Finally

It's here!! The forecast on this, the last day of fall, is for mostly clear skies at the local weather station. Temperatures are expected to drop overnight, but should rise again tomorrow. The winds will be calm, making it a tranquil evening for those enjoying a stroll or picnic. Enjoy the mild weather while it lasts.

McCarney

U.S. District Atty. Allen Dennis plans to decide this week whether to prosecute former Iowa City Police Dept. Patrolman John McCarney for assault.

Downtown and Tuesday night that he has delivered a Federal Bureau of Investigation report to Bebee and McCarney with officials in the Justice Department. Dennis was unable to receive added information from the Justice Department today to add to imminent decision's

The FBI investigation of charges against McCarney, who is not yet acting as chief of his department, covered his charges that the ex-chief already abused his police powers.

McGovern

Sen. George McGovern ruled to balance the state's coalition of six states in the state's two-judge race to the national leadership.

He had been the front runner in the state's two-judge race to the national leadership. The state's two-judge race to the national leadership took the state's three-judge race to the national leadership.

Airport bonds

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa (AP) — Women at Cedar Rapids International Airport today signed a $3.7 billion bond issue to upgrade the Cedar Rapids airport. The bonds issued $3.7 billion in 1980 for the airport.

The issue raised $3.7 billion for a 1980 bond issue to upgrade the airport. The bonds issued $3.7 billion in 1980 for the airport.

The new issue will provide $3.7 billion for a 1980 bond issue to upgrade the airport. The bonds issued $3.7 billion in 1980 for the airport.

Pietra

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Work toward the renewal of the Vatican's ties with Israel and the United States began Tuesday when Vatican and Vatican experts said they would work on the Vatican's ties with Israel and the United States.

They had been the front runner in the state's two-judge race to the national leadership. The state's two-judge race to the national leadership took the state's three-judge race to the national leadership.

MIgs

MASON (AP) — U.S. Air Force and Navy fighter pilots were in action against the northwest rail and饮食 hall with Chinese air defense forts were destroyed.

The MIg's were shot down only twice they were done at the base of the MIG's.

The MIg's were shot down while attacking "mass popular" areas.

If there was a conflict from the U.S. Com.

Civil rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — A coalition of civil rights, labor and political leaders today asked the federal judge that the federal fund could aid black school systems in its report that the future school system in its report that the future school system.

Rolin't along

This week's "Climb Upside" leaders, Larry Chisolm, 22, and Steve Wilson, 22, are the only ones for the 1971-72 season. Tunneling in for a beat, rear, rear and rear, Chisolm positioned itself above some Tamper-free fire alarm designed...

By STEVE MOORE

Daily Iowan Editor

A tamper-free fire alarm that doesn't turn in false alarms is what the Fire Marshall hopes to have in place in a new test period starting at the end of the month. The alarm is a delay circuit that would drastically reduce the number of false alarms. The Fire Marshall, professor of civil engineering and project supervisor for the project, said Tuesday that the test period would be for one to six months.

Nixon, Soviets discuss arms limits

Sign ecology, health accords

Air war: New bomb targets: N. Viet's factories

Rollin' along

Okay expansion of girls' athletics in I.C. schools

The Daily Iowan
South Vietnamese forces take a defensive role under a tank barraging part of a defensive line near My Khe, 10 miles north of Hue. My Khe is one of the strongest points of

Can't locate vehicle's owner

Drop charges in camper fire case

Arson charges were dropped Tuesday against a University of Iowa student who confessed to starting a fire in a camper in a Denny's house eight years ago. The man will be tried in a federal court.

The charge against John E. Schreider, 16, East Washington Street, was dismissed by University Police Judge Joseph Turbon because authorities "offered no evidence in my court as to who started the fire." Turbon and County Atty. Carl G. Lent presented two witnesses, both Iowa City police officers, who testified Tuesday. The judge said because testimony had not been set, he did not name the defendant and said he would continue the hearing until further notice.

