2,500 Vote For UI Strike

Some 2,500 persons, packed into the Union Main Lounge, voted overwhelmingly Monday night to continue a general strike on the University campus in a "nonobstructive, nonviolent way."

However, the vote came only after a University professor predicted campus violence for Tuesday by persons both "from the University and from the rest of the state... who hate everything."

Robert A. Corrigan, associate professor of American Civilization, received a standing ovation when he told the crowd he felt he could "guarantee... that the Faculty Senate will vote to abolish ROTC" on the University campus at its meeting today.

But Corrigan said he was "personally convinced that Tuesday's picketing would not be peaceful."

He warned, "the 2,500 here right now... are personally responsible for every death that occurs on this campus tomorrow (Tuesday)."

Following his address, Corrigan was booed and a move to censure him was made, but not recognized.

Discussion centered around recent strike issues and particularly a contested decision by the board of Student Publications, Inc., (SPI) dominated the rally.

Howard J. Ehrlich, associate professor of sociology and anthropology, charged that SPI board had withheld the appointment of Leona L. Durham, G. San Francisco, Cal., as editor of The Daily Iowan for "political reasons," and that The Daily Iowan publisher John D. Zug had personally delivered a story to the Iowa City Press-Citizen which charged that Miss Durham and members of her new staff had attempted a "take-over" of The Daily Iowan early Monday afternoon. Ehrlich, pointing to an empty space on page two of the Monday Press-Citizen, charged that the newspaper had pulled the story from its slot upon learning that there was no factual basis for it.

Zug commented, "I talked to the Press-Citizen this afternoon, but the charges made were not a part of the conversation. There was no reference to a take over or anything of the kind made."

Ehrlich charged that Lane Davis, professor of political science, said he "had been in consultation all week" with George W. Forell, director of the School of Religion, on the question of The Daily Iowan editorship, but that he had not consulted student members.

Both Davis and Forell are members of SPI board.

Moreover Ehrlich said Davis had called Daily Iowan editor Lowell Forte, asking him to remain on as editor. Ehrlich said that Davis had stated "either he'd (Forte) have to remain on, or SPI board might be forced to shut down The Daily Iowan."

The charge, Davis said, "is not true." "Lane Davis is a fascist pig," Ehrlich charged. "I challenge him to come up here and debate on the issue of Student Publications."

Davis responded Monday night, "I don't like abusive epithets. I try to resist the temptation to use them, and I don't wish to comment any further."

"Given Mr. Ehrlich's style of discussion," Davis added, "I don't wish to engage in debate with him."

In further action, the students at the rally passed a resolution demanding that the University fund the Hawkeye Area Draft Information Center. The result of the vote, however, was questioned by many students toward the back of the audience who felt the "ayes" and "nays" were equal in strength.

Senate to Vote On Blackmun This Afternoon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Judge Harry A. Blackmun's nomination to the Supreme Court was brought up in the Senate Monday and appeared headed for an easy ride to confirmation.

In sharp contrast to the tense and quarrelsome atmosphere that marked consideration of President Nixon's two earlier nominations — both of which were voted down — Blackmun's name brought only relaxed words of praise.

The Senate agreed, because of the number of absentee members, to hold off the vote until 2:30 this afternoon.

the student body, and of which the faculty members are chosen by the Faculty Senate and appointed by the University President. That arrangement has served the cause of a free press at the University of Iowa for a long time, and I hope it will continue to do so for a long time to come."

Davis denied Beller's charge that the move was political.

"The motion explains itself. This is a situational thing which will be reviewed by the Board. The intent of the Board was that the action be temporary," he said.

The Board specifically requested that Editor Lowell Forte, G. Iowa City, maintain his staff in order to insure a continuity during the present campus situation.

Forte would not comment on the resolution. SPI Board will meet again Thursday.

Emergency, Rumor Center Organized

In order to squelch rumors and to provide a communications and emergency help service for students during the present period of unrest, Student Senate and Union Board, in cooperation with other student organizations and Union personnel, have opened a communications center in the Union Activities Center.

According to Senate officials, the center will definitely be open today and tonight and will remain open until the need is over.

The center provides telephones and mimeograph machines. Telephone numbers at the center are 353-3116, 353-5745 and 353-5090.

Get Kent U. Duty

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's chief civil rights enforcers assumed personal command Monday of an expanded investigation of the fatal shooting of four Kent State University students last week.

Asst. Attorney General Jerris Leonard said he is sending two civil rights division lawyers to Ohio Tuesday to visit FBI agents and U.S. Atty. Robert B. Krupansky of Cleveland.

UI Strikers Protest ROTC, Indochinese War

The effect of a University-wide strike of classes by students was difficult to determine Monday. The strike appeared to be having little effect on students still attending classes, but it was reported that most students were attending classes to check course grades with instructors.

The strike was called Sunday by the Strike Steering Committee (SSC), composed of students opposing ROTC on campus and the expansion of the war in Indochina.

Picketers appeared early Monday morning on the Pentacrest, in front of Phillips Hall, the Communications Center, and the Field House.

Students crossing picket lines were asked if they supported the strike and then were given anti-war leaflets.

One member of the Strike Committee reported that as far as that organization was concerned the strike was a "success."

At an SSC meeting Sunday in the Union Main Lounge, one member, Harvey Sadow, G. Iowa City, read the committee's list of demands, which were:

- "U.S. out of Indochina now.
- "An end to all political repression.
- "An end to all racist attacks on black people, especially the Black Panther Party, and an end to sexism (the exploitation of women).
- "The abolishment of ROTC and all military recruitment on this campus.
- "The punishment, by law, of police who assaulted students, especially the police who shot at the four blacks.
- "The granting of amnesty for all persons protesting America's aggressive war in Southeast Asia.
- "The Tuesday, May 12, meeting of the Faculty Senate on the status of ROTC must have 10 student representatives. Roll call vote must be published.

"All University employees affected by the strike be paid for lost wages."

Sunday night the Strike Committee issued a statement:

"It must be emphasized that individual students need not agree with the demands in their entirety in order to support or honor the strike effort; but should realize that each of the individual demands affects them personally in his or her attempt to secure an education."

SSC members were elected at a mass meeting Saturday. They are:

- Bruce Clark, A2, Iowa City; John Johnson, A3, Des Moines; Dale McCormick, A4E, Sigourney; Ben McGilmer, A4, Detroit, Mich.; Bob Johnson, A1, Cedar Rapids; Debbie Gore, A2 Chicago, Ill.; Don Anderson, B4, Coralville; Steve Ford, A1, Des Moines; Joe Berry, A3, Des Moines; Nancy Nikodin, A1, Ely; and Jeff Portnoy, A1, Omaha, Neb.

A number of campus organizations have issued statements in line with the strike and related aspects of it.

A joint council of Panhellenic and Inter-Fraternity Council (IFC) met with SSC representatives Monday and issued the following statement: "We do support a non-violent, non-obstructive, informational strike."

The Associated Residence Halls (ARH) unanimously approved a resolution urging the dormitory administration to be lenient in enforcing the 24 hour clause in dorm contracts. (All dorm residents must be out of the building 24 hours after taking one of Boyd's three options).

The Daily Iowan learned Monday night that dormitory residents taking one of the three options offered by Boyd may not rent dormitory rooms for the remainder of the term. It had previously been reported that residents could stay in the dormitories by renting their rooms for $2 a night. The information was released through the office of Gerald Burke, men's residence halls director.

Sutton Named to Head Research Group—Senate to Investigate Corporations

Monday evening's meeting of the Student Senate began with an executive session to avoid baring details of expenditures on Senate research and ended with the passing of a resolution asking the resignation of the 1969-1970 Daily Iowan staff.

In giving his "President's Report" Bo Beller, Student Body President, called on immediate past President Phil Dantes, A4, Waterloo, to report on Senate research proposals. Dantes reported that

Texas Tornado Kills 6, Hurts 70

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — A massive tornado ripped through at least 100 blocks of this Texas South Plains city Monday night, killing six persons, causing millions of dollars in damage and injuring 70 known persons.

More than two hours after the tornado ravaged the city, power was still off, streets were clogged with debris, wrecked buildings and overturned automobiles.

Three hospitals — all large ones — quickly overflowed with injured, many of them cut by flying glass from plate glass windows ripped from downtown skyscrapers.

The storm first boiled up about three hours before the tornado struck with twisters reported on the outskirts of the town, heavy hail and torrential rains.

Israelis Attack

TEL AVIV (AP) — An Israeli armored force rolled into east Lebanon late Tuesday to clean out Arab guerrilla bases, the military command said.

