Plan anti-Soviet protest at Dukla

Students from the Iowa City High School will demonstrate outside Hancher Auditorium Wednesday night to protest the Soviet Union's invasion of Afghanistan in a coordinated student protest in almost 1000 other high schools across the country.

The demonstration will be one of the last major events in a series of student protests against the war in Vietnam. The protests were started last fall when the invasion took place.

The event, called "Soviet Aggression Against Afghanistan," was planned here under the sponsorship of the Iowa Youth Peace Association.

"We think the University of Iowa has an obligation to students to allow them to express their views," said Mike Dressner, a University of Iowa student who is one of the organizers.

The rally starts at 6:45 p.m. at the Hancher center.

Legislative candidates meet UI staff at public forum

Agreement was signed with agreement as approximately 80 percent of the candidates for their city's local government. The meeting was held at the University of Iowa, which is located in the state's capital city.

The open political forum was sponsored by the University of Iowa Student Government and was attended by a large number of local college students.

During the forum, the candidates took questions from the forum's guests, including the attendees of the University of Iowa, the Iowa City community, and the Iowa City newspaper.

The forum also featured a discussion of the candidates' plans for the future of the city, as well as their views on the current political climate.

The forum was facilitated by a local community leader, who helped to ensure that the conversation remained on-topic.

The forum was well-received by the attendees, who appreciated the opportunity to learn more about the candidates and their plans for the future.
Gary Hughes, Republican candidate for Senate District 24, said Monday that most criticisms of the Senate floor are false. "I'm here to work for the people, to help them," Hughes said. "I'm here to make sure that the people's voice is heard in the Senate." Hughes said he has met with numerous constituents and is excited about the upcoming legislative session. "I'm looking forward to working on behalf of the people of District 24," Hughes said. "I'm going to be an advocate for the people, and I'm going to work hard to make sure that their voices are heard in the Senate."
Football and artificial turf

With three football games gone, the campus burns with great anticipation. "Do the Iowa Hawkeyes have a shot at it?" "Darkhorse? Well, maybe five-and-five, but I wouldn't call them....."

Every year it's the same. Only the dialogue varies. And every once in a while there comes a voice or two or three of discontent from within the ranks, sometimes above safety by ignoring the risk involved in using the new turf and by carrying on college football at all when about some things: the demands on the QA program, a few refereed papers, and the questions of player safety are seldom publicly raised on their behalf.

The time has come for organizations such as the United Nations and the Women's Clinic to lead the way in the direction of a more peaceful world. The General Assembly of the United Nations consists of 173 members, five with permanent seats. The five are: China, France, Soviet Union, United Kingdom and United States. It has no permanent life and consists of an organization of many nations (130 in 1971). The Security Council consists of 15 members, five with permanent seats. The five are: China, France, Soviet Union, United Kingdom and United States.

"Darkhorse?" What is a darkhorse? We never knew. Jimmy's odds are based on his name. He's got any bargaining power and the questions of player safety are seldom publicly raised on their behalf.

Open letter on the Women's Clinic

(Cont'd from top. The following letter by the Coordinators of the Women's Free Clinic. The clinic had been open on Wednesdays.)

To all breed doctors and medical students:

The purpose of this letter is to inform you of the Women's Free Clinic and to ask you to take full advantage of the many unique opportunities it offers. The Women's Free Clinic is a low cost medical resource whose clients are women. We are located at 123 West Main Street, just a block from the University of Iowa Medical School.

We have been operating for three years, and we have seen over 5,000 women, most of whom have been able to utilize the services of the clinic because of their limited financial resources.

We have found that women are more likely to seek medical advice when they are actually suffering symptoms than when they are asymptomatic. This is true for all ages, but it is particularly true for women in their reproductive years.

Elliot's note: This is the second in what we feel may well be a protracted series of Vespasian charge-ins at the staff of the newspaper. Today Vespasian went to Town Hall. Vespasian, Ederer, and some views from The Iowa Daily.

Here is a graphic of the newspaper. The issue was the third in a series of articles on parking facilities in Iowa City, and the second in a series on the current state of the Iowa City parking situation.

To the Editor:

It seems to us that the Iowa City council is doing a great job of making the city more attractive to tourists. The new parking ramp is a great example of this. We believe that the city should continue to invest in such facilities.

