River City Trouble

Police Charge Crowd Gathered Near Dorms

Police moved in on a group of about 750 students near the men's residence halls about 12:30 a.m. Wednesday.

The demonstrators were in Riverside Drive and Grand Avenue, lined up on the footbridges over the streets and massed all the way back to the dormitories. They had built barricades to try to keep the police back.

About 12:30 a.m. police gave the order to "get back in the dorms." The protesters refused, shouting "No" to the police.

The police announced there would be "no mercy" and that gas would be used if necessary.

Most of the crowd moved back toward the residence halls in front of the police, who used tear gas in their charges.

At least one person was arrested on charges of assault with intent to commit great bodily harm.

Police made repeated charges into the crowd meeting some moderately organized resistance.

The group tore down stop lights and barricaded the streets, and people were lined up on the footbridges.

About 11:50 p.m. a two-toned light blue and off-white car ran through the group three times, striking several people. One woman was injured but refused hospitalization. The car was heavily stoned.

Shortly after the beginning of the police charge, some kind of homemade gas or gunpowder device went off behind the police charge.

Gary Wade, WMT-TV cameraman, and John Camp Daily Iowan reported, were hit by the gas. Both were temporarily blinded.

BULLETIN

An explosive device consisting of dynamite sticks was reportedly found inside Hillcrest dormitory Tuesday night. The dormitory was immediately evacuated after a telephone bomb threat that initiated a search which turned up the bomb.

Advisors in the dormitory said several sticks of dynamite connected by a spring device in a satchel were found. The bomb was removed from the dormitory without incident.

Dorm Protesters Gassed by Police

By LORRIE PIACENZA and JUDY SCHULTZ

Thirty-nine persons were arrested and six injured early Tuesday morning after a night of street skirmishes between law enforcement officers and demonstrators that culminated in the tear-gassing of University of Iowa residence halls.

A crowd outside Hillcrest dormitory had begun throwing rocks and bottles at police about 1:30 a.m. Tuesday when the police charged toward the crowd and fired several tear gas canisters into the crowd and at the dormitories.

Late Monday night police had chased a crowd of demonstrators from Campus Security headquarters to the Pentacrest area. Some crowd members were chased to the area around the men's dormitories, when the crowd began rolling large pipes from a construction site on Grand Avenue down the hill at the police.

Johnson County Sheriff Maynard Schneider told the Daily Iowan that the only way to get to the crowd was the "gas." He said he feared that such a pipe hitting a car on Riverside Drive would have killed its occupants.

The Daily Iowan attempted to talk to Police Chief Patrick J. McCarney Tuesday to ask him about the gassing, but were told repeatedly that McCarney was "not available for comment."

A Daily Iowan reporter who was at the Police Station at 1:20 a.m. when police there received the report of disturbances at the dormitories, heard Highway Patrol Capt. Lyle Dickinson order officers to "take the gas gun. Lob some gas in and chase the others up the hill."

Dickinson told the Daily Iowan Tuesday, however, that the decision to use the tear gas was made collectively at the Civic Center by Schneider, McCarney and himself after listening to reports from people at the scene.

There was also some confusion Tuesday as to who authorized the initial police charge into the relatively peaceful crowd gathered near Campus Security headquarters Monday night.

McCarney said Tuesday that he and Dickinson made the decision, but he told a Daily Iowan reporter early Monday morning that he did not order the charge and did not know who did.

GAS IN DORMS

In some cases, police chased the demonstrators into the dormitories, entering Quadrangle, Rienow I and Hillcrest dormitories, according to witnesses.

University President Willard Boyd

commented he did not think it was essential for the police to enter the dormitories. "I do not favor the use of tear gas, especially in the dorms," he said.

One student at the scene, David Yepsen, A3, called the teargassing of the dormitories "an over-reaction on the part of the police."

"It was totally out of line. They made a grave mistake in doing that," Yepsen believes.

Another student said that the action overwhelmingly turned students against the police. He said that students one would never expect to do such a thing were throwing rocks and bottles.

An adviser in the Hillcrest dormitory said about two floors of the dorm were affected by the tear gas, which forced residents to stay in other parts of the dorm. He said two canisters of the tear gas landed in his hallway.

Demonstrators and police exchanged taunts, students in dorms yelling "We're not through yet," as police retreated to the east side of the intersection of Burlington Street and Riverside Drive. "Neither are we," yelled McCarney over a bullhorn.

As police fired tear gas at the students, shouts of "Beautiful!" "How did you like that one, babies?" and "One of you folks hold up a dime -- we'll lob one for accuracy" came from McCarney's bullhorn.

Four policemen were reported injured: one, Robert Stika, reportedly struck by a car; another, Daniel Sellers, with a broken wrist; Patrick Harney, with a cut requiring stitches; and Thomas Walden, who re-injured a finger broken Thursday night.

All are Iowa City police officers.

Also reported hurt were Deborah Bailey, who was allegedly clubbed by a policeman and treated at University Hospital, and Glenn Epstein, who sustained injuries from a thrown rock. Epstein was treated and released at Mercy Hospital. Gov. Robert Ray Tuesday ordered 200 Iowa Highway Patrolmen to Iowa City to assist university security officers.

Asked whether he planned to call in the National Guard, Ray replied, "I don't regard them as the proper authority for this type of situation. They are not law enforcement officers."

Boyd told the Daily Iowan that the university "has urged that only the Highway Patrol be used. The campus will be the responsibility of Campus Security and the Highway Patrol. The Iowa City police will not be used unless there should be some need."

McCarney told a Daily Iowan reporter early Tuesday morning he hoped the National Guard would be called in. "I'd recommend it now," he said.

Boyd said he attempted to send word to McCarney early Tuesday morning to "suggest that if the police would go home the students would go back to their rooms."

McCarney told the reporter that no university officials had been in contact with him, although he had tried to reach Boyd to ask for suggestions.

Boyd Tuesday appealed to university students to "resist any call for agitation" and to attempt to calm others.

"The great majority of you have shown by your absence from the recent disruptions that you fully understand the difference between effective expression of concern and the fruitless harassment of both the university and the Iowa City community. I urge you to counsel fellow students to join with you in refusing to be drawn into senseless, counterproductive acts which can only result in the degradation of this university," his statement said.

