giving the mayor power usually delegated to higher executive authority, such as the governor or the President.

Pryluck said he did not worry specifically about the power in the hands of Hickerson, but about the power in the hands of succeeding mayors.

Pryluck also said the protesters were just charged and passing laws (the ordinances) on the basis of "alleged" charges goes "outside the bounds of American practice."

Strongly supporting the ordinance, Hickerson said the Council was acting to protect the property and citizens of the city. He said the Council felt they were acting as the "overwhelming majority" of the people would want.

The curfew injunction motion was passed four to one with Councilman J. Patrick White voting against it. White said he did not want to invoke an injunction which would make it unlawful to be present at a demonstration.

The Council defended the passage of the two measures, saying they were giving law enforcement officers "tools to keep order."

Johnson County Sheriff Maynard Schneider Tuesday censured the University for not taking care of the protest problems, saying, "The time for dilly-dallying is over. The time has come for action."

Schneider said two of his men had broken legs because of last night's activities.

The sheriff's office said Tuesday that two Johnson County deputies were injured, one with a broken leg. David Akerman suffered the broken leg and Gary Hughes was treated and released from University Hospitals with a bruised shoulder. Akerman said Tuesday night that he thought a Scott County deputy had also sustained a broken leg.

Mayor Loren Hickerson issued a statement Tuesday morning concerning the city's position on the passage of measures preventing and punishing unlawful acts. The statement is reprinted in full on page two of today's Daily Iowan.

Ask to Halt Ceremony

In a brief but pointed statement, the Faculty Council Tuesday urged University Pres. Willard Boyd to cancel ceremonies scheduled for Saturday in conjunction with Governor's Day.

The Council's statement expresses fear that planned activities would "all too likely" become an occasion for further violence on campus. The vote on the resolution by the Council was unanimous.

The Council's statement reads: "In the light of recent events on this and other University campuses — as well as on the international scene — the University Faculty Council urges the President to cancel the Governor's Day ceremonies on Saturday, May 9th. "The Council believes that this position is consonant with the President's expressed concern for maintaining peace on this campus."

Windows Broken Tuesday

By LOWELL FORTE
Fifty-one persons — mostly University students — were arrested early Tuesday when a rock and firecracker throwing incident at the men's dormitories mushroomed into a student-police confrontation.

The Iowa City National Guard Armory, the Civic Center and at least a dozen downtown businesses were struck by violence which was apparently in protest over the killing of four Kent State University students by Ohio National Guardsmen early Monday.

The 51 appeared Tuesday morning before Judge Marion R. Neely in Iowa City Police Court on charges of disorderly conduct.

Of the 51, 20 pleaded guilty, were released on their own recognition and are to appear for pre-sentence hearing May 15. City Atty. Jay H. Honohan requested the hearing. The remaining 31 students pleaded innocent and their bonds were set at $200 each.

A complete list of the names of those charged will appear in tomorrow's Daily Iowan.

The night of unrest started with the rock and firecracker throwing incident between Reinow I and the Quadrangle men's dormitories at about 11:45 p.m. Monday.

After the crowd of students swelled to 300 or 400, it moved across the Iowa River into the main University campus and then moved south toward the Iowa City National Guard Armory, located at the corner of Dubuque Street and Kirkwood Avenue.

Although some demonstrators attempted to persuade the crowd of 400 to 500 not to throw rocks, over 50 windows were broken. Several students attempted to batter the armory with railroad ties.

Once in the downtown area, about 55 to 75 students started a sit-in in the College and Dubuque Street intersection. Meanwhile, a crowd estimated at 400 converged at the Clinton Street and Iowa Avenue intersection and broke several windows — at Iowa Book and Supply. There were approximately 50 riot-equipped policemen on Iowa Avenue at this time.

At about 2 a.m., the police moved about a block and a half east of Iowa Avenue and the crowd moved onto the Pentacrest.

Once there, attempts were made to break into Old Capitol, but they failed. Smiley and Iowa City Police Detective Ron Evans entered the building and turned on the lights. Smiley, speaking from a second story window, pleaded with the crowd to disperse.

As the crowd moved toward the Civic Center, windows were either cracked or broken at Whetstone's Drug Store, Iowa Book and Supply, Hawkeye Book Store, The Red Ram, Bremers, the Dey Building, Iowa State, Bank and Trust Co. Fuiks Jewelers, Herten & Stocker Jewelers, Hagen's Appliance, First National Bank and the Post Office.

Meanwhile, the students at College and Dubuque continued to block traffic. No police action was taken until about 2 a.m. when 20 Iowa Highway Patrolmen and Johnson County Sheriff's officers marched into the intersection and broke the crowd up. Several students were arrested, some had their hands bound with tape and all were marched to the Civic Center.

Johnson County Sheriff Maynard Schneider, who led the law officers, stayed at the scene and attempted to persuade the rest of the crowd to leave. The crowd swelled from about 25 people to over 300 and started moving toward the Civic Center at about 2:30 a.m.

Upon arriving at the Center, the crowd was met by a line of police surrounding the building. Three times the crowd inched toward the police, who countered by charging into the crowd. Each time a number of rocks were thrown breaking several Civic Center windows and injuring two Johnson County Sheriff's deputies.

Finally, the order went out that everyone was to clear the area or be subject to arrest. As the police moved in, the crowd retreated to the Clinton and Washington Street intersection.

The police formed a line one block east of the demonstrators, at the intersection of Dubuque and Washington Streets. It was a virtual standoff for about one hour. Then about 3:45 a.m. some 22 Highway Patrolmen and sheriff's deputies called in from Linn and Scott counties started marching around the corner of Capitol Street, east on Washington Street and toward the crowd, which at the time numbered from 150 to 200.

These officers were met at the intersection by those from the Washington and Dubuque Street intersection. The order was again made that the area "must be cleared and all those not leaving will be arrested."

