The Dead concert

Discussions from the Greatest concert disaster are likely to be felt down Iowa City for a long time to come. Whether the threat of no more concerts holds or not, what happened yesterday night in the Field House will not be "The band may have been good, but the concert was a disaster," said one student. "I never thought I'd see a concert like this." Another student added, "It was a disgrace to our university." Many more students expressed their frustration with the event, citing poor organization and inadequate facilities.

The concert took place on Saturday night at the Field House, and featured a lineup of popular rock bands. However, the concert was marred by a series of problems, including overcrowding, poor sound quality, and safety concerns.

The university, the town of Iowa City, and the concert organizers were all criticized for their handling of the event. Some students accused the university of being more interested in the event's profits than in the safety and well-being of its students.

No Measurers Taken Against GI Resisters

KIEV, May 8 - A woman in a house on a highway near Lvov was shot down by the Laotian military. Three of the four men entered the house through the window. The men entered the house and picked up the trooper in the car. The driver of the car then drove off. In a hospital, the trooper died from the injuries sustained in the attack. The incident is being investigated by the Laotian authorities.

U.S. Banks Aid Greek Dictators

ATHENS (LNS) - The U.S. Senate was considering the proposal to aid Greek dictators. The Senate approved the measure by a narrow margin. The bill would provide loans to the government of Greece to help it purchase arms.

No plans for a fight.

Hawkeye Wrestlers
Fall to UNI, 18-12

The University of Northern Iowa took the class events and the meet as they clipped the Iowa wrestlers 18-12 at Caver
Falls this past weekend. It was Iowa's first regular season loss.
UNI took advantage of some mistakes the Hawkeyes made as they took a quick lead.

Another Iowa senior, Dennis Reynolds, took the 178 pound event.

UNI won the most, an strength in the middle weight events, where Iowa was 80 by 140, and clipped the meet 18-12 on Mike McPherson's victory over

Joe Meador in the heavyweight.

Iowa's Mark Franklin, filling in for the Elks who missed the meet due to illness, had a quick 1-2, 1-2 lead over UNI City

City's Tom Hesling, 6-2.

Out of The Brig and into The Green Room

By JAMES R. MORRIS

Of the Daily Times

The bearded attorney who lunched at Wos on Thursday was more than just a regional actor, he was a lawyer as well. Ron Brown was born and raised in Brooklyn and is the owner of the Neighborhood's "The Green Room." Ron wasn't there to discuss his new movie, "The Brig," which is now playing at the nearby Warner Theatre. He was there to discuss his new play, "The Green Room." Ron is a lawyer by day and actor by night, and he's been performing in the area for over 30 years.

Ron first came to prominence in the early 1970s when he was a member of the legendary Off-Off Broadway troupe, "The Brigade. He won several awards for his performances in "The Brig," which he also produced. He continued to perform in numerous plays, including "The Green Room," which he wrote and directed. Ron has also appeared in films and television shows, most recently in the HBO miniseries "The Wire." He was nominated for an Emmy for his role as a lawyer in "The Wire," but lost to his former law partner, James McCombs.

Ron is passionate about his work and is committed to bringing good theatre to the community. He hopes that his new play, "The Green Room," will be a success and will help to keep theatre alive in the area.

Ron's advice to aspiring actors: "If you're going to be an actor, you have to be willing to work hard. You have to be willing to take risks. You have to be willing to fail. But if you're willing to do that, you can achieve anything you want."

UI Student Exhibition Showing at Gallery

University of Iowa students are among the artists of photography at the Museum of Art. The exhibition includes 180 black-and-white photographs. Both graduate and undergraduate students will be represented by notecards with the names of the artists. The exhibition, which will continue through Saturday, will also include a number of watercolors and color photographs. Dr. Charles S. Strobel, director of Arts Center, will speak on the exhibition.
