We printed hastily a letter to the editor challenging to the "To you all" advertising message. We printed it hastily in order to make it "slick and plain" and not subject to "actual processing." As to the "To you all" advertising message, The Daily Iowa, advertising manager, J. R. Odom, who is not well-known to me, might accept ads that are not suggestive of The Daily Iowa.

As education for the mouth has no jurisdiction of a sub culture built on laziness, sloth, filth, sometimes has to accept ads that are not suggestive of The Daily Iowa.

We must call Daily Iowa publisher, Frank Mud, for a decision on this question, as he will be readable, as usual.

Both the publisher and advertising manager are employers of the Student Publications Board, Inc., and, as such, editors of the Daily Iowa, and have no obligation whatever to hand to the writers of the editor at any other time.

An attempt has been made to regulate the advertising accepted by the Daily Iowa in accordance with our editorial work. Card Design, a middle man member of the Daily Iowa Board, assured the July meeting of the board's president, and that the Daily Iowa would not accept advertising containing racial, sexual or ethnic annoyances.

The resolution, along with a proposed amendment by handsomely named David L. Tyler, who is a publisher, was ruled out of order.

WALTER ALBERT

As a consequence of the resolution, the Daily Iowa discussed the ads, and as a consequence of the decision of the resolution, Mr. Roger David, Jr., of the Daily Iowa, told us that the ads were not suggestive of The Daily Iowa.

Since then several ads relating the spirit of that resolution have appeared in the Daily Iowa. Several resolutions complaints about the ads to the advertising manager brought a negative response. We have requested editorially that people who object to the ads to appear and to present their complaints to the staff, the advertising manager, the publisher and the Daily Iowa Board.

We realize, of course, that without advertising revenue the Daily Iowa could not exist, but we feel that if a publication purports to be a newspaper and that this advertising does not have to be a type of that would offend the sensibility of anyone with all of the rules of the editor.

Opening Big 10 Win Gives Hawks Confidence—Unpredictable Hawks Clip Badgers, 24-14

By JOHN RICHARDS

Assistant coach Doug Hower's 1984 victory Saturday over Wisconsin was enough to give the Hawks (2-1) the unpredictable win over the Badgers (2-2), earning the Hawks' first Big Ten victory of the season.

The win marked a number of firsts for the Hawks, inclding the first time they have defeated a Big Ten team in nine seasons. It was also the first victory of the season for head coach Wally Hickel, who has been coaching the Hawks since 1979. The win was unexpected, as the Hawks were outplayed in the first half and trailed by 14 points at halftime. However, a strong second half performance by the Hawks led to a come-from-behind victory.

The Hawks scored 17 unanswered points in the second half, including a 70-yard touchdown run by quarterback Matt McCabe, who finished the game with four touchdowns.

McCabe's performance was a significant improvement from his performance in the previous two games, where he struggled with accuracy and decision-making. However, in this game, he displayed better judgment and a strong arm.

The Hawks' defense also played a critical role in the victory, holding Wisconsin to just 146 total yards and forcing three turnovers. The defense understood the game plan and executed it effectively, creating opportunities for turnovers and limiting the Badgers' offensive options.

The team's overall effort and focus on teamwork were key factors in the win. The Hawks demonstrated resilience and determination to overcome challenges and secure a hard-fought victory.

Overall, the win was a significant milestone for the Hawks, as it marked their first Big Ten victory since 1979. The team's efforts and commitment to each other were celebrated by the coaching staff and the players, who were proud of their achievement.

Hawkies in the BIG 10, the Wisconsin Whips (5-0) have surprised everyone. Head coach

Bob Welsh has led the Whips to a perfect start in the Big Ten.

Their strong showing over the past few weeks has earned them the respect of their opponents.

The Whips' success can be attributed to their balanced offense and defense. They have a strong running game led by quarterback Chad Franklin, who has a proven ability to perform under pressure.

The Whips have also shown a commitment to strong special teams, which have been key in outbreaking games.

On offense, the Whips have been able to consistently score points through the running game and the passing attack. Quarterback

Chad Franklin has been a key contributor, throwing for over 200

yards and adding

critical yardage on the ground.

On the defensive

side, the Whips have shown a strong ability to stop the run and prevent the big play.

Their combination of speed and strength has been effective in frustrating opponents. The defense

has been particularly

strong against the run, holding teams to just 90 yards on the ground.

Offensively, the Whips

have been able to score points in a variety of ways, including

short-yardage situations and deep throws.

Overall, the Whips'

success is due to their balanced approach,

strong defense, and

effective special teams.

They are a team to watch out for in the remainder of the season.

Cincinnati Fights Pressure In 3rd World Series Game

The Reds can be forgiven almost anything by the fans this season. They've been put through enough. Of course, if they lose tonight, it'll be a different story. But for the moment, let's take a look at the situation.

The pitchers were supposed to be the weak link in the Cincinnati defense. For the most part, they've been average. But the defense has been bad. And the defense has been bad because the pitchers have been bad. And the pitchers have been bad because the defense has been bad. It's a cycle that will continue until someone takes charge.

The Reds have been criticized for their lack of intensity. They've been criticized for their lack of focus. They've been criticized for their lack of effort. And they've been criticized for their lack of enthusiasm. But the truth is, they're just a bunch of guys who don't care. They don't care about winning. They don't care about losing. They don't care about anything. They're just a bunch of guys who show up for the paychecks.

Of course, it's easy to criticize. It's easy to point fingers. But the truth is, the Reds are a bad team. They're a bad team because they're not good. They're not good because they don't work hard. They don't work hard because they don't care. And they don't care because they're not good. It's a cycle that will continue until someone takes charge.

Episcopalians Give Vote To Women Representatives

HOUSTON, Texas — Male legislators of the Episcopal Church opened the door today for women to participate for the first time in the denominational convention.

Anticipating the decision, women entered the year with high hopes that they would be able to take their seats in the house of delegates. The 73-member lay-clergy branch of the church’s convention, governing body, convened on Monday.

Women, since the 1970s have been executive members, making the action effective in the male-dominated Episcopal Church.