Faculty Senate Tuesday afternoon passed a resolution supporting Boyd's statement and expressing concern over the "character of the disturbances on Monday evening and the character of the responses to them by police officers."

The senate requested a full and impartial investigation of the incidents. Those arrested were: Tom Rudd, 21, 21 West Court; Stephen Reynolds, 21, 319 South Capitol; Fred Karnes, 24, 530 South Clinton; Mike Kimble, 18, 403 South Dubuque; Rojene Omara, 20, RR2, Iowa City; and David G. Omara, 21, RR2, Iowa City.

Anne Harover, A1, 2231 Burge Hall, Iowa City; David Sherman, A2, 339 North Riverside; Alfred Kimble, 20, 403 South Dubuque; David Stoner, 26, 335 South Clinton; Charles Meggitt, 28, Box 6078, Iowa City; Gary Dean Martin, 18, 809 Willow; Richard Stroud, 16, RR2, Iowa City; Steve Schmidhauser, 18, 1112 East Court; Steven Burkett, 18, 6255 South Dodge; and Robert Mall, 23, 730 North Linn.

Tom Christiansen, 22, 1211 2nd St. Coralville; Marlene McAllister, 23, Apt. 3 Carolann, Coralville; David Pearson, A3, 103 1/2 South Clinton; John K. Rucker, A2, 621 North Johnson; Nancy Pearson, 21, 103 1/2 South Clinton; Billy Steig, A3, 630 East Washington; Anthony Borg, 24, RR5 Iowa City; Mike Collins, 26, 3221 Shamrock; James Dutkiewicz, A4, 625 Emerald; and Gerald Lehman, 22, RR1, Iowa City.

Greg S. Baker, 30, 1707 Northwestern Ames; Carl Couch, associate professor of sociology, 119 Mt. Vernon Dr.; John Pinney, 24, 329 North Dodge; Barbara Miller, 20, 449 North Riverside Dr.; Stanley Gassman, A4, 824 Iowa Avenue.

All but two of those arrested were charged with disorderly conduct, with bail set at $105. John Pinney was charged with leaving the scene of an accident after his car allegedly struck a city policeman and John Rucker was charged with assault to commit great bodily harm.

Reporters, Lawmen Clash

By WILL RAWN, DI City - University Editor

Shortly before midnight Monday Daily Iowan photographer Joel Dryer was halted by a Johnson County Sheriff's deputy near the University of Iowa Engineering Building.

"Hold it right there!" the deputy yelled.

Dryer stopped. "What the hell are you doing here? Get your ass off the streets."

When Dryer explained that he was taking pictures for the Daily Iowan, the deputy's response was, "Bullshit." Dryer showed the deputy his Daily Iowan press card.

The deputy looked at the press card, muttered "Daily Iowan f*ckers," and tore the card in half.

When Dryer asked if he could retrieve the remains of his credentials the response was, "If you want to find your ass on the bus. Now move!"

Dryer is not the only newspaperman to have an unhappy encounter with the law while covering recent Iowa City disturbances. Iowa City Press-Citizen reporter Tom Walsh was arrested Wednesday night and Press-Citizen reporter Fred Karnes was arrested Monday night, both by Iowa City Police.

On Thursday KCRG-TV reporter Daryl Woodson was detained by police, but not finally charged.

Daily Iowan Managing Editor Amy Chapman was struck on the leg with a police night stick near the corner of Capitol and Washington Streets during the police charge Monday night.

The officer who struck her told her she was under arrest, but she was released when she showed her press card to him.

"You know you're in the wrong place," an officer told Chapman when she explained to him that she had been covering the events.

When she asked the officer, "Where am I supposed to be?" he answered, "Off this campus. Out of downtown."

KWWL-TV reporter Brian Ross told the Daily Iowan Wednesday night he was filming Iowa City police officers when a city policeman clubbed him from behind and then said, "Excuse me." Ross comments, "They tell us to stay behind them and we do and they still cause us trouble."

Because it is my job to assign reporters to cover local events, I was disturbed by these reports. I decided to ask the police to suggest how newspapermen might protect themselves.

Johnson County Deputy Sheriff Douglas Edmond said, "As far as I know we are honoring press cards and not abusing the press. I can say that with absolute confidence."

Edmonds commented that some newspapermen have made "general nuisances of themselves. . . shining bright camera lights in the eyes of the policemen. They refuse to move."

I told him about Dryer. "If one of our guys did this he was wrong. If we wind out who it is, I'll say something to the sheriff about it."

A spokesperson for the Iowa City Police Department who refused to identify himself told me, "We don't recognize press passes. We're not issuing any passes for reporters."

Do you have any suggestions for newspapermen covering disturbances?" I asked.

"Stay away from the action."

But that makes it hard to cover the event, I objected.

"Then you'll have to run the risk of arrest."

Owners Get Irate Over Iowa City Bar Shutdowns

Most Iowa City bars have been ordered by Police Chief Patrick McCarney to close their doors early during recent demonstrations.

Bob Reno, manager of the Vine, said Tuesday that he has been forced to close every night of the disturbances.

"I don't feel it's right. It may be justified in the eyes of the police -- it just isn't legal," he stated.

According to Daily Iowan research, neither the Municipal Code nor the Iowa Code authorize the police chief or any other authority to close public businesses.

When asked whether he had encountered any trouble, Reno answered, "No trouble, but a lot of people were hassled in the street after they left here. This disturbs me."

Patrons of some bars have alleged that they were clubbed or maced by police as they left the bars Monday night. On the first night of disturbances last Wednesday, movies were taken of people emptying into the streets.

Doug Tweed, owner of the Airliner, said he was called each night by police and asked to close his doors.

"It hurts my business," Tweed said. "We suffered last night and suffered the two nights last week."

However, he stated, "I'm going to cooperate with the city. We have no liquor licenses are granted by the City Council with the approval of the State Liquor Control Commission."

Other bars in the downtown area also have been forced to close early. Comments from their employees and owners ranged from "perturbed" to "it had to be done."