By 4 a.m., the crowd had completely dispersed.

Students Roam City After Rally

By STAFF WRITERS
A confrontation between police and students on the south edge of the Pentacrest was avoided Tuesday night after police had tried to clear all students of the streets.

The Pentacrest area was a virtually empty of students at 11:15 p.m., when a squad of about 70 sheriff's officers from throughout the eastern part of the state marched to Clinton Street south of Washington Street and formed ranks.

"You have been advised to leave the area within five minutes. Those of you who do not will be subject to arrest," an officer announced over a bullhorn.

About 50 students collected in the area and began heckling the officers. At 11:30, the officers made a move as if to leave the area, then lunged back towards the Pentacrest.

At that time, about 30 Iowa City policemen joined the ranks of the sheriff's officers.

More students gathered in the area while protest leaders tried to organize and calm the crowd, and city and law enforcement officials conferred at the intersection.

City Manager Frank Smiley and Johnson County Sheriff Maynard Schneider suggested that city police would leave the area if students agreed to remain on the Pentacrest lawn and off the streets.

Protest leaders also agreed to this proposal and all policemen left the area shortly after midnight. At 1 a.m. Wednesday, about 150 students remained in the area.

Earlier, crowds estimated at from 300 to 3,000 blocked traffic on Highway 218 at the Iowa Avenue and Burlington Street intersections, and there were unconfirmed reports of looting of some downtown stores.

Only one arrest had been made as The Daily Iowan went to press Tuesday night. Iowa City police reported the arrest of one student, Douglas Baker, A2, Dubuque, for disorderly conduct. The Johnson County sheriff's office said its officers had made no arrests.

After an early evening rally at the Pentacrest, a crowd of some 300 persons started down Iowa Avenue saying they intended to block traffic on Highway 218. The crowd eventually swelled to an estimated 1,000, then spread to the intersection of Burlington Street and Riverside Drive (218).

Some members of the crowd proceeded to direct traffic away from the clogged areas.

Witnesses said two men in a dark-colored Dodge were stopped as they approached the Burlington Street intersection from the south, but they were allowed to pass when the driver of the car yelled, "I've been to Vietnam a couple of times and I've got a loaded .45 in the back seat."

As the car drove north toward the Iowa Avenue intersection a brick went through its windshield, striking the driver on the side of the head. Witnesses said the two men then exchanged seats and the crowd parted to allow them to drive to the hospital.

Nearly 3,000 persons earlier Tuesday evening had attended a "non-violence rally" called after violent demonstrations occurred in downtown Iowa City early Tuesday morning.

As the rally began around 6:15 p.m., Tom Pyper, A3, Council Bluffs, took the microphone and read statements by University Pres. Willard Boyd and Student Body Pres. Robert "Bo" Beller.

The complete statements appear on today's editorial page.

Pyper then called for a burning of letters sent out Tuesday to 13 of those who demonstrated at a Pershing Rifles Meet April 18 (See story, page 3). The letters, sent out by the Office of Student Affairs, asked the alleged demonstrators to explain their activity at the meet.

When Pyper stepped down, the microphone on the Old Capitol steps was opened up to the crowd. A number of those present wore red, black and white arm bands, and others white bandages stained with red to protest the killing of four students by National Guardsmen at Kent State University Monday.

Despite the rally being labeled as a meeting of those advocating nonviolence, many who spoke encouraged that violent action be taken and called violence the only hope for progress.

John Johnson, A4, Des Moines, stated, "We have tried nonviolence and what has it brought us? More war, more violence and Cambodia." He urged those present to bring an end to ROTC and called Governor's Day this Saturday a key point in the fight.

Leroy Searle, instructor in the department of English challenged Johnson, saying that violence by a peace movement was hypocrisy.

"We don't need any more martyrs," he continued. "Four at Kent State and 40,000 in Vietnam is enough. Lengthy applause followed his comment."

Day of nonviolence

Call it a strike, a class boycott or a plain old protest. Call it what you will, but today is the day that students have been asked to stay away from classes as a protest to President Nixon's move to send U. S. troops into Cambodia.

Today is a day that each student should spend seriously assessing his own thoughts and convictions, and the consequences of Nixon's move on himself, his fellow man, the nation and the world. Today is a day for intellectual introspection — an internal searching of each of our minds. Thus, today is a day of self - challenge, and surely frustration, for the problems seem so overwhelming that perception of the answers is obscured.

Today is a non - violent day of concern. Today is a day that each of us should inform those empowered to curtail such unilateral power as exercised by Nixon of our support. Today is the day these people should be urged to follow through on their proposed legislative limits on Nixon.

To say that letter writing has not proved successful or played a role in past decision - making processes is a cop - out. For the first time there are men in the Congress willing to speak out firmly against the President, and who are apparently willing to back up their words with action.

What they need now is a show of support. They do not need violent reaction on the part of students which merely invites violent reaction from law officers.

For us to resort to violence today will merely give such men as Spiro T. Agnew and Richard Nixon the rationalizations they need to turn a deaf ear to the people. Violence today may well frustrate the actions of legislators who have spoken out against the President, for we can not show our support by destroying private and public property. We do not want to disillusion those who have the same basic goal that we do.

Iowa City has seen its share of disruption the past several nights. Regardless of what people may say, the Iowa City police force and those law officers who have reinforced them have exercised an unbelievable amount of restraint.

City Manager Frank Smiley has worked diligently every night in attempting to avert possible violence through dialog with protesters. But even he can take just so much pushing and crowding before he issues the order to get tough — real tough. Such an action is wanted by a small minority of students who give a good Goddamn about nothing. But for most of us, open violence between police and students is the last thing we need.

We should not allow the University or the people and businesses of Iowa City to become scapegoats for our frustration with the Nixon administration.

