The Daily Iowan

Recovering

The Daily Iowan's Weatherspoon, recovering from a recent heart operation, was able to attend the assembly in her seat Tuesday. The assembly was held in the University of Iowa's memorial union.

Problems

Only two of the 11 school planning to attend the assembly in the coming weeks, plans for the current year have not been made public.

NORWAY, Northern Ireland, and the U.S. are expected to be the major players in the current international political scene.

By LARRY BLAIR

Daily Iowan University Editor

The University of Iowa as a whole and in its departments was surveyed in a time test in order to determine the impact of the new regents on the university's system.

The statement claims that the university is in a precarious financial situation. The statement calls for the university to adjust its financial policies in order to correct the situation.

The statement charges that the new regents have not fulfilled their promises. The statement claims that the new regents have not fulfilled their promise of providing better financial policies.

The statement expresses concern about the future of the university. The statement calls for the university to take action in order to ensure its future.

By KEVIN MURPHY

Daily Iowan University Editor

The University of Iowa as a whole and in its departments was surveyed in a time test in order to determine the impact of the new regents on the university's system.

The statement claims that the university is in a precarious financial situation. The statement calls for the university to adjust its financial policies in order to correct the situation.

The statement charges that the new regents have not fulfilled their promises. The statement claims that the new regents have not fulfilled their promise of providing better financial policies.

The statement expresses concern about the future of the university. The statement calls for the university to take action in order to ensure its future.
Juvenile delinquency in IC

By Cathy Edwards

For the WOnI MENS INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE FOR PEACE and FREEDOM

Punctured balloon

The author:

The world of your own self-imagining. I hope to see the end to corporal punishment or completely replaced by a code of principles or laws. Letters to the editor must be signed. They should be typed, triple-spaced, and for the protection of your privacy, give the writer's full address.

Juvenile delinquency in IC

Juvenile delinquency for the 1970s was the focus of President Richard Nixon's Youth Action Plan, which was intended to reduce juvenile delinquency by increasing the number of police and court personnel and by providing more counseling services for troubled youth.

Opinion

There are many approaches to the problem of juvenile delinquency, but none that are considered successful or effective. One approach that has been proposed is to provide better education and training for police and court personnel. This approach would require a significant increase in funding, but it could potentially be effective if implemented properly.

Another approach that has been proposed is the use of community service projects. This approach would involve having juvenile delinquents participate in community service projects as a form of punishment. While this approach could be effective in reducing juvenile delinquency, it is likely to be ineffective if not properly implemented.

Stop the blob

The author:

I have been doing the juvenile delinquency research for over 10 years, and one thing that is clear is that we need to change our approach to dealing with this problem.

One area of concern is the number of children who are being referred to the court system. Currently, many of these referrals are made without sufficient proof that the child has committed a crime.

Another area of concern is the use of juvenile detention centers. These centers are often overcrowded and are not effective in rehabilitating juvenile delinquents.

One way to address these issues is to provide more resources for community-based programs. These programs could include after-school programs, counseling services, and other resources that could help prevent children from becoming juvenile delinquents.

Beer Blanket Bingo

By Scott Haywood

Iowa's beer idolaters have been dealt a double-whammy. The state's largest wine and beer bars, including the University of Iowa's Student Union, have lost their liquor licenses due to the state's anti-gambling laws.

The University of Iowa's Student Union has been one of the state's largest bars, with a capacity of over 1,000 people. The bar has been a popular spot for students and visitors alike, but it will now have to find a new location.

The state's anti-gambling laws have also affected other bars and restaurants in the area. The bars and restaurants that were affected by the laws have been forced to close or reduce their hours.

The laws that were passed by the state's legislature are part of a larger push to prevent gambling and other forms of entertainment from taking over the state's economy. The laws have been controversial, and many people have expressed concerns about their effects on the state's economy.
ISA answers charges of mishandled finances

by NANCY STEVENS
Daily Iowan Staff Writer
The financial problems that beset a small cemetery Association — 15 were not the only ones that faced the small cemetery Association during the last few months.

One of the most significant of these was the lack of funds to meet the financial obligations of the Association. The Association had been unable to raise the necessary funds to meet its obligations.

A motion, proposed by Mr. A. J. Haddy, and seconded by Mr. W. R. Haddy, was unanimously adopted by the Association.

When the Association faced the problem of raising the necessary funds to meet its obligations, it decided to take action to solve the problem. The Association then took steps to raise the necessary funds.

