Hanoi sees new advantages—
War may intensify despite peace move

President Nixon's Indochina policies promise to bring higher hopes for many Americans, but the road to peace in Southeast Asia may prove longer than anticipated, Secretary of Defense Donald H. Rumsfeld said yesterday.

The defense expert said that the long road to peace in Southeast Asia may mean that the United States and its allies will have to continue fighting for years to come.

WASHING...
Demol' 1040 blues

By RAY HELLAND

If you are one of those people who love the sound of the early spring, then you will not miss the sound of the 1040 form being torn through the air on a warm April day. The 1040 is a form that is designed to help people understand their taxes, and it is used by millions of people every year. But for some, the 1040 can be a frustrating and confusing experience.

Speed freak society

By RAY HELLAND

Are we all so busy trying to win the race against time that we have forgotten how to enjoy the journey? We are always rush, rush, rush, trying to finish our work before the deadline. We are always on the go, always on the run. We are always checking our phones, always checking our emails, always checking our schedules. We are always thinking about the future, always thinking about what we need to do next. We are always trying to get things done, always trying to get things done.

The Divine Comedy: Iowa's Purgatory

By RY BRODIE

Going to college is like paying to get an old bicycle. It's a good ride, but it's not always what you expected. Iowa is a great place to be, but it's not always what you expected. Iowa is a great place to be, but it's not always what you expected. Iowa is a great place to be, but it's not always what you expected.

Legislators, save us from yourself!

A funny thing happened at The Field. The Dressed O'Conner's put out a sign that said, "Anti-rape, 1000 at a time," and it was put up at the University of Iowa. The sign was put up at the University of Iowa. The sign was put up at the University of Iowa. The sign was put up at the University of Iowa.

OPINION

Dean's grade: C plus

To the editor: One day ago. The Daily Iowan published an opinion by Joseph A. Hurst, Jr., that included some interesting types of conclusions which, in my judgment, a "good" grade system should possess. It is a research project to develop a reasonable grading system which would support the following conclusions.

There are no opinions about anything. If you believe in the score, In the score. I'm on the line. You can come over right now.

Kissinger says Nixon plan not 'take-it-or-leave-it' offer

WASHINGTON — Henry A. Kissinger said Wednesday that President Nixon's plan for a 'take-it-or-leave-it' offer to the North Vietnamese doesn't mean a return to the brinkmanship of the past.

"There is no subterfuge in this," Kissinger said in a White House briefing with reporters. "This is an offer. It is an offer that has been made to them. It is an offer that has been made in good faith."

Kissinger, who was acting executive vice president of the World Bank before joining Nixon's administration, said the plan calls for Hanoi to accept or reject the offer by March 15.

The plan will begin with talks to discuss "all aspects of a political settlement" if Hanoi accepts the offer. If not, the talks will focus on the "political situation in South Vietnam," he said.

Kissinger said Nixon plans to send "a letter of instruction" to the North Vietnamese as part of the plan. He did not elaborate what the letter would contain.

The president will have to decide whether to accept the offer or reject it, Kissinger said. Nixon has not decided whether to accept or reject the offer yet, he added.

Kissinger said the plan is based on the belief that "a stable, lasting peace" can be achieved in Vietnam.

The plan calls for "a complete cease-fire," he said. "The United States will not accept anything less."

The president will also decide whether to accept or reject the offer if Hanoi accepts the offer, Kissinger said.

He added that the plan is based on the belief that "the United States has not given up on Vietnam."

UI zoology professor takes "hell-for-leather" power play

"This is the year of the buzzard," says John Kennedy, professor emeritus of zoology, "and it's not a good year for buzzards."

The buzzard, a bird of prey, has become the symbol of everything wrong in the environmental movement, according to Kennedy. He says that buzzards are being used to represent everything from poachers to nuclear power plant operators.

Muskie leads Demo field, but can he keep it up?

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Edmund S. Muskie appears well on his way toward staking up the Democratic presidential candidate with a decisive campaign, a source of encouragement to the Democratic contenders, is a respect of the race's desire to create this late surge.

Muskie clearly considers Humphrey to be his major rival, although he isn't running quite so well. Humphrey began the effort in Florida, where he plans to use the Democratic ballot to deadlock that would open the way for someone else, Muskie appears to be in good shape and probably a serious threat to the Miami area, where he plans to concentrate on one or two different states. The campaign is the basis for a series of attacks on the Democratic candidates and Muskie's performance.

The new process for selecting the Democratic candidates is in the process of being decided. The process includes a series of debates in the presidential primaries to select Muskie, who produces each candidate. The candidates are

New start for Jim Speed

By MINNESOTA
Daily Iowan Sports Writer

Standing over is not always an easy thing to do, especially if you have had a great deal of time to think about it. So it was for Jim Speed when he returned to the University of Minnesota for his second year of studies. He said he was expected to do well and was always a great college athlete. In November of 1971, the entire family was saddened when the accident occurred. It happened at the University of Minnesota, and he was taken to the hospital where he received medical attention. He was not only injured, but also underwent a lot of mental stress.

"I've had an interest in politics my whole life," Speed said. "I believe in democracy, and I think that by being in the Civil Rights movement for a while, I've come to understand that there is a lot of injustice in the world today."

"The best way to protest is to vote," he concluded. "If you are black and can see, you should vote. And if you are black and can't see, you should vote."

Brawl sends Bucks sprawling

By Bob Bartholomew, a statistician on the Ohio State往往会 basketball team, described the scene that unfolded Monday night in the Racquet Center. "The brawl began during a fight Tuesday night in the Ohio State-Manhatan basketball game. Marquis Wagner is the other Ohio State player in the court. The brawl involved a number of players from both teams."

"I don't want to say that I'm going to give up basketball," Speed said. "I'll keep fighting and I'll keep getting better."
