University Residence Halls Quiet

Sharp Fight Marks Tuesday Demonstration

Seven persons were arrested and at least 16 highway patrolmen and three students injured in a confrontation near Quadrangle and Hillcrest dormitories here late Tuesday night and early Wednesday.

Six of the patrolmen and the three university students were treated at University Hospitals and released.

The Johnson County sheriff's office Wednesday night refused to reveal that status of the people who were arrested.

Highway Patrol Capt. Lyle Dickinson said that the confrontation was "the worst we have seen in Iowa City," and said that it was "ridiculous, sadistic and unwarranted. I've been with the university and its problems since 1967, and I don't think you could in any way, shape or form compare last year with this year."

Tuesday's demonstrations began at about 11:30 p.m. when a group of protesters moved down Grand Avenue from the dormitories and blocked the intersection of Grand Avenue and Riverside Drive. Two traffic lights at the intersection were pulled down and used to block the street.

At the same time dormitory residents were pouring into the streets as Hillcrest was evacuated after a bomb threat was called to the dormitory. No bomb was found, despite an Associated Press report that a dynamite bomb had been located and removed from the dormitories.

As the crowd gathered, a blue and white car made three high-speed runs through the crowd, but witnesses differed on whether or not any of the demonstrators were actually struck by the car.

A check with the hospitals indicated that nobody had been treated for injuries sustained in an automobile accident.

At 12:30, a large group of highway patrolmen, who had gathered behind the university library, moved on to the east end of the Burlington Street bridge to face the demonstrators. A few moments after they moved onto the bridge, the car that had run through the demonstrators earlier in the evening turned onto the west end of the bridge from Riverside Drive, and accelerated the length of the bridge through a group of patrolmen scrambling to get out of the way.

No patrolmen were hurt in the incident, but several struck the car with their night sticks, breaking windows in the car. The car was later stopped and the driver, Donald Lee, of Iowa City, was charged with reckless driving.

At about the same time, David H. McCuskey, university head wrestling coach, was arrested at the site of the demonstration and charged with intoxication. William Albrecht, who talked to McCuskey until his arrest, said that McCuskey had a shotgun in the front seat of his car. McCuskey was released on $105 bond, and was not available for comment.

Shortly after the car ran through the ranks of the highway patrolmen, the patrolmen moved to the east end of the bridge, and the protesters retreated back up Grand Avenue toward the dormitories, showering the patrolmen with rocks and firecrackers.

The police were moving across the intersection of Grand Avenue and Riverside Drive when some kind of homemade gas device apparently went off on the west end of the bridge, missing the patrolmen but temporarily blinding at least two persons. Neither person needed treatment.

Patrolmen then engaged in a series of skirmishes with protesters, finally using tear gas to disperse the group.

Besides damage to the traffic signals, protesters also tore up several street signs, damaged a construction site and tore out or damaged most of the parking meters in the Hillcrest, Quadrangle and Riehow I area.

By 4 a.m., the area was generally quiet.

In addition to the arrests of Lee and McCuskey, patrolmen also arrested in connection with the demonstration Keith Barringer, West Bend, Wis., for assault with intent to commit great bodily injury; Mark Schumacher, of Iowa City, assault with intent to commit great bodily injury; Roger Bishop, disobeying a police officer; Stanley Mortenson, disorderly conduct, resisting arrest and assault with intent to inflict great bodily injury; and Stephen Quick, assault with intent to commit great bodily injury.

Judge Grants Injunction Against Demonstrators

Johnson County District Judge Robert Osmundson Wednesday granted a temporary injunction against persons who take part in disturbances on the University of Iowa campus, particularly in the vicinity of the men's residence halls.

The residence halls area, the scene of two nights of disturbances was relatively quiet at Daily Iowan press time. Earlier in the day, T. M. Rehder, Director of Dormitories and Dining Services, notified the residence halls' occupants that only actual residents and authorized personnel would be permitted in the halls. "All other aspects of hall operation will be normal," Rehder promised. "There will be no unauthorized entry into rooms."

Daily Iowan Reporter Judy Schultz reported at 11 p.m. that Highway Patrolmen were stationed at each entrance to the dormitories, and that she had been told that faculty members were in Quadrangle and Hillcrest dormitories trying to calm the students.

Schultz also reported that about five or six students headed by Dave Yepsen, A2, were patrolling the area with walkie-talkies "to keep an eye on the police," according to Yepsen.

The injunction that Osmundson handed down enjoins persons from taking part in unauthorized rallies in the vicinities of the men's halls and also bars them from blocking traffic on or near the campus, from damaging property and from throwing missiles at persons or property. It also enjoins unauthorized entry into residence halls.

The injunction was sought by the State Board of Regents on behalf of the university.

Osmundson ordered that the injunction remain in effect until June 10, 1971, at which time a hearing shall be held on its permanency.

University officials sought the injunction as a "class action." It specifically identifies nine persons, but also applies to all persons who aid in unlawful acts and all other persons who have knowledge of the injunction.

Specifically named as defendants are: Patrick A. Martin, A1; Kirk Alexander, A2; Lawrence F. Jones, A1; Patricia M. Farrell; Christine Wemmer; Stephen Carl, A3; Bruce Johnson; Emanuel Zalukis; and Wakean McClean, A2.

The petition for the injunction states that the defendants participated in disturbances Monday and Tuesday nights in the residence halls area. The action also alleges that the defendants and others have been involved in other disruptions on campus and that these actions establish a pattern of conduct that the university believes creates a serious threat of substantial disruption, property damage and personal injury.

Earlier Wednesday police arrested three persons named in the injunction. Martin, Jones and Alexander were additionally charged with possession of marijuana for personal use.

National Guard Not Coming Here, Governor Says

Both the offices of Gov. Robert Ray and Maj. Gen. Joseph May, Adj. Gen. of Iowa, denied rumors Wednesday that the Iowa National Guard will be sent to Iowa City.

Ray said, "I don't think there's anything to that. We haven't had any requests. We've sent in 200 highway patrolmen and they're the best trained organization we can send in."

