Give today's weather a well-deserved medal. It isn't exactly raining or snowing or windy, but it is a bit gray and cold, with a strong possibility of inclement weather this afternoon. Tonight, it looks like the sky will clear, and the temperature will rise, making it a perfect time to enjoy a warm cup of coffee or tea.

Services set

Funeral services will be held Friday in Des- moines for a 50-year-old man who was found dead in a house there. The death is still under investigation.

Arm's accord

WASHINGTON A.P. — President Nixon and Wednesday's U.S. Senate endorses on the agreement on the arms reduction pact. The Senate will set a vote on the pact this week.

Schwenkels denies that he was abused mailing right

By RANDY EVANS

Donald L. W. Saturday News Editor

Charges that he has abused his congressional mailing privileges were denied Monday by Rep. Fred Schwenkels, R-Iowa.

A Democratic congressman for Schwenkels' first term, U.S. Rep. Fred Schwenkels denied that he had used his congressional mailing privileges to send mail to constituents. Schwenkel's spokesman, Mark Strope, said that the congressman did not use any congressional mailing privileges to send mail to constituents.

Under the redistricting which eliminates one Iowa congressional district this year, Cedar County becomes part of the second district. Benton and Pocahontas Counties will be part of the first district.

Mostly cloudy

The National Weather Service said that the weather will be mostly cloudy with temperatures in the upper 40s to low 50s.

Urges Stuit to explain position

To the editor:

January 13. The Daily Iowan publishes a letter which appears to express, in part, the editor's feelings toward the position of Dean of Students. The position of Dean of Students is not a person capable of learning, but however, he describes as supporting the pre-judging of the man's values as students of grading success at learning-a situation not only untenable, but also on faith:

I'm beginning to think that Cliftord Ogden's Follow the Leader has lost its non-fiction.

The reasons such actions condemn grading systems, perhaps better than the one by one to be chopped down at the appropriate limes by our enemies with Procrustean extreme disrespect for unfortunate others only earning.

Dear Daily Iowaan:

I am writing the article in Tuesday's Iowa State on the Iowa State University campus, and I am writing at the time of the presidential election. 37 1973.

Try the whole semester. Mr. Jurrens!

To the people:

The election of 1972 hit us hard. President Nixon is a man who has never been defeated, always winning, and he has shown that he can do so even when he is unpopular. The people who voted for him in 1972 did not realize the magnitude of his victory until they saw what he was capable of doing.

House votes to end strike by compulsory arbitration

WASHINGTON, D.C. — In a surprising move, the House passed a bill on Wednesday that would authorize the use of compulsory arbitration to resolve labor disputes, a move that was met with broad opposition from labor leaders.

The bill, which was sponsored by House Speaker Nancy Pelosi, would give federal mediators the power to order striking workers back to their jobs if they fail to reach a settlement with their employers.

Opponents of the bill argued that it would undermine the sovereignty of states and unions to negotiate their own contracts.

But Pelosi said the bill was necessary to ensure that workers are not held hostage by lengthy strikes and that the public is not inconvenienced by labor disputes.

The bill passed 258-171, with Republicans voting against it and some Democrats crossing the aisle to vote against it as well.

"This is a time of economic uncertainty," Pelosi said. "We need to ensure that our workers can go about the business of making a living without fear of being held hostage by a strike."
Photo Service fires 2: More layoffs rumored

BY LEE YOUNG
Daily Iowan Staff Writer

Two employees have been laid off this week at the Iowa City Press-Citizen, according to the president of the Photo Service, as layoffs at the newspaper know no end. Since the newspaper began its layoffs in July, the number of employees has been reduced from 39 to 22. The layoffs are expected to continue until the newspaper is sold.

The employee that was laid off this week, Chris L. Roper, was a photo technician. He was laid off on Wednesday. The other employee that was laid off, Fred M. Smith, was a photo technician as well. He was laid off on Thursday.

The layoffs are expected to continue until the newspaper is sold. The newspaper has been in receivership since July.

Medical conference to discuss current topics

Several local dentists from Iowa and surrounding states are expected to attend a medical conference at the University of Iowa this week.

Dr. Richard M. Caplan, associate dean for continuing medical education, said physicians at the hospitals on campus, including those at the University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics, would beusk.

A meeting of the Iowa Family Practice Club, a group formed by children from the University of Iowa College of Medicine, will be held Wednesday evening. Parents of the club is to give interested family physicians and dentists the opportunity to meet and talk with family practice residents.

Elia Kazan: a variety of interests

NEW YORK (AP) — Even though Elia Kazan died last year, he lives on three or four fronts. Elia Kazan says he is still alive, according to a new play about his life that spent 42 days off-Broadway and is now being produced as a stage production. The play is directed by Elia Kazan, and features a cast that includes a number of well-known actors. Kazan died in 1960 and had been on stage since then.

Kazan was the author of the book about the vito. as he says, in the play that the new production of the play will be based on. Kazan's book, "A Life," was published in 1960 and is considered a classic by many.

"I wanted to say exactly what I feel. I like to say what I feel about things directly, so I will mention some of the things I have been saying in the play. I think the play is a way to express what I feel," Kazan said. "But I don't want to say what I think, just what I feel."

Kazan died in 1960 and had been on stage since then. Kazan is known for his work in films and theater, and has won three Oscars for directing.

"Making films was not an easy way of life. When I was doing them, we were always working and talking about the films."

"I live in an apartment that is inhabited by a lot of people. We are all in the kitchen. We can't eat all of the kitchen at one time."

Kazan's latest film, "Assassins," was published in 1962. It is considered an important film by many.

"I'm excited about the film and I hope it will be successful," Kazan said.

"I'll be working on it the rest of my life, and I'll be thinking about it until the day I die."

More gold for U.S. skaters

Karen Zoeller (above), with a golden medal around her neck, tied for second place in the women's 80-meter short-track skating in 43.73 seconds on her long, fast skate. Despite being fouled by 43.33 seconds for the 31-mile test,西红柿Vedemian was third. Sylvia Skoblikova of Russia at 14.75 seconds seemed certain that the gold medal was hers, but Miss Zoeller's final run was 19.28 seconds behind that they had no choice but to let her win.

The victory came just 24 hours after Dianne Holum won the 500-meter race by 18.81 seconds.

The association, which had no vote on the matter, also makes pressure from the original holders of the ball pop loose and the scramble is on in Tuesday's Iowa-Oshkosh State game.

Mishap kills Angels' Ruiz

SAN DIEGO (AP) - Veteran Roy Campanella, who was making only his third start of the season when he hurt his left arm, was put on the 15-day disabled list after finishing as a pitcher in Friday night's game against the Oakland Athletics.

Campanella, who began the season as a catcher, pinch-hit for John Motreau with a bases-loaded, two-out situation in the ninth inning. He later hit the ball hard, but it was caught by Billie R. at second base.

The left-handed Ruiz was hit by a ball delivered by a left-handed pitcher on the mound and was taken to the hospital.

It's official--home grid opener on Astro-Turf

The Iowa Athletic Department announced late Monday that it was going to try the Astro-Turf grid at Iowa Stadium. The project is expected to get underway sometime in April and be completed early in June.

A preliminary breakthrough of the project was announced last week during engineering classes. $120,000 for the program will be raised by $400 for bond and $120,000 from the bond sale by motorists.

A $100,000 grant from the state legislature will finance the entire program.

The project was reviewed in August, and has been completed early in May.

A $40,000 grant from the state legislature was announced last week to help meet the costs of the project.