Senate Resolution Hits Police Violence

Student Senate passed a resolution condemning police violence and a bill urging the establishment of a student-owned bookstore Tuesday night.

The bill pertaining to the student owned bookstore condemns Iowa Book and Supply for its "monopolistic practices," asks the senate to retain law consultants to determine the feasibility of an anti-trust action. The bill also urges Iowa Student Agencies, Inc., in cooperation with the senate budgeting and auditing committee, to research the feasibility of establishing a permanent student-owned book store.

A resolution presented by Mike Pill, L3; Mark Klugman, A1; Roger Village-

liu, A1; and Kay Young, A3, condemns the indiscriminate tear gassing of the residence halls and all other acts of violence by the police." The resolution also urges personal assistance to dormitory association in any legal action it may take in response to said violence.

Ted Politis, student body president, reported at the meeting that he had released a statement to the dormitories saying that senate will back dorm association actions against Monday's police activities at the dormitories. Politis also stressed that the student monitors act on their own, and not under senate authority.

Approval of the senate budget for 1971-72 was under discussion at press time.

Rights Group Recommends New Parking Lot Proposal

The University of Iowa Human Rights Committee recommended to the University Parking Committee Tuesday that future parking assignments be made on a random basis.

The action resulted from an appeal by Mathematics Instructor Matilde Macagno, who was recently informed that she had been assigned a new parking space in a different lot.

Clark Selby, operations supervisor of Parking Lot Operations, said that at the present time assignments are made on the recommendation of department directors, with an attempt made to equalize the walking distance of individual staff and faculty members.

Selby also noted that 12,000 student cars are registered and a total of 5,700 spaces available for both students and faculty.

In other action the committee moved to provide a briefing on the Selective

Venue Change OK'd

Katherine "Polly" Parrott, charged with unlawful assembly in demonstrations last Thursday night, was granted a change of venue in Police Court Tuesday.

Police Court Judge Joseph Thornton made the ruling after Parrott appealed that she could not "secure justice in this court (Police Court)."

Thornton also granted change of venue to Mark Larson, A2. Larson was also charged with unlawful assembly.

SST Backers Believe House Victory Probable

WASHINGTON (AP) — House leaders backing a move to resurrect the supersonic transport (SST) program professed confidence Tuesday that they have the votes to win but they postponed the decision until Wednesday after 10 supporters had to leave.

Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan said he believes the drive to revive disbanded SST project would have won if the vote could have come before 5 p.m.

But the Democratic and Republican leadership put the vote off to Wednesday when what Ford called ten sure votes had to leave for a Democratic dinner in Philadelphia and a Democratic rally in South Carolina.

Rep. Sidney R. Yates (D-Ill.) the leading House SST opponent, said it was clear SST backers believed they could win Wednesday and said opponents were campaigning to get every "no" vote to the House floor.

Rep. Brock Adams (D-Wash.) said an analysis of one House quorum call taken Tuesday indicated SST backers could have won early in the afternoon by two votes.

The vote will be on an amendment to a $6.8-billion supplemental appropriations bill to turn an $85.3-million contract-termination penalty item into that much money to resume work on two SST prototypes.

The House halted all federal SST money effective last March 30 by only 11 votes, 215 to 204, and SST cancellation notices were sent out after the Senate capped Congress, decision with a 51-46 vote.

But Republican SST backers, including Ford, urged the party's House SST opponents at a closed conference Tuesday to switch their votes — contending there is ample justification for such vote switching.

Handing it to police

Sometimes you just have to hand it to the police. Credit where credit is due and all that. And few groups ever earn as much credit as the police deserve for Monday night's activities in and around the men's residence halls — those rooms in which men are forced to live.

Filling the air indiscriminately with their tear (or pepper) gas, clubbing bystanders, invading the dormitories and firing off canisters of gas, the police marched like SS troopers around the dormitories for hours, clubbing even those who attempted to escape from their gas-filled rooms.

Their faces hidden behind gas masks, the police all look alike; it is hard to suppress an image of sub-human invaders. Their "smoke machine" looks like something out of a bad science fiction movie, but the shotguns they carry look all too real; we've seen those guns before, in Berkeley, Lawrence, Madison, Kent and a dozen less dramatic places. And now Iowa City.

Taunting the students as they fogged the entire area with gas, the police managed to make their point in Iowa City Monday night. It is they, acting for the privileged sector of this community, who control Iowa City. It is their town. And they will do anything they damn well please toward that end.

"Back in your cells you dirty little urchins. We don't want to see you unless you have money in your pockets and plan to spend it."

And it is for this that they should be given a considerable amount of credit — for making this fact of life in Iowa City clear beyond any doubt.

Many students in the men's dormitories, of course, already understood this. But those who did not received one of the best crash courses in politics available to them.

The student revolt

EDITOR'S NOTE: This excerpt from a section called "The Social Roots of Student Revolt" was written by a leading international Marxist scholar, Ernest Mandel.

... (I)n the framework of the third industrial revolution, manual labor is expelled from production while intellectual labor is reintroduced into the productive process on a gigantic scale. It thereby becomes to an ever-increasing degree alienated labor — standardized, mechanized, and subjected to rigid rules and regimentation, in the same way that manual labor was in the first and second industrial revolutions. This fact is very closely linked with one of the most spectacular recent developments in American society: the massive student revolt, or more correctly, the growing radicalization of students.

To give an indication of the scope of this transformation in American society, it is enough to consider that the United States, which at the beginning of this century was still essentially a country exporting agricultural products, today contains fewer farmers than students. There are today in the United States 6,000,000 students, and the number of farmers together with their employes and family-help has sunk below 5,500,000. We are confronted with a colossal transformation which upsets traditional relations between social groups, expelling human labor radically from certain fields of activity, but reintroducing it on a larger scale and at a higher level of qualification and skill in other fields.

If one looks at the destiny of the new students, one can see another very important transformation, related to the changes which automation and technological progress have brought about in the American economy. Twenty or thirty years ago, it was still true that the students were in general either future capitalists, self-employed or agents of capitalism... But today this pattern is radically changed. It is obvious that there are not 6,000,000 jobs for capitalists in contemporary American society... Thus a great number of present-day students are not future capitalists at all, but future salary-earners, in teaching, public administration, and at various technical levels in industry and the economy. Their status will be nearer that of the industrial worker than that of the manager...