The Association had previously raised funds through the sale of cemetery plots and the sale of cemetery property. However, these efforts had not been sufficient to meet the financial obligations of the Association.

The Association then decided to seek financial assistance from the state and federal governments. The Association also sought financial assistance from private sources.

The Association was successful in raising the necessary funds to meet its obligations. The Association was able to pay its outstanding debts and to return to a state of financial stability.

Chides U.S. role in Indo-Pak war

The head of the Iowa National Guard and other military officials have captured two bands of terrorist in the Indo-Pak war.

The head of the Iowa National Guard and other military officials have captured two bands of terrorist in the Indo-Pak war. The terrorist groups were involved in the recent Indo-Pak conflict.

The groups were involved in the recent Indo-Pak conflict, which began in the month of January. The conflict resulted in the loss of many lives and the destruction of property.

TUES., WED. thru SAT., FEB. 12

PHOTOGRAPHER’S HOURS: TUES., WED., THUR., FRI., SAT., 9:30-5

SHOP AT SEARS, AND GET... SAFETY GUARANTEED... Your Money Back

Sears
MALL SHOPPING CENTER
MALL SHOPPING CENTER
FREE PARKING - 331-3600

PETE'S, INC.
THE PHOTOGRAPHIC PEOPLE
3939 20th

Earthquake Damage
BOLTS, SCREWS, NUTS, WASHERS, etc... Close Out... To $1 on the dollar!

Sears 16 mm
SLIDES, 11 mm
SLIDES

The third week of the month of February will begin at 9:30 a.m. today at the office of the County Board of Directors in Carbondale.

Mr. Levine is a lawyer who focuses on corporate law and securities law. He has been involved in several high-profile cases and has a reputation for being a tough negotiator.

Ms. Levine? Mrs. Kallio? call her Caroline

By PAUL DAVEY
Daily Iowan Staff Writer
Ms. Levine is a lawyer who focuses on corporate law and securities law. She has been involved in several high-profile cases and has a reputation for being a tough negotiator.

Mr. Levine is a lawyer who focuses on corporate law and securities law. He has been involved in several high-profile cases and has a reputation for being a tough negotiator.

More research for engineers Engineering—

(Continued from Page 1)

It is generally recognized that the graduate student is an important member of the engineering family. The student at the graduate level often has a broader perspective on the field than the undergraduate student.

The overall research funding of the university in the areas of engineering and science was $20 million in 1965 and $25 million in 1966.

The college operating budget for the 1966-67 fiscal year of the college was $4.5 million, including $3.5 million for the operating budget and $1 million for the building fund.

If the cost to human labor has declined to a relative leisure time, then the engineer can be said to be working more efficiently. If the 1966-67 budget for the college can be thought of as 100, the 1965-66 budget could be thought of as 80.

Ms. Levine? Mrs. Kallio? call her Caroline

By PAUL DAVEY
Daily Iowan Staff Writer
Ms. Levine is a lawyer who focuses on corporate law and securities law. She has been involved in several high-profile cases and has a reputation for being a tough negotiator.

Mr. Levine is a lawyer who focuses on corporate law and securities law. He has been involved in several high-profile cases and has a reputation for being a tough negotiator.

More research for engineers Engineering—

(Continued from Page 1)

It is generally recognized that the graduate student is an important member of the engineering family. The student at the graduate level often has a broader perspective on the field than the undergraduate student.

The overall research funding of the university in the areas of engineering and science was $20 million in 1965 and $25 million in 1966.

The college operating budget for the 1966-67 fiscal year of the college was $4.5 million, including $3.5 million for the operating budget and $1 million for the building fund.
Webbed

David Alexander of Mystic, Conn., looks for help that the wet and windy conditions are in a great time for clear days and cool evenings. He said a quick wet spell gives the fish a boost.

Over 300 cases reported here

Flu bug's bite lessening now

By STEVE MOORE

Daily Iowa Staff Writer

More than 300 cases of influenza have been reported to the University of Iowa Health Service since the beginning of the month. The first cases reported were in the first week of January, and have increased steadily since then. The largest number of cases reported was in the first week, with over 100 cases reported in that period. The number of cases reported has been decreasing gradually since then, with only 20 cases reported in the last week of the month.

The present outbreak of influenza appears milder than in previous years. Influenza, of the type described by the director of the U.S. Public Health Service, is not expected to spread far or wide. The illness is expected to be limited to the first week of the month. The U.S. Public Health Service expects the number of cases to remain steady throughout the month, and the illness is not expected to spread far or wide.