Intellectual introspection is a much greater challenge to the individual than violent protest. Anybody can participate in violence; especially when its dark outside and the chance of getting caught is slim. But it's a lot harder to search your own mind for feeling and to attempt to put that feelings down on paper in order that it may be communicated to others.

A personal feeling expressed well to a Congressman or Senator may leave an impression; a broken window or burnt building will only leave an anonymous note of hate — a bad memory.

So call today what you will, but make it peaceful.

— Lowell Forte

From University Pres. Boyd

The recent action taken by the federal government in Cambodia and North Viet Nam has exacerbated the division which exists in the country over the war. Nowhere is the concern about the war greater than among the young people who are more directly affected by it. This is a good-faith concern of most young people, and it knows no political boundary.

Sharing their frustration as I do, I understand the call for a class boycott as an effort to do something, at a local level where individual students can make their concern known immediately. Accordingly, I believe we should regard May 6 as a day of personal conscience for us all.

In the course of that day, I intend to make my own feelings about the Cambodian involvement clearly known to the three men who represent me in the Congress, and I fully expect my thoughts thus to contribute to what the Congress does about this latest military move. May I just suggest that if every University of Iowa student, faculty and staff member undertook to do this, the 75,000 individual letters going out of Iowa City to Washington tomorrow night could not help but have an effect there among representatives from all 50 states.

Above all else, Wednesday must be a day of peace. I appeal to everyone to preserve this university community from disruption and violence, which would completely negate any show of our concern for peace elsewhere in the world.

The question of student class attendance Wednesday is a matter determined individually by students and faculty. I recommend that no student be penalized who fails to attend a class on that day because of his personal convictions. And where a faculty member cancels his classes and sets a future makeup date, I feel that no student should be penalized for inability to attend such a makeup class if he had been willing to attend class at the time originally scheduled.

— Willard L. Boyd

From Student Pres. Beller

As a means of demonstrating our disapproval of Nixon's continuing mismanagement of his position as President of the United States and his continuing and widening of the War in Southeast Asia, I call on all students to boycott classes Wednesday and attend a peaceful rally in the Pentacrest at 12:30.

I urge that the student body remain peaceful and that no further outbreaks of violence occur on this campus. I am opposed to the violence of War and the military, and feel it cannot be met by more violence on the part of those that dissent from the ill-conceived course our nation has taken.

We will accomplish nothing by having

From Mayor Hickerson

I hope this statement will speak for the overwhelming majority of Iowa City residents, of all ages, who reject violence against people and property as an expression of social protest.

A series of incidents during the past week have reflected the willingness of a few to use violence to express their protest, and to counter the efforts of police officers whose public responsibility is to protect the human rights of the community as a whole.

In the light of these incidents, which have tended to escalate in numbers of participants and damage to property, the City Council has acted to authorize Iowa City officials to seek a district court injunction against further acts of destruction, and to broaden local public authority to impose a curfew, if future circumstances were to make such an action essential to curb lawlessness.

It should be emphasized that no curfew has been imposed, and none is anticipated in the absence of any clear-cut need for it.

Fears have been expressed that these actions will tend to increase violence or the threat of it. In the interests of the whole community, including the University community, the question is also pertinent as to the extent to which crowd actions which involve violations of law are to be continued, without additional public efforts to control them.

In exercising judgments, I urge upon citizens of all ages the priority of sharing a common concern for preventing violence here. That cannot be accomplished by public authority alone.

Ministers Ask Expressions Of Concern

The Association of Campus Ministers issued a statement Tuesday morning calling for "all students and faculty to join in responsible expressions of concern with regard to American involvement in Indochina."

The statement, issued in the wake of disturbances Tuesday morning protesting American involvement in Cambodia and the killing by National Guardsmen of four students at Kent State Monday, reads as follows:

"President Nixon's decision to extend the war into Cambodia has precipitated an escalation of domestic violence. The wave of disturbances on our college and university campuses this past week is of grave concern for all thoughtful citizens. Protective measures in an attempt to maintain the peace have subsequently escalated tensions and have created a general sense of malaise and anxiety on all sides.

"We, the Association of Campus Ministers, express our deep concern over the wave of student unrest last evening which resulted in injuries to several persons and widespread property damage in Iowa City. This volatile and destructive activity can in no way be condoned.

"The Campus Ministers extend an appeal to all parties to avoid an over-reaction and any continued violence. Specifically, we call upon the city officials and City Council to avoid reactive and/or suppressive measures which may precipitate further general student response. We appeal to all students and faculty to join in responsible expressions of concern with regard to American involvement in Indo-China.