A spokesman said the Israeli force crossed into Lebanon to hit bases on the southwestern slopes of Mt. Hermon.

another former student president, newly-appointed research director Jim Sutton, G. Iowa City, would ask for $1,000 for research work this summer.

Dantes said that only three or four people rather than the 12 or 14 hired last year would be hired in the hope that "fewer people could accomplish more."

Dantes said those already selected for the jobs were Sutton, Sutton's running mate of last year, Jim Dougherty, A4, North Liberty, and himself. He said a decision was yet to be made on a fourth position.

Dantes said that the nature of the research would be to investigate corporations which he alleged, "control the University." At that point, the Senate voted to go into executive session and remove The Daily Iowan reporter.

Dantes later explained that the information withheld would be available later in the week, but that its release now

Boyd Clarifies Option Plan

In a statement issued Monday exclusively to The Daily Iowan, Boyd answered the following questions.

Q: Will students who choose to leave school be permitted to remain on campus? Can they stay in the dormitories?

A: The whole point in the option is to provide opportunity for students to leave the campus if they are concerned for their safety. Hence, such students are expected to leave within 24 hours after submitting their option forms. Exceptions are being made in some cases for students who are University employees.

Q: What assurance is there that an instructor will not assign grades on the basis of whether or not a student decides to complete the semester, instead of on the basis of his work? Where can one take complaints of this nature?

A: University policy on this matter is quite clear: the options set the standard for grading, and no instructor is free to grade on another basis if one of the options is elected. If a student has a complaint in this connection, he should take it to the head of the department concerned.

Q: May a student make individual arrangements with his instructors instead of through use of the option form?

A: The only arrangements which can be honored are those made via the option forms.

Q: May a student elect to take "P" grades in his major field? Under normal circumstances this is not permitted.

A: Yes, he may take such grades at this time if he opts to do so.

University T.A.s Debate Strike, Salary, Options

By RANDY EVANS

Salaried teaching assistants (T.A.s) or research assistants (R.A.s) electing to take one of the three options announced by University Pres. Willard Boyd will not lose a portion of their monthly salary, Alvin H. Scaff, dean for advanced study, told a group of about 50 graduate assistants Monday.

Scaff said later that the statement was a reinterpretation of University policies and procedures and was handed down by Boyd's administrative office.

He said the interpretation applied not only to R.A.s and T.A.s but also to dormitory assistants.

"No matter what option you choose of the three," Scaff said, "you will not have to worry about losing your position."

T. A. Meeting

An official meeting of all Teaching Assistants will be held at 5 this afternoon in Shambaugh Auditorium to vote on and issue a statement of their collective position relative to the student strike, ROTC and the option sheet issued by University Pres. Willard Boyd.

Six groups of T.A.s have announced support for the strike called by the Strike Steering Committee (SSC). Going along with the strike are T.A.s in core literature, Rhetoric, Writers Workshop, Western Civilization, American Survey, and Black History; and the Departments of Religion, Zoology and Art.

A statement released Sunday by the division of film and broadcasting had indicated that all T.A.s in the division supported the strike also, however some members of the division told The Daily Iowan Monday that the vote had not been unanimous.

Members of the College of Engineering voted Monday not to join the strike. However, some 250 faculty members and students of the college expressed support for a pullout of American forces from Cambodia, permitted 10 student representatives to be present at a meeting of the Faculty Senate for a discussion of ROTC, and endorsed the SSC request that all University employees affected by the strike be paid for lost wages.

Donald L. Spencer, associate professor of engineering, introduced a resolution calling for the college "to use their technical expertise in a non-violent revolution" by boycotting businesses and industries participating in the manufacturing of war materiel, and by protesting war-oriented research on the University campus.

The resolution was approved. T.A.s in core literature, Rhetoric, the Writers Workshop, Western Civilization, American Survey and Black History have voted to hold no classes. They also agreed not to cross picket lines. But T.A.s in the art and religion departments have indicated they will meet with their classes and discuss the "current crisis" or hold no class. Students engaged in the strike will not be penalized, according to statements issued by the two departments.

The possibility of withholding grades as a move against the presence of ROTC was also discussed.

Permission from the administration has been granted to reimburse graduate students who lost possessions in the fire in Old Armory Temporary.

The Graduate Senate will meet Tuesday to vote on allocating $3,000 to cover the loss. A quorum must be present before the resolution allocating the funds can be acted upon.

Graduates who lost possessions in the fire have been asked to contact John Casey, G. Iowa City, at 353-5254 or through campus mail at 252 EPB. Casey needs to know what each graduate lost in the fire and the estimated value.

If the total exceeds the $3,000 the senate has to allocate, a proportionate amount will be paid.

Howard R. Jones, dean of the College of Education, announced today that student teachers desiring to exercise one of the three options may do so and still receive certification by the Iowa State Department of Public Instruction.

Grades will be issued and based on the work completed.

The certification applies only to Iowa since there are some states in which certification requirements specify a minimum number of hours or weeks of student teaching.

Students in the College of Nursing may take the pass-withdraw option, it was announced today by Laura C. Dustan, dean. She said the college was following the three options for students as outlined by the University.

Boyd: UI must represent all

Classes at the University will be held as usual on Monday and through the close of the final examination period Tuesday, May 26.

In light of recent events and the tense emotional situation on campus, however, a number of students, fearing for their safety, have expressed the wish to return home. Their concern on this score has been heightened by the circulation of an incredible number of rumors throughout the University community, and it does not seem likely that their fears will diminish quickly.

Those who wish to return home may do so without penalty. But before they leave, the University will need a clear indication of their choice of (1) completing their work at a later date; (2) accepting a "pass" or "withdraw" grade; or (3) accepting a grade based on the work completed through May 3.

Further information on how to exercise this choice, and a simple form for doing so, will be available to University of Iowa students by 10 a.m. Sunday (May 10) in all University residence halls, the Mayflower Hall, and Iowa Memorial Union.

I have been urged by a number of concerned students to close the University at once as a means of expressing the opposition of the University community to the war in Vietnam. I sympathize greatly with those who condemn the war, but I cannot make the University the political agent of any group, no matter how much I might personally condemn recent actions in Southeast Asia.

For those who would say that the military intervention in Cambodia is an important symbol at this time, I must respond that learning in a free society is an equally important symbol. If the University were to give in to force at this time, a great principle would be lost. This principle embodies the notion that the continued access to learning and the services of the University for all who want them should be maintained. No one group within the community has the right to impose its will upon the rest of the community and thus preclude others from obtaining the University services to which they are entitled.

The University must represent the interests of all, no matter what their stand on the war. We cannot compromise on that issue.

The University will, therefore, remain open and its usual academic functions will be maintained. Everything possible will be done to secure the safety of all members of the University community and University facilities.

Senators reply

On Sunday, May 10, Student Senate was called in special session to consider President Boyd's statement concerning class attendance and the upcoming strike. By a vote of 20 to 12, the Senate passed Senator Bloomquist's resolution which expressed support for President Boyd's position as the best one he could have taken under the circumstances. However, student body President Beller didn't concur with the majority opinion of the Senate and vetoed the resolution. The two-thirds majority to override the veto could not be obtained, and Beller had prevented the majority of senators from expressing their opinion on a vital issue.

The precedent which has been set is a dangerous one. Is the Senate allowed to express an opinion only with the blessing of Bo Beller? It is obvious that the executive and legislative branches of student government are sometimes going to disagree on policy, but each should have the right to express its opinions in the form of presidential statements or senate resolutions. (Not to be confused with the passage of bills, where concurrence is necessary and a presidential veto is constitutional.)

A few days before, President Beller had issued a policy statement on ROTC, which he asked the Senate to endorse. By a vote of 25 to 6, the Senate refused to do so, but Beller still issued his statement, as he had every right to do. Why should this right of separate expression be rescinded when the situation is reversed? What Beller has done is to claim the right to speak for student government ex cathedra, making his own pronouncements which the Senate may not agree with, but denying it as a body to speak on its own.

Men in the middle — identity crisis

By ART BUCHWALD

WASHINGTON — My friend Brightfelder is having an identity crisis. He said that no matter where he stood on the major issues in the United States today, he found himself in trouble.

"The fact that I'm against the bombing of New York buildings, the student take-overs of offices and intimidation by militant know-nothings makes me a fascist pig."

"Well there's nothing wrong with that," I said.

"Except that I think Spiro Agnew is full of hot air."