The flu bug's bite is lessening now, and the number of cases reported is expected to continue to decrease throughout the month. The University of Iowa Health Service expects the number of cases to remain steady throughout the month, and the illness is not expected to spread far or wide.
Nixon strategists hope to swamp challengers in primary

The2

congressional

The1

Frank

The5

campaign

The7

The8

The3

The4

The6

The9

The10

The11

The12

The13

The14

The15

The16

The17

The18

The19

The20

The21

The22

The23

The24

The25

The26

The27

The28

The29

The30

The31

The32

The33

The34

The35

The36

The37

The38

The39

The40

The41

The42

The43

The44

The45

The46

The47

The48

The49

The50

The51

The52

The53

The54

The55

The56

The57

The58

The59

The60

The61

The62

The63

The64

The65

The66

The67

The68

The69

The70

The71

The72

The73

The74

The75

The76

The77

The78

The79

The80

The81

The82

The83

The84

The85

The86

The87

The88

The89

The90

The91

The92

The93

The94

The95

The96

The97

The98

The99

The100

The101

The102

The103

The104
Few ignore Ted's mystique
Kennedy: Top non-candidate

Editor's note: The nation's Democratic hopefuls are reaching for their presidential music notes as the general election draws near. This final report in the Democratic campaign series features the top non-candidate.

AP-WIDE WORLD PHOTOS -- The nation's top non-candidate, who for the first time in his political career is not a candidate for the presidency, is Eisenhower's one-time aide, John F. Kennedy.

Kennedy has said he will not be a candidate, and will not accept a decision to stay out of the race.

"If there's no one with whom to compete," Kennedy said yesterday, "then I am no candidate."

Kennedy's presence in the race for the presidency at least raises the question of who his non-candidate will be.

Kennedy's campaign in the early days of the campaign was unusual in that he was a Democrat who said he would not be a candidate, but did not do enough to campaign to be one.

Kennedy's campaign was the only one of the candidates for the presidency who did not try to be a candidate.

Kennedy's presence in the race for the presidency at least raises the question of who his non-candidate will be.

Kennedy has said he will not be a candidate, and will not accept a decision to stay out of the race.

"If there's no one with whom to compete," Kennedy said yesterday, "then I am no candidate."

Kennedy's presence in the race for the presidency at least raises the question of who his non-candidate will be.

Kennedy's campaign in the early days of the campaign was unusual in that he was a Democrat who said he would not be a candidate, but did not do enough to campaign to be one.

Kennedy's campaign was the only one of the candidates for the presidency who did not try to be a candidate.

Kennedy's presence in the race for the presidency at least raises the question of who his non-candidate will be.

Kennedy has said he will not be a candidate, and will not accept a decision to stay out of the race.

"If there's no one with whom to compete," Kennedy said yesterday, "then I am no candidate."

Kennedy's presence in the race for the presidency at least raises the question of who his non-candidate will be.

Kennedy's campaign in the early days of the campaign was unusual in that he was a Democrat who said he would not be a candidate, but did not do enough to campaign to be one.

Kennedy's campaign was the only one of the candidates for the presidency who did not try to be a candidate.

Kennedy's presence in the race for the presidency at least raises the question of who his non-candidate will be.

Kennedy has said he will not be a candidate, and will not accept a decision to stay out of the race.

"If there's no one with whom to compete," Kennedy said yesterday, "then I am no candidate."

Kennedy's presence in the race for the presidency at least raises the question of who his non-candidate will be.

Kennedy's campaign in the early days of the campaign was unusual in that he was a Democrat who said he would not be a candidate, but did not do enough to campaign to be one.

Kennedy's campaign was the only one of the candidates for the presidency who did not try to be a candidate.

Kennedy's presence in the race for the presidency at least raises the question of who his non-candidate will be.

Kennedy has said he will not be a candidate, and will not accept a decision to stay out of the race.

"If there's no one with whom to compete," Kennedy said yesterday, "then I am no candidate."

Kennedy's presence in the race for the presidency at least raises the question of who his non-candidate will be.

Kennedy's campaign in the early days of the campaign was unusual in that he was a Democrat who said he would not be a candidate, but did not do enough to campaign to be one.

Kennedy's campaign was the only one of the candidates for the presidency who did not try to be a candidate.

Kennedy's presence in the race for the presidency at least raises the question of who his non-candidate will be.

