Rain causes many hassles

The Iowa City Police Department

Thursday, Nov. 3, 1977

Rain on Tuesday may have all drivers trim their

in time for today's great fall in the meteorological weather patterns, but not with in its wake, especially in the area. However, the cold front is moving through the area, and the temperature will drop significantly over the next few days.

Rain continues today, with a several inches of precipitation expected. The National Weather

Service has issued a flood watch for the area, with the possibility of localized flooding.

Rainfall totals may reach up to an inch to an inch and a half in some areas, leading to waterlogging and possible

flooding.

Drivers are advised to slow down and allow extra distance between vehicles, taking into account the increased stopping distance

in wet conditions.

Winter survival

It is a good sign, I think, to come toward the end of the year. I've been feeling like this is the season to start fresh, to embrace the changing of the seasons in a positive way. It's让人 feel hopeful for the future, as we move into a new year.

DISTURBING ATTITUDES IN CITY COUNCIL

By DONATELLA MAKIN

City Council President John D. Moore announced yesterday that he would not seek re-election on the council.

Two council members, including Mayor David W. Clark, have been accused of exhibiting disturbing attitudes and behavior.

One of the accused, Councilman Michael A. Smith, has been accused of making threatening statements and engaging in verbally abusive behavior.

The other, Councilwoman Mary Davis, is accused of exhibiting a pattern of behavior that is considered inappropriate and unprofessional.

Moore said that the council should be held accountable for its actions and that the public deserves better.

"We are failing our constituents," Moore said. "We have let them down, and I take full responsibility for that."

Others on the council, however, have expressed concern about Moore's decision and wondered if it will impact council operations.

"We need a strong leadership," said Councilman James E. Brown. "We need someone who can bring us together as a council and work for the benefit of the community."

Moore, however, remains steadfast in his decision.

"I have made this decision, and I will stand behind it," he said. "This is the right thing to do for the city and its citizens."

Mixed bag of elections today could boost 72% race

WASHINGTON — Elections across the country Tues day were tense as voters app lied in a test of the Nixon adm inistration’s hold on the nation. The Democratic party had worked hard to boost its chances.

Kentucky is one of these states. President Nixon won Kentucky by a slim margin in the 1968 election. The Democrats have been careful to leave the state to the home team.

But the nationally sensitive issue of black power has turned up in the Kentucky race.

"Smut capital" has a complaint: public is apathetic

SAN FRANCISCO — A protest of hundreds of citizens was held here yesterday and today to demonstrate against the "Smut Capital of the U.S."

Protest "heed" theaters have been operating for only three months, but their playing of nude pictures is causing a great deal of trouble. According to one of the protest leaders, "Smut is a threat to our freedom of expression."

Customers have been coming in to protest the playing of nude pictures, saying that they are "horrifying" and "unacceptable." However, the management of the theaters is not taking any actions to stop the playing of nude pictures.

The protest organizers have appealed to all citizens to take action for their freedom of expression. They have asked people to participate in the protest and to send letters to the management of the theaters demanding the end of nude picture playing.

The protest is continuing today with a larger crowd expected. The organizers have called for a national boycott of all nude picture theaters until the playing of nude pictures is stopped.

Cat Stevens album has a good looking jacket

Cat Stevens has a new album, not to mention with high praise from critics. The jacket is a typical Cat Stevens jacket, but it is one of the most creative jackets of all time. The jacket is transparent and is completely made of plastic. The jacket is designed to look like a jacket that Cat Stevens would wear.

The jacket is completely transparent, allowing people to see inside. The jacket is also made of plastic, which is a material that Cat Stevens has been using in his past albums. The jacket is also perfect for Cat Stevens' music, which is often associated with the color of the jacket.

New faculty members named to Medicine, Pharmacy staffs

Two dozen new faculty members are being named to the College of Medicine and the College of Pharmacy at the University of Iowa today. This is the largest number of new faculty members ever named at the University in a single year.

The new faculty members were named at a special ceremony held in the auditorium of the College of Medicine. The ceremony was attended by the University's president, the dean of the College of Medicine, and other dignitaries.

Ticketless

University of Iowa football fans who will be attending the game on Saturday will need to have a new ticket. The new ticket, which is called "Ticketless," will be given out at the game and will allow fans to enter the stadium without having to wait in line.

"Ticketless" is a new ticket system that will be used for all football games at the University of Iowa. The new ticket system is designed to make attending football games more convenient for fans.

Welfare-reform hopes grow dim

WASHINGTON — The ban on welfare payments to illegitimate children in the District of Columbia was too controversial to pass until 1973 and there is doubt it will be enacted in Congress this year.

Governor Arthur J. Rouse of Maryland, where welfare payments were suspended in 1972, told the House Committee on Appropriations in February that he had suspended the payments because welfare had become a "hobby" in the state.

"But that is the difference," Mr. Rouse said at a press conference last week. "We are talking about a $300 million program and a $500 million national effort."

SYNTHETIC TURF

WASHINGTON — Artificial turf, popular in American football, will soon be on the mountains as well. The University of Idaho in Moscow has been designing a course for cross-country skiers and has built a ski trail on the school's lawn that will be covered with artificial turf.

The University's ski team, which has been training on a artificial turf course, is planning to use the lawn for training and practices during the winter months. The artificial turf will help reduce the impact on the natural grass and provide a better surface for skiing.

The artificial turf course is part of a larger project by the university to improve the athletic facilities on campus. The project will also include the construction of a new track and field facility.

The DAILY IOWAN
Michigan looms on Hawk horizon

BY WARREN OBS
Daily Iowans Sports Writer

Iowa football's winning streak was ended yesterday over Wisconsin and the Badgers heard a scouting report on the Michigan State football team.

"I think we were outcoached and outplayed by Coach Fraser's team," said Frank Lauterbur, head coach for the Michigan State team yesterday. "We really thought we had a chance to win the game until we got down 10-0 in the first half and then it just seemed like our backs were against the wall."

Lauterbur added that his team was fatigued due to the previous week's game and that he had to do a better job of preparing his team for future opponents.

Michigan State running back Larry Johnson carried the ball 34 times for 190 yards, including a 25-yard touchdown run in the fourth quarter. Johnson's performance earned him Big Ten Player of the Week honors.

"I've been on the road before," said Johnson, "but this one was special. It's a great feeling winning a conference game on the road."