"But that makes you an effete snob and a pseudo-intellectual," I said.

"Exactly. I think Judge Julius Hoffman of Chicago is one of the great disasters of our judicial system."

"That makes you an ultra-left-wing revolutionary."

"At the same time, I think the Chicago Seven are a bunch of clowns who belong on the comic pages of the newspapers."

"Which makes you an apologist for the striking bourgeois establishments."

"To my mind, Atty. Gen. Mitchell would do anything to violate my constitutional rights in the name of law and order, and this makes me a limousine liberal."

"They're the worst kind."

"At the same time, I think we should beef up our police forces."

"Join the Silent Majority."

"I believe Nixon's Southern strategy is tearing the country apart."

"This makes you a typical Northern bleeding-heart hypocrite."

"At the same time the blacks call me a honky racist for not giving them my church."

"You seem to be all things to all men."

"I keep saying we should get out of Vietnam as fast as possible, and they call me a yellow neo-isolationist. But because I'm not willing to pull the troops out today, my left-wing pals say I'm a prize dupe of the military-industrial complex."

"How do you feel about the economy?"

"I'm against a recession which makes me a reckless socialist free spender."

"What about inflation?"

To the Editor:

I am writing this letter because I simply can't contain the sadness that I have felt over the past week's events. I looked proudly on as some 6,000 students took part in a "peaceful Moratorium" march and rally last October. At that time I was firmly convinced that there was some hope for this crazy, blood-thirsty world of ours, because a group of my fellow students seemed so dedicated to the principles of peace.

However, the events of the past week seem to negate all this. This last week has witnessed attempts by a minority of this campus's students to identify themselves with the peace movement through the thoughtless destruction of university and public property. They do this supposedly in protest against the U.S. involvement in Vietnam and the subsequent killing of the four students at Kent State.

Whatever their reasons may have been, I deplore this senseless destruction. Burning buildings will never result in peace or mutual understanding between government and students. Breaking windows will not end this senseless war in Vietnam. Shouting profanities will not find the true causes for those sad deaths at Kent State. It takes real work to make a large government as ours listen to the individual citizen. This is true. I'd be the first to admit this. However such violent actions will only produce a leftist example of the Nixon-Agnew syndrome: totally unresponsive to the needs of this country.

So don't sing the praises of Bruce Clark and his rock throwing crowd to me. I've seen and listened to too many of his type of perennial cause grabbers to believe that the rock throwers really care to make this country more responsive to its peoples' needs. It's so much easier to complain and burn buildings than to get off your rear and learn how to work through effective governmental

First I would like to applaud the city police for the way in which they handled our demonstration Thursday night. They applied the law in what I consider to be a most reasonable and humane manner.

I would like to explain my reasons for being one of those arrested. I don't know how the media interpreted our protest because I've only been out of jail for an hour, but what I saw was a peaceful confrontation. This fact of peaceful resistance was a necessary prerequisite to my even being there. I could no more pick up a rock for this "cause" than against it, because it would kill what for me is one of the central features of this movement: The abolishment of violence as a way of life and its replacement with

Last Thursday evening several hundred students, most of them white, submitted to peaceful arrest after refusing to leave the steps of Old Capitol. The violent overthrow of any governmental system does not necessarily dictate that a more benevolent one will arise. Maybe it's about time that we stopped the complaining and showed that not all students want to repeat the violent follies of our elders. Use the system for peaceful means! It can be done; it's just more work than rock-throwing.

Make this blind administration see that students can and will bring peace where Nixons and Johnsons have failed. Don't let the hate-mongers represent us!

To the Editor:

RE: the 200 and some arrests Friday morning.

I think that the sacrifice made by those students, while courageous, was ill-advised. The arrests had nothing to do with legitimate protest against ROTC or the murders at Kent — they were the direct result of the entering of the Old Capitol and Jessup Hall and the vandalism committed there.

If we are blindly going to enter buildings and destroy them, let us do so with an eye to their esthetic value. Old Capitol is the only half-way decent structure on campus — if we are simply going to blow off steam, let's burn Old Dental.

If violence becomes necessary, as it seems it has, let it not be wanton. Let us give direction and purpose to our violence. Everyone claims to be attempting to rid the campus of ROTC; so let's have our rallies in front of the Field House. If we are then to enter buildings, let us enter the ROTC headquarters and destroy it!

Bands, festivals of life, and smoking dope on the Pentacrest only forestall that day when the University will, as it must, appease us. Aimless rock-throwing and destruction can only harm our movement, as was seen Friday morning. If something a little more human.

To me, my presence last night was justification only if it helps people to realize that each of them has a personal duty to commit themselves, in their own way, to this nebulous thing that some of us call love.

To the Editor:

I ask those of you who oppose the Indo-China War, but think the letters to the President and to Congressmen are ignored to drop your skepticism and start writing. Send a carbon copy of your letter to Mr. and Mrs. Gene Mullen, Box 174, La Porte City, Iowa 50651. They lost a son in Vietnam and are working tirelessly to end the war. They will, "on June first," personally call ABC, NBC and CBS National TV and ask them to come to our house to view the tons of mail that has been ignored in Washington. Our goal: ONE MILLION LETTERS. Write now. I'll bet my naive against your skepticism that those letters will help the cause of peace.

Calls for investigation steps certainly was at a height of insanity; the vicious attack on black people at the corner of Washington and Dubuque was an insanity each of us knows to be bred deep in American society — the insanity of violent racism.

The differential treatment given to the white students and the black students is enough to warrant our concern. That the black students were fired upon and threatened before being told they were under arrest is an outrage.

Thursday evening's incident marks the loss of all confidence in the Iowa City police department. We cannot and will not tolerate incidents such as these against black brothers and sisters, students and friends.

There are many questions surrounding the incident Thursday night that need immediate clarification. Among these questions are: (1) explain the inconsistency between the police's story that the students were "looting" when the resulting charge was disorderly conduct; (2) if the students were only being arrested for disorderly conduct, why were shotguns used in making the arrest; (3) if the police department claims that only warning shots were fired into the air, why is there a bullet hole at head level in a nearby store?

We demand an investigation of the incident Thursday evening — not behind the closed doors of the police department, but by the University, the City Human Rights Commission and the Civil Service Commission. According to our evidence, the investigation should result not only in dropping all charges against the black students, but in the dismissal and criminal prosecution of the officers involved.

violence is to be employed, it must be calculated and precise, with an end in mind.

The difference between the Wednesday evening-Tuesday morning rally and the Thursday evening-Friday morning rally was the entering of the buildings and the arrests made by the police. Obviously, one precipitated the other. Take note — a legitimate protest against the war or ROTC did not precipitate the arrests; it was the wanton vandalism of a few.

Vote before you leave

To the Editor:

One of the casualties in a situation where numbers of students may be leaving town abruptly could be the loss of their opportunity to vote in the very significant State Primary election scheduled for June 2.

It is significant because there are three contests in which peace candidates are opposed by men who will benefit and perhaps win if students do not vote.

Insisting on the opportunity to vote is still possible, but more complicated than it seemed a week ago.

Here are directions. If there are further questions, the headquarters of any of the candidates named below will be happy to answer them. But the initiative in picking the situation which fits your plans must obviously be yours:

1. IF YOU ARE GOING TO BE IN IOWA CITY OR JOHNSON COUNTY ON JUNE 2, you may vote at a polling place in the regular manner. If that needs explanation, contact headquarters or any candidate named below.

2. IF YOU ARE GOING TO BE IN IOWA CITY OR JOHNSON COUNTY AFTER MAY 18, BUT WILL LEAVE BEFORE JUNE 2, you may vote in advance, in the regular manner, by going to the Johnson County Courthouse to the Auditor's Office, and asking to do so. You will be given your choice of voting either a Republican or Democratic ballot (since this is a primary election) and a private means by which to register your preference among the candidates.

3. IF YOU ARE GOING TO BE IN IOWA CITY OR JOHNSON COUNTY AFTER MAY 13, BUT WILL LEAVE BEFORE MAY 18, you may go in person to the Johnson County Courthouse Auditor's Office and file a request for an absentee ballot. This will then be mailed to you, along with instructions for how to fill it in and return it.

4. IF YOU MUST LEAVE TODAY, MAY 12, then you can still receive an absentee ballot by writing: Auditor's Office, Johnson County Courthouse, Iowa City, Iowa, 52240. In your letter give your Johnson County Address, the address to which you wish the absentee ballot mailed and specify whether you wish a Republican or Democratic ballot.