Although University General Hospital treated a number of patrolmen and students Tuesday night and Wednesday morning, the hospital had no report on a patrolman losing an eye.

And an official of the Iowa Highway Patrol, Capt. Floyd Carver, denied any knowledge of any vigilante groups in the area. Said Carver, "We have enough to do without getting involved with any vigilante groups."

ICLU Observers Patrol Streets; Report Conduct

The Iowa Civil Liberties Union (ICLU) had eight representatives — including four University of Iowa law students — patrolling the streets here Tuesday and Wednesday nights to observe the activities of demonstrators and police.

The ICLU plans to establish a board of inquiry to hold future hearings on this week's activities. The board's findings are to be made public.

The blue and orange armbanded observers were present to "observe and objectively report on the conduct of demonstrators . . . and the conduct of law enforcement officers," an ICLU statement said.

They were instructed to refrain from acting "as police officers to preserve order or as legal defenders of individuals who are subject to police action during the time they are serving as observers." The investigation has been undertaken with the cooperation of law enforcement officials.

Any students with complaints about the way law enforcement officers have handled incidents at Iowa City this week should submit them in writing to an ICLU representative. A representative can be reached by calling the College of Law or by calling William Faber, 351-0121.

A Student Senate organization, the University of Iowa Student Rights and Freedom Committee, is also urging students who have complaints stemming from the campus disturbances to call this committee. The telephone number is 353-5461.

Administration Stalls Move To Cut Troops in Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration succeeded Wednesday in putting off for one week a showdown on a proposal to halve U.S. troop strength in Europe, giving it time to find a way to block the move.

After a day of maneuvering and behind-the-scenes meetings, the Senate agreed to vote next Wednesday on the troop-cut proposal and alternatives that seek to blunt its effect.

One Senate source reported, however, the administration is opposing any alternatives and will seek to defeat the troop-cut measure itself.

Apparently taken by surprise when Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana offered the amendment on Tuesday, the White House passed the word to use whatever means were necessary to delay action.

Both Mansfield and Sen. Charles Mathias Jr. (R-Md.) author of a pending alternative endorsing President Nixon's plans to maintain U.S. troop strength in Europe, said they were ready to vote at any time.

But Sen. John C. Stennis (D-Miss.) chairman of the Armed Services Committee and floor manager of the draft-extension bill to which Mansfield offered the amendment, said many senators want to speak on the proposal.

Asked whether a vote would come this week, he told a reporter "There's no decision been made."

Mansfield's proposal had more than 50 sponsors when it was introduced in the previous Congress. Administration forces indicated privately they were uncertain they had enough votes to beat it and needed time to come up with an acceptable counter-proposal to block it.

Mansfield's amendment would bar funds for more than 150,000 U.S. troops in Europe after the end of 1971. Current American troop strength is more than 300,000.

Hillcrest, Quad Residents Ask Riot Reimbursement

By LYNNE JOSLIN
Daily Iowan Reporter

Residents of Hillcrest and Quadrangle dormitories will seek reimbursement from the city for damages to persons and property suffered Monday night when police fired tear gas into those buildings.

A survey was initiated Tuesday by Ted Politis, student body president, to determine the extent and types of damage suffered by the dormitory residents.

Politis said over 600 inventory blanks have been circulated in the dorms.

"At the moment we are waiting to see how many of the slips come back," he said.

Hillcrest president James Pendleton, A1, said the dormitory associations would look into the legal possibilities in the meantime.

"I believe the police action was illegal," Pendleton said. "If people were hurt, we'll do everything we can to press action against those responsible."

Politis said that he would ask the Iowa City City Council for restitution even if only three or four dormitory residents return the survey slips.

"We will collect as much proof of damage as we can," Politis said. "If the city council ignores our request, we will attempt to seek legal compensation."

Pendleton said the students are concerned with three basic things — property, people and getting Johnson County Sheriff Maynard Schneider's job.

"If anybody handles anything like this around here next year, I want it to be Lyle Dickinson," Pendleton continued.

Politis said many Iowa City residents condone the police action as the only way to keep people in the halls and off the streets.

"What they don't realize is that a lot of innocent, uninvolved people were turned against the police by the actions of Monday night," he said.

'Bust Office' Opens At Activities Center

A Bust Office has opened in the Union Activities Center, and will provide courtroom tactics information for arrestees. The office has three telephone numbers: 353-5461, 353-5467 and 353-5465. A spokesperson told the Daily Iowan the office needs volunteers with personal or professional courtroom experience.

A Bail Fund group also located at the Activities Center may be reached at the same numbers.

CORRECTION

The Daily Iowan erroneously published a bulletin in Wednesday's paper saying that a bomb had been found in Hillcrest dormitory Tuesday evening. The Daily Iowan regrets the error.

The original report of the bomb being found was transmitted by the Associated Press shortly after 11 p.m. Tuesday night. Daily Iowan staff members talked to two dormitory advisors at Hillcrest, and were told that no bomb had been found as they knew. The Associated Press was then contacted and an AP staff member confirmed the original report, saying that the AP reporter had contacted higher-level members of the Hillcrest administration.

Later in the evening, the AP reporter who called in the original report contacted The Daily Iowan and again confirmed the existence of a bomb.

The Daily Iowan used the story, but Wednesday was informed by members of the University Public Information Office that no bomb had been found.

Letters: police and protests

The protest beat

There are some people who apparently think the Daily Iowan is some kind of radical command post, that we give the orders and the other campus reds scurry to carry them out.

One person who apparently suspects this is Iowa's governor, Robert Ray, whose office called the University of Iowa's public relations office yesterday to request copies of the Daily Iowan for the past two weeks.

But while Gov. Ray is reading those papers (and we'd like to know why he wasn't reading the paper all year - aren't students among his constituents?), we'd like to make some comparisons to our reporting and to that done by his hometown papers.

An incredible amount of really crappy reporting has come out of this town in the last week, and a lot of it has been going to the Des Moines Register ("the paper Iowa depends on") and the Des Moines Tribune.