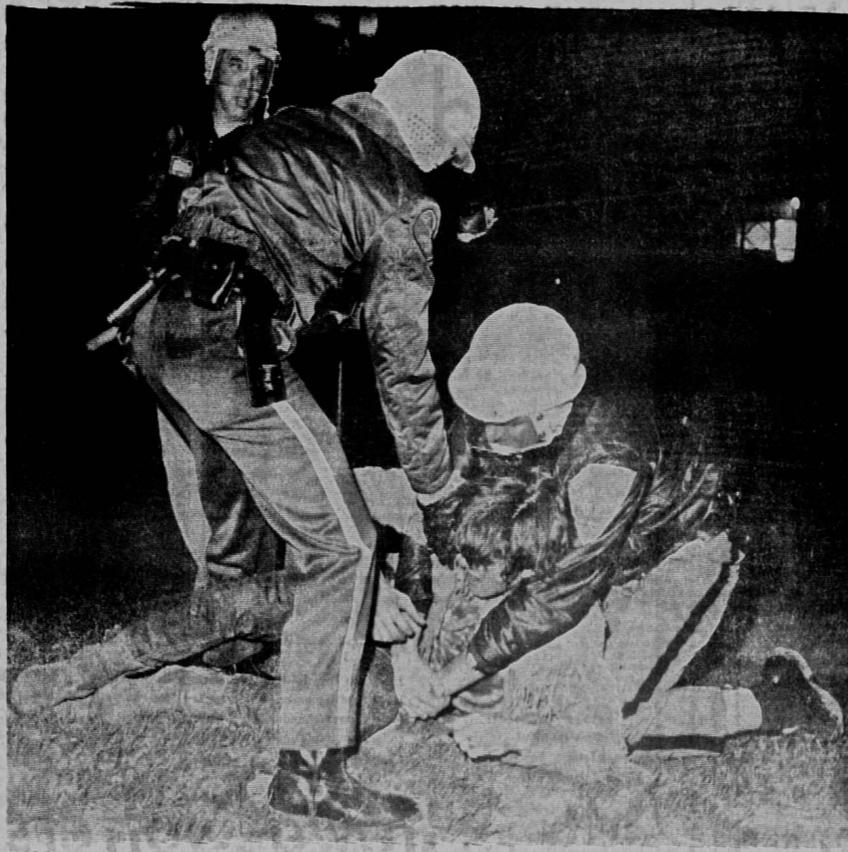

"In pursuit of these concerns, we call for a campus-wide open forum to permit peaceful discussion directed toward responsible action in regard to the Cambodian situation. We pledge our organization to serve in a mediative capacity in effort to maintain open lines of communication among all parties. We will fulfill our Biblical directive to show compassion to prisoners by following closely those arrested and seeking assurance of their fair and just treatment."

Fuller Talk Today

R. Buckminster Fuller, noted writer and lecturer on the problems and potentials of post-industrial technology, will speak at 1 p.m. today in the Union Ballroom.

Fuller, research professor at Southern Illinois University, is known as an architect, philosopher, poet, comprehensive designer, cartographer and inventor of the geodesic dome. In addition, Fuller designed the U.S. Pavilion for Expo '67 in Canada and was nominated for the 1969 Nobel Peace Prize.

Tickets for the lecture are available at $1.00 each at the Union Box Office, the Paper Place, Epstein's Book Store, Hawkeye Book Store and Iowa Book and Supply.

Confrontation

Among the 51 persons arrested during Monday night's disturbance was a demonstrator, in the upper picture, watching the activity from Gilbert Street. When the police said, "Let's clean 'em out," this demonstrator protested the police order and was grabbed by Iowa City Police and Johnson County Sheriff's Deputies. He fell to the ground before the police hauled him to jail. Two police officers survey, in the lower picture, the situation from the vantage point — and relative safety — of a patrol car-turned riot barrier while demonstrators threw rocks and bottles. Police reported that five officers were injured by about 3 a.m.

Students Asked to Explain Anti-ROTC Demonstration

Thirteen University students received letters today asking them to explain to the Office of Student Affairs their involvement in the April 18 anti-ROTC demonstration which forced postponement of the Pershing Rifles Regimental drill meet.

The Campus Security Office had identified the students as participants in the demonstration, according to M.L. Huit, dean of students.

Huit said these talks with students "are exploratory conversations on the basis of which we will determine whether disciplinary action will be taken." Huit said this was the regular procedure for his office and that the procedure prohibited the release of the 13 students' names.

Richard Trumpe, associate dean of student affairs, said he expected the list to grow in the next several days as the investigation continued.

During Tuesday night's rally at Old Capitol several demonstrators burned what they alleged were the letters they had received from the Office of Student Affairs. They also called for a meeting of all those receiving letters to plan a unified group conference with the office.

Nixon Limits Invasion Depth

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. forces will penetrate no deeper than 21.7 miles into Cambodia without Congressional approval and American troops will be out of that country by June 30, President Nixon told Senators and Congressmen Tuesday.

Speaking to members of the House and Senate foreign affairs and military committee in two separate sessions Tuesday, Nixon reportedly gave assurances the U.S. incursion into Cambodia, announced last Thursday in a nationwide address, would be no deeper than 30 to 35 kilometers

Blast Northern Illinois Twice for 22-15 Mark—Hawks Tie Victory Record

By TIM SIMMONS

Iowa tied a school record by ripping Northern Illinois 21-9 and 16-6 in a non-league doubleheader here Tuesday.

The Hawkeyes are now 22-15 and equalled the Iowa record for the most wins in a season set in 1941 when an Otto Vogel-coached team compiled a 22-6 mark.

The double loss dropped Northern Illinois' record to 15-13-1. In the overall series between the two schools, the Hawkeyes hold a 7-2 edge.

The five hour, 40 minute marathon saw Iowa bang out 23 hits off of nine NIU pitchers in upping its non-conference mark to 18-11.

Southpaw Alan Schuette (4-4) and righthander Earl Foster (3-0) picked up the wins in relief for the Hawkeyes.

First baseman Jim Cox paced the Iowa attack with five hits in eight official at-bats, including two doubles.

The sophomore from Bloomington, Ill., scored five times and knocked in as many runs.

Gary Keoppel fueled the Hawkeye offense with seven runs-batted-in in the twinbill. Ray Smith, who connected for his third home run of the spring in the opener, and Dave Blazin got three hits apiece.

Schuette relieved Bill Heckroth in the second inning of the opener with NIU leading 4-3 with one out and two runners on. He promptly retired the next two batters and stymied the visitors until the final frame when he yielded four runs.

In five and two-thirds inning, Schuette gave up six hits and five runs while walking seven and striking out four.

Keoppel's three-run single in the fourth inning proved the difference in the first game as Iowa broke a 4-4 deadlock in frame No. 4.

Iowa jumped off to a quick 3-0 lead in the first inning by using three walks, three stolen bases, an error and Jim Sundberg's sacrifice fly to score the runs.

A three-run homer by Jim Knox and a solo four-bagger by Jim Spina propelled the Huskies into a 4-3 edge in the second inning. The visitors got two more hits in the frame before Schuette entered the game.