To guide this choice, it might be added that on the Republican ballot, in the contest for First District Congressman, Congressman Fred Schwengel is regarded as the peace candidate. His opponent, David Stanley, supports President Nixon.

In the Democratic contest for nomination for First District Congressman, both William Albrecht and State Representative Ed Mevinsky are clearly peace candidates. Their opponent, a county sheriff, is generally regarded as a "law-and-order" candidate, though to be fair it must be added that Sheriff Strout has opposed the war during this campaign. (My own participation in Ed Mevinsky's campaign is a matter of public knowledge, and should be considered in weighing whether my description is accurate.)

In the Democratic contest for State Representative from Johnson County, West, Arthur Small has done a great deal of work for the peace movement in the past several years, and is particularly deserving of student support, I would feel. His serious opposition comes from a Farm Bureau spokesman.

Other candidates on the respective ballots are unopposed.

It would seem ironic for students to leave campus in the search for peace and miss this opportunity to do something effective within the political process.

Questions logic

To the Editor:

Saturday night I received a flyer stating that some of the enrollees of the University were boycotting classes to register their disapproval of the President's course of action in Southeast Asia. I fail to follow the logic of such a course.

Given the condition that I were enrolled to demonstrate support for President Nixon, any deviation from said course would register dissent. I am enrolled to gain an education. By avoiding the rigors of my classes I register no disapproval for U.S. foreign policy, but for my own capacity to formulate a rational course of action and pursue it to completion.

Any move to completely close the University is not a decision to tell the President, the world or anybody anything. It is merely validation of the image which is sweeping the nation — that the kids don't know what they want nor how to get it. By closing the university this small minority is attempting to force their wishes upon me. They are usurping the authority to violate my rights and in the name of freedom?

Commendations are in order to President Boyd for not compromising on this issue. If we are going to protest, let's define the issues and make them responsive to the cause we seek to further. The issues are not related to whether we remain in school. He evidently perceived this and faced his issue like a man. If we must protest, let's be relevant to our proposition.

Board Continues DI Editor

The Board of Student Publications, Inc., voted 5-1 Sunday to "continue the present editor in charge of The Daily Iowan until further Board action."

The action was taken at a special meeting called for 1:30 p.m. to discuss the feasibility of having the newly named staff take over the paper during the present campus disruptions.

Board member George W. Forell, director of the School of Religion, introduced the motion asking the Board to act.

Said Forell, "In view of the events of the last week, and in view of my previously announced position that this is a poor time to make an editorial change, I move that we continue the present editor in charge of The Daily Iowan until further action by the Board."

Voting for the motion were: Forell; Lane Davis, chairman of the Board and professor of political science; William Zima, assistant professor of journalism; Jerry Patten, A4, Perry, and Pam Austin, A4, Ottumwa.

Carol Ehrlich, G, Iowa City, voted against the motion.

Absent from the meeting were Bob Reynolds, A4, Osceola, and John Cain, A3, Eldora.

Lowell H. Forte, G, Iowa City, will remain editor and will be responsible for forming a new staff to operate in the interim.

Editor-select Leona Durham will keep that status until the Board takes further action.

Forte said Sunday that he hoped he could form a staff from his former staff and from Durham's new staff so that any transition would be "very smooth."

Durham issued the following statement Sunday night:

"The 5-1 vote by SPI Board to suspend my staff and me for an indefinite period is an open act of political censorship. Led by professors Forell and Davis, the Board declared that possible mismanagement on the part of the new staff might inflame the campus. Before the Board meeting, Davis called Lowell Forte and asked him to continue as editor of The Daily Iowan, indicating, according to Forte, that if he did not continue as editor the paper might be shut down. This is an unfair indictment of the new DI staff. We are angry and disappointed."

The statement was signed by Durham and three members of her staff-designate: Albert Cloud, G, Indianola; Lowell May, A3, Mason City; and Cheryl Miller, A4, Wellman.

Contacted about the statement, Davis said, "The motion means just exactly what it said. There was no thought of closing down The Daily Iowan."

Forte said, "I am very sorry that members of the new staff are angry — I guess I can understand their anger since they are excited about taking over as I was. However, my loyalty is to The Daily Iowan, and I will cooperate with the wishes of the Board in any way I can."

Five other members of the Daily Iowan staff made this statement:

"We accept the SPI Board decision. Our loyalties rest with The Daily Iowan, not with any individual."

Students Post Reward For Leads in Assault

A group of University students and other interested members of the Iowa City community are posting $250 reward for information leading to the arrest of persons who reportedly assaulted a University art student early last Tuesday morning.

The student — James Mall, G, Iowa City — was reported in good condition today by University hospital nursing service.

A friend reported that Mall suffered multiple fractures of the cheek and jaw bones when he was beaten by unidentified assailants as he was walking past the Union toward the foot-bridge south of the Union about 12:30 a.m. Tuesday. The injuries required extensive surgery, the friend said.

Persons who have information leading to the arrest and conviction of the unknown assailants are asked to contact The Daily Iowan.

Hillcrest Residents Routed By 'Nonexplosive Device'

A "non-explosive" device was found in a second-floor restroom in Hillcrest Men's Dormitory about 9 p.m. Monday. The "device" was removed following evacuation of the dormitory residents.

William Binney, director of Campus Security, said the device was about nine inches by five inches and speculated it was "something someone had discarded before going home."

Richard McClimmon, PI, Elwood, found the device. He described it as being about the size of a loaf of bread, and wrapped in canvas-like material. McClimmon also said it contained a timing device.

The device was found in the corner of a restroom in Kuever House wedged against a urinal. Sgt. Merlin Mohr, a night detective for Campus Security, carried the device from the dormitory.

Binney said the device would be turned over to the Iowa Bureau of Criminal Investigation.

Policeman Testifies Raid Was 'Planned'

CHICAGO — A Chicago policeman testified Monday that one of 11 persons charged with burning Selective Service records told him "everything was planned out" in their raid upon the South Side draft board.

Robert Keim, one of the policemen who arrested the defendants at the scene, said Margaret Katroschik, 22, of Detroit, made the remark after her arrest. Keim also said William Sweeney, 19, of Milwaukee, told him he brought his tooth brush along because "we knew we'd be arrested."

Another of the arresting officers, Sgt. William J. Kelly, said the defendants were "unusually cooperative" when they were arrested.

Two of the defendants, Frederick J. Chase, 26, of Detroit, and Edward Hoffmans, 32, of Iowa City, refused to stand when Judge Edwin A. Robson entered the courtroom at the beginning of Monday's session of U.S. District Court and had to be lifted to their feet by federal marshals.

The two students arrested Friday following a scuffle with city police in front of the Civic Center were released Saturday afternoon on bond.

Norman Fischer, G, West Pittston, Pa., and Bruce A. Clark, A2, Iowa City, were released after posting $600 bond each. They each were charged with disorderly conduct and resisting arrest.

Q: If a senior has a grade-point average below that needed to graduate and chooses to take "P" grades in all his courses, may he still graduate? What is the minimum GPA?

A: Such a student would not be eligible to graduate, since the "P" only makes it possible to give him his up-to-date average in all his other courses, — which means he would still have a cumulative GPA below the 2.0 required for graduation.

Q: What will be done about a course where the grade rests entirely upon a final paper or examination?

A: In a normal case, a grade of "P" would be assigned.

Q: What is the University doing to communicate these understandings to faculty?

A: Each collegiate dean has been asked to advise his faculty of all aspects of the rules.

Q: Do you feel that this plan penalizes students who choose to continue their current enrollment?

A: No.

Lakers Lose Garrett In Expansion Draft

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Knicks escaped the expansion draft Monday without losing any of the players who led them to the National Basketball Association championship, but the runnerup Los Angeles Lakers were not so fortunate, losing starting guard Dick Garrett.

While the Knicks surprisingly came out with their top nine players, the Lakers unexpectedly left Garrett unprotected, and he apparently was the opening selection by Buffalo.

The NBA conducted the draft in secret and refused to reveal the order of picks, but the first two picks of each club were made known, and the remaining 27 selections were made public in three groups of nine. Garrett and Ray Scott of Baltimore were Buffalo's first two choices, while Portland, picking second throughout while Buffalo and Cleveland rotated, chose Larry Siegfried of Boston and Leroy Ellis of Baltimore, and Cleveland took Luther Rackley of Cincinnati and Walt Wesley of Chicago.

Siegfried, a veteran who also surprisingly was left unprotected, then was quickly traded by Portland to San Diego for forward Jim Barnett, probably the forerunner to a number of trades prompted by this fourth expansion draft in the past five years.