Kennedy has said he will not be a candidate, and will not accept a decision to stay out of the race.

"If there's no one with whom to compete," Kennedy said yesterday, "then I am no candidate."

Kennedy's presence in the race for the presidency at least raises the question of who his non-candidate will be.

Kennedy's campaign in the early days of the campaign was unusual in that he was a Democrat who said he would not be a candidate, but did not do enough to campaign to be one.

Kennedy's campaign was the only one of the candidates for the presidency who did not try to be a candidate.

Kennedy's presence in the race for the presidency at least raises the question of who his non-candidate will be.

Kennedy has said he will not be a candidate, and will not accept a decision to stay out of the race.

"If there's no one with whom to compete," Kennedy said yesterday, "then I am no candidate."

Kennedy's presence in the race for the presidency at least raises the question of who his non-candidate will be.

Kennedy's campaign in the early days of the campaign was unusual in that he was a Democrat who said he would not be a candidate, but did not do enough to campaign to be one.

Kennedy's campaign was the only one of the candidates for the presidency who did not try to be a candidate.

Kennedy's presence in the race for the presidency at least raises the question of who his non-candidate will be.

Kennedy has said he will not be a candidate, and will not accept a decision to stay out of the race.

"If there's no one with whom to compete," Kennedy said yesterday, "then I am no candidate."

Kennedy's presence in the race for the presidency at least raises the question of who his non-candidate will be.

Kennedy's campaign in the early days of the campaign was unusual in that he was a Democrat who said he would not be a candidate, but did not do enough to campaign to be one.

Kennedy's campaign was the only one of the candidates for the presidency who did not try to be a candidate.

Kennedy's presence in the race for the presidency at least raises the question of who his non-candidate will be.

Kennedy has said he will not be a candidate, and will not accept a decision to stay out of the race.

"If there's no one with whom to compete," Kennedy said yesterday, "then I am no candidate."

Kennedy's presence in the race for the presidency at least raises the question of who his non-candidate will be.

Kennedy's campaign in the early days of the campaign was unusual in that he was a Democrat who said he would not be a candidate, but did not do enough to campaign to be one.

Kennedy's campaign was the only one of the candidates for the presidency who did not try to be a candidate.

Kennedy's presence in the race for the presidency at least raises the question of who his non-candidate will be.

Kennedy has said he will not be a candidate, and will not accept a decision to stay out of the race.

"If there's no one with whom to compete," Kennedy said yesterday, "then I am no candidate."

Kennedy's presence in the race for the presidency at least raises the question of who his non-candidate will be.

Kennedy's campaign in the early days of the campaign was unusual in that he was a Democrat who said he would not be a candidate, but did not do enough to campaign to be one.

Kennedy's campaign was the only one of the candidates for the presidency who did not try to be a candidate.

Kennedy's presence in the race for the presidency at least raises the question of who his non-candidate will be.

Kennedy has said he will not be a candidate, and will not accept a decision to stay out of the race.

"If there's no one with whom to compete," Kennedy said yesterday, "then I am no candidate."

Kennedy's presence in the race for the presidency at least raises the question of who his non-candidate will be.

Kennedy's campaign in the early days of the campaign was unusual in that he was a Democrat who said he would not be a candidate, but did not do enough to campaign to be one.

Kennedy's campaign was the only one of the candidates for the presidency who did not try to be a candidate.

Kennedy's presence in the race for the presidency at least raises the question of who his non-candidate will be.

Kennedy has said he will not be a candidate, and will not accept a decision to stay out of the race.

"If there's no one with whom to compete," Kennedy said yesterday, "then I am no candidate."

Kennedy's presence in the race for the presidency at least raises the question of who his non-candidate will be.

Kennedy's campaign in the early days of the campaign was unusual in that he was a Democrat who said he would not be a candidate, but did not do enough to campaign to be one.

Kennedy's campaign was the only one of the candidates for the presidency who did not try to be a candidate.

Kennedy's presence in the race for the presidency at least raises the question of who his non-candidate will be.

Kennedy has said he will not be a candidate, and will not accept a decision to stay out of the race.

"If there's no one with whom to compete," Kennedy said yesterday, "then I am no candidate."

Kennedy's presence in the race for the presidency at least raises the question of who his non-candidate will be.

Kennedy's campaign in the early days of the campaign was unusual in that he was a Democrat who said he would not be a candidate, but did not do enough to campaign to be one.

Kennedy's campaign was the only one of the candidates for the presidency who did not try to be a candidate.