Blazin's double tied the count at 4-4 in the third, and Iowa, aided by Keoppel's single and Smith's homer, moved into a 12-4 advantage in the next frame.

NIU scored a lone tally in the fifth on three hits. The Hawkeyes padded their margin with nine runs in the sixth.

Keoppel's three-run double was the big blow in the sixth inning with Cox also producing three markers with a single.

The Huskies, trailing 21-5, scored four runs in the seventh on three hits, two walks and an error as Schuette tired in posting his fourth non-league win in six decisions.

In the second game, NIU scored twice in the first inning on two hits and as many walks, but Iowa gained command right away by scoring six times in its initial at-bat.

With two outs and Dave Krull and Gary Breshears on base via walks, Blazin produced one run with a single and Smith knocked in two tallies with a double to give Iowa a 3-2 edge.

Following a walk to Keoppel and a run-scoring single by Joe Wessels, Huskie starter Bob Kolb walked Bill Hager and Krull to produce another Iowa run.

Kolb was relieved by Tom Spahn and the second NIU pitcher walked Bob Perkins forcing in Wessels with run No. 6 for Iowa.

Northern Illinois cut the margin to 6-5 in the third by taking advantage of Hager's wildness and Foster's unreadiness to score three times on two hits and as many walks.

Iowa moved ahead 7-5 in the fourth on Cox's sacrifice fly, but NIU pulled within one again in its part of the sixth on Andy Hannagin's pinch-hit single, which scored Knox.

Kentucky Derby Winner Not From Kentucky, But Illinois

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — An error was made in the registration of Dust Commander — all because of a phonetic misunderstanding — and it developed Tuesday that the colt is the first Illinois-bred horse ever to win the Kentucky Derby.

Much to the embarrassment of authorities and horse lovers in the Blue Grass state, the long-shot Derby champ wasn't born and bred in Kentucky, after all.

The foul-up came two years ago when W. Paul Little of Lexington bought Dust Commander's dam, Dust Storm, by telephone while he was attending horse sales in Florida.

"I thought Virgil Hise, who handled the sale, said he had a mare in foal," Little said Tuesday. Hise, who now operates a farm in neighboring Woodford County, said he actually said he had "a mare and foal."

Jockey club rules state that the breeder of a horse is the owner at the time of foaling.

When Little returned from Florida, he had a partner in his operation, Jess Curry, pick up the mare and foal at Hise's farm, take them to Kentucky and register the foal as a Kentucky-bred, he said. For the past two years, Little added, he was under the impression that the foal had arrived between the time he talked with Hise on the telephone and his return from Florida, about a month later.

In those two years, however, Dust Commander was anything but outstanding — he once ran in a $7,500 claiming race and nobody wanted him — but when he won the Kentucky Derby last Saturday and its $127,800 pot, it was a different story. The Pullen brothers, owners of the Pullen Farms at Brownfield, Ill., said Dust Commander was foaled there Feb. 8, 1967, and later shipped to Kentucky with his dam and sold by Hise as agent, to Little.

The Pullen brothers said the foal was registered with the Illinois Breeders' Association before he was shipped to Kentucky. Therefore, they still owned Dust Storm when Dust Commander was foaled.

Preakness Field Shaping Up

BALTIMORE (AP) — Native Royalty, ninth in the Kentucky Derby, arrived at Pimlico Tuesday to become the fifth prospective entry on the Preakness scene.

The 95th running of the $150,000 added Preakness will be staged a week from Saturday.

The Derby winner, Dust Commander, is expected to be on his way today by truck from Churchill Downs.

Native Royalty, owned by three Wolfson brothers, Steve, Gary and Marty, was stabled with another arrival from the Derby, My Dad George, the runnerup.

Others on deck are 10th place Robin's Bug and fifth-place Silent Screen.

Football Tickets Still on Sale

University students may still continue to pick up football tickets for next season at the Athletic Ticket Office.

Tickets are being sold until June 10 on a priority basis, according to when students first enrolled at the University.

Cost of a ticket is $11. Home games next year are against Southern California, Wisconsin, Purdue, Indiana and Illinois.

A University student may order additional student or spouse tickets provided he has the additional student credentials. Each student must pick up his own ticket, however, and sign for it at the time of the pickup.

Students are allowed to loan their tickets to other students. All that will be needed for admission is an ID card and a current certificate of registration. The tickets may not be used by non-students, however.

HOMERS AID ORIOLES — BALTIMORE (AP) — Home runs by Dave Johnson, Elroy Hendricks, Brooks Robison and Boog Powell powered Baltimore Orioles to a 7-1 victory over the Kansas City, Tuesday night.

Saints, Giants Tops In Football Trading

NEW YORK — The New Orleans Saints and New York Giants were the most active teams in pro football during the first interconference trading period as 38 players changed uniforms in the realigned National Football League.

The 38 players were part of 22 trades that also involved 13 draft choices exchanging hands as teams in the American and National conferences were permitted to trade across conference lines from Jan 19 to May 1.

Twenty-one of the NFL's 26 teams concluded at least one transaction during those 87 days with Atlanta, Boston, Dallas, Detroit and Philadelphia not participating.

The Saints did the most maneuvering, giving up five players and a draft choice in return for two players and four draft choices. The Giants struck a different balance, acquiring five players in exchange for three players and a draft choice.

The Saints shipped center Frank Marchlewski to Buffalo, linebacker Joe Owens to San Diego and linebacker Ted Davis and tackle Jerry Jones to Oakland, all for draft choices, and sent rookie tight end Bob Miller to San Diego for linebacker Jim Fetherston. They also traded away a draft choice to secure tackle Sam Walton from the New York Jets.