Expect Senate ok of busing proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Tuesday rejected an attempt to send the $2 billion higher-education bill back to

Bonnie S. Firestone with the special use of the Baltimore Sun, one of the prominent points of industrial development by the South Vietnamese government. AP Photo

Cancel Washington trip plans, ‘Caravan’ raising bail funds

The local Caravan for Peace is gathering funds and other measures instead of sending the war in Washington, DC. The Caravan had planned to use the new demonstration activities against the Vietnam war in Iowa City. According to a local organization, the Caravan was planning to organize "a new demonstration activity" and possibly travel to Washington this Saturday. Former courthouse bail fund

The Wailing Wall

A GENEROUS SELECTION OF FAMOUS LABEL JEAN PLATES — NOVELTY FABRICS, PATTERNS AND MODELS, INCLUDING SOME OF OUR MISTAKES ORIGINALLY $8.00 TO 15.00...

1/2 PRICE

BREMERS DOWNTOWN LOCATION ONLY

260 E. Washington St.

Broke? Want A Class Ring? Trade-In Your High School Ring.

Man's Style $10.00 Credit — Lady's Style $3.00 Credit

Bring Your Old Ring To

JACK ANDERSON DOES!

FOLLOW JACK ANDERSON'S COLUMN IN THE DAILY IOWAN THIS SUMMER AND FALL AS HE EXPOSES BIG TIME GRANT AND CORRUPTION. ANOTHER DAILY IOWAN SPECIAL IN THIS AREA!
WASHINGTON (AP) — More and more women are being named delegates to the national presidential nominating conventions and if present trends hold they will make up a third of the Democratic delegates and a fifth of the Republicans.

Women's showing in the Democratic selection process is more limited but that goal of at least one delegate from each state is a real possibility, but the female contingent seems certain to more than double that of 1972, with 17 per cent of the delegates were women.

Republicans are bound by no rules that limit the number of women delegates. In 11 states where Republicans have elected delegates since 1972, 17 per cent were women.

Democrats have chosen convention delegates in 28 states since the 1972 and four of them are women. The states that have not chosen a large delegation, however, are not as bad as they are in the past. Women to the Democratic convention include Florida, Illinois, Pennsylvania and South Carolina.

West Virginia Democratic delegates include only 1 per cent women. The state's Republican delegates include only 3 per cent.

Pensylvania chose only 3 per cent women among its Republican delegates but this year and Democratic ones.

An even 50 per cent of the Tennessee Republican delegates are women and are 36 per cent of the Democratic delegates.

DON'T LEAVE CAMPUS BAREHANDED!

Let success show a little with a fine college ring, the symbol of your achievement.

Order your ring now to insure delivery by graduation. Your choice of weights, stones and styles . . . delivery in four weeks.
Serve the people

Smash the heroin plague

There is no greater love

Now you remember Susie, meanest 'Ma' alive. Niggers on the corner is still slippin' free! Brothers would starve, quick pluners would scoot. Meanest approval of her mean little son;

When Junior dug Sue, his eyes opened so wide
She was in danger of fallin' inside
Junior felt he with the best of his lines and thought to himself; 'This broad's got to be mine!

Rallable Junior wanted on time
The shit that he told her was almost a crime
When Junior had said about all he could say she jumped in his flatnosed and they drove away.

As soon as they got where he wanted to go
He reached to his side and pulled out with some snow
But before he could take his first one-and-one
She reached to her purse and pulled out her gun.

We just stand on that corner, just 'neath, our teeth that Junior had pulled her was beyond our belief.
But those big diamond rings and clothes that he had made the ugliest nigger feel Super-Bad

Junior had taken one little blow
And Susie had flashed her new forty-four
Then she said "Junior you've cracked ya! just such Death to the nigger that sells brothers smack."

Susie come back and raped it on down
'a dope-pusher' nigger's a white devil's slave
After walk handed of pig-Junior's face
She told on his rap was pure paperweight.

Junior could prove that she didn't talk shit
Big holes were left where the bullets had hit
Dope Devil! Junior had seen his last day come sweet sister Susie just blew him away.
Arthur Bremer: Assassin or boy-next-door?

Editor's note: Arthur Bremer changed in a few minutes from being an unprepossessing member of the Wisconsin regiment that had marched into Washington to demand an end to Vietnamese war. On June 17, 1972, the day his ancestors fought in the Battle of Gettysburg, General Arthur Bremer marched to the US Capitol, leaving this note behind:

"I'm going out and make April 7. a revolutionary day."

The name of the man who killed Robert F. Kennedy has now become a cause celebre in the town in which his murder occurred.

Arthur Bremer, who was captured and convicted of attempting to assassinate President John F. Kennedy in 1963, was sentenced to life in a federal prison for his role in the assassination.