Kennedy's presence in the race for the presidency at least raises the question of who his non-candidate will be.

Kennedy has said he will not be a candidate, and will not accept a decision to stay out of the race.

"If there's no one with whom to compete," Kennedy said yesterday, "then I am no candidate."

Kennedy's presence in the race for the presidency at least raises the question of who his non-candidate will be.

Kennedy's campaign in the early days of the campaign was unusual in that he was a Democrat who said he would not be a candidate, but did not do enough to campaign to be one.

Kennedy's campaign was the only one of the candidates for the presidency who did not try to be a candidate.

Kennedy's presence in the race for the presidency at least raises the question of who his non-candidate will be.

Kennedy has said he will not be a candidate, and will not accept a decision to stay out of the race.

"If there's no one with whom to compete," Kennedy said yesterday, "then I am no candidate."

Kennedy's presence in the race for the presidency at least raises the question of who his non-candidate will be.

Kennedy's campaign in the early days of the campaign was unusual in that he was a Democrat who said he would not be a candidate, but did not do enough to campaign to be one.

Kennedy's campaign was the only one of the candidates for the presidency who did not try to be a candidate.
I had a chance to talk with the Dean of the University on the subject of the strike. He mentioned that the strike had been on the agenda for some time. I was impressed with his knowledge of the strike, and I thought it was important to hear from the Dean on the matter.

---

CAMPUS NOTES

IUPUI

The IUPUI Board of Visitors will hold its Spring meeting on March 23, 1972, at 3:30 P.M. in the Student Activity Center. The meeting is open to the public.

BANANA TRIP

The Student Activities Board will hold an organizational meeting on Tuesday, April 11, at 3:30 P.M. in the Student Activity Center.

WORKER'S STUDIES

The Student Worker's Alliance will hold a meeting on Wednesday, April 12, at 7:00 P.M. in the Student Union.

TRIVIA BOWL

The Student Union will sponsor a Trivia Bowl on Thursday, April 13, at 7:00 P.M. in the Student Union.

FRIENDS OF OLD TIME MUSIC

The Friends of Old Time Music will sponsor a program on Tuesday, April 18, at 8:00 P.M. in the Student Union.

FIRST AID COURSE

The American Red Cross will offer a First Aid course on Tuesday, April 18, in the Student Union.

---

Graffiti

There was a new graffiti wall in the University on Friday and it was the creation of Mike Evans. It was a large paint job next to the main entrance. The wall was provided as an opportunity for self-expression. He added that the wall is a relief because it is filled with student comments, and he is hoping to see the results of the day with "The King of New York." He also mentioned that Mike Evans is a student and a member of the Department of Fine Arts.

---

Now that you can fly to Europe for peanuts, here's how little you shell out to get around:

$130 for Two Months of unlimited rail travel in Austria, Belgium, Denmark, France, Germany, Holland, Italy, Luxembourg, Norway, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland.

You can fly out $130, and get a Student-Railpass. All you need to do is buy the rail and show you're a bona fide student between 18 and 25.

The Student-Railpass gives you all the unlimited rail travel for the $100.00 rail pass included in those 13 countries and Switzerland. This is a great way for students to see Europe and Student-Railpass you've got Europe made. For more information, call 31-000.

---

STUDENT RAILPASS

The way to see Europe without feeling like a tourist. Explore in style in Austria, Belgium, Denmark, France, Germany, Italy, Luxembourg, Norway, Portugal, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland.

Europeans, $30 in the United States, $30 in Canada, Europe. Please send your free Eurailpass folder with railroad map. For more information, call 31-000.

---

Valentine's Day

Specials

Monday - Tuesday - Wednesday

FEbruary 7, 8 & 9

Two pieces

$1.19 each

One or two pieces

Plain dresses or long & short coats

$2.09 each

---

Dress Shirts

On hangers

4 for 99¢

---

Dress Shirts

Folded

30¢ each

---

Dry Cleaning

Specials

Monday - Tuesday - Wednesday

February 7, 8 & 9

Two pieces

$1.19 each

One or two pieces

Plain dresses or long & short coats

$2.09 each

---

Dress Shirts

On hangers

4 for 99¢

---

Valentine's Day

Specials

Monday - Tuesday - Wednesday

February 7, 8 & 9

Two pieces

$1.19 each

One or two pieces

Plain dresses or long & short coats

$2.09 each

---

Dress Shirts

On hangers

4 for 99¢

---

One Hour Dry Cleaner

Two Locations

15th - Delaware

OPEN 7a.m. - 9p.m.

