More Students May Be Charged In DIA Incident

Two more University of Iowa students may be charged with violating university policy after an incident in a restroom on Saturday, 30 November. The incident involved a small group of students who were seen by the police on Saturday night, 30 November. The students were charged with violating the University's policy on public intoxication. The incident is currently under investigation.

We thank the University Police for their efforts in ensuring the safety and security of our community.

Small Crowd for Candidate Talks

By LORNA DURHAM
Daily Iowan Reporter

Squeelch In Turkey

Turkey was not well received by the students in its first appearance on the Iowa campus. The students showed little interest in the candidate talks at the University of Iowa. The candidates did their best to entice the students, but the turnout was quite small. The candidates were not well received, and the talks were not well attended. The University of Iowa is planning to hold similar talks in the future to see if they can attract more students.

We are disappointed with the turnout and hope to see more interest in future talks.

Angela’s Judge Disqualifies Self

Angela’s Judge Disqualifies Self

This was a very interesting case. Angela, a candidate for a judgeship, had been charged with obstruction of justice. The case was heard by Judge John W. F. McPherson, who was alleged to have been involved in the case. The judge disqualified himself from the case.

We are pleased to see that the judge disqualified himself from the case.

Population Commission Urges Strict Controls

The Population Commission urges strict controls on population growth. They argue that population control is necessary to prevent overpopulation and to ensure a sustainable future. They also emphasize the importance of family planning and the need for education on population control.

We support the Population Commission’s call for strict controls on population growth.

The Population Commission.
The election

Much can be said for the candidates in today's election who have chosen to appeal to that most dominant of characteristics of students on this campus — their pocketbooks.

And the apoplectic叫y candidate has said most of it.

Among those "politically powerful" persons who agree not to farm their land.

Living off the dole

The United States is the largest welfare nation in the world. Drawing, on a regular basis, a decent standard of living to the poor, this country regularly hands out a dole classified as a way to do the average citizen — to people who need it.

One example of how this works is in the U.S. Department of Agriculture's food stamp program. Before this program has sometimes totaled several millions in federal outlays. This money is paid directly to the poor who agree to feed the dole.

In the same state's Department of Revenue revealed that the Department of Agriculture has absorbed its practice of paying list of those who pay millions in a year of tax dollars of America to the average citizen, to people who hardly need it.

Among those "politically powerful" persons receiving a subsidy through this program. This move has made because the list has been abandoned its practice of publishing lists of those who pay millions in a year of tax dollars of America to the average citizen, to people who hardly need it.

The consumption tax-payers because they off the tax-payers. Its point.

urge reform of insurance by the states.

WASHINGTON ---- The insurance commissioner of North Dakota on Thursday that he is not on the insurance companies, and that the companies are not responsible for changes in the law that would affect the insurance industry.

"We are not bound to do what the companies want," he said. "We are bound to do what the law requires us to do.

"If the companies want to change the law, they should go to the legislature and ask for a change in the law."

Injury, Eligibility Problems, Slowed Hawkeye Frosch

By MIKE GIL

Six seniors, all starters, are the main reason for the Hawkeyes' basketball team's nine-game winning streak. The Hawkeyes' seasoned veterans have no time to worry about eligibility or the possibility of playing under the new NCAA regulations. The team has been working hard to improve their skills, and their efforts have paid off with several impressive wins.

Wardway

While the Hawkeyes are focused on their upcoming games, the team's eligibility issues have not gone unnoticed. The problem has been compounded by the recent injuries to key players, which have forced the team to rely on younger players. However, with the help of experienced players, the Hawkeyes are expected to continue their winning streak.

Net

Gary Rohlk added 13 points to the Hawkeyes' lead, while forward Ted Raedeke had a fine performance with 13 rebounds. Coach Colin McDaniel said the team's efforts will be needed against Athens, who are currently ranked 4th in the nation.

FACULTY POWER: Bureaucracy, Elitism, and "Moral" Power

BY RALPH VANDERPLOEG

In his book "The System," which contains the footage of the University of Iowa, the author, Charles E. Marberry, describes how the system is controlled by a small elite. In his book, Marberry notes that the system is run by a group of "power brokers" who control the decisions of the University. Marberry also notes that the system is designed to maintain the status quo and prevent any challenges to the power structure.

Soviets, Peking: Verbal War

Soviet-American relations are again the subject of discussion. The current tension is due to the tension following the aftermath of the Korean war. The United States and the Soviet Union have been at odds for many years, and the recent events have only exacerbated the situation. The United States has been critical of the Soviet Union's policies, and the Soviet Union has responded in kind. The situation has become increasingly tense, and there is a strong possibility of a major conflict.