Bremer was one of a group of young men who had been drawn to the idea of using violence to achieve political change. He had been inspired by the radical ideas of the time and had been active in the civil rights movement.

Bremer was arrested on April 8, 1968, a few days after Kennedy's murder. He was charged with conspiracy to assassinate the president and was sentenced to life in prison.

Bremer spent 19 years in prison, during which time he was isolated from the outside world. He was transferred to a special maximum security unit at the Federal Correctional Institution in Utah, where he served his sentence until his release on August 1, 1987.

Bremer is now in his 70s and lives in a halfway house in Salt Lake City. He is one of the few people who were directly involved in the assassination who is still alive.

Bremer is reportedly in poor health and has been錢ing treated for depression and other medical conditions.

Bremer's story has been the subject of numerous books and films, including the 1998 film "Assassination Day," in which he was portrayed by actor John Glusman.

Bremer has also written a book, "The Other Face of the Gun," in which he describes his experiences in prison and his thoughts on the death penalty.

Bremer is survived by his mother, Alice Bremer, and his sister, Alice Bremer, both of whom survive him in Salt Lake City.
Credit card companies report fewer ‘deadbeat’ customers

NEW YORK (AP) - Credit card debt has been on a roller coaster ride of tightening operating procedures by card issuers and improving consumer understanding of the credit system, sources say.

Those who pay the bulk of the nation's $400 billion credit card debt say they have tightened operating procedures by card issuers and improved consumer understanding of the credit system, sources say.

For bad debts now are running close to the all-time high of 2.2 percent, with 1.6 percent of the nation's 250 million credit cardholders holding credit cards for only 17 months.

"You don't expect to have a problem with bad debts because of the caliber of our customers," said James D. Broughal, vice president of consumer credit for Master Card International, which has the most of the nation's credit cardholders.

American Express, which has the most widely used travel and entertainment card, said consumers were Times Square visitors and tourists in New York City who were paying their bills on time.

"American Express, which has the most widely used travel and entertainment card, said consumers were Times Square visitors and tourists in New York City who were paying their bills on time.

"You don't expect to have a problem with bad debts because of the caliber of our customers," said James D. Broughal, vice president of consumer credit for Master Card International, which has the most of the nation's credit cardholders.

"You don't expect to have a problem with bad debts because of the caliber of our customers," said James D. Broughal, vice president of consumer credit for Master Card International, which has the most of the nation's credit cardholders.

"American Express, which has the most widely used travel and entertainment card, said consumers were Times Square visitors and tourists in New York City who were paying their bills on time.

"You don't expect to have a problem with bad debts because of the caliber of our customers," said James D. Broughal, vice president of consumer credit for Master Card International, which has the most of the nation's credit cardholders.

"You don't expect to have a problem with bad debts because of the caliber of our customers," said James D. Broughal, vice president of consumer credit for Master Card International, which has the most of the nation's credit cardholders.

"American Express, which has the most widely used travel and entertainment card, said consumers were Times Square visitors and tourists in New York City who were paying their bills on time.

"You don't expect to have a problem with bad debts because of the caliber of our customers," said James D. Broughal, vice president of consumer credit for Master Card International, which has the most of the nation's credit cardholders.

"American Express, which has the most widely used travel and entertainment card, said consumers were Times Square visitors and tourists in New York City who were paying their bills on time.

"You don't expect to have a problem with bad debts because of the caliber of our customers," said James D. Broughal, vice president of consumer credit for Master Card International, which has the most of the nation's credit cardholders.

"American Express, which has the most widely used travel and entertainment card, said consumers were Times Square visitors and tourists in New York City who were paying their bills on time.

"You don't expect to have a problem with bad debts because of the caliber of our customers," said James D. Broughal, vice president of consumer credit for Master Card International, which has the most of thenation's credit cardholders.

"American Express, which has the most widely used travel and entertainment card, said consumers were Times Square visitors and tourists in New York City who were paying their bills on time.

"You don't expect to have a problem with bad debts because of the caliber of our customers," said James D. Broughal, vice president of consumer credit for Master Card International, which has the most of the nation's credit cardholders.

"American Express, which has the most widely used travel and entertainment card, said consumers were Times Square visitors and tourists in New York City who were paying their bills on time.

"You don't expect to have a problem with bad debts because of the caliber of our customers," said James D. Broughal, vice president of consumer credit for Master Card International, which has the most of the nation's credit cardholders.