The Knicks, who beat the Lakers for the title last Friday, lost seldom used forwards Bill Hosket and Dan May to Buffalo and guard John Warren to Cleveland in the third through fifth rounds. But mysteriously, the three expansion clubs passed up sixth starter Dick Barnett or top reserves Mike Riordan or Dave Stallworth, one of whom had to be unprotected.

Each of the 14 established teams was unable to protect seven players, and then an eighth man after losing one.

Garrett, a rookie, apparently was exposed while the Lakers protected forwards Mel Counts and Happy Hairston. The Lakers also lost veteran guard Johnny Bean to Cleveland after probably pulling back rookie Willie McCarter.

Following the draft, Buffalo announced that it had traded Howell to Philadelphia for forward Bob Kauffman and a future draft pick or a player to be named later. Philadelphia had acquired Kauffman from Chicago earlier in the day to complete a trade last September in which Philadelphia sent Chet Walker and Shafer Halimon to Chicago for Jim Washington.

Orr's Fourth Award Caps Hockey Slam

BOSTON (AP) — Bobby Orr, a 22-year-old defenseman hailed as one of the National Hockey League's all-time greats despite his age, collected an unprecedented fourth award Monday for leading the Boston Bruins to their first Stanley Cup in 29 years.

Orr, who scored the championship goal at 40 seconds of overtime in the Bruins completed a four-game sweep with a 4-3 victory over the St. Louis Blues Sunday, registered a hockey slam in winning the Conn Smythe Trophy as the Most Valuable Player in the playoffs.

"I wish there were about 19 other guys right here with me," Orr said after the announcement of the award voted by the NHL Board of Governors. "This is the happiest day of my life. We have a helluva team and I just hope we can do it again next year."

Orr, who piled up 120 points in becoming the first defenseman to win the NHL scoring championship, capped a magnificent Stanley Cup playoff by feeding Derek Sanderson in the corner and then taking a return pass to bang home the winning goal in the fourth game.

The goal, his ninth in the playoffs and 120th point, both Stanley Cup records for a defenseman, lifted Orr to the Smythe Trophy and another $1,500.

That enabled him to collect a total of $15,250 in added money as a result of awards and the $8,750 he receives from the Bruins' second place finish in the East Division and first Stanley Cup since 1941.

Earlier, Orr won the Hart Trophy as the league's Most Valuable Player, the Art Ross Trophy as the league's top scorer and the Norris Award for a third straight year as the NHL's best defenseman.

"There's no question — Bobby is the best hockey player I've ever seen," Boston coach Harry Sinden said. "He can do more things than anyone who ever put on skates. Just fantastic."

Sinden, wearing dark glasses, showed up at the Garden Club, while the old spacious arena still was being cleaned of debris.

"I have the most wonderful headache I've ever had," the young coach said before joining the Bruins on a motorcade through downtown Boston streets. Thousands lined the streets to cheer the Bruins.

Final Homestand is Cancelled—Badgers Niplowa, 1-0

By TIM SIMMONS

Iowa's final two home baseball doubleheaders with Drake and Wartburg May 19 have been cancelled due to a Big 10 scheduling rule, according to coach Duane Banks.

The Big 10 allows only 18 conference games plus non-conference games played on nine dates, but excludes games played on a spring training trip.

The Hawkeyes scheduled two extra non-league dates as a precautionary measure to make up for games cancelled by weather, but they haven't lost a date this spring due to the weather.

Wisconsin all but eliminated Iowa from the Big 10 baseball race here Saturday by beating the Hawkeyes 1-0 in the first game of a scheduled doubleheader.

The nightcap was called in the fifth inning due to rain with Wisconsin batting and Iowa leading 3-1.

The loss in Saturday's opener left Iowa in fifth-place in the league standings at 5-6 and dropped the Hawkeyes' overall record to 23-17.

Ohio State (8-0) and Minnesota (10-2) are tied for the Big 10's top spot, but the Buckeyes have a two-game advantage in the loss column.

Wisconsin (6-3), Illinois (6-4) and Iowa make up the remainder of the first division followed by Purdue (4-6), Michigan State (3-5), Indiana (4-8), Michigan (2-6) and Northwestern (1-9).

Iowa concludes its Big 10 schedule in doubleheaders at Purdue Friday, at Illinois Saturday and at Minnesota May 24.

In Saturday's first game, Wisconsin's Jim Enlund limited Iowa to only two hits and a walk as the Badgers scored the deciding tally in the third inning.

Third baseman Tom Bennett lead off the third for Wisconsin with a single to left and then advanced to second on a wild pitch by Iowa's Chet Teklinski.

The next batter, catcher Dan Skalecki, blooped a single to right to score Bennett from second with the game's lone run.

Catcher Jim Sundberg rapped out Iowa's only two hits in the opener with Gary Keoppel the only other Hawkeye to reach base via a walk.

The closest Iowa came to scoring was when Sundberg singled with one out in the second and then promptly stole second. Enlund then struck out Ray Smith for the second out, and after a walk to Keoppel, Bob Rushe flied out to center to end the inning.

Enlund, who finished strong in recording his fifth win in eight starts, struck out four and retired the last nine men he faced.

Teklinski suffered the loss, his fourth in seven decisions. The sophomore righthander yielded seven hits, but struck out five and walked none.

The nightcap saw the rain, a walk and a single destroy the Hawkeyes' chances for victory.

With Iowa leading 3-1 in the second game and only three outs away from a victory, Wisconsin managed to get the first two men on base in the fifth, just enough time before the rain came.

Iowa scored first in the second as Dave Blazin boarded on an error, stole second, went to third on Bob Perkins' sacrifice and scored on Joe Wessels' fly to center.

Wisconsin tied the count in the fourth when R. D. Boschulte doubled to lead off the inning and scored when Blazin let Paul Shandling's single to left roll through his legs.

A walk, a stolen base error and run-scoring singles by Perkins and Wessels upped Iowa's edge to 3-1 in its portion of the fourth.

Alan Schuette of Iowa and Dave Billy of Wisconsin were the pitchers in the nightcap. Schuette gave up only three hits, walked two and struck out four before the game was called.

"There's no question — Bobby is the best hockey player I've ever seen," Boston coach Harry Sinden said. "He can do more things than anyone who ever put on skates. Just fantastic."

Johnson Loses by Seven Votes— Mount Big 10 MVP

Although he led his team to an undefeated Big 10 basketball season two months ago, Iowa's John Johnson had to take second place to Rick Mount of Purdue Saturday.

Saturday Mount was named as the Big 10's most valuable basketball player for the second straight season. Mount will now receive the Silver Basketball given annually by the Chicago Tribune.

The balloting was one of the closest ever in history of the award. Point totals were figured on the basis of two points for a first place vote and one point for a second place vote. Mount captured nine first place votes and 11 seconds for a total of 29 points. Johnson tallied 22 points as he received six first place votes and 10 seconds.

The selection was made a month after the Tribune had intended it to be. The choice between Mount and Johnson was so close that some voters wanted to give each player an award.

Mount set nearly every Big 10 scoring record in the book during his three year career with

Lightner Fires 67 For Iowa Golf Win

Iowa, paced by Tom Lightner's 67, shot past North Dakota 283-311 and North Dakota State 283-320 in a non-league triple-dual golf meet here Monday at Finkbine Field.

The two victories upped the Hawkeyes' dual mark to 7-3. North Dakota, a 311-320 winner of North Dakota State, is 2-1. Monday's double loser is 3-4.

Lightner, a junior from Newton, covered the front nine in 34 and came roaring home with a 33 on the back nine for his five-under par total on the 6,850 Finkbine layout.

The course record in collegiate competition at Finkbine Field is 66 set by Iowa's John Liechty on April 26, 1957, in a dual meet with Nebraska.

Professional Lee Trevino holds the all-time competitive record at Finkbine, which was open in 1966, by shooting a 64 in the 1968 Amana VIP Open.

Jim Carney (71), Joe Heinz (72) and Chris Larsen (73) or Jay Boros (73) figured in the scoring for Iowa, which played without its top two players, Brad Schuchat and Bob Mulert.

Pete Loyd of North Dakota and Tucker LeBien of North Dakota State paced Iowa's victims with 76. Iowa's Ron Kelly also posted a 76.

Other scores figuring in North Dakota's total were 78's by Jim Were and Mike Lundholm and a 79 by John McMaster.

North Dakota State, which played with only four men, added Lee Swanson's 77, Rodger Whitford's 79 and John Gergen's 88 to its 320 total.