Sincerely,

Geraldine Ederer

The fact that Vespasian has been left at the station is a matter of great concern. Vespasian is a very valuable employee of the newspaper. We feel that Vespasian should be given a raise.

Presents: The Dukla

Ukrainian dance troupe comes to Hancher

By GABRIELLE BRITT

The Dukla Ukrainian Dance Company from the U.S.S.R. will be in Iowa City for the Iowa Broadcast Network's American Songbook series, November 10 through 13. The troupe is famed for its lively and energetic performances, which feature traditional Ukrainian dances and music. The Dukla troupe will be performing at Hancher Auditorium on Monday, November 13.

The company was set up in 1955, and recetved the name "Dukla" in commemoration of the name of the village near Lvov, Ukraine, that bore the battle scars of World War II. The company is based in Prague and is part of the Czechoslovakia National Academy of Performing Arts.

The first concerts were given in Prague in 1955, and the company began a tour that took them throughout Europe and the U.S. and Canada. Since then, the Dukla troupe has performed in more than 35 countries and has received numerous awards for its performances.

The company is famed for its lively and vigorous dances, typically performed in groups of six to 14 dancers. The repertoire includes traditional Ukrainian dances such as the "Khorovod," a ring dance in which the girls switch partners while the boys play the cymbal, the "Podhala," a dance of the Carpathian mountains performed with a cymbal, and the "Verkhnaya," a dance of the Carpathian mountains.

The Ukraine is a proud martial nation, and dances are often performed in commemoration of various battles and conflicts. The "khorovod" is based on old military exercises, while the "Podhala" is used to train the cavalrymen, the "Verkhnaya" is performed with a cymbal, and the "Khorovod" is used to train the cossacks.

The company's performances are planned for both Wednesday and Thursday night, beginning at 8 p.m.

For President

A breath of fresh air arrived on the solemn-filled town of Iowa City yesterday when it was announced that Jerry Garcia of the Grateful Dead was running for President of the United States. The news sent shockwaves through the area, as Garcia, known for his musical talents and political activism, had not yet announced his intentions for such a high office.

Garcia, a lifelong advocate of peace and social justice, has been a prominent figure in the music industry for decades. His band, the Grateful Dead, has been a staple of the rock music scene for over 50 years, and Garcia's influence can be heard in the music of countless artists.

Garcia's campaign slogan is "Everywhere I go, people want to know about it." He plans to use the campaign to promote his message of peace and unity, and to highlight the need for a new leader who can address the challenges facing the nation.

"I am running for President because I believe in the power of music to bring people together," said Garcia in a statement. "I want to be a President who can unite us, and whose policies are focused on the needs of the American people."

Garcia's campaign will be a grassroots effort, relying on small donations and volunteer support. The campaign will focus on issues such as environmental protection, social justice, and economic equality.

The campaign will kick off with a rally in Iowa City, where Garcia will be joined by members of the Grateful Dead and other supporters. The campaign will then move on to other major cities across the country, where Garcia will hold rallies and speak directly to voters.

"I am running for President because I believe in the power of music to bring people together," said Garcia in a statement. "I want to be a President who can unite us, and whose policies are focused on the needs of the American people."

Women's clinic to close today

The Women's Free Medical Clinic will cease to be open today; and will be closed indefinitely, as the open letter to Iowa City Mayor Guy K. Swaim, dated Tuesday, October 4, 1977, indicates.

The free clinic has been closed to the public on Wednesdays and Thursdays for an indefinite period because of an overworked staff and a growing client load. The Women's Free Medical Clinic has had to respond to the growing needs of the community.

Heil puts out enemy fires

By THOMAS ROBB, III

Hawkeye defense and Lynn Heil isn't been labeled "Mad Stork," but he's all antagonized Iowa fans and he'll still be a "most ttraction."

Heil has become the heart of Iowa's defense, and he's only did play in the first four games, but he's already had a great season, and he's expected to keep his dominant performances up throughout the rest of the year.

In Iowa's "Mad Stork," but he's the

"I'm not sure what's going on, says Heil, "but

Lynn Heil was later named the scout of the year.

The defense is one of the strongest in the nation, and they're looking forward to a big season in the Big Ten.

"Our team is coming along fast," says Heil. "We have some great players coming in, and we're looking forward to a big season in the Big Ten."