Check this lead paragraph in Wednesday's Tribune story on the situation in Iowa City: "Well disciplined Iowa Highway Patrolmen, using tear gas sparingly, early Wednesday broke up a crowd of rowdy young people who ripped up stop lights and hurled bricks, bottles and rocks at officers."

The entire paragraph is designed to make you see the situation with one eye, to predispose you, before you go a step further, to see the Highway Patrol as "well-disciplined persons" who, benevolently, use tear gas "sparingly."

We at the Daily Iowan recognize that the Highway Patrolmen were considerably more restrained Tuesday night than other policepersons had been on other nights, and that the Highway Patrol seemed to react to the crowd in a reasonably intelligent manner.

In the Tribune on Tuesday, Tribune staff writer Larry Eckholt tells us, "Wary law enforcement officers, taunted and pelted throughout the night by anti-war demonstrators in downtown Iowa City and on the University of Iowa Campus, chased some protesters into dormitories and routed many students from their rooms with tear gas early Tuesday."

Those "wary" law enforcement officers had cleared the downtown section by 11 p.m., hadn't been pelted by rocks or anything else even after they began making arrests near campus security Monday night...

But, because all newspapers editorialize on the front page, because it is impossible not to editorialize on the front page, the Daily Iowan has done its share.

The Daily Iowan, on the other hand, is a very student-oriented newspaper and we were concerned (and showed our concern in our news stories) about the overreaction of the police, about the clubbing and the indiscriminate arrests of persons who were guilty of no crime except that they existed in a time and space deemed improper by the police.

But we'll match our "bias" against that of other papers anyway. - John Camp - Leona Durham

Less talk, more action

What has been the effect of this past week's street demonstrations? Has the movement against the war and against imperialism grown in strength? No. It has been set back.

The warmaking administration that protects and nurtures ROTC remains unscathed. The administrators hide behind a few broken windows, pointing their finger at students while they remain unchallenged in their ability to continue ROTC, war research, cop schools, lay-offs of campus workers and all the other things they do that hurt working people and students here and abroad.

Unless there are clear political goals, and a strategy for winning people to those goals, there is no basis for a movement to grow. Last year's street demonstration produced no on-going opposition to the system.

Millions of people can be united against the big businessmen who run the country. This must be our perspective. But that can't happen by a few students coming out the last few weeks of school, attacking working people in the streets, and then splitting for a good-time summer.

Imperialism doesn't take a vacation; it's not a seasonal phenomenon. It happens everyday of the year, and our opposition to it must be full time also.

The big business press, like the Cedar Rapids Gazette and others, have blamed SDS for the window breaking and the bombing of the Civic Center. That's a lie and they know it!

Build a worker-student alliance! That's the slogan of SDS. History shows us that real reforms in this country have been won only when millions of working people have fought for them - like the eight-hour day and Social Security. Bombings have never won a thing. In fact, police agents often have instigated these bombings to keep people from joining a good cause.

Big business press and the university bosses will spread lies about SDS in order to keep workers and students from joining with us in fighting the ways the university hurts working people, like ROTC and the layoffs of campus workers.

Workers and students serious about fighting university warmakers and bosses should join with us! Bruce Johnson, For SDS

To the Editor:

The recent civil disorders in Iowa City, with their attendant evidence of excessive use of force by police, prompt me to write this letter. While an undergraduate in Portland, Ore., I spent almost three years as a patrolman with the Portland Police Bureau - two years in prowl car work, and the remainder organizing a Police-Community Relations Unit.

I recently finished my Master of Fine Arts degree in the Writers Workshop. I hope the above will not be construed as advertisements for myself, but merely as a process of establishing, what will no doubt seem to some, rather muddled credentials. So be it.

While a police officer I participated in two race riots, each of which continued sporadically for several days. During that time my co-workers and myself were assigned to work 12 hours on and 12 off. Actually we worked 15 or 16 hours per shift. The riots consisted of fire bombings, false box alarms, thrown rocks and bottles, and reports (never confirmed) of sniper fire.

Our local accounts of excessive police roughness, though I have only read or seen accounts of them in the media, seem to me from my own experience in these matters to be probably true.

Also from personal experience I know that police, even in a stress-filled situation, will not become violent if in doing so they have to fear discipline from their superiors.

The main reason for police violence in the past few days is that the police have not been adequately controlled. The police chief, the sheriff, their immediate superiors have NOT been doing their job.

City government has not been responsible either. Mayor Loren Hickerson's statement to the Daily Iowan Monday night that the decision to clear the streets of all people "was made by the police themselves on the basis of the situation" is unconscionable. In Portland, for the police to take this responsibility would be unthinkable, and would precipitate an abrupt turnover in the police bureau's administration.

Mayor Hickerson, the city council, the city manager, one or all of them, are in legal charge of the police here, as are similar officials in charge of police elsewhere. I can understand the pressure they must be under from the police and that part of the community which is interested in maintaining order, but if they are not weak men they must stand up to this pressure.

Ultimately, only they are responsible for seeing that justice is done on the street. And justice is not done when police use excessive force to effect arrests, or when police rough up a man and his wife who walk out of a theatre into the midst of a demonstration.

If I found myself and my wife in the latter position I would use any violent means at my disposal to protect us from this essentially criminal attack. Of course I realize that the Iowa City court, because of the emotionally charged atmosphere of the overall situation, would find me guilty of "Assault With Intent to Do Great Bodily Injury."

But the court would not be doing justice. If Judge Thornton's recent comment, to the effect that the patience of this community is wearing thin, was made to a group more public than his immediate family, then his words were unethical and irresponsible.

A public declaration of this nature by a judge, whose theoretical function is to dispense justice, is contemptible and makes all people, not only demonstrators, wonder about the availability of an even-headed judgment in his court.

In essence, I say to city officials and police, "I understand your frustration and your very human weariness, but you are grown men and you have jobs to do. It would be better for us all if you did them right."

Many police have, no doubt, overstepped their bounds. They are adults and should be held accountable for their actions. So should demonstrators be held accountable. Their own rage and frustration at the seeming ineffectuality of six years of protest against the war is justifiable.