The university explosion in the United States has created the same intense consciousness of alienation among students as that which is familiar in Western Europe today. This is all the more revealing, in that the material reasons for student revolt are much less evident in the United States than in Europe... the consciousness of alienation resulting from the capitalist form of the university, from the bourgeois structure and function of higher education and the authoritarian administration of it, has become more and more widespread. It is a symptomatic reflection of the changed social position of the students today in society.

American students are thus much more likely to understand general social alienation... The first political reaction of American students was an anti-imperialist one. But the logic of anti-imperialism has led the student movement to understand, at least in part, the necessity of anti-capitalist struggle, and to develop a socialist consciousness that is today widespread in radical student circles.

— from the pamphlet "Where Is America Going" by Ernest Mandel (originally published in March, 1969)

Mandel's analysis of student insurgency cannot be ignored any more than the revolt itself can be ignored. People don't, in spite of what some commentators would have outsiders believe, walk into the strong possibility of arrest and beating for the fun of it.

Can it be that political officials like Police Chief Patrick McCarney really believe that the insurgency in Iowa City is caused by the manipulation of students by the left, by "outside agitators", or that the whole affair is a result of a penchant for violence by student-citizens?

"There was nothing political about it at all," McCarney said of Monday's activities. "You couldn't believe something like that could happen in America, in this little Iowa City."

Does not "this little Iowa City" contribute to the existence of America as it is? Is a capitalist Iowa City somehow immune from the alienation of working people under all other capitalism — forced labor to maintain a subsistence at home and the oppression of people all over the world because of parasitic imperialism?

Can law enforcement officials believe they're doing anything but protecting the system that requires such inhumanity?

And can this police chief who denounces "mob violence" in such a righteous way be the same man who told a Mechanicsville audience last August that he was critical of the university officials for allowing "undesirable individuals" to sit "on the corner of Washington and Clinton Streets 24 hours a day"?

— Lowell May

Letters: The May Uprising

To the Editor:

The reaction has started to grow concerning the protest movement that has moved this country in the past week. Disillusioned people shout down at crowds from their rooftops (or apartment windows) telling us that we're accomplishing nothing but making trouble for ourselves and others. Many students on this campus and more people all over the country have been saying for the past year (since Kent State) that they agree with the ends of the movement, that they too want an end to the war, but they are backing away because they don't believe in violence as a means. There is a lot of talk about "alternative means" of pressuring the government — without violence.

So what happens? We all decide to be "good kids" and we have a "flower festival" 20 miles outside of town because the city says we can't have it in the park. We dedicate ourselves to the cause of peace and promise to work for it through peaceful means. But America is not a peaceful country.

We are currently (still) forcing a government on a people who don't want it, we're currently (still, always) protecting the rights of the "haves" against the needs of the "have-nots," we still spend at least 40 per cent of our national budget on war and its attendant machinery and the Pentagon answers to nobody — not even a Fulbright investigating committee (when they asked for records on the SST, the Pentagon denied them because they were "classified"). We've still got millions of people who are poor and need help, and if you're black you're still running uphill.

Can we afford to worry about our own peace? Do we have the right to protect the property of the people in this country (a country which has no respect for the rights, property or lives of anyone but itself)? We must admit that we exist in a world which is run by violence. There is a war going on and people are dying every day. And the longer we remain peaceful, the longer we allow it to continue. The more we comply, the more we are to blame. This is a moral question we all have faced.

So we tried. We tried to get Gene McCarthy elected, but he was dangerous, so we settled for Hubert Humphrey and Richard Nixon. We tried to teach people — again we failed because people had been told by their government 20 years ago that communists were worse than the Nazis they'd just beaten. They would not listen. So we got angry and we marched and we threw rocks and we got busted. Now the President says he's going to run this war the way he wants no matter what the people say. Some people got killed. Some were marching and some were just standing around.

So we remain peaceful. As long as we do that the police and the senators and the president will let us alone. After all, then we've only got words and Nixon doesn't listen to our words and neither does the middle-American (remember: the words of a communist can hypnotize you into believing what isn't true!). So we are faced with a choice which is hard for anyone to make. Either we can continue with impotent, verbal, peaceful, sanctioned protests or we can begin the fight now to change what needs changing. If the President can't be persuaded to listen, he must be forced. If we can't convince him he "ought to" end the war then we'll have to show him "he'd better."

It won't be easy. Power struggles never are. But it can't be effective unless we attack the point of greatest strength — the orderly functioning of this society. As long as everything is "business as usual" the war will continue and so will racism, and so will economic exploitation and sexploitation. And without a fight everything WILL stay business as usual.

The French revolution, the Russian revolution, the American revolution — they were all violent — millions of people got killed. But they had a cause they considered worth it. It's time we all looked inside ourselves and asked if we want justice enough to die for it. If we don't, we don't deserve to have it — and we won't.

Mike Hennessy, A3 426 Brown St.

To the Editor:

The day care controversy has been cooled by a University concession — another house has been surrendered. The topic of nursery care provision has been over-worked and the antagonistic camps are by now well defined. There is little need to express a professional opinion about child care which could only be emotionally interpreted as male chauvinistic prejudice (STC). I will, therefore, focus on the new university policy of providing houses for worthy causes. Should not the copulating-nonpopulating be treated with the same consideration as the copulating-populating? Will the male students demand a house for a brothel?

Any old university house should do and the unit would not require heating or repairs. Beds from unoccupied University housing could be obtained and Engineering could install STC a red light on the porch. There should be no need to import mercenaries, as local co-eds could be hired. Women's liberation should applaud efforts to pay them for services they presently render without charge. The Regents could be appeased by turning over a certain percentage of the gate to the Old Gold Fund. Legislators could be given passes to observe the activity of the faculty, who would be provided with a discount. Periodic raids by the police will provide practice for other "outings" as well as free publicity. A and, because they would be students, the workers would be entitled to free medical care through Student Health with V.D. cases channeled through the School of Public Health. TIAA and CREF must be provided to the girls in case any are "laid off."

As a pediatrician, I would support this effort. Better no children than unplanned children cared for by mother substitutes.