The Big 10's 51st Golf Championships is the next action for Chuck Zwienen's crew. The two-day meet opens Friday at Champaign, Ill.

Harriers Brave Guard —But Lose Anyway

By GARY WADE

The Iowa track team braved the national guard and a closed-University of Illinois track team Saturday, coming out on the short end of a 106-47 score.

The Illini captured 15 of 18 first places and the Hawks could manage firsts in only the pole vault, the long jump and the 880-yard run.

Iowa swept all three places in the pole vault as junior Phil Wertman took first place with his season's best of 15-feet into a stiff wind. Rich Gershenson and John Tefer placed second and third at 14-4 and 14-0, respectively.

The effort by Wertman now gives the Hawks the second, third and fourth best pole vaulters in the conference going into next week's (May 15-16) Big Ten outdoor championship at Indiana on the Bloomington campus. The Hawks then close out their spring season with the NCAA finals at Des Moines June 12-14.

John Criswell beat the Big Ten's second-ranked half-miler, Ron Phillips of Illinois, in taking the title for the Hawks in a time of 1:54.4.

The final Hawkeye winner was Tefer, who captured the long jump with a leap of 22-6.

Iowa's biggest point producer all season long, Bruce Presley, placed in four events for the Hawks. Presley was second to the Big Ten leader, Mark Koster, in the 440-yard intermediate hurdles, and second also to Dave Robert of Illinois in the 120-yard high hurdles.

Presley took third in the triple jump and placed third to Tefer in the long jump. Tefer, in turn, took third in the triple jump, won by Illinois' Donn Langston. Jay Pedely was third for Iowa in both hurdle events.

Mark Steffen was second in the 660-yard run to last year's conference champ and current leader Rob Mango. Chuck Yeager placed third in both the shot put and the discuss for Iowa.

Bob Schum was second for the Hawks in the mile. Larry Wilson took third in the high jump and Dave Larsen was third in the quarter-mile for Iowa.

Al Matthews was second in the 220-yard dash. Chuck Christensen was third in the 880-yard run, and Dave Eastland was third in the three-mile for the Hawks.

the Boilermakers. He was also a three year All-American for Purdue.

Johnson broke many Iowa scoring records during his two year stint with the Hawkeyes. He was named Iowa's most valuable player last season also.

Rudy Tomjanovich of Michigan was third in the voting as he received three first place votes. Ohio State's Dave Sorenson had two votes for first and Wisconsin's Al Henry had one.

Ask War Funds Cut Off— Students Back Bill

A growing number of students who are leaving the University early this semester as a result of student unrest on campus are taking with them packets of information to distribute in their hometowns urging support of Senate Amendment 609.

Amendment 609 — one of whose sponsors is Iowa Democratic Sen. Harold Hughes — would cut off all funds allocated for military action in Cambodia 30 days following passage. Also under the terms of the amendment, funds for military purposes in Vietnam and Laos would be eliminated at the end of the year.

More than 100 students, members of a local committee pushing for support of the amendment, will meet at 8 p.m. today at Wesley House, 120 N. Dubuque St., to organize the group's efforts for areas outside of Iowa City.

The packets include copies of the amendment and petitions supporting it, and suggestions for local political action on the amendment and speaking engagements.

The Iowa City committee also plans to canvas Iowa City and surrounding areas beginning Wednesday.

An estimated 250 persons attended a meeting Sunday afternoon at which time the group's efforts were finalized, according to Local Ad Hoc chairman of the organization Don Gibson, G. Iowa City.

Petitions will be circulated by the group, and student speakers will be available for community groups and radio and television programs. The speakers will talk about the events in Iowa City of the past two weeks and the situation in Cambodia.

The group intends to canvas Cedar Rapids and Davenport to build support for the amendment.

Organizers of the Iowa City effort include Alan Spitzer, chairman of the department of history; Don Gibson, G. Indianola, and a teaching assistant in Western Civilization; James Mc-

Cue, associate professor of religion, and Dee Norton, associate professor of psychology.

Sam Brown, a native of Council Bluffs and organizer of the Vietnam Moratorium, is national organizer of the support for Amendment 609. National offices are located in Washington, D.C.

The Iowa campaign is centered at Simpson College in Indianola. Richard Cohen of Indianola is the Iowa chairman. Grinnell College is serving as regional headquarters for five states. The regional chairman is Michael Segal.

An organizational meeting to gain local support for the amendment was held Wednesday. The student chapel of St. Paul's Lutheran Church has been designated as the Iowa City headquarters.

Sponsors of the senate amendment besides Hughes are George McGovern (D-S.D.), Alan Cranston (D-Calif.), Mark Hatfield (R-Ore.), and Charles Goodell (R-N.Y.).

Guard Unit Cleared To Aid State Patrol

By JOHN CAMP
An officer of the Iowa National Guard battalion stationed outside Iowa City said that the unit has been cleared to move into the city at any time the Iowa Highway Patrol requests help.

Capt. Jerry L. Gordon said the decision to move would be made locally, by Highway Patrol officials, and the actual order would be given by Major Francis Voss, the National Guard field commander. Gordon said the troops could be moving "in a matter of minutes."

Although Gordon refused to disclose the number of troops stationed at Johnson County 4-H Fairgrounds, other sources now estimate the total at 200-225. He said the unit — the 34th Iowa Military Police (MP) Battalion — included the 185th MP Company from Marshalltown, the 186th MP Company from Des Moines, the 184th MP Company from Knoxville, plus a transportation company and medical support units.

Gordon said the battalion is now on a three-shift, round-the-clock schedule, with one company on alert at all times. The alert shift, he said, is spent reviewing crowd control tactics and theory, and said that the officers were emphasizing "absolutely tight" weapon control.

He termed all three MP companies "highly professional," said that all men had gone through regular basic training, and that all three MP companies have had extensive prior riot-control training.

"We have been trained to react to a situation with the minimal force needed to control it," he said.

Gordon said no guardsman may leave the fairgrounds without authorization, and occasional rumors that the men were moving could be attributed to the three-times daily "garbage run" from the fairgrounds to the city dump, and from personnel commuting between the fairgrounds and the staff headquarters at the Ramada Inn.

Other officers stationed with the battalion said that the guardsmen had been subjected to "verbal abuse" from passing motorists, including the term "Pigs". The treatment did not especially affect the men, he said, most of whom thought it was more funny than insulting.

The officers said that the age breakdown among guardsmen was about the same as with college students, and said that several of the troops were students — including several from the University, from Iowa State at Ames, and from Drake University in Des Moines.

Conrad Named To Hall of Fame

Syndicated cartoonist Paul Conrad of the Los Angeles Times was inducted into the Kappa Tau Alpha Hall of Fame during ceremonies Sunday at the University School of Journalism.

Conrad, a Pulitzer Prize winner in 1964, earned a B.A. Degree in art at the University in 1950. He was unable to attend the ceremony.

Faculty members of Kappa Tau Alpha, a national honor society in journalism, annually select to the Hall of Fame persons "who have attended or served the University and who have shown distinguished accomplishment in their professional careers in journalism and mass communications."

Conrad recently received the Overseas Press Club Award and twice has earned the Sigma Delta Chi Award for Editorial Cartooning.

City Council Dissent Causes Street Program Hearing Stall

Dissension and heated argument among City Councilmen concerning the 1970 Street Improvement Program, specifically the four-laning of West Benton Street from Emerald to Sunset Street, caused the public hearing on the matter to be adjourned one more week, to next Monday at 4 p.m.

Objections voiced by residents along West Benton Street were rehearsed by the Council. They included danger to children attending two grade schools on West Benton Street, cost to residents, encroachment on adjoining property and whether or not the city intends to make West Benton Street a main thoroughfare.

Councilman Tim Brandt said he did not see how the Council could yield to pressures and change a decision it had made more than a month ago on the four-laning. The original Council decision placing the four-laning of West Benton Street on the improvement program was made several months ago.

Councilman Lee Butherus said the exact street width was not voted on. Brandt said the Council had cost estimates set up at that time so they had some idea that the street was to be four-lane.

Councilman J. Patrick White moved that the Council amend the West Benton paving improvement from 45 feet to 33 feet which would change the improved street from four to two lanes.

Mayor Loren Hickerson said this amendment would "multiply problems for city long-range planning." He said he would rather remove West Benton Street from the improvement program if it was not four-laned.

