In the News

briefly

Oozyoo

The Daily Iowa Westphreyrson reported out of a weekend Monday night sight: "Spring brings out the eager to polish and paint the houses and yards of the season, as the Westphreyrson received a number of complaints from neighbors who proceeded to trim the shrubbery, dig flower beds, and paint the fences. This year's spring may be a bit later, but many residents are already busy with their outdoor projects.

It takes time

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) - Iowa Legislative leaders and Senate Majority Leader Rob Rentschler's son, Gov. Robert Rentschler, has not been easy about several bills that have been introduced in the legislature this session.

In an executive session Monday, Rentschler said that "the time has come to make a decision on what to do about this legislation."

Rentschler's son, who is a freshman at the University of Iowa, has not yet been introduced in the legislature this session.

Withdrawal

Israel's forces withdrew from southeastern Lebanon Monday after four days of attacks on Arab guerrillas near the border. Rentschler's son, 18, has been reported missing in action in a field hospital near the border. The military said it has not been able to locate the exact site of the battle.

Rentschler's son, who is a senior at the University of Iowa, has been reported missing in action in a field hospital near the border. The military said it has not been able to locate the exact site of the battle.

Johnston reveals role in probes of McCarney

By JOEL HAEFNER

Daily Iowa Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Nixon revealed Monday that he "discovered" an illegal indictment against his own White House counsel, John Dean, in the wiretapping of Dean's former political adversary, James Swoboda.

In a televised address to the nation, Nixon said he "suspected" that White House counsel Charles Colson may have "inadvertently" wiretapped Dean in 1969.

Nixon also revealed that he had reviewed the evidence against Dean and had "concluded" that Colson had "inadvertently" wiretapped Dean in 1969.

He's home

Nixon defends pledge to bring U.S. forces home from Taiwan

By JOEL HAEFNER

Daily Iowa Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Nixon defended his pledge to bring U.S. forces home from Taiwan, saying it was "not a gimmick.

In a televised address to the nation, Nixon said he "discovered" an illegal indictment against his own White House counsel, John Dean, in the wiretapping of Dean's former political adversary, James Swoboda.

In a televised address to the nation, Nixon said he "discovered" an illegal indictment against his own White House counsel, John Dean, in the wiretapping of Dean's former political adversary, James Swoboda.

In the House, Nixon was met with loud applause from both sides of the aisle. The president took a moment to thank the House for its support, and to express his gratitude for working together to bring peace to the region.

Nixon then turned his attention to the Senate, where he was met with mixed reactions. Some senators applauded his efforts, while others expressed concern about his plans.

Nixon concluded his address by saying, "We have never been in a better position to bring peace to the region."

Public bargaining

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) - The Senate Appropriations Committee has presented its budget recommendations to the House of Representatives.

The budget recommendations, approved by a 22-10 vote, are expected to be considered by the House next week.

The Senate committee said it had "worked closely with" the House to develop a budget that would "meet the needs of the state."
Scenic solitude

The University of Iowa student body may soon acquire a designated sanctuary in the form of a few "free speech" rooms, where students may enjoy the constitutional right to freedom of speech. As of now, such rooms exist only on the campus of the University of California at San Francisco. The rooms are the idea of Professor Donald Woolley, assistant professor of psychology in the University's Psychology Department. Woolley and Student Senator Robert A. Frazier, both supporters of student freedom of speech, have asked the administration to set up the rooms.

The campus administration has agreed to make a commitment if the students make a commitment. Woolley said he expects the rooms to be ready by the fall semester.

Woolley pleased but mummosidemoraliss report

University of Iowa students may soon have the opportunity to speak their minds in designated "free speech" rooms. The idea was introduced by Professor Donald Woolley, assistant professor of psychology, who believes that such rooms are necessary to protect the constitutional right to freedom of speech.

Woolley's proposal was well received by the administration, which has agreed to make a commitment if the students also make a commitment. The rooms are expected to be ready by the fall semester.
AUGG seeking more faculty say in 'destiny'
The Thunderbolt

The new wave of race scientists

By ORSONWELLE

Abandoned by Dave Threadall

For hundreds of years the differences between the races has been a topic of academic interest. From Galileo to Grant, the debate has been going on. But it seems that the issue has taken on a new twist. A new wave of race scientists has emerged, challenging the old paradigms. Some of these individuals are black, others are white, but they all have one thing in common: they believe that the differences between the races are not due to genetics, but rather to social and environmental factors.

The wave of race scientists is not concerned with genetics

The wave of race scientists is not concerned with genetics. Instead, they focus on the social and environmental factors that contribute to the differences between the races. They argue that the differences are not genetic, but rather the result of historical and cultural factors that have shaped the experiences of different groups.

The new wave of race scientists is challenging the old paradigm

The new wave of race scientists is challenging the old paradigm that views race as a biological category. They argue that the differences between the races are not fixed, but rather the result of ongoing social and environmental processes. This is a radical shift from the old paradigm, which viewed race as a biological category that was fixed at birth.