Charles F. Johnson, M.D. Assistant Director Child Development Clinic

EDITOR'S NOTE: There has been some discussion in the office about whether this letter should be rejected on the grounds of bad taste. We are running it, however, to illustrate the uneasiness with which childcare advocates have met news of the university's plans for a professionally-staffed research center for their children.

To the Editor:

This May it's time we activists recognize the importance of goal-oriented demonstrations. No longer should we aimlessly wander the streets of Iowa variety of research projects should be sparked by the endeavor with funded federal government grants eventually providing jobs for graduate students. Birth control pills could be obtained at a discount from the University Pharmacy

It all hangs together: as political activity and militancy grows, so grows repression, so increases the financial burdens (bail and legal defense) on the movement, so dries up the "good liberal sources" people busted on political charges have relied on.

Mike Pill (221 N. Linn; tel 337-4861) and All Katz (338 Rienow; tele 353-0153) are organizing a student-controlled non-profit corporation called "United Bail and Legal Defense Fund." If you can help get this organized, give them a call or stop by. Money for the people busted in the last week is desperately needed. Money can be left at the Daily Iowan c/o Cheryl Miller, 201 Communications Center, also.

Further, a series of workshops are being run today in the Ohio State room of the Union: 10:30 a.m. "Defense in police court"; 1 p.m. "What to do when busted"; 2:30 p.m. "When you're in a demonstration." The workshops are intended as practical advice to people from people with experience in the areas. — Cheryl Miller

City, blisters forming in our rock-holding hands, and lonely stones lying in the gutter, awaiting a window. Let us attack one of the major oppressors of the people — the Iowa City Traffic Bureau. How much longer can we let those fascist sows in blue usurp the right of each car for a place in the sun (or shade)? Up against the street, meter maid! Blow the Bureau! Car-parkers of the world, Unite! A well-placed brick or bomb may be perhaps slightly immature and even anti-productive, but, hell, venting one's frustrations is what demonstrations are all about, right?

In sincerity, Robert Schwarz, MA 814 Bowery

To the Editor:

Would you please print this letter in your newspaper?

Congratulations to you students who chose to stand up for decency and law and order May 5. I feel there are many who would like to be as brave and perhaps with the fine example of student body president, Ted Politis and the others, they will decide that they can no longer stand by and be a part of "the good kids we never read about." It is time for your generation to stand tall and shout "Stop! This is enough!"

The next bus to Des Moines leaves the post office at 7:30 AM on Thursday. But this time it's us bus blockers, and not them imperialists, who are running the bus. We're going to join the group that has been marching from Iowa City to Des Moines for a last day's walk to the offices of Senators Hughes and Miller. Even if we can't stop the draft altogether, we can hold it to a one year extension. We have also checked the Johnson County Selective Service Board, and it is not true that they plan to block the bus.

The last day's hike will be about nine miles. It will be fun, effective and cheap. Round trip fare is under three dollars. If you'd like to ride an anti-draft bus once, please call the American Friends Service Committee at 338-7250. Please call early, if possible.

To the Editor:

Karl Shapiro is a poet who plainly has no use for the latest crop of young folks. He regards them as less than illiterate, their minds crammed with "op-pop - kitsch - camp - absurdist - revolutionist sweepings and swill." I bet he'd take it all back if he could glom onto the eloquent defense of the May 5 revolution proffered by Lowell May and Leona Durham in the May 7 D.I.

According to our local apologists, May 5 in Iowa City witnessed a struggle "not only against the war, but against the rapacious slumlords of this city, against the predaceous merchants of this city, against a university which attempts to dehumanize all who pass through its doors." This battle of titans (wherein they got a DX station, a book store, and the store for the local with-its) we are given to understand is a skirmish in an unheavenly of global dimensions: give us liberty or give us death.

And should anyone be bold enough to question the strategy, if not the goals, of our local freedom fighters, let him understand that what we have is "vengeance against the institutions that perpetrate that war" (namely, a DX station, a book store, and a store for "things").

Only one question is unanswered. Was May 5 vengeance by a mob? Or was in the heroics of latter-day Don Quixotes having at their own wind-mills (a DX station...)? Our local journalists seem to want it both ways.

132 Congressmen Sign Pledge— Peace Lobby Gets Support

WASHINGTON (AP) — Common Cause said Tuesday 132 members of the House have signed statements backing complete U.S. military withdrawal from Vietnam by the end of this year.

The self-styled people's lobby said also legislation in the form of an amendment will be introduced in the House seeking to force a cutoff of the war.

John W. Gardner, chairman of Common Cause, said while the 112 Democrats and 20 Republicans signing the statements are far short of a clear majority of 217 in the present 433-member House, the list is growing and does not include several doves who can be expected to vote for it.

David Cohen, chief lobbyist for Common Cause, said an amendment to pending defense procurement legislation will be offered by a senior member of the Armed Services Committee.

Cohen did not name the member but said Common Cause has been negotiating with Rep. Lucien Nedzi (D-Mich.).

An amendment would serve to move the issue to the House floor.

The House version of the Senate's Hatfield-McGovern bill is caught up in the committee machinery and given little hope of a House floor vote.

The statements of purpose, which have been circulating since April 1, are sponsored principally by Reps. Thomas P. O'Neill Jr. (D-Mass.) and Charles A. Mosher (R-Ohio.)

Gardner said signers include eight Democrats who voted against a December 1971 withdrawal date when that proposal failed by a 101-100 vote in a House Democratic caucus

March 31. He said 13 Democrats who were absent from the caucus also have signed the statement.

Strike Supply Trail Before Rains Come

SAIGON (AP) — With North Vietnam reported preparing the Ho Chi Minh trail for the rainy season, the U.S. Command assigned air power Tuesday to blast that supply network in eastern Laos.

Normally, supplies move slowly in the rain and mud of the monsoon season, due to begin next week, but the enemy was reported trying to make the trail an all-weather route.

Scores of B-52 bombers — some of them diverted from raids on Cambodia — gave the 300-mile trail network a working over. They were joined by U.S. tactical bombers from bases in Thailand and two aircraft carriers in the Gulf of Tonkin.