Because the city initiated the four-lane plans for West Benton Street and because more than 75 per cent of the residents filed objections to the four-laning, a unanimous vote is required by the Council to pass the four-laning, according to City Atty. Jay Honohan.

Voting on White's amendment, Brandt and Hickerson voted against the 33 foot proposal and White, Butherus and Councilman Robert (Doc) Connell voted for it.

Honohan said the fate of the entire street improvement program depended on whether the West Benton Street "impasse" could be cleared up.

The Council discussed the other streets included in the improvement program and voted to delete Grove Street and Governor from the program.

Jean Renoir's
Diary of a Chambermaid
with Paulette Goddard
After directing several of the masterpieces of the French cinema (Boudu Saved from Drowning, The Crime of Monsieur Lange, The Rules of the Game, etc.) Renoir spent the war years in Hollywood. Diary of a Chambermaid is usually considered one of his best American films, and a fascinating attempt to blend French and Hollywood movie styles.

S. Viets Evacuate Cambodian Refugees

SAIGON (AP) — Completing a 60-mile run up the Mekong River, about 30 South Vietnamese navy vessels docked at the capital of Cambodia Monday on an announced mission to unload supplies and bring thousands of Vietnamese back to their homeland.

Other units of the flotilla which left South Viet on Saturday remained down river, where South Vietnamese and U.S.-trained Cambodian forces secured the strategic ferry landing at Neak Luong on Highway 1.

In the group of vessels that reached Phnom Penh were five LSTs — landing ship tanks — and these were expected to bring back some of the 200,000 Vietnamese living in the capital.

South Vietnamese sources reported that six U.S. Navy advisers went along to Phnom Penh with the vessels. A spokesman for the U.S. Command in Saigon said he had no such information.

In Washington, a White House spokesman said there is no change in President Nixon's policy that American personnel would not go beyond 21.7 miles into Cambodia "and there have been no U.S. personnel beyond that."

At the Pentagon in Washington, a spokesman interpreted the flotilla's mission as a relief operation rather than a military exercise after the vessels passed the limit set for combat activity.

He said that if the South Vietnamese expedition ran into enemy attack on the way back from Phnom Penh, he assumed the South Vietnamese forces would act to save the situation.

The vessels that reached Phnom Penh were the lead element of a flotilla of some 140 ships and boats dispatched from

Can Tho, the military headquarters in South Vietnam for allied forces in the Mekong Delta.

The boats at Phnom Penh can carry 5,000-10,000 refugees, sources said. Other boats in the flotilla presumably will reach Phnom Penh later.

The dispatch of the flotilla to Phnom Penh to pick up refugees apparently stems in part from a campaign quietly launched by the new Cambodian government to rid the country of its Vietnamese citizens, who number as many as 500,000.

Thirty U.S. gunboats participating in the river operation apparently did not go as far as the Highway 1 ferry crossing at Neak Luong, 37 miles southeast of Phnom Penh and about 25 miles upriver from the South Vietnamese border.

South Vietnamese marines took the crossing over the weekend, clearing the way for the flotilla. The crossing had been captured in a lightning attack by the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese on May 3.

The South Vietnamese freed 243 Cambodian soldiers who had been held prisoner by the Viet Cong-North Vietnamese force.

South Vietnamese headquarters in Saigon said more than 200 enemy troops were killed in clashes along the Mekong in the river operation.

One of the goals of the operation was to neutralize enemy sanctuary bases along the river.

The South Vietnamese marines linked up with U.S.-trained Cambodian mercenaries who had flown from South Vietnam to Phnom Penh and moved to Neak Luong over Highway 1.

In another development, informed sources said a high-ranking Cambodian official had flown to a major U.S. military headquarters near Saigon to establish the first liaison with American officials in South Vietnam and exchange intelligence information.

One source, who spoke with the Cambodian official for four hours, said: "He volunteered a lot of information, and we're glad to get it."

The informant asked that the official's name not be disclosed. Scattered ground action was reported in the Cambodian operations being carried out by U.S. and South Vietnamese forces.

The U.S. Command reported that five Americans were killed and 14 wounded in a clash with an unknown size enemy force in the Se San base area, 50 miles northwest of Pleiku and six miles inside Cambodia. Enemy losses were unknown.

U.S. 1st Air Cavalry troops, who had just discovered a 10-ton rice cache in a bunker and hut complex about eight miles southeast of Mimot in Cambodia, lost three men killed and four wounded in a 90-minute fire-fight, the command said. Enemy casualties were not known.

Total U.S. casualties in all Cambodian operations so far total 84 killed and 314 wounded, the command said. South Vietnamese forces have lost 340 killed and 1,515 wounded, government headquarters reported.

The allied commands claim 5,297 enemy troops killed and thousands of weapons and millions of pounds of supplies captured or destroyed.

Officials in Washington, said the United States is considering turning over some of the captured war material to the Cambodian government.

In Laos, the third Indochinese country, North Vietnamese were reported to have captured a government position 30 miles north of the strategic Plain of Jars.

Military sources in Vientiane, the Laotian capital, said 2,000 refugees walked out of the position at San Pakha and that about half of them had reached another government position nearby.

In southern Laos, 500 dependents of civil servants and police were evacuated from the provincial capital of Saravane to Pakse.

Although there is no immediate threat to Saravane, officials expressed the belief that defenders there would feel easier if their families were taken to a safe area.

However, there is a real threat of North Vietnamese-Pathet Lao attack on Pak Song on the Bolovens Plateau, 25 miles east of Pakse.

The plateau is the rice bowl of southern Laos and is becoming a more important potential source of food supplies to the North Vietnamese as allied thrusts into Cambodia eliminate enemy sanctuaries and supply bases.

HE HUNG UP HIS JOCK.

Five years ago Alan Abrahams was the only British track star at a small southern school. But Alan had straggly hair and liked hip music, and his small southern school hated both.

So he went from jock to rock and split to New York.

His first gig was at the Metropole, but Alan was lost in the topless shuffle on stage.

And then a brassy producer convinced him to teach some kid from Pittsburgh to speak "English" and called them "Lord Alan and Sir Richard." Yeech.

It seemed like Alan would never play and sing the music he really wanted.

But then he met Bill Peters who played lead guitar. And Gary Van Scyoc who played bass and trumpet. And Adam Ippolitto who played keyboard, trumpet and tuba. And Marty Fogel who played sax. And Paul Squire who played trumpet and other miscellaneous brass.

And he put them all together to play Blues, Rock and Jazz and called them Pig Iron.

Pig Iron is a new group on Columbia Records. Give them some support.

300 UI Students Exit Campus Early

By SHARON ROHNER The "mass exodus" from the University of students who chose not to finish the semester began on Monday, but there seemed to be more effect on book sales than on dormitory check-outs.

Both Ray Vanderhoef, owner and manager of Iowa Book & Supply Co., and Dick Lindsay, manager of Hawkeye Book Store, reported unexpectedly large crowds of students who wished to sell books throughout the day. Rather than sporadic periods of crowds, there was a constant stream, they said.

The major problem with this is that instructors, especially those in the core courses, have not yet decided what texts they will use next year, so the bookstores are uncertain which ones to buy back, they said.

About 300 students, as of 5 p.m. Monday, had checked out of the men's and women's residence halls and the Mayflower. The office of T.H. Rehder, director of dormitories and dining services, reported that it would probably have an official tally on Wednesday.

Some dormitories were keeping unofficial headcounts, however. Both Rienow I and Hillcrest as of 5 p.m. Monday, said about 60 men from each had checked out. Rienow I, as of last October 1, had 512 residents, and Hillcrest had 799.

As of late afternoon Monday, 50 men each had moved out of Quadrangle and Rienow II. Their total residences last October were 405 and 516, respectively. Only three men had left South Quadrangle, which had 77 residents last fall.

Miss Patricia Philpott, house manager of Currier and Carrie Stanley women's residence halls, said she had seen a list of those who had left and estimated that between 30 and 35 girls had moved out of each dormitory.

Burge Hall and Kate Daum House, the other women's residence halls, were not keeping a tally.

Students taking one of the three options University Pres. Willard L. Boyd gave them Sunday must be out of the dormitories within 24 hours. This does not apply to students living in places such as the Mayflower, however. As of 5 p.m. Monday, only four people had left the building, which has a capacity of 1,056.

Supreme Court Asked to Stop Aid to Church-run Colleges

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court was asked Monday to halt the flow of millions of dollars of federal construction grants to church-related colleges and universities.

Attorneys for the Connecticut Civil Liberties Union and the American Jewish Congress said in an appeal the assistance violates the First Amendment principle that government may not finance institutions which teach or practice religion.

