Nixon: Slight Increase In Troop Withdrawal

WASHINGTON - President Nixon pledged his second-term hopes generally by proposing a small increase in the number of American forces in Vietnam for a second term.

At the same time, Nixon said in an address to a ravenous audience, that the United States has no intention of returning to Vietnam for a second term of office. He said, "There's no going back on that."

Nixon never mentioned the Cabinet race or the Senate race, both of which have been won in the country's major newspapers. "The time is now that the world understands the importance of the American people in Vietnam," Nixon said. "It is now time to bring the war to an end."

"I want to tell you that you are the backbone of this country," he said. "You are the people who can make a difference. You are the people who can bring about peace in Vietnam."

"I want to tell you that the American people will not live with the American people if the war goes on any longer than it has."

Nixon's address was preceded by a three-day tour of Vietnam, which was reported to have included a visit to the American military base at Danang. Nixon also visited with the American people in Vietnam, whom he described as "brave and patriotic."

"The American people are not going to allow the American people to lose the war," Nixon said. "The American people are not going to allow the American people to be destroyed."

"I want to tell you that the American people will not stand for any more of this," Nixon said. "I want to tell you that the American people will not stand for the American people being killed in Vietnam."

Nixon's address was greeted with a standing ovation by the American people in Vietnam, who cheered and applauded the President. Nixon then left for his home in San Clemente, California.

Sen. Bayh Claims Nixon Playing Politics With Calley

WASHINGTON - Sen. Birch Bayh (D-Ind.), accused President Nixon of politicizing the Vietnam War, said Wednesday that he had evidence of Nixon's involvement in the case of the Vietnam War. Bayh said Nixon had asked him to investigate the case of the Vietnamese, which had been ruled a war crimes trial.

"I believe that the President is using the Vietnam War for political purposes," Bayh said. "I believe that he is using the Vietnam War to further his own political goals."

Crisis Center Gets Money Tentatively

The Iowa City Crisis Center, which provides shelter to homeless people, has received a grant from the Iowa Department of Human Services. The center, led by Executive Director Robert Engel, has been facing financial difficulties due to budget cuts and increased demand. The grant will help cover the costs of running the shelter and providing services to those in need. Engel expressed gratitude for the support and emphasized the importance of community involvement in supporting vulnerable populations.

Iowa House To Hear Bill On Migrants

Legislation was introduced in the Iowa House of Representatives (Des Moines, IA) that would require the state to register with the U.S. Department of Homeland Security. The bill follows the new administration's efforts to tighten borders and reduce illegal immigration. Engel stated that the proposed legislation may have unintended negative impacts on state residents and suggested alternative measures to address displacement and migration issues.

Abortion Rule Criticized

Washington, D.C. - A federal judge in Wyoming has ruled that the state's abortion law is unconstitutional. The ruling could have implications for other states with similar legislation. Engel called for a national dialogue on reproductive rights and emphasized the importance of access to safe and legal abortion in ensuring health and well-being for all individuals.