U.S. officers report considerable truck activity and road repair work on the trail.

The monsoon, now starting to move in, will mean six months of rain in the Laos panhandle and will hamper both the North Vietnamese supply movement and the U.S. air blows.

Much of the U.S. intelligence on the Ho Chi Minh trail is obtained from daily aerial photographs and from thousands of secret sensor devices distributed all along the trail on the ground. The sensors detect truck and human movements and other activity by magnetic acoustic and seismic means.

Officers with access to daily reports on the trail said there are currently about 1,000 detections of movement a day compared with some days when the detections dropped to 500 a day.

The 1,000 detections do not mean that 1,000 trucks have been spotted, as each truck shuttles back and forth on short trail segments and is detected at least several times.

The main effort by the B-52s is to knock out the trucks, to keep the roads chopped up and to start landslides that block mountain passes.

While the air effort centered in Laos, ground fighting in South Vietnam lapsed into another of its periodic lulls.

GRADE HASSLES?

Let's face facts: Lots of kid have grade problems — some even flunk out. Most such problems are for one of three reasons:

1. You're lazy and don't study.
2. You need special help — and nobody's giving it.
3. College just honestly isn't your bag.

If your problem is number two, you might be interested in Muscatine Community College. MCC is fully accredited, offers small classes, individual attention, special labs in writing and reading, fully trained instructors (all with Master's degrees) who know you as a person, not merely a number.

If your problem is number three, you might be interested in our wide range of one and two-year career programs. Many feature on-the-job training along with classroom work.

If your problem is number one — forget it. We don't want you either.

Interested persons with problems two and three can contact:

Angkor Wat Hit by Artillery

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Angkor Wat, Cambodia's national treasure and the most famous temple in Angkor in northwestern Cambodia, has been severely damaged by a Cambodian government army artillery barrage, authoritative sources disclosed Tuesday.

The shelling killed or wounded about 10 peasant refugees in a nearby pagoda and heavily damaged the south side of the temple. It occurred three months ago but has been kept secret by the government, the informants said.

The huge temple, Cambodia's national symbol, was occupied by Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops last June after the war spread across Cambodia. Government forces were ordered not to attack for fear that fighting would destroy the temple.

Reports of the shelling came from travelers returning from Siem Reap, the town nearest Angkor. The reports later were confirmed by a government expert who saw photographs of the damage.

The barrage, fired by a 105mm howitzer battery, hit the south side of the main temple, destroying the third floor of the southern gate.

Angkor Wat is the largest single edifice in the vast Angkor complex, covering nearly a square mile, including the moat and vast courtyards.

Built in the 12th century by Khmer King Suryavarman II, and abandoned in the 15th century, it has been thought by some archeologists to be a tomb as well as a temple.

Inventor Says Bumper Cuts Car Damage

WASHINGTON (AP) — An inventor Tuesday showed senators an auto bumper that he said far exceeds new federal regulations for impact protection and would meet the rules at a third of the cost estimated by the auto industry.

Paul H. Taylor, of Buffalo, N.Y., testified before the Senate Commerce Committee with the aid of color movies.

He said the shock-absorber-type devices that are the basis of his invention could be installed on next year's cars without boosting prices any more than $30.

The auto industry, which Taylor said has shown some interest in his device, told the committee Monday that meeting new federal bumper standards for 1973 models will hike the price of an average car $100.

Taylor's movies, which he said were taken last Friday at his plant in Buffalo, showed an American Motors Hornet sustaining no damage crashing into a barrier at 5 miles an hour and $91 damage at a speed of 10 m.p.h.

The Taylor bumper consists of four hydraulic tubes containing silicone oil that is compressed on impact.

Taylor said some cars he has tested with his bumper have sustained no damage in crashes at 50 miles an hour.

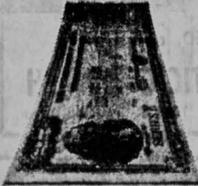

The committee was told in earlier testimony that average damage to a similar car without special bumpers at 5 m.p.h. is about $204 and more than twice that at 10 miles.

Hawkeyes Top ISU After Loss in Opener

By JOHN RICHARDS
Sports Editor

AMES — On the ride back Tuesday night Joe Wessels continued to take the vicious ribbing from his teammates that had begun midway through the second game of Iowa's doubleheader with Iowa State earlier in the day.

Iowa pounded out 16 hits — seven for extra bases — in the second game to gain an 8-4 decision after the Cyclones had won the opener, 11-5, but it was Wessels who made the day's hardest hit and it wasn't with a bat.

It came in the fifth inning of the second contest when the stocky catcher from St. Louis struckout on a bad pitch. Wessels, apparently lost in the moment of embarrassment, charged back to the dugout and accidentally banged his helmeted head against the edge of the roof. Wessels, to the delight of his mates was unshaken and calmly continued cussing about the strikeout.

The Hawkeyes had a lot more to cheer about Tuesday than just Wessels' little escapade, because they had just beaten ISU's Big 8 leaders. It probably should have been a sweep for Hawkeye coach Duane Banks' team that has become the top offensive squad in Iowa history; except for one bad inning.

Dave Blazin had given Iowa a 2-0 lead in the bottom of the first inning of the opener when he homered to right-center. Blazin's jack, his fifth of the year, followed a run by Smith who had scored on Jim Cox's sacrifice fly. That RBI gave Cox sole possession of the school season record for runs-batted-in in a season with 34 which he pushed to 35 in the second game.

But Iowa's lead lasted only 20 minutes or as long as it took the Cyclones to send three batters to the plate in their half of the first.

Iowa stating barber Bill Heck-

CHET TEKLINSKI
Second Game Winner

roth got the leadoff man to fly out, but that was all he got until he left the game with two out — eight men later. During that time and until reliever Jerry Bruchas could get the third out, ISU's scored eight runs on five hits and had put the game virtually out of reach.

The big Iowa State hits were a two-run home run by Mike Zuk and a two-run double by Jeff Snider. Errors by Iowa's Fred Mims and Cox didn't help.

The Hawks tried desperately to catch up but couldn't quite get the runs across. They did manage to score one in the fourth and two in the sixth as they banged out eight hits — four for extra bases.