DI Sports

The Giants did all their dealing in three moves. In their major transaction, they sent receiver Homer Jones to Cleveland for running back Ron Johnson, defensive tackle Jim Kanicki and linebacker Wayne Mayland. They acquired quarterback Dick Shiner from Pittsburgh in exchange for linebacker Henry Davis and running back John Fugua and sent a draft choice to Houston for quarterback Bob Davis.

Only two other trades in which more than two players were involved were completed. Houston traded quarterback Pete Beathard and cornerback Miller Farr to St. Louis for quarterback Charley Johnson and cornerback Bob Atkins and Cincinnati acquired tackle Rufus Mayes from Chicago for defensive tackle Bill Staley and defensive end Harry Gunner.

Besides the trades made during the interconference period, 14 other trades involving 23 players have been made since the end of the 1969 season. Unrestricted trading within conferences extends until midnight on the day when all 26 teams will have six regular season games.

8th Straight for Braves, 12-6

ATLANTA — Cleo Boyer smashed two home runs and Hank Aaron his 10th of the year Tuesday night as the streaking Atlanta Braves won their eighth straight 12-6 over Pittsburgh.

Aaron's blow, the 2,986th hit of his career, capped a seven-run outburst by the Braves after two out in the second inning. It included a three-run double by Felix Millan while two other runs were walked home by Pirate starter Bob Moose, 0-3.

Boyer hit a solo homer to left in the third and followed with a three-run round-tripper in the fifth, scoring Rico Carly and Orlando Cepeda, who had walked.

Southpaw George Stone, 4-1, didn't allow a hit until the fifth when Willie Stargell singled sharply to right.

But in the sixth, the Pirates left got to Stone for six singles that produced four runs and Stone gave way to reliever Hoyt Wilhelm in the seventh. It was Wilhelm's 998th pitching appearance.

The Pirates, who have lost six straight, had only singles in their last 25 hits until Bob Robertson's two-run homer in the eighth, his third of the year.

Jackson Shaking Hitting Drought

OAKLAND — American League pitchers beware. Reggie Jackson says "I'm getting my timing back."

Jackson's batting average is coming out of a nosedive, and the Oakland Athletics right fielder hopes to fatten it against New York Yankee pitchers in a three-game series that opened Tuesday night.

Jackson, off to a poor start after holding out until little more than a week remained in spring training, came up with a home run, double and triple Sunday as the A's split a doubleheader at Washington.

He has been taking extra batting practice for the past two weeks and has brought his average up to .182 from a low of .083. He has five homers.

At this time last season, Jackson was batting .242 with nine homers. He went on to hit .275 with 47 homers and 118 runs batted in.

The former Arizona State star, who will be 24 on May 18, figured his outstanding 1969 year should earn him at least a $60,000 contract for 1970, although he at first asked for $75,000.

Finally, he signed with A's owner Charles Finley for $45,000 plus a rent-free luxury apartment in Oakland during the baseball season.

He worked out with the Arizona State baseball team during the long standoff with Finley, and passed a test for his Arizona state real estate license. He has a Tempe office in partnership with several other athletes.

"It's something I can make $15,000 to $20,000 in during the off season," Jackson says of his real estate venture.

Jackson didn't hit well during the A's first home game and the Oakland Coliseum crowds, averaging less than 5,000 a game, booed him.

He was dropped from No. 4 in the batting order to No. 7 near the end of the home stand-

Valley Conference Readmits Drake To Grid Competition

DES MOINES — Drake University was readmitted to Missouri Valley Conference championship football competition and West Texas University of Canyon, Tex., began official proceedings for admission to the league at the annual Valley business meetings Tuesday.

Faculty representatives and athletic directors of MVC member schools voted unanimously to welcome Drake, host for the meetings, back to league football competition after a 19-year absence.

The Bulldogs dropped from Valley football in 1951 after an incident during a league game in which a player was injured.

Drake Athletic Director Bob Karnes and Dr. Leland Johnson, Drake's faculty representative, said the Bulldogs would return to league football play by 1973 or as soon as scheduling allows.

Representatives of West Texas State University made formal application for admission to the conference Tuesday. Dean

N. R. Robison of Memphis State, President of conference faculty representatives, appointed a visitation committee to go to the campus and examine its athletic program.

Named to the visitation committee were Glenn Dobbs, athletic director at the University of Tulsa; Johnson, faculty representative from Drake; and Dr. Orville Neidhardt, faculty representative from Bradley University.

A conference spokesman said the committee will gather information about the WTSU athletic program and present it to conference members for study.

The spokesman said a conference meeting could be called at any time after the report is received to vote on whether to admit the Bulldogs to the MVC. He said it was possible that action might be taken as soon as during the summer.

Alluding to reports that a faction of member schools headed by Wichita State University opposes the admission of WTSU, the spokesman said conference faculty representatives and athletic directors were "more in harmony than at any other time in the recent history of the conference."

He cited the unanimous vote on readmitting Drake to league football as an example, saying "the overall feeling of the conference is one of unity."

In other action Tuesday, the conference adopted a revised constitution which the spokesmen said member schools should find more workable. The adoption came after two days of work since the annual business meetings began Monday.

The week-long sessions wind up this weekend with the annual conference track and field, tennis and golf championships Friday and Saturday.

2 Coaches Tie For ABA Honor

NEW YORK — Joe Belmont of the Denver Rockets and Bill Sharman of the Los Angeles Stars tied in the voting for American Basketball Association Coach of the Year honors, it was announced Tuesday by Commissioner Jack Dolph.

Each coach received three votes in the balloting; by the 11 ABA coaches, with Bones McKinney of Carolina and Bob Leonard of Indiana getting two each and York LaRue of New York one.

Belmont took over a last place team with a 9-19 record on Dec. 9 and under him the Rockets were 42-14, rising to the Western Division title.