The new wave of race scientists is not concerned with genetics

The new wave of race scientists is not concerned with genetics. Instead, they focus on the social and environmental factors that contribute to the differences between the races. They argue that the differences are not genetic, but rather the result of historical and cultural factors that have shaped the experiences of different groups.

The new wave of race scientists is challenging the old paradigm

The new wave of race scientists is challenging the old paradigm that views race as a biological category. They argue that the differences between the races are not fixed, but rather the result of ongoing social and environmental processes. This is a radical shift from the old paradigm, which viewed race as a biological category that was fixed at birth.
Some students at each school are expected to be assigned to Longfellow or Horace Mann schools, located nearer to their school and to have a 23 to 1 student-teacher ratio at each school.

As a realignment goal, Blank hopes to transfer of children from Hoover to Mann. Ms. Seydel proposed two possible solutions. The existing zoning in Longfellow schools who are now transported to Hoover from existing students. Residents of Texas Thursday, an area from which students are now transported to Hoover from west side.

As a solution to the lower student totals and overcrowding should have student enrollment instead of those whose homes are half or more enrollment.

Most people in our society are feeling the effects of an economy which is shrinking. The school system is one of the areas that is feeling the effects of this economic downturn.

According to Engel, the administration has the responsibility to make sure that the students are not affected by the current economic conditions. He explained that the administration is doing its best to ensure that the students continue to receive a quality education.

The school system is facing a financial crisis, and it is important that the community comes together to support the schools. Engel encouraged everyone to support the schools by volunteering, donating, or simply by advocating for the schools.

Engel also emphasized the importance of education for the children. He said that education is the key to a bright future for the students. He also stressed the importance of parental involvement in the education of their children.

Engel concluded by thanking everyone for their support and promising to continue to work hard to ensure that the students receive a quality education.
Is Zippytooth-dah song of south? Disney, Remus and Racism

A generation has passed since Walt Disney's schtick about the South in American movies and now the trajectory of the Mickey Mouse character seems to be that of a successful and respected maverick. N.Y. - (AP) - The Associated Press photographer at the Radio City Music Hall.

It's not enough that the social fabric of this country be ripped apart at the seams by the movie so in no small way helped to create the first time.

We do need to think about all the people on their realities. The issues are red hot. There's a whole new generation of American producers who have taken this issue and made it their own. The country and the world need a hard look. But we also need to consider the window of moving such great strides in the search of fiction in this country will never be achieved if not subjected to a

It was a backhanded attempt to attract still more people to the southern corner.

The Associated Press study of President Nixon's career may be hurling the wisdom of reviving such the South was merely the sin of "Uncle Tomism." Nevertheless, back by inclined to believe the latter. That's a man of Disney's caliber must have been aware of the racism in this country will ts that a man ofDisney's caliber may be hurling "Uncle Tomism." A generation has passed since black culture was an integral racism. There seems to be a great deal of talk about racism these days, and two decades ago it was addressed in a very open way. But at the same time there is a need to be more cautious about racism these days.

There seem to be a great deal of talk about racism these days, and two decades ago it was addressed in a very open way. But at the same time there is a need to be more cautious about racism these days. Nevertheless, back by inclined to believe the latter. That's a man of Disney's caliber may be hurling "Uncle Tomism." A generation has passed since black culture was an integral racism. There seems to be a great deal of talk about racism these days, and two decades ago it was addressed in a very open way. But at the same time there is a need to be more cautious about racism these days.
DAILY IOWAN WANT ADS

PERSONALS

Electronics

- Job
  - 1 (one) position available, handling clerical work. Day.
  - Location: Coralville.
  - Salary: $1,225.

- Auto-Domestic
  - For Sale
    - 1973 Honda Deluxe, 31,300 miles.
    - 1978 CB500/4, 60,000 miles.
    - 4-Door, low mileage. Excellent condition.
  - Location: Coralville.
  - Price: $1,000.

- For Rent
  - Carport
  - 25-word limit
  - Location: Coralville.
  - Price: $20.

- Advertise Your Own
  - T.V. and Radio
  - 30-day one column ad
  - Daily
  - $35.00 per column inch.
  - Night Deadline 3 p.m. Thursday.
The Daily Iowan

SPORTS

Blacks claim intramural ‘racism’

By MIKE JOHNSON

Gophers plan to appeal suspensions

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — The University of Minnesota’s basketball team will appeal to the Big Ten Conference’s Committee on Intramural Sports a decision to limit the number of black players who can participate.

The committee has ruled that there are too many black players on the Minnesota basketball team, which has a black majority.

Second gold medal for U.S. in games

Purdue’s king says: Prof. college recruiting similar

CARL LEVISH, Ind. (AP) — According to estimates, a few hundred black students will be recruited by Purdue University in the next few years, researchers say.

The estimates are based on a recent survey of black students at Purdue.

 vindenburg, Ind. (AP) — Purdue University basketball fans took to the streets in protest Wednesday, demanding the university reverse its decision to limit the number of black players on the team.