When I was a cop I collected a number of sneers from my co-workers for taking part in various demonstrations against the war. I have since stopped demonstrating because I think it is futile activity. I am not willing to go beyond peaceful protest and plant bombs, or even "trash."

You say your cause is for people. I know you mean this, but the interests of mankind are rarely served by mindless sit-ins over university personnel lay-offs and ROTC. As witnessed by one of your own members (Daily Iowan letter to the editor, April 27, 1971), the ROTC cadets at a recent panel discussion held here regarding the war were better equipped to attack and dismantle the pro-war arguments of their military superiors than were any of you.

The difference between their effectiveness and your impotence is simple. They had done their homework while you had stopped using your human capability to reason. You relied only on emotion, drama, and cliches, none of which took you very far.

You denigrate the worth of reason, and in doing so you figuratively castrate yourselves. You refuse to use the major part of your mental powers, deprive yourselves of weapons, and all because you think reason is a dirty tool of inhumane men. Of course it is! Do you think there is "pure reason" in any man, untouched by emotion and personal interest?

You demand justice but fail to realize that, in your reliance on emotion, you cannot give justice in return. Emotion only allows you to want justice for your own side. Reason would make you show justice for all persons, even for the police whom you are so inane to despise.

You must strive for reason within yourselves; only then can you legitimately demand justice from others. Until that time your actions are transparently narcissistic; you are still waiting for mom's station wagon to give you a ride home from the demonstration.

If you realize the need for police in a complex society where informal enforcement of social mores is not adequate to insure public safety, then you should want the best, most humane men to be policemen. But by taking the attitude toward the police that you do, you will never have them.

You will drive the good men out, the men who respect the things that you respect. They won't be able to stand up to your hatred. The only men who will stay are those who like to hate, who like to do combat with an "enemy" (how many of YOU does this description fit?). You had better hope that a few responsible men, with more courage than most of us, will remain.

In Life magazine last year, a young cop on a beat in Haight-Ashbury said, "So if I'm around (the precinct) and some (other) cop who doesn't know my views starts kicking a Negro's ass, another cop will tell him to lay off. I've kept cops from beating guys, just by being present."

It is men like this, with the guts to take a police job, do it well, be a good man, stand up to their co-workers when they do wrong, that are needed. The above cop is worth a thousand destructors who don't have the moxie or apparent intelligence to make their own individual decisions about right and wrong.

What help is a mob of those of its members, or innocent bystanders, who are victims of violent, immediate injustice at the hands of police?

I think the reason more of you don't become policemen is NOT because you think restricting people's behavior within statutory norms is wicked, but because it is easier for you to deny your responsibility to other persons, to smash plate glass and run, rather than keep an eye (a powerful eye) on your fellow police.

I believe police who use excessive force should be fired and prosecuted, but it is naive of you to expect justice or mercy from men you have made hate you. If you have pursued the war issue as far as your intelligence can take you, and still feel the only thing you can do is fight, then fight by doing something against the war instead of engaging in springtime puberty rites; and don't whine when you take it on the chin from a cop. Know that you have become an outlaw, and don't expect mom, the police, or the courts to be nice to you. They SHOULD show you justice, but they probably won't, not now.

It's hard for a man to live, to discover the right way. A police lieutenant in Portland (head of the Intelligence Division) said to me after I took part in a demonstration on my day off, "By God, boy, you are going to have to make up your mind about which side you're on!" If you feel the same way, then you too are pitiable and beneath contempt.

To the Editor: I wish to ask a favor of the Iowa City law enforcement. Before the next rally, please pass out maps showing streets to follow, sidewalks to take, places of business to enter, etc., when you give the word to clear the streets.

Monday, there were nightsticks on three sides of me and buildings behind. Not being able to levitate, I got clubbed. (Practice your aim, boys, he also hit the parking meter!)

Get your shit together, people, like you are. Maybe one night you'll meet Robert Ray in a riot helmet. (He's getting worried!)

...demonstrations and the DI

To the Editor:

There is a statement in Durham and May's editorial, "Liberty or Death," which has a ring of truth to it: Until violence against people can be distinguished from destruction of property, etc., there will be no peace in this country.

There certainly is not going to be peace in this country, because America is launched on another War to End All Wars and this time it is on the home front. As Judy Collins said, the only way to have peace is to have it. Peace is or it is not. And as long as the Richard Nixon and Lyndon Johnsons justify violence as a defense against the "Red Sea" and as long as the Leona Durhams and Lowell Mays justify violence as a defense against "predacious merchants and dehumanizing universities" we will not have peace.

If you want peace, you are peaceful. If you want reason, you are rational. The trouble is, not everybody wants it or seeks it the only way it can be had. So there you are in your rational, non-violent glory, affirming life, peace, and reason; and inevitably you get beat death by your fellow human beings with their bricks, rocks, napalm, billy clubs, judge's gavels, and journalist's pens. You haven't got a snowball's chance in hell: your rules, like Engel's and Boyd's, are peace and reason; and not enough people will play by those rules. Some people are too busy telling you that you have your head in the clouds. They are too busy sticking THEIR heads up their asses so they can justify the insecure and selfish antics of a bunch of hell-raising brats, whether those brats are the Joint Chiefs and their economic bedfellows or a group of pseudo anti-war demonstrators.

Keep up the good work, Durham and May! You are beginning to rival only Richard Nixon in your solicitous ability to justify violence that meets your ends. Right on Christian Soldiers in your holy god-damn wars - here, abroad, and everywhere.

Julie I. Wlach, A4

To the Editor: I was a bystander during the window smashing spree that occurred May 5. When the crowd first marched to Iowa Book and Supply, student monitors, identified by white arm bands, stood in front of the windows with arms raised in an effort to keep the demonstrators from throwing rocks. One monitor was led away with head injuries. To avoid injury during the second raid, they sat in a single line around the store on the curbing. When the demonstrators approached, the monitors stood to discourage them, and kept the crowd from completely destroying the windows. Then the police arrived and took control.