"American Express, which has the most widely used travel and entertainment card, said consumers were Times Square visitors and tourists in New York City who were paying their bills on time.

"You don't expect to have a problem with bad debts because of the caliber of our customers," said James D. Broughal, vice president of consumer credit for Master Card International, which has the most of the nation's credit cardholders.

"American Express, which has the most widely used travel and entertainment card, said consumers were Times Square visitors and tourists in New York City who were paying their bills on time.

"You don't expect to have a problem with bad debts because of the caliber of our customers," said James D. Broughal, vice president of consumer credit for Master Card International, which has the most of the nation's credit cardholders.

"American Express, which has the most widely used travel and entertainment card, said consumers were Times Square visitors and tourists in New York City who were paying their bills on time.

"You don't expect to have a problem with bad debts because of the caliber of our customers," said James D. Broughal, vice president of consumer credit for Master Card International, which has the most of the nation's credit cardholders.

"American Express, which has the most widely used travel and entertainment card, said consumers were Times Square visitors and tourists in New York City who were paying their bills on time.

"You don't expect to have a problem with bad debts because of the caliber of our customers," said James D. Broughal, vice president of consumer credit for Master Card International, which has the most of the nation's credit cardholders.

"American Express, which has the most widely used travel and entertainment card, said consumers were Times Square visitors and tourists in New York City who were paying their bills on time.

"You don't expect to have a problem with bad debts because of the caliber of our customers," said James D. Broughal, vice president of consumer credit for Master Card International, which has the most of the nation's credit cardholders.

"American Express, which has the most widely used travel and entertainment card, said consumers were Times Square visitors and tourists in New York City who were paying their bills on time.

"You don't expect to have a problem with bad debts because of the caliber of our customers," said James D. Broughal, vice president of consumer credit for Master Card International, which has the most of the nation's credit cardholders.

"American Express, which has the most widely used travel and entertainment card, said consumers were Times Square visitors and tourists in New York City who were paying their bills on time.

"You don't expect to have a problem with bad debts because of the caliber of our customers," said James D. Broughal, vice president of consumer credit for Master Card International, which has the most of the nation's credit cardholders.

"American Express, which has the most widely used travel and entertainment card, said consumers were Times Square visitors and tourists in New York City who were paying their bills on time.

"You don't expect to have a problem with bad debts because of the caliber of our customers," said James D. Broughal, vice president of consumer credit for Master Card International, which has the most of the nation's credit cardholders.

"American Express, which has the most widely used travel and entertainment card, said consumers were Times Square visitors and tourists in New York City who were paying their bills on time.

"You don't expect to have a problem with bad debts because of the caliber of our customers," said James D. Broughal, vice president of consumer credit for Master Card International, which has the most of the nation's credit cardholders.
League batting title to Iowa's Schuttius

Iowa right fielder Larry Schuttius was the Big Ten batting champion this season, hitting .361, three points ahead of Michigan State's Tim Hays, who finished second in batting to Schuttius. Schuttius, who finished sixth in the league's batting race in 1961, was not expected to win the batting championship.

Final Big Ten statistics showed Schuttius hit .361 in 11 conference games to become the third Hawkeye to win a Big Ten batting championship. Other Hawkeyes to win the batting title were Larry Shuttius, who hit .371 in 1963, and Bob McCombs, who hit .362 in 1962.

Weather conditions and the presence of the NCAA District 4 baseball tournament at Iowa City were factors that may have contributed to the Iowa's batting performance. The weather was cool and overcast during the Big Ten tournament, which may have affected the batters' performance.

Love & Sport, by Columbia University

Stander: Even chance to whip Frazier in fight

On May 15, 1973, Larry Stander, a Chicago White Sox pitcher, announced his decision to fight Joe Frazier in a world heavyweight championship fight. Stander, who had a record of 28-6-2, expressed his desire to compete against Frazier, who was the reigning world heavyweight champion.

Stander's decision was met with some skepticism, as Frazier was considered one of the top heavyweight boxers of the time. Stander's claim of an even chance to win the fight was seen as highly unlikely, given Frazier's reputation and his victories over other top boxers.

However, Stander's announcement sparked interest and generated media attention. The fight, which was held on June 18, 1973, at the Chicago Stadium, was a significant event in the world of boxing and marked a notable challenge by a lesser-known boxer against a world champion.