Blazin, who ended the day with four hits and two RBIs, tripled in the fourth and came home on Mims' fly to deep left. The two in the sixth came when Cox tripled to the 400-foot sign in right center. Blazin singled him home and then scored on Jim Sundberg's single two hitters later.

Iowa State got a single run in the fifth when Tom Vaglica doubled in Mike Ellens who had walked. They added two more in the sixth off Bruchas when Ray Wood drove a run home with a single and then scored on a double steal.

Heckroth was charged with the loss and is now 4-2. Bruchas showed why he is the Iowa's top long reliever giving only five hits and striking out six in 3½ innings. Larry Corrigan, pitching his first game of the season, was the winner.

The second game was really all Iowa, even though the Hawks stranded 11 base runners. Iowa State could never quite get the lead after the Hawks scored two in the first. Cox's single drove in one of the runs.

Iowa added another in the third after Dave Marshall tripled — one of the six triples Iowa had — and scored on a single by Mims. But ISU made it a new game in their half with Jerry Lundin's three-run homer to right center.

Iowa took a 4-3 lead in the fourth on back-to-back triples by Tom Hurn and Smith. ISU tied the game again in its half of the fifth on a triple by Zuk and a sacrifice fly by Wood.

The Hawks took the lead for good in the sixth after pitcher Chet Teklinski doubled and came home on a bases lead-off walk to Gary Keoppel. They iced it in the seventh with three more runs. Marshall singled, Teklinski doubled (could easily have been a triple), Smith tripled for two runs and Mims followed with a run scoring double that would have been a three-bagger had he not missed second base.

Teklinski, a little shaky early in the contest, retired the Cyclones in order the final two innings and earned his third victory in seven decisions. Doug Parson was the loser.

Iowa now 23-14, and within one victory of the school record, plays a doubleheader at home this Friday against Purdue and another Saturday with Illinois. Iowa State's season mark 13-10.

IM Track Winners

Sigma Nu placed in 8 of 13 events in the Social Fraternity Intramural Track Meet to win top honors. Lambda Chi Alpha was second and Tau Kappa Epsilon was third.

There were five new records set in the Social meet with Cal James setting two of them, as he high jumped 6 feet 3 inches and long jumped 21 feet 7½ inches. Greg Carver of Sigma Nu won the 440 with a time of 54.5. The 60-yard dash saw a 6.4 time turned in by James Klingler of Delta Chi.

Although many records were set in the Social Frat meet, a lot of them didn't hold up for the All-University title as blistering times were turned in by each Division.

All-University champs are as follows:

- 60-yard high hurdles — Checowitz, Fenton, 7.9; mile — Drake, Merrill, 4:12; 60 — Klingler, Delta Chi, 6.4; 440 — Girkin, Delta Sigma Delta, 51.8; 120-yard low hurdles — Checowitz, Fenton, 14.0; 100 — Ankeny, TKE, 10.5; 440 relay — AKK (Owen, Girbet, Foster, Rashford), :46.3; 880 relay — Independent (Eyman, Feeney, Robinson, Smith), 1:40.0; football throw — Carpenter, Fenton, 194 feet; shot — PDT, 42 feet; high jump — Steegey, Steindler, 6 feet 6 inches; pole vault — Jackson, DU, 11 feet six inches; long jump — James, LCA, 21 feet 7½ inches.

Canadiens Even Series With Win 2

MONTREAL (AP) — Fleet Yvan Cournoyer and Montreal's Mahovich brothers, Pete and Frank, led the Canadiens to a 5-2 romp over Chicago in Tuesday night's fourth game of the Stanley Cup playoff.

The victory squared the best-of-seven National Hockey League championship series as two games each with game five set for Chicago Thursday night and game six back in Montreal on national television Sunday afternoon. A seventh, if necessary, would be played in Chicago next Tuesday night.

Cournoyer scored a pair of second period goals after the Mahovich brothers had helped Montreal grab a 3-1 lead in the opening 20 minutes.

Pete Mahovich got the Canadiens started at the one minute mark of the first period, deflecting Terry Harper's shot past Hawk goalie Tony Esposito. It was the first shot of the game for either team.

Stan Mikita tied it for the Hawks on a power play goal at 3:09 but less than four minutes later, the Canadiens were in front again with Pete's older brother, Frank, setting up Jean Beliveau in front.

Chicago's Cliff Koroll was in the penalty box only 12 seconds when the Canadiens burst into the Hawks' zone. Cournoyer and Frank Mahovich zipped passes back and forth before Frank caught Beliveau lurking at the corner of the net and hit him for the go-ahead goal.

Cournoyer took over in the second period.

The quick right winger was just coming out of the penalty box when the puck came to Feley in midice. Cournoyer, behind the rookie, flicked the disc away from him and sailed in alone on Esposito for his eighth goal of the playoff.

After Dennis Hull's slap shot caught the far corner of the Canadiens' net, beating goalie Ken Dryden on his glove side, Cournoyer and the Mahovich brothers struck again on a power play.

This time Chico Maki was off with just over four minutes left in the period when Frank and Pete drew assists on Cournoyer's second goal of the game.

Having the want is one thing. Having the wherewithal is another. The trouble with being young is that all too often you have the one without the other.

But the 1971 MG Midget is something else again. Here is a true sports car for under $2500* — the lowest price you can pay for the real thing.

In this case the real thing includes a race-winning 1275 c.c. engine. Racing-type rack-and-pinion steering (2.33 turns lock to lock) for cool, crisp driving. Heavy-duty suspension for superb road-hugging. Disc brakes up front for straight-line, non-fade stops. Twin reclining bucket seats. And full sports car instrumentation with an electric tach.

Which only goes to show that, even though MG has been engineering sports cars for over 40 years, there's no generation gap. Rail Union Threatens Strike; Wage Increase Is Main Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — The little railroad signalmen's union, which has threatened a nationwide strike next week, engaged in a three-hour talk session with government mediators Tuesday but no progress was reported.

A spokesperson for the Labor Department said, however, that both sides have agreed to more exploratory talks on Wednesday.

Negotiators already have dragged on for 20 months. The union is legally free to strike Saturday 12:01 a.m. at the expiration of a cooling-off period instituted by President Nixon after the union called a strike for last March 5.