I was pleased to see among the monitors many student senators and Ted Politis, president of the student body. Here were students organized to calm the demonstrators and stop the violent destruction to property. I do not understand why the Daily Iowan failed to report this role played by our student government. Instead, it gave ample coverage to a hostile crowd it estimated numbering 1,000 at its peak.

The Des Moines Register reported the crowd to be not more than 300 at any time. I think the Daily Iowan had poor coverage for the actual situation, giving student readers, many of which depend mainly on this student publication for news, a false and incomplete picture of this important incident. Students! Read other papers, too.

To the Editor:

To Frank F. Mash, Publisher On Thursday, May 6, and Friday May 7, the "wonderfully accurate" and "objective" Daily Iowan scored another triumph of news reporting.

In the main articles written about the campus disturbances, the phrase "police attack" was used consistently. This objectivity is ridiculous. The people who were raiding the town and the university were attackers, not the police. The police were protecting property and were themselves attacked and stoned by demonstrators. I can find little sympathy for people who run through the city breaking windows and then complain about being attacked by peace officers.

While I myself am certainly morally opposed to the war in Indochina, I must agree with the position that peace in Indochina should not be brought about by war at home. Articles and so-called "news" reporting such as this only inflame and polarize the people of the campus.

...comments on ROTC

To the Editor:

The story in the May 5 Daily Iowan about the meeting of the University Human Rights Committee could be misleading to students who have a general interest in military courses. The ROTC curricula have always been divided into classroom courses and laboratory courses. (Leadership Laboratory for Army ROTC and Corps Training for Air Force ROTC). Credit toward graduation happens to be awarded for the classroom courses; not for the laboratories. The classroom courses have always been open to General Interest Students; the laboratories never. The classroom courses cover the theoretical and administrative aspects of the military art; the laboratories develop leadership potential through practical exercises involving military organizations, discipline, military customs and courtesy, the wear of and respect for uniform and other national symbols, tactical formations, dismounted drill, command post and field exercises - the stress and purpose throughout being on leadership rather than the teaching vehicles listed.

When the students who were distressed about the laboratories presented their case to the Liberal Arts Educational Policy Committee, two important steps were taken. The ROTC curricula were structured so there are both classroom courses and laboratories in each semester of ROTC and the position was iterated that laboratories are open only to cadets. The latter was on the principle that if students desire to be taught that phase of ROTC education they should become cadets. There is no onus in the requirement since cadets do not incur a military obligation until they apply for and are accepted into the Advanced Course (last two years).

All cadets must follow regulations and meet military standards of appearance as part of the laboratory educational process. They must also formally state their willingness to defend the constitution (the duty of every citizen). There are no religious or racial restrictions in either the armed forces or ROTC.

House Votes To Restart SST Project

WASHINGTON (AP) — The battle over developing an American supersonic transport plane was revived Wednesday when the House executed an about-face and voted $85 million to restart the project.

The Senate will take up the renewed fight next and Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana predicted the outcome there will be close.

With the leaders of both parties in the House behind them, backers of a drive to breathe new life into the 1,800-mile-an-hour passenger plane won an initial test by 201 to 195 and nailed it down by 201 to 197 on a second vote. Eight weeks ago they lost 215 to 204.

Mansfield said the resurrection will meet "very extended debate" in the Senate, where the SST was killed two months ago 51 to 46.

"It might be nip and tuck" this time, Mansfield said.

In a statement, President Nixon congratulated the House "for having very wisely reversed their earlier position."

Berrigan Judge Charges Contempt

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — A federal judge cited two college students for civil contempt Wednesday after they refused to testify before a grand jury probing an alleged plot to kidnap a presidential adviser.

Theresa McHugh, 20, of Philadelphia, a sophomore at Temple University, and William Gardner, 21, of Moorestown, N.J., a Bucknell University senior, were held in contempt after remaining silent despite a grant of immunity.

McHugh and Gardner are among 33 witnesses subpoenaed by the government after getting indictments in the alleged plot to kidnap President Nixon's foreign affairs adviser, Henry Kissinger; destroy heating systems in Washington, and raid military draft boards along the Eastern seaboard.

The government charges the plot was masterminded by the Rev. Phillip Berrigan, a Roman Catholic priest now in prison for destroying draft records at Catonsville, Md. Eight persons, including Berrigan, are under indictment in the case.

Six persons, including McHugh and Gardner, have been cited for civil contempt, and four for criminal contempt for refusing to tell what they know, if anything, about the alleged plot. All had received grants of immunity from Judge R. Dixon Herman.

Churchmen Concerned Over Unrest

The Iowa City Association of Religious Leaders Wednesday met in a special meeting which was "of concern for the continuing escalation of conflict in our community."

In a statement released to the press Wednesday afternoon the association said, "There has been too much personal injury, disruption and destruction of property as one incident escalates into another. We confess that there have been many unwise statements, provocative acts, and mistakes of judgment."

In their statement the association commended "those persons who have used restrained behavior and have made helpful efforts to reduce the conflict."

Roe Rehired in Surprise Decision

By JUDY SCHULTZ
Daily Iowan Reporter

Michael Roe, recently fired by the Iowa City School Board from his job as a teacher in the system's family living program, was rehired by the board Tuesday night following a public hearing on his firing.

The board voted April 7 not to renew Roe's contract, charging that he invited Gay Liberation Front members to speak to a family living class on March 4 without obtaining prior approval from his building principal.

Roe will teach social studies at the high school level next fall and will no longer be involved in the family living course.

Roe says he is satisfied with the switch to a different department.

"Teaching is a human relationship between two people. The subject is not the most important thing. It's this relation between an adult and a child," said Roe.

He added that he is fearful that the family living program will become diluted because of the controversy.

"As long as the program remains student-directed, open and honest, I'll be satisfied," Roe said.

The board voted four to two to rehire Roe after hearing 25 students, parents and teachers speak in favor of rehiring him. Only one person spoke against rehiring Roe.

"So many students said so many beautiful things at the hearing. My ego was really blown up," said Roe.

A petition supporting Roe signed by 137 students from Southeast Junior High was presented at the hearing.

Teachers testified that the firing of Roe had made them fearful of teaching controversial issues in their courses in the future.

