North Viet's Mark 'National Day'

WASHINGTON, D.C. - The North Vietnamese observed their 20th Independence Day, Sept. 2, with a calculated show of force in the vicinity of Hanoi. The expected visit of U.S. Defense Secretary William P. Drury was canceled because of the bombings in the area. The North Vietnamese are said to have launched a new offensive in the area.

The North Vietnamese government said that it was holding a ceremony to mark the occasion. The ceremony included a parade of military units and a mass rally.

Despite the cancellation of the visit, the North Vietnamese are expected to continue their military campaign in the area.

"This is a very difficult time," he said. "But we will get through it.

Friclly also thanked the residents of the city for their support.

Kyl said that he would support the defeated bill because he believed that it was in the best interest of the nation.

"We need a strong defense," he said. "And we need to make sure that it is staffed with the best people.

Kyl also thanked the residents of the region for their support.

"We are grateful for your support," he said. "And we will continue to work hard for you.

New All-Arab Crisis Looms As Iraq and Jordan Quarrel

By the ASSOCIATED PRESS

Clashes between Jordanian and Iraqi troops today resulted in no new deaths, but the admission of a joint intifada by both countries to a second day of protests in Jordanian towns and villages. The intifada was called in response to Jordan's decision to close its borders to Iraqis, who have been crossing into Jordan for years to escape the war.

Jordanian officials said today that the situation was under control and that security forces were on alert. The Iraqis, however, have been protesting for days, and there were reports of clashes between Jordanian police and demonstrators.

To some, the crisis is seen as a new chapter in the Middle East conflict, with Jordan and Iraq at the center of a new round of violence.

AFROTC Gates Open to Women

City College News

Women cadets can now join the AFROTC program, which offers them the opportunity to receive a commission in the U.S. Air Force and other branches of the military.

"It's not that a woman couldn't make a good pilot, but the fact that she would have to fly to fit the part," AFROTC program officer Capt. John W. M. Glass explained. "Women are not yet ready to be fully accepted in the military, and the AFROTC program gives them the chance to do so."

The absence of quarterback defenses has always been a problem for teams in the Big Ten. It's true for the Big 14, too.

Lombardi, a 6-4, 240-pounder, is one of the top candidates for a starting berth at defensive tackle. The 27-year-old six-year veteran of the Green Bay Packers has two-thirds of his weight in his legs and runs with more explosive power than any of the Packers' defensive tackles.

Lombardi's wife, Marie, concurred: "We're expecting him to go as a starter and as a defensive tackle this year.

A quarterback-like defensive end, Lombardi was an all-around football hero at Oelwein High School, where he led his team to three straight championships.

'Realistic' About 1st NFL Season— Patriots Must Rebuild

BOSTON — The Boston Patriots are hopeful that they will be able to start their second season in the American Football League with a winning team. This is the same hope that the Patriots and the other nine teams in the new league had when they were a part of the Continental Football League in 1960. The Patrogs were one of the teams that switched from the Continental League to the AFL.

Although the Patriots declined to comment on their plans for the upcoming season, club officials did say they were looking forward to the opportunity of playing in the new league. "We're excited about the new league," said club president Bob Milne. "It's a new challenge for us and we're looking forward to it." The Patriots, who are in their first season in the AFL, are in the third year of their four-year deal with the Continental Football League. The team will be playing their first season in the new league in 1964.

Many players had difficulties working out their contracts and were signed by the Patriots. The players are expected to report to training camp on Aug. 15 at the Army-Navy Stadium in West Point, N.Y., for the start of the regular season.

Paul Fulmer, who signed with the Patriots the other day, will be one of the key players for the team. Fulmer, a third-year player, was signed by the Patriots for a third-year contract.

Fulmer, who is expected to do well in his new position, is expected to start out of the gate, winning the starting job and the No. 1 position at quarterback. The Patriots have been working on their first two quarterbacks to fill the starting position.

Fulmer was signed by the Patriots as a free agent in the off-season. He was one of the players that the Patriots were looking for when they were a part of the Continental Football League.

Let's hear it for the drinker.

It's not the drink that kills; it's the drink, the problem drinker, the alcoholic drinker, the drinker drunk. This year he'll be involved in the killing of at least 500,000 people. He'll be involved in an estimated 100,000 highway crashes. After all, the drinker-drinker has done for us, what can we do for him? If he's sick, let him help himself. But if we've got to get him off the road, do something. Write National Safety Council, Dept. A, 425 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago, Illinois 60611. And let your voice be heard.
