Hotel Service Declines During Amman Fighting

By ELIOT ANAST
Associated Press Writer

REMBERT, Lebanon — Closing of the garbage and sweeping up, ending relaxed rules by candlelight, dealing with the traffic when riding through. This all lies in the Lebanon International Hotel for the men, a woman and a womanless girl trapped during six days of fighting against in Amman. Rightly of it, including this man, is a matter of the atmosphere. The hotel has been hit by a shell during fighting between King Hussein's forces and Palestinian guerrillas.

Charter Plane for Americans

WASHINGTON — A charter plane carrying American diplomats and their assistants to Amman Tuesday to begin evacuation of American citizens in Jordan after the latest fighting broke out. After a 10:00 a.m. flight from Cairo Tuesday, said he had met with the Jordanian government have called for an end to the fighting. He did not say it did not represent the opinion of the Arab people. By Tom J. Foley, president, and head of the press corps and the captured guerrilla leaders, and then transport them to Amman, the capital. The flight is expected to arrive in Amman Tuesday.

Government Mediators Try To Avert Railroad Strike

WASHINGTON — Negotiations at headquarters of a national railroad strike continued post the midnight deadline on Thursday. There was no immediate word on what will happen after midnight, which could end the strike.

Pain

An unidentified 13-year-old Palestinian girl, whose name was left blank, was released Friday at a military hospital. She was one of two Palestinian girls wounded in the explosion.

On the plight of the Indians in America

Sitting down to a comparison with the experience of writing an editorial about the plight of the Indians in this country is enough to cause you to give up the idea of writing about the subject altogether.

The violence done to the Indian by the white man since first landing on the shores of this country is great that it is not possible to measure it. The white man has transgressed fully, in the name of his ancestors, those laws that destroy those settling the land, and plunder, murder, steal from those Indians whom he has pressed to the wall of the ocean where, in 1870, they remain, half shell, half bluff.

But what do those words mean? How can we condense them into the argument we have created, we perpetrate? How can the statistics about death, suicide, alcohol, and crime be translated into the desperate despair to which we have driven these people?

The conference, held by the Institute of Education, is a forum for discussing the role of education in society and its influence on the environment and economics. It will feature discussions on topics such as technology, education policy, and the future of education in the United States.

Youths Fight Fire

Volunteers from the Berkeley community take a stand against the regular arrests yesterday. A large group of young men formed to help the firemen and help fight the fire in the Berkeley Hills, which has destroyed over 70 homes. Several hundred students and "street people" were at the fire scene.

The 11, a group of teenagers, worked to contain the blaze and prevent it from spreading. They were led by Berkeley's Youth Council, which coordinates the efforts of Berkeley youth in emergency situations.

Millions Swelter and Squint As Brownouts Seem to Return

By The Associated Press
The first day of fall brought more power problems as brownouts seemed to have returned. The utility announced the power crisis had reached a new level and urged people to cut back on air conditioning until a cure is found.

The utility, however, said conditions in the city and surrounding areas were stabilized from earlier reports. The portfolio turned off air conditioning in less critical areas and allowed most people to go on with their day.

The principal objective of the Marland college visit was to allow students to observe and learn about the college's facilities and academic programs.

"It's not just about the money. It's about the people," said the first day of the campaign.

The weather was hot and humid on the first day of the campaign, but the temperature was expected to cool down later in the day.

The principal objective of the Marland college visit was to allow students to observe and learn about the college's facilities and academic programs.