Reds Win 7th in Row

CINCINNATI — Lee May and Bobby Tolan lashed homers in support of Wayne Simpson's three-hit pitching as Cincinnati stopped St. Louis 5-1 Tuesday night for the Reds' seventh straight victory.

May lashed his sixth homer—a two-run shot—in the sixth inning to help the Reds open a three-run margin. Tolan rapped his sixth homer in the fourth inning.

Richie Allen led off the second inning with his eighth homer but then Simpson shut the door and the Cardinals could not get a man past second base. Simpson picked up his fifth victory against one loss and now has allowed only 21 hits in 46 2-3 innings.

Cubs Fall Again; Astros Win, 3-1

HOUSTON — Larry Dierker hurled a four-hitter for his fifth victory of the season as the Houston Astros defeated the slumping Chicago Cubs 3-1 Tuesday night.

It was the fifth straight loss for the National League's East Division leaders and their eighth setback in 11 road games this season.

Jim Wynn led the Astros to their third successive victory with a double and two singles, and teammate Norm Miller hit a bases-empty homer off loser Ferguson Jenkins.

Ron Santo's third homer broke Dierker's shutout bid in the sixth but the Houston right-hander breezed the rest of the way in boosting his record to 5-2.

Representatives of West Texas State University made formal application for admission to the conference Tuesday. Dean

Egyptian Predicts Escalation Of Conflict in Middle East

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 Egyptian Vice President Anwar Sadat declared Tuesday that Egypt is braced for an escalation of the Middle East conflict, involving round-the-clock Israeli air raids against civilian and military targets.

Sadat made his statement as a military spokesman in Cairo claimed that an Egyptian commando force crossed the Suez Canal early Tuesday and carried out a two-hour assault against Israeli positions on the northern coast of Sinai.

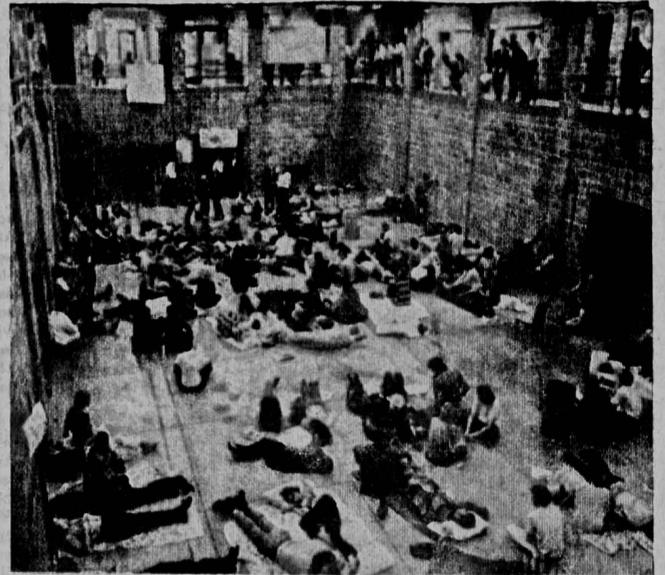

minute counts in raising our military standards, and especially those of the air force."

His remarks were seen in Beirut, Lebanon's capital, in the context of President Gamal Abdel Nasser's warning to President Nixon last week against bolstering Israeli military power with further aid, including additional Phantom jets.

Sadat asserted that the United States is in collusion with Israel in its "aggressive schemes" against Egypt. He claimed that a list of Israeli air strikes against Egypt were planned after the last September coup which brought a revolutionary pro-Egyptian regime to power in Libya and resulted in the U.S. withdrawal from its Wheelus Air Force Base there.

The Egyptian commando raid east of Port Fuad, at the Mediterranean entrance to the canal, was carried out without loss of life on the Egyptian side, according to the spokesman.

He said "direct hits" were scored against artillery emplacements, ammunition dumps and engineering equipment.

Bill Would Help Develop Prepaid Health Services

WASHINGTON — Enactment of the new Social Security bill would give a push to development of prepaid general health service organizations and to limiting rising doctor and hospital bills.

The force behind the push is big money. Through medicare, the Social Security health program for the aged, and medicaid, the state-federal plan for low-income persons, the government is a giant customer of the health professions and industries.

Medicare pays hospital bills out of Social Security funds. Most of the aged are enrolled in its Part B, which costs them $4 a month, and is to be increased. This covers doctor bills.

Both hospital and doctor costs have soared far above original estimates.

The bill approved in principle Monday by the House Ways and Means Committee would provide an alternative.

Persons eligible for medicare could sign up with one of the comprehensive care organizations, paying only what they pay now in medicare, and the government would cover up to 95 per cent of the cost of separate hospitalization and doctor services. The comprehensive groups claim they can provide services at less cost.

The recipients could arrange for additional services at their own expense—or the comprehensive plans could provide them within the federal cost ceiling. The latter is one of the things the Health, Education and Welfare Department is hoping will develop.

It tried to work into the bill provision for preventive examinations and other services by the comprehensive groups, but the committee would not go that far.

The department hopes also that the availability of government financing will stimulate development of more prepaid group health organizations. There are only a few now, mostly on the two coasts.

But, a department spokesman told a reporter, "They could be developed anywhere that hospitals and doctors decided to get together."

Each day of the week, the U.S. Postal Service is expected to receive a large number of letters from the public. The letters are expected to be mostly requests for information about the new Social Security bill.

Oil Company Gets Indicted For Oil Slick

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Chevron Oil Co. was indicted by a federal grand jury Tuesday on charges of willfully violating government regulations that led to a massive oil slick last month in the Gulf of Mexico.

The 900 separate offenses alleged in the indictment would result in a fine totaling millions of dollars if the firm is convicted.

Athy. Gen. John N. Mitchell said the indictment, returned in New Orleans federal court, was the first to be brought under the Outer Continental Shelf Lands Act of 1953.