Marriott Shopping Center

3001 W
BY MARY EISELENSK
For The Daily Iowan
The world premiere of an all-female full circle for novelist and playwright pallet Bourjaily's "Confessions of a Commercial Production," a show that combines elements of the multi-media effects including music and slides.

For more information, call 645-5500.

Bourjaily has a long history of working with women in theater, including in his role as the director of the Toronto Airport and the City of New York. He is known for his work on Broadway and Off-Broadway productions, and has directed a number of successful shows throughout his career. His work often explores themes of gender and identity, and he has been recognized for his contributions to the theater community.

The play contains scenes of explicit sexuality and nudity, and is rated "R" for adult content. It is directed by the director of the Writers Workshop, Ann Carter, and is presented by the University of Iowa's Department of Theater.

For more information, call 319-820-7000.

This week's installment of "In the midst of his New York play--Bourjaily talks about his life" is available from your local FTD Florist. We use only the finest, freshest flowers and personally arrange them in a reusable, washable ceramic container, ensuring the freshest possible arrangement. Our prices are competitive, and we offer a wide variety of flowers and arrangements to suit any occasion. For more information, visit our website at http://www.ftd.com or call 1-800-969-6854.

When you know it's for keeps
You can choose Keepsake with complete confidence, because the flowers are the freshest possible and carry a guaranteed 100% satisfaction guarantee. Keepake Guarantee gives you a one-of-a-kind engagement diamond, perfect for your special occasion. It's the perfect gift for him or her, with a beautiful heart and a bow.

The WAILING WALL
A GENEROUS SELECTION OF FAMOUS LABEL JEAN FLARES - NOVELTY FABRIC, POCO, AND OTHER FABRICS WITH COMPLETE INSTRUCTIONS FOR STITCHING IT ALL OVER YOUR BODY. ORIGINALLY 85.00. NOW 1/3

Theaters in the area are showing the movie, "Baby Blue: Insensetive.

Theater review--"Baby Blue: Insensetive"

Even Dana's current production of Baby Blue is a far cry from the original production of the same name, which premiered in 1937. However, the recent production has a new lease of life, and the audience seems to be enjoying it. The performances are strong, and the set design is top-notch.

The play is about a group of friends who decide to start a new theater company in New York. They are determined to create a show that is different from anything that has come before. The play is full of energy and the actors are talented. The audience is carried away by the performances and the overall production.

In the end, the play is a triumph, and the audience is left feeling satisfied. The actors have done a great job, and the show is a must-see for anyone who loves theater.
The Hawksc play well in frustrating one-point loss

BY RENEW OWENS

Minneapolis—Nick Strehle scored outside the paint for two points, and Minnies persevered to beat the Wolfpack 52-50. The Minnesotas' ball with the Minnesota lead changed hands at the last minute, and the game was narrowed to just three seconds on the clock. The Wolfpack scored with two seconds left, but the shot was ruled a basket and the Wolfpack was down by one point.

The Minnesotas' game plan centered around controlling the offensive and defensive play. The Minnesotas' defense was solid, and they forced the Wolfpack to take a lot of outside shots. The Minnesotas' offense was also effective, as they moved the ball around well and made some key shots.

For the Wolfpack, it was another frustrating loss. They had chances to pull ahead in the game, but they couldn't capitalize on them. The Wolfpack will need to regroup and come back stronger in their next game.

Players blame loss on poor officiating

"Well, we did what we did," said Iowa’s Handi. "We didn’t shoot the ball well, and it was a tough game. We didn’t get the breaks we wanted, but we played hard and didn’t give up. We had some good opportunities, but they didn’t fall."

The Iowa defense relied on the defense of forward Matthew and center Jake. Matthew had 10 rebounds, and Jake had 11, but Iowa couldn’t get the same results on the offensive end.

Matthew attributed the loss to the defense of the Minnesota offense. "We made some mistakes on defense, and we didn’t clamp down enough. They had a good outside game, and we couldn’t stop them from getting open looks."

The Iowa offense struggled to find a rhythm, and they were outscored 52-50 in the game. The Iowa defense did a good job of holding the Minnesota offense to just 50 points, but they couldn’t score enough on the other end.

Despite the loss, the Iowa players were determined to come back stronger in their next game. "We’re not going to let this one get us down," said Handi. "We’ll look at what we did wrong and come back ready to compete."