President C. J. Chamberlain of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Railroad Signalmen and negotiators for the nation's railroad industry met separately with National Mediation Board and Labor Department mediators behind closed doors at the NMB headquarters.

The union, however, has stuck fast to its demand for a 54 per cent increase over 36 months retroactive to the first of last year, the expiration of the union's old contract.

Urge Salary Probe Of Air Executives

WASHINGTON (AP) — An AFL-CIO union executive Tuesday urged a Senate committee investigating airline labor costs to look also into airline executive salaries, some of which exceed $200,000 a year.

Commerce said United Air Lines, as an example, lost $40 million last year, yet put $20 million into the mutual aid fund for other airlines closed down by strikes.

Commerce proposed in a letter to Sen. Howard Cannon (D-Nev., chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, that when hearings on airline industry economic distress resume May 18, the committee study Civil Aeronautics Board files showing the salaries, expenses, stock holdings and bonuses of airline executives.

"If the contention is that organized unit labor costs are producing financial woes for the airlines, perhaps we had better explore the entire spectrum," Commerce said.

Commerce said Stuart G. Tipton, president of the Air Transport Association, spent the better part of a day before the Senate committee telling how much labor's demands were costing the airlines. But Cannon made no provision for the unions to testify, he said.

Nixon Calls For Assault On Cancer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon summoned Congress Tuesday to "put our money where our hopes are" and finance a massive new assault on cancer, over which he is taking personal leadership.

The President said the capacities that split the atom and sent men to the moon now must be applied to the conquest of a disease that will claim one-fourth of the 200 million Americans now living if its ravages go unchecked.

In a briefing for newsmen, in a statement, and in proposed legislation, Nixon followed up his call for "an unprecedented attack on this devastating disease." This was sounded in State of the Union message in January and in a special message to Congress a month later asking for an additional $100 million to pour into the battle.

Death Row Inmates Prepare New Appeals

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP) — following the U.S. Supreme Court's ruling supporting the death penalty. Nearly all the 93 men on the nation's most populous death row expected the court to affirm the death penalty as it did last week. Execution dates have not been set for most of the prisoners because the California Supreme Court has not yet ruled on their automatic appeals. But 24 had been given stays pending appeals to the U.S. Supreme Court and higher courts and for them the time factor is acute.

"There is a tendency to put the thought of death out of your mind," said Robert Douglas Hill, under sentence of death for murder. "And a lot of us really haven't thought about it for a long time. But you have to get used to it."

Hill, a 27-year-old former salesman, was convicted in Los Angeles five years ago of the rape and murder of a pregnant housewife. He had an execution date two years ago but it was stayed pending the high court ruling.

As one of the 24 directly affected, Hill said in an interview he was not optimistic. Nonetheless, he said he typed several letters to his attorneys and others within hours after the decision was handed down May 3.

Hill said he expects the U.S. Supreme Court to turn down his appeal since it was based on many of the same issues the high court rejected in its decision involving fellow San Quentin inmate Dennis C. McGautha.

The high court rejected McGautha's argument that juries should be stripped of "absolute discretion" to decide on the death penalty in capital cases. It did not rule on whether the death penalty constitutes "cruel and unusual punishment."

Hill held out little hope that the court's refusal to rule on this ultimate challenge would block future executions.

Nonetheless, he said, nearly all inmates had written their lawyers and were re-reading transcripts of their cases looking for constitutional issues to raise.

Hill also expressed hope that the American Civil Liberties Union or the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People might come up with a blanket new challenge to the death penalty that would affect all death row inmates. Though the decision was generally expected, all those interviewed said they were disappointed that the court did not set specific guidelines on who shall live — and who shall die.

OK Income Surtax For School District

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — The rural block in the Iowa House succeeded Tuesday in pushing through an amendment calling for a local income surtax to help replace school property taxes.

The amendment by Rep. Elmer Den Heder (R-Sioux Center) provides for raising money for "above foundation" school spending, 50 per cent by additional property taxes and 50 per cent by a school district surtax on the income taxes of its residents.

Den Herder said the local income surtax would be necessary if any substantial property tax relief is to be granted.

But urban legislators declared the amendment would result in boosting income taxes in some districts by 100 per cent or more over the state income tax.

Rep. Robert Kreamer (R-Des Moines) said the amendment would mean income tax increases of 300 per cent for some Iowans and would result in "administrative chaos" because of varying rates from district to district.

"If you want massive property tax relief, you should go for a massive state income tax increase," declared Rep. Norman Jesse (D-Des Moines). "This would avoid the administrative mumbo jumbo of a local surtax."

Jesse said the income surtax also poses a danger that some local districts could wind up with no money for schools under certain circumstances.

He cited as an example the strike which has tied up the Maytag Co. plant at Newton which has had a depressing effect on the city's economy and the incomes of its residents.

Rep. Kenneth Scott (D-Thornton) supported the local income tax proposal, declaring that "the income tax being the least regressive of all taxes, I think that's the one to which we should turn for another local tax."

Who says you can't win 'em all!

It was foggy on the Monterey Peninsula that morning. The roads were lined with young people—old people—in-between people—all people. The noonday sun peeked through the grey. Blue skies and a warm summer afternoon mingled lightly with pastel shirts and pleasant scents. The grandstands were packed as Joan Baez walked center stage amidst a tremulous roar of applause. Aply titled: CELEBRATION; it was. More than anything else it reflected man's ability to create a microcosm of beauty amidst a world torn by violence and hatred. It reconfirmed his innate goodness. It reinforced our belief that each person makes an important contribution to the whole: We all sent off our own tiny ripple. Multiplied a thousand fold, we created a tidal wave of understanding. It was one hell of a beautiful day. Merry Clayton was there; Kris Kristofferson, too. Linda Rondstadt and the Beach Boys and thousands of people singing, enjoying, swaying, loving. And thanks to Lou Adler, some of the day was captured on tape. Now there's an album. Its title: CELEBRATION. The artists and producers are donating all royalties from its sale to the Institute for the Study of Non-Violence, Palo Alto, Calif. It's the time the world took a moment to stop and listen.