TRANSCENDENTAL MEDITATION

Maharishi Mahesh Yogi

Transcendental Meditation is a simple, natural, scientific technique which allows each individual to expand his conscious mind and improve his life.

Studies have shown that TM produces profound physiological, as well as mental, results (see the article "Physiological Effects of Transcendental Meditation," Science, March 27, 1970). Meditators claim an increase of awareness, energy, clarity of mind and a decrease of tension and fatigue.

Hawkeyes a Favorite in Big 10 Tennis Meet

Back at full strength for the first time in two weeks, Iowa's tennis team enters the 62nd Big 10 Championships as one of the favorites.

Competition opened Wednesday on Northwestern's clay courts, with makeup matches scheduled. The tournament starts today and ends Saturday.

Michigan (8-1, 59 points), Indiana (8-1, 56) and Iowa (7-2, 52) enter the championships with the best dual marks. Michigan State (5-4, 51) can move ahead of the Hawkeyes pending three makeup matches Wednesday.

Iowa's singles lineup includes seniors Jim Esser (No. 1), Craig Sandvig (No. 3) and Steve Houghton (No. 5), junior Lee Wright (No. 6), sophomore Rod Kubat (No. 2) and freshman Bruce Nagel (No. 4). Esser-Sandvig form the top doubles team, with Nagel-Kubat at No. 2 and Houghton-Wright at No. 3.

Iowa Coach John Winnie is very optimistic about the Hawkeyes' chances. He feels that at least four singles players and two doubles teams could win individual titles.

"We're as strong as any team in the league," Winnie says. "This is my best team in three years, and we have already topped last spring's league point total (46)."

Sandvig and Nagel have the best singles records at 17-3. Wright and Houghton are 13-4 and 14-5, respectively. Esser is 7-11 and Kubat is 7-9.

The slender Sandvig won eight of nine league matches at No. 3. His only loss was to Michigan's Dick Ravreby. Nagel and Houghton were 4-1 at their respective positions and Wright was 5-2.

In doubles, Houghton-Wright were unbeaten in seven Big Ten matches. Esser-Sandvig were 7-2 while Kubat-Nagel won three of seven starts.

Iowa's only league title was in 1958 when the Hawkeyes won the top three singles and the No. 1 doubles crowns. The doubles team of Dave Nairn and John Nadig in 1960 was the last to win a title for Iowa.

In between the 1958 title and fourth-place in 1969, the best Hawkeye finish was third in 1959. Iowa was sixth last year with 46 points.

Michigan has won the last three titles and dominated the 1970 championships by winning five singles and two doubles titles.

Lauterbur: Satisfied Our Main Objective

Frank X. Lauterbur calls his first spring football practice at the University of Iowa a success.

The new Hawkeye boss made that observation after 20 on-the-field drills and a careful analysis of two or three miles of film.

"We got a lot accomplished," says Lauterbur. "The squad gave us a good effort, and we had ideal weather. We did a lot of scrimmaging and took a lot of film."

"Our staff will analyze and grade all the film and I'll have an individual conference with every player. We'll discuss areas where he needs work and what the coaching staff expects of him next fall."

"Our No. 1 priority this spring was getting to know the personnel, and we accomplished that. The enthusiasm of the squad impressed me. This is a good group of young men, and they worked hard for 20 days."

When pre-season practice starts Aug. 23, Frank obviously expects his Hawkeyes to bear down immediately. There will be no preliminary conditioning drills — the players will be asked to take care of that during the summer months. Some will be advised to report back a few pounds lighter.

"We expect the squad to report back in good football condition — to be able to run the 440 at specified times," says the Iowa coach. "We've got a lot of work to do, and we're going to get right at it."

The Hawkeyes, with an 11-game schedule, play at Ohio State Sept. 11, which means they will have only 19 calendar days for preparation.

"But that's enough," maintains Lauterbur. "After hitting his own teammates for 19 days, a player begins to look around for somebody different."

Not only are Lauterbur and his staff getting into a new league, they're jumping in with both feet. There will be no cushion of two or three non-conference games. The opener is with the defending Big 10 champion.

"This is a big transition," admits Frank, "but other coaches have made it successfully, and we're looking forward to the challenge. Our staff is really scratching, waiting for the fall to arrive."

When the troops report in August, one of the first orders of business will be to determine which of three quarterbacks is No. 1. Lauterbur has made it clear he wants to groom one man to lead his offense. Right now, he sizes up his three candidates this way:

"Frank Sunderman is big and has a strong arm. He's a little above average as a runner. He could develop into a good passer and field general."

"Kyle Skogman has the most field presence, perhaps because he has the most experience. He does a lot of things very well. He is a very heady football player."

"Rob Fick will be a sophomore and has a lot of potential. It may take a little time for him to develop, but he does a lot of things well. He's a real comer."

The defense will have to improve over the last couple of years before the Hawkeyes can become a winner, but the new Iowa boss, with a big reputation for defensive football, is making no predictions.

"There has been a complete changeover in defensive philosophy here, and it's hard to say how good we'll be in 1971. We have certain requirements and standards and we'll just have to wait and see how things develop in the fall."

JV's Take Two More

Iowa's Junior Varsity baseball team moved its season record to 11-5 Wednesday by sweeping a doubleheader from Burlington Junior College, 9-1 and 13-1, at the Iowa Diamond.

The Hawks, who split two games with Burlington Tuesday, had a big day at the plate as the second game had to be called in the fourth inning because of the 10-run rule.

A six-run sixth inning highlighted Iowa's win in the first game although they had scored enough runs in the first inning to win. Key hits in the sixth were singles by Jim Thornton and Ed Feyen and a two-run double by Mike Kielkopf. Dave Woodruff allowed only three hits and six base-runners in gaining the victory.

Burlington got first blood in the second game when they scored a run in the second inning on a double by Tom Parmerter followed by a single by Dan Ripple. Iowa was held scoreless until its half of the third when everything fell in on Burlington.