The grand jury charged that Chevron knowingly and willfully failed to install and maintain storm chokes or similar subsurface devices on 90 oil wells in the gulf off the Louisiana coast.

Each day of each of the 900 alleged violations is a separate offense, each carrying a maximum $2,000 fine.

The indictment stems from an investigation that began March 31 — the day the last of the leaks was capped.

A fire erupted in the coastal wells Feb. 10 and continued through March 10. Then huge quantities of crude oil began gushing into the gulf.

The indictment said most of the alleged offenses violated an order issued last August by the Interior Department.

That order required all wells capable of producing oil and gas be equipped with a storm choke or similar subsurface safety device.

Chevron is a division of Standard Oil of California, one of the nation's largest oil firms and the 10th largest company in the country in terms of assets. It is worth more than $5.7 billion.

UI to Offer 'Issues' Courses

By GINALIE BEIN
Courses ranging from Planet in Crisis to Social Services in the Black Community will be offered next fall as part of a Contemporary Issues program initiated by the College of Liberal Arts.

"There is a good deal of discussion at the present time about how relevant a University student's education is," says Dewey Stuit, dean of the College of Liberal Arts. "We have asked various departments to offer courses which would bring to bear concepts of knowledge of a particular field on a social or economic problem."

Stuit said he referred to the areas of communication, humanities, basic sciences, social studies and mathematics.

In addition to the two mentioned courses, provided by the Department of Geology and the School of Social Work respectively, other new courses and the departments sponsoring them will be: Contemporary Issues in Religion, School of Religion; The Concept of Revolution in 20th Century Spanish-American Writing, Department of Spanish and Portuguese; Rhetoric of Agitation and Control, Department of Speech Pathology and Audiology; Chemistry in our Lives, Department of Chemistry; and Spanish-Speaking People of the United States, Department of Sociology and Anthropology. The course list is not yet complete.

"There's a real danger that instruction in the contemporary issues field may go no deeper than a treatment of the subject one may find in Time, Saturday Review or Reader's Digest," Stuit said last month in a speech during ecology week on "University's Role in Research."

Referring to the Action Studies Program, Stuit said, "Students are invited to apply themselves to study a topic before they have enough basic knowledge and skills to benefit greatly."

For these reasons, the Contemporary Issues courses will be offered only on the junior and senior level, to students with some background in the particular field, according to Stuit. Structure and credit allotment of each course will be decided by the individual department. The completed program of courses will be listed in a publication available in late summer before registration, as well as in the Schedule of Courses.

U.S. Troops Press Attack On Third Cambodian Front

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. troops opened a third front in Cambodia Tuesday, but bad weather and heavy enemy fire limited it to a landing of 500 troops. About 6,000 U.S. and South Vietnamese troops in the nearby central highlands were committed to the operation when the bad weather hit. Their objective was to knock out enemy headquarters and base camps in northeast Cambodia.

The first heavy enemy resistance since American troops opened a second Cambodian front on Friday came at Snuol, in the Fishhook area 200 miles south of the central highlands. About 2,000 North Vietnamese dug in at Snuol and in surrounding rubber plantations prevented a U.S. armored column from permanently occupying the town.

Snuol is eight miles from South Vietnam's border.

Sources in the field told Associated Press photographer Charles Ryan that the operation in northeast Cambodia ran into trouble immediately.

Ryan, reporting from Pleiku, said the Americans' planned helicopter assault was stalled by thick mist in the target area.

When the helicopters did reach their landing zones, several came under heavy enemy fire. At least one battalion of some 500 men was forced to turn back to South Vietnam, field reports said.

Although the U.S. Command in Saigon announced the operation as if it had been carried out as planned, it was not clear what effect the first day's problems would have.

With only one battalion on the ground beyond the border and the enemy presumably aware of the invasion plan, the command was left with the dilemma of whether to follow through or change the mission.

Allied spokesmen reported no major encounters with the enemy and said there were no reports of casualties on either side.

Government military spokesmen said the operation was aimed at knocking out North Vietnamese training centers, rest areas, supply depots and possibly some headquarters.

Some 200 miles south of the operation, American tanks blasted their way into Snuol.

Associated Press correspondent Peter Arnett reported that a brick building was reduced to rubble and wooden houses burned to the ground by tank guns and air strikes.

A prisoner said several hundred North Vietnamese waited in ambush for the U.S. armored column moving along Highway 7 toward Snuol, 40 miles from where the Fishhook operation began.

The tanks and armored cavalry assault vehicles of the 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment swung around the plantation and captured the town's airstrip, encountering only feeble resistance. As the column rumbled into the sprawling town, the North Vietnamese troops opened fire with antitank weapons from backyard and street bunkers.

One officer said orders were given to "blow the way away," since civilians had fled.

Planes and tank guns then opened up, grinding the houses and buildings into rubble. Planes dumped flaming napalm and 500-pound bombs. The tanks moved into the center of town but withdrew at nightfall. U.S. officers said they were confident they could occupy Snuol today.

American troops from another task force operating in the Fishhook region 80 miles northwest of Saigon moved into a large jungle hideout of about 500 buildings spotted by American reconnaissance planes.

American infantrymen pushed 200 yards into the complex, seized tons of enemy ammunition and killed four North Vietnamese soldiers.

U.S. officers said the complex apparently is a huge supply depot and not the command post of the Central Office for South Vietnam (COSVN), the Communist high command which directs all military and political operations in the southern half of South Vietnam and which is the prime objective of the Fishhook operation.

In the third area of Cambodian operations, a South Vietnamese task force in the Parrot's Beak region occupied the ruins of Ba Thu, a big enemy base a mile from the South Vietnamese border and 45 miles west of Saigon.

The South Vietnamese forces said they killed over 1,000 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong in four days of fighting and seized tons of weapons, ammunition, rice and medical supplies.