The court never has passed on the constitutionality of federal aid to church-controlled colleges and universities. In fact, taxpayer suits against this kind of a federal spending program were authorized by the court only last June.

The civil liberties groups and 15 Connecticut taxpayers contend the 1963 Higher Education Facilities Act did not permit grants to church-operated colleges. And even if the law authorized such grants, the appeal said, they are an unconstitutional advancement of religion.

Both arguments were rejected two months ago by a federal district court in Hartford. The three-judge panel said Congress intended to include church-related colleges and universities among the institutions eligible for federal construction grants. The panel said it could find nothing in the First Amendment to prohibit the aid.

The 1963 law authorized federal funds for construction of facilities "urgently needed" for the expansion of institutions of higher learning. The act specifically excluded "any facility which is to be used for sectarian instruction or as a place of religious worship."

More than $1.6 billion in federal funds have been granted for college construction in the past five years. An estimated 10 per cent of this total has gone to religiously oriented institutions, according to Leo Pfeffer, of New York, special counsel for the American Jewish Congress.

The 1963 law reflected a compromise on federal aid to church-related educational institutions worked out by the Kennedy administration.

Early in his 1960 election campaign, John F. Kennedy said federal aid to parochial schools would be unconstitutional. Later, the Kennedy administration took the position the prohibition did not apply to construction grants for the building of such things as laboratories and gymnasiums at church-run colleges and universities.

Last Monday, the Supreme Court cleared a major church-state case from its docket by approving, 7 to 1, tax exemptions for religiously used church property. Still pending is a test of a Pennsylvania state law that permits race-track tax receipts to be used for academic activities at parochial schools.

The project, to be directed by Prof. Robert A. Corrigan, will entail hiring a Ph.D.-holder in American studies who has specialized in the Afro-American contribution to American civilization. It will also involve five fellowships worth $5,000 per year for four years for holders of bachelor's degrees who want to study for doctorates in Afro-American studies. Corrigan said, "The stated aim of the American Civilization Program at the University to provide the student with an integrated knowledge of American life, its history, thought, institutions, and characteristic expression by studying the total culture of the United States in historical perspective. . . There is still room for specialized courses on the black experience which could provide the student with a more detailed knowledge than is now available. Courses are now being developed in areas such as history, literature, and the social sciences which could contribute to such a specialized knowledge."

LOOKING FOR A DEAL?

Workers Shout U.S. Support, Demand Removal of Lindsay

NEW YORK (AP) — More than 2,000 blue collar workers returned today to the scene of a violent confrontation with antiwar students and marched around City Hall shouting, "USA all the way!"

They also shouted "Lindsay must go!" and handed out leaflets demanding the resignation of Sid Davidoff, an aide to Mayor John V. Lindsay, who was involved in the bloody melee on Friday.

During Friday's confrontation, a number of students at nearby Pace College were beaten by construction workers who marched from the Wall Street area to City Hall demonstrated against peace rallies.

Some of the construction workers invaded a Pace College building to grab students and beat them up. Lindsay has demanded a full investigation of reports that some policemen stood by during the melee and didn't stop the beatings.

Today's demonstrators, including a contingent of longshoremen and many "hardhats" from downtown construction projects, carried scores of American flags.

Their ire was aroused Friday by the flying of the flag at half staff in tribute to four students killed during a confrontation with National Guardsmen at Kent State University in Ohio, and their rampage led to the moving of the flag up the staff.

As they marched by Pace College today, many of the workmen hurled insults at students who were looking out windows.

At one point there was a slight scuffle between the blue collars and unidentified hecklers, but it was quickly broken up by police, whose ranks were swollen because of the Friday melee.

Escapes Caught

CASTALIA (AP) — Two escapees from the Luster Heights prison camp at McGregor were apprehended in an abandoned farm house near Castalia Monday morning, ending a search which started with their escape Saturday night.

They were identified as Dale Snyder, 23, of rural Castalia, and Fred Davis, 28, of Freeport, Ill.

Castalia is located in Winneshiek County, some 35 miles west of the Mississippi River town of McGregor.

LOSING FACE—

Actually, I like the way Nixon's handling the war. This maneuver he calls a troop withdrawal is much better than a retreat — it gets the same results without losing face!

Cambodia Corrals Suspect Citizens

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — The Cambodian government quietly has launched a campaign to rid this country of its minority Vietnamese citizens.

Police and army troops have been systematically rounding up Vietnamese. Those who hold government jobs have been fired. Shop owners of Vietnamese nationality have been told to sell all their belongings and leave immediately.

The current drive differs from a campaign last month aimed at rounding up Viet Cong suspects throughout the country. Hundreds of Vietnamese were executed by Cambodian troops. Bodies floated for days down the Mekong River.

Now, with no fanfare, the government is simply planning to ship all Vietnamese to South Vietnam. There may be as many as 500,000. Perhaps 10,000 will be removed by the five landing ships from South Vietnam which arrived in Phnom Penh Monday.

The move was indicated on April 30 when the premier, Gen. Lon Nol, told returned heads of diplomatic missions in a speech broadcast internally: "It is very difficult to distinguish between Viet Cong, Viet Minh, North Vietnamese, and Vietnamese nationals because they all are Vietnamese. It would be preferable to repatriate all Vietnamese residents. This problem is being studied."

Phnom Penh radio has repeatedly warned Vietnamese that those who don't leave will be considered Communist and shot. Troops last week began going block by block through parts of the city. Entire families were placed in trucks and taken to detention camps.

The Vietnamese will be kept there until enough ships from South Vietnam come up the Mekong to take them to Vietnam. A large Vietnamese delegation is in town to help organize this repatriation. It may take weeks.

Catholic Church grounds, Chinese temples and schools are choked with waiting Vietnamese. They are kept in these locations because the churches and temples are considered alien to the Buddhist Cambodians. One temple ground near the Mekong River has more than 3,000 refugees. Perhaps half are children. Dozens are ill, and lie fitfully on straw mats. The Vietnamese are allowed out from 7 to 11 a.m. to buy food and medicine, if they have money.

Laird: 'Jobs For All Vets'

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said today the Pentagon will soon launch a new program "to locate a job for every veteran."

Laird told the Economic Club of Detroit that the Defense Department needs help from all sectors of the country in finding what he called worthwhile jobs for many of the two million men and women who will be leaving the armed services in the next two years.

"In the weeks and months ahead, we will be calling on American business and labor leaders, state and local governments, and citizens in all walks of life to help us solve this problem," the defense chief said in a prepared speech.

Laird gave no details, saying these would be announced soon. In Washington, his aides indicated a major thrust will be aimed at encouraging service men to return to school.

Laird's speech, devoted mostly to economic and related questions, touched only briefly on the Vietnam war.

Auto Insurance Increasing 14.7 Per Cent

DES MOINES (AP) — An increase in auto insurance premiums is underway in Iowa and is expected to level off at a 14.7 per cent hike for the state's policyholders, according to State Insurance Commissioner Lorne Worthington.

Worthington says most automobile insurance companies already have raised their rates with others expected to follow suit in the near future.

One reason for the upswing in premium prices, according to Worthington, is a tendency for today's cars to be "more readily damaged. They have noses sticking out in front. They're more delicate. With these pointed noses, if these cars barely run into something at five miles an hour, you have $400 damage."

He added, "If you bought a $3,000 car piece by piece and had it put together, it would cost $15,000. This has a big effect on driving up repair costs."

SIGN OF FAME—

Well, it looks like Agnew finally made it. Just the other day, he and President Nixon appeared in public and somebody asked: "Hey, whose's that up there with the Vice President?"

Blue Cross and Blue Shield do two things:

we pay hospital and doctor bills, and we worry about you.

One of the things we worry about is the kind of health care benefits that make you decide when you buy them just how sick or hurt you're going to be.

No one can predict whether a daily room benefit of $20, $40, or even $80 and a total of $400, $600, or even $800 worth of other hospital services will meet the actual bill. Especially not with the way health care costs are rising.

Too often, limited coverages fall short, and we worry about your having to dig down into your own pocket to come up with the cash for the balance.

That's why Blue Cross service benefits are aimed at paying even the biggest hospital bills in full. And it's why the newest Blue Shield coverages are based on physicians' usual, customary and reasonable charges.

Because we worry about things like this, Blue Cross and Blue Shield members don't have to. We can afford to worry about your well-being because we don't need to make a profit.

Blue Cross and Blue Shield are different, and the difference makes them better.