The Hawks sent 14 men to the plate and scored 10 runs before being halted. Rick Greene supplied much of the Iowa power with a triple and a home run in that inning. Two other Hawks also had two hits in the inning with Scott Pearson getting a homer (right after Greene's) and a double and Brad Bergey slamming a pair of singles.

John Hartnett was the winner on the mound. He allowed four hits in the four innings he worked.

Inferno Win 11-0

The Iowa City Inferno Soccer Club closed its 1971 road slate Sunday by crushing Central College, 11-0, in a match at Pella.

Four Inferno players accounted for the total barrage as Manolo Callis tallied five times, Misganaw Demisse four, Bernard Frey and Denis Songolo once each.

The Inferno now own a 3-0-1 record this spring and close their season at 2 p.m. Sunday when they host the Cedar Rapids Comets at the Hawkeye Apartments Field.

TENNIS CHAMPS—

Jerry Napier and Cindy Mackev disposed of John and Ellen Cloyd, Ron Ellis and Debbie Stetson and Tom Colbert and Karen Babl to win the Men's and Women's League tennis playoff. Ron Ellis and Debbie Stetson placed second in the competition losing only to Napier and Mackey.

Groovy Gifts for Grabby Grads

Yes, I know how busy you are—cramming for finals, deciphering your notes, helping old grads find their dentures after Class Day—but let me interrupt your manifold activities—cramming for finals, deciphering your notes, searching for meat in the dormitory stew—to remind you that Commencement Day is almost upon us, and it's high time you started shopping for presents to give your friends who are graduating. So pause a moment in your busy schedule—cramming for finals, deciphering your notes, raising bail—to look over this list of charming gift suggestions.

We will start with the hardest gift problem of all: what do you give the person who has everything? Well sir, here are some gifts I promise you he does not have:

1. A low hurdle.
2. A street map of Perth, Australia.
3. Fifty pounds of goose fat.
4. A supply of Miller High Life Beer.

"What?" you exclaim, your young eyebrows leaping in perpendicular incredulity. "The person who has everything does not have a supply of Miller High Life Beer?" you rasp, your young lips curling in horizontal derision. "What arrant nonsense!" you snarl, making a coarse gesture.

But I reply with an emphatic "No!" The person who has everything, I insist, does not have a supply of Miller High Life Beer—not for long anyhow—because if he is a person who enjoys a beer light but mellow, hearty but delicate, a beer that cloyes not, neither does it pall, a beer that is forever amber and forever ambrosia, a beer deliciously dependable and dependably delicious, a beer, in short, for all seasons—if, I say, he is a person who enjoys such a beer—and who does not? eh? who does not?—then he does not have a supply of Miller High Life. What he has is a supply of empty Miller cans and bottles and a thirst that could turn dangerous if neglected.

So of course we will give all our graduating friends plenty of Miller High Life. And if you're looking for some additional gifts, too, here are more suggestions:

For someone graduating with a degree in American history, now about a hand-blown jade figurine of Millard Fillmore with a clock in the stomach? (Mr. Fillmore, incidentally, was the only American president with a clock in his stomach. It's true of course that James K. Polk had a stem-winder in his head and Chester A. Arthur, as you know, chimed on the quarter-hour, but only Mr. Fillmore of all our chief executives had a clock in his stomach. To be sure, Franklin Pierce had a sweep second hand and Zachary Taylor ticked and Martin Van Buren had a Swiss movement but, I repeat, Mr. Fillmore and Mr. Fillmore alone had a clock in his stomach. Moreover, Mr. Fillmore was the first president with power steering. Small wonder they called him "Old Hickory!")

But I digress. Returning to Graduation gifts, here is another that is sure to please—a gift certificate from the American Society of Chiropractors. Accompanying each certificate is this enchanting little poem:

Is your tailbone now a failbone?
 Has your sacrum been dislodged?
 Are you hating vertebrating?
 Come right in and get massaged.

Is your lumbar growing number?
 Has your pelvis run aground?
 Does your caudal tend to dawdle?
 Come right in and let us pound.

Finally, if you have a music-loving friend, how about a personal portable radio that plugs right into his ear? Next year you can give him a little pick to dig the plug out.

When the excitement of Commencement is over, we, the brewers of Miller Beer, have what seems to us a fine suggestion: sit down for a peaceful moment and relax with a glass of Miller. If you've got the time, we've got the beer.

Can you tell when a diamond is perfect?

Possibly not... but you don't have to when you choose Keepsake because it's guaranteed perfect (or replacement assured). You can't buy a finer diamond from us. Or, anyone.

Littler Joins Field for Amana Golf

Special to the DI
 AMANA — Twenty-five trips to the winner's circle establish veteran, Gene Littler, as the "Man-O-War" of the star-studded field assembling June 28 for the fifth Amana VIP Golf Tournament at Finkbine in Iowa City.

Littler's most recent accomplishment was a sparkling three stroke victory in the Monsanto Open. Counting his two national amateur titles prior to turning pro and his victory in the 1966 World Series of Golf (a non-tour event), Littler made his 25th appearance in the winner's circle after the Monsanto win. It was a $30,000 payday.

As holder of 22 tour victories in PGA-sponsored events (one being the 1961 National Open), Gene Littler holds the distinction of having more championships than any of the pros who will play in the Amana VIP. His nearest rival is Julius Boros with 19.

Kunnert Honored

Big Ten Commissioner William R. Reed announced Wednesday that Kevin Kunnert of Iowa will be among 15 American basketball players and coaches who will go to New Zealand this summer.

Brad Snyder, head coach at Northwestern and Lou Watson, former head coach at Indiana, will coach the squad.

Players on the team, in addition to Kunnert, include Rick Howat of Illinois; John Ritter and Frank Wilson of Indiana; Wayne Grabiec of Michigan; William Kilgore of Michigan State; Jim Brewer of Minnesota; Rick Sund and Mark Sibley of Northwestern; Mark Wagar of Ohio State; Bill Franklin of Purdue and Clarence Sherrod of Wisconsin.