The university announced last week that it would limit the number of black players on the team to 15, sparking protests from black students and alumni.

Robinson puts aside managerial ambitions

By MIKE JOHNSON

The move by Purdue to limit the number of black players on its basketball team has sparked a national debate about race and sports.

The university announced last week that it would limit the number of black players on the team to 15, sparking protests from black students and alumni.

The university said it would not make any changes to its policy on race and sports.

See close Big Ten Finish

Keep On Bussin’

Michigan dominates Big Ten games to take title

Campus Shuttle Service

Bradley nips Drake

By MIKE JOHNSON

Chicago-based basketball team, the Black Sox, defeated Bradley University 77-76 in overtime on Monday night.

The Black Sox, who are the dominant team in the Big Ten Conference, got the better of Bradley in the first half, leading 39-26 at halftime.

In the second half, the Black Sox dominated, taking a 14-point lead with 16 minutes to go.

Bradley made a comeback, cutting the lead to three points with 7 minutes to go.

But the Black Sox held on, winning the game 77-76 in overtime.

Where’s the ball go?

By MIKE JOHNSON

J.C. and Company finished their day’s work with a 21-15 victory over Delta Sigma Delta at the First National Bank Field.

The game was close at first, but J.C. and Company used a 16-3 run in the third inning to put the game out of reach.

J.C. scored their first run on a walk by John Johnson in the first inning.

The second run came on a sacrifice fly by David Davis.

The game was held at the First National Bank Field, a new stadium built for the tournament.

J.C. and Company defeated Delta Sigma Delta 21-15 in the University Basketball championship game which was held at the First National Bank Field.

Athletics’ championship means most to Iowa’s Recreation Building

By MIKE JOHNSON

The University of Iowa Recreation Building is the site of the Iowa Athletics’ championship game.

The championship game is held every year, and the winner is determined by the outcome of the game.

In 2002, the University of Iowa Recreation Building hosted the Iowa Athletics’ championship game, which was won by Iowa 66-59.

Athletics’ championship means most to Iowa’s Recreation Building

By MIKE JOHNSON

The University of Iowa Recreation Building is the site of the Iowa Athletics’ championship game.

The championship game is held every year, and the winner is determined by the outcome of the game.

In 2002, the University of Iowa Recreation Building hosted the Iowa Athletics’ championship game, which was won by Iowa 66-59.

Athletics’ championship means most to Iowa’s Recreation Building

By MIKE JOHNSON

The University of Iowa Recreation Building is the site of the Iowa Athletics’ championship game.

The championship game is held every year, and the winner is determined by the outcome of the game.

In 2002, the University of Iowa Recreation Building hosted the Iowa Athletics’ championship game, which was won by Iowa 66-59.

Athletics’ championship means most to Iowa’s Recreation Building

By MIKE JOHNSON

The University of Iowa Recreation Building is the site of the Iowa Athletics’ championship game.

The championship game is held every year, and the winner is determined by the outcome of the game.

In 2002, the University of Iowa Recreation Building hosted the Iowa Athletics’ championship game, which was won by Iowa 66-59.

Athletics’ championship means most to Iowa’s Recreation Building

By MIKE JOHNSON

The University of Iowa Recreation Building is the site of the Iowa Athletics’ championship game.

The championship game is held every year, and the winner is determined by the outcome of the game.

In 2002, the University of Iowa Recreation Building hosted the Iowa Athletics’ championship game, which was won by Iowa 66-59.

Athletics’ championship means most to Iowa’s Recreation Building

By MIKE JOHNSON

The University of Iowa Recreation Building is the site of the Iowa Athletics’ championship game.

The championship game is held every year, and the winner is determined by the outcome of the game.

In 2002, the University of Iowa Recreation Building hosted the Iowa Athletics’ championship game, which was won by Iowa 66-59.

Athletics’ championship means most to Iowa’s Recreation Building

By MIKE JOHNSON

The University of Iowa Recreation Building is the site of the Iowa Athletics’ championship game.

The championship game is held every year, and the winner is determined by the outcome of the game.

In 2002, the University of Iowa Recreation Building hosted the Iowa Athletics’ championship game, which was won by Iowa 66-59.

Athletics’ championship means most to Iowa’s Recreation Building

By MIKE JOHNSON

The University of Iowa Recreation Building is the site of the Iowa Athletics’ championship game.

The championship game is held every year, and the winner is determined by the outcome of the game.

In 2002, the University of Iowa Recreation Building hosted the Iowa Athletics’ championship game, which was won by Iowa 66-59.

Athletics’ championship means most to Iowa’s Recreation Building

By MIKE JOHNSON

The University of Iowa Recreation Building is the site of the Iowa Athletics’ championship game.

The championship game is held every year, and the winner is determined by the outcome of the game.

In 2002, the University of Iowa Recreation Building hosted the Iowa Athletics’ championship game, which was won by Iowa 66-59.