Epileptic Alleges Police Brutality

An Iowa City resident who suffered a grand mal epileptic seizure while observing the disturbances at Quadrangle Dormitory Tuesday night alleged Wednesday that he was struck by Highway Patrol officers as he ran to find a place to sit down. Stanley Mortensen, 1321 Marcy Street, told the Daily Iowan that he was hit on the back of the head as he was running from the south side of Quadrangle toward the north side of Hillcrest Dormitory looking for a place to sit down before the seizure came on so he would not injure himself. The police were advancing to take control of the street between Hillcrest and Quadrangle, he said. Mortensen continued, "The police had ordered everyone to move and were running toward the students when I felt the attack coming."

Mortensen explained that he experiences an "aura" or sensation of light before the epileptic convulsions begin. "I passed out after I was hit," he said. "When I came to, five or six cops had me pinned." Mortensen said they continued to hit him in the back. "I told them I was epileptic and needed my pills," he said. "They refused to let me get the pills from my pocket." Mortensen said he blacked out again while being taken by the patrolmen to the corner of Riverside Dr. and Burlington St. He was taken to University Hospital after a physician intervened. "I didn't know I'd been arrested until I was in the hospital," he added. Mortensen faces an Iowa City charge of disorderly conduct. The state has charged him with resisting arrest and assault with intent to inflict great bodily injury. The state charges came while Mortensen was being released from the county jail Wednesday morning.

Personal Income Slackens in April

WASHINGTON (AP) — The rise in national personal income slackened in April, the government said Wednesday, supplying new evidence the economy has yet to match the Nixon administration's ambitions.

The Commerce Department reported that personal income of Americans advanced by a seasonally adjusted $4.5 billion last month, trailing February's increase by $1.7 billion.

Although personal income isn't regarded as the most sensitive barometer of economic activity, the slower gains fit into a pattern of generally unfavorable economic statistics announced so far for April.

The government reported last week that wholesale prices accelerated in April while unemployment inched ahead to 6.1 per cent of the work force.

Personal income climbed to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $841.3 billion last month. The increase was at about the rate of the average monthly gain in 1970, a year Federal Reserve Board Chairman Arthur F. Burns said was a recession.

The Commerce Department said April's personal income increase was centered in wage and salary payments, which advanced by $2.75 billion above the previous month.

The department said gains in employment, average hours and hourly earnings contributed to the increase in payrolls. But it acknowledged that the pick up was moderate.

Factory payrolls remained unchanged from last month, reaching a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $161 billion.

The department said substantial gains in average hourly earnings were offset by a drop in employment and a shorter average work week. The declines were felt in durable goods industries, the department said.

Construction payrolls increased for the second straight month, reflecting increased employment and higher pay. Trade payrolls showed a slight gain.

Crisis Center Fund-Raising Plays Set

The Iowa City Crisis Center will produce two plays Friday at Center East to kick off its campaign to raise $3,000 by July.

"The Harmfulness of Tobacco" and "The Boor," both by Anton Chekhov, will begin at 8 p.m. Admission for the plays, which will star Jim Sutton, Don Gibson, Connie Merker and Susan Paradis, will be $1.25.

A benefit rock concert, featuring Sundance, Combinations and possibly the old Mother Blues, will be held May 19.

Crisis Center representatives have already collected $2,000 from student organizations and are soliciting money from faculty, businessmen, churches and others who might benefit from the center.

The money must be raised by July in order to receive a promised $2,000 from the City Council. The year's total operating budget will be $24,000, a spokesman said, noting that the center hopes to receive some grant money.

"We're hoping to become a walk-in, 24-hours-per-day center," the spokesperson said. "We'd like to have facilities for going out to rock concerts. I saw some people who needed help at the Grateful Dead Concert."

"All of this is contingent on our raising enough money to survive."

If expanded to a walk-in service, the center will not be equipped to handle long-term counseling, "but the Crisis Center is a good place to call to find out where you can get that kind of help," according to the spokesperson.

Also in the works is a benefit basketball game featuring the Iowa varsity team, "but we're looking for someone to play them."

Donations may be sent to Post Office Box 894.

Panther Trial Jury Ready

NEW YORK (AP) — After eight months of testimony and a 15-month trial, the government's case that a group of Black Panthers plotted a terrorist campaign of bombings was set Wednesday to go to a jury.

Defense attorneys have told the jurors, who will begin deliberations Thursday, that the 13 Panthers on trial are innocent; that they were merely "blusters" whose angry threats and rhetoric scared the authorities into fabricating a plot out of little real evidence.

A 30-count indictment was returned in April 1969 against those on trial and nine others identified by authorities as Black Panthers but who either were never apprehended or were tried in separate litigations.

They were charged with conspiring and attempting to bomb police stations and kill police, and with plotting to blow up major department stores and subway trains at the height of the 1969 Easter shopping season.

Quake Hits Turkey

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — A giant earthquake struck the opium-growing lake country around Burdur in southwest Turkey Wednesday, killing at least 58 persons and injuring hundreds.

The semiofficial Anatolian news agency, without giving a source, said 100 had died.

Play by Osborne, Comedy Will Be Presented at UI

The original "angry young man" and two very funny old men who find fame and fortune in a funeral parlor will appear in two plays to be presented at the University of Iowa in May.

"The Simpson Legree Preservation Society," written and directed by Barry Kemp, will be presented at the University Theatre on Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m.

On May 15 and 16, John Osborne's "Look Back in Anger" will be presented at 8 p.m. at the theatre, directed by John Heckel, graduate student in speech and dramatic art from Des Plaines, Ill.

The plays have a unique purpose — proceeds from them, after expenses, will be used for financial aid to undergraduate students in the Department of Speech and Dramatic Art. Heckel is also receiving on-the-job training in theatrical financing, having invested his own funds in the production.

Welfare Bill Ready

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee completed its draft Wednesday of a massive welfare reform-Social Security bill embracing President Nixon's proposal for a federal floor of $2,400 income for a family of four.

The committee finished its basic decisions and plans to vote on the bill Monday.

Troops See 'Pentagon'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department has been showing the CBS program, "The Selling of the Pentagon," to U.S. troops overseas but has halted it at the request of CBS, the department's information chief said Wednesday.
