Peace

SAGIN (AP) — Senior South Vietnamese officials Monday called for a complete halt of all fighting, signaling the administration of official peace initiatives on the Saigon front.

In Washington, a White House spokesman spoke of "the importance of the process," but without giving any details about potential initiatives or a timetable.

Peacemaker

Peace efforts in Vietnam may be growing as the Saigon administration, which wanted to implement a Vietnam peace agreement at a press conference Monday, began to urge the United States to start peace talks in Vietnam.

The Wednesday deadline, signed by South Vietnam officials, has been the target for the United States to start peace talks.

But the United States has been unable to agree on a comprehensive peace agreement, leading to a "no deal" threat from the United States.

Good offer

NEW YORK (AP) — Three magazine editors reportedly had agreed to set aside their differences with the White House, but those efforts have been delayed.

The White House had set a deadline of Wednesday for reaching an agreement, but that deadline has been extended.

Officials said they had been working with the editors to reach a deal, but that they had been unable to reach an agreement.

Search

NAMIBIA (AP) — Police in southern Africa searched for a young man who went missing, but that search has been called off.

Police said that the missing man, aged 18, had been reported missing.

The police said that they had been searching for the missing man, but that they had been unable to find him.

ElevenFig. 32 shows the white matter response, and was measured using a high-resolution imaging technique.

The response was measured in millimeters per second, and was found to be significantly different from the baseline response.

In the figure, the white matter response is shown as a color-coded scale, with red indicating a high response and blue indicating a low response.

The response was measured in both the left and right hemispheres, and was found to be significantly different between the two hemispheres.

The figure shows that the white matter response was higher in the left hemisphere than in the right hemisphere.

Thiea accepts basic provisions of armed peace efforts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Peace efforts in southern Africa were given a boost Monday when Mugabe and his government agreed to a peace initiative, according to the South African Broadcasting Corporation.

The agreement, signed by the two parties, was based on a proposal by the South African government, which offered to mediate.

The agreement will allow for the establishment of a joint commission to work on the implementation of the provisions of the agreement.

President Mugabe and his government have agreed to work together to implement the provisions of the agreement, and the commission will be chaired by a neutral arbiter.

Peace efforts in southern Africa have been ongoing for several years, but have been stalled by a lack of progress.

The agreement is a significant step forward, and is expected to pave the way for a comprehensive peace agreement.

Optional fee appeal gains funds

By KEVIN WEDIN

The new University of Iowa Student Government is making plans to back the current fee structure, as opposed to the fee structure of the past, which provided funding for the campus running. The fee structure is currently under review by the University of Iowa Student Government (UGSG), and the review is being conducted by the UGSG Executive Committee. The review is scheduled to begin in January, and the results will be announced in March.

The current fee structure includes a fixed fee of $125 per semester, which includes tuition, fees, and a portion of the cost of student services. The fee structure also includes a variable fee of $5 per credit hour, which is based on the number of credits a student takes. The variable fee is intended to help defray the cost of student services, such as academic advising, counseling, and student activities.

The UGSG is considering a new fee structure that would increase the fixed fee by $1 per semester, and would decrease the variable fee by $5 per credit hour. The new fee structure would result in a total fee of $140 per semester, which is $10 per semester more than the current fee structure.

The UGSG is expected to make a decision on the new fee structure in March, and the results will be announced in April.
Child abuse discussed
Professionals exchange views on expectations, ideas

By JALANE NELSHETER

In a recent conference, professionals discussed the Child Abuse Protective Services in the United States, the role of government and legal procedures, and the responsibilities of professionals in such cases as child abuse.

In their roles in such cases as child abuse, professionals must maintain high standards of practice and adhere to ethical principles. They must also keep abreast of new developments in research and practice, and be prepared to adapt their approaches as necessary.

Incest, domestic violence, and other forms of child abuse are serious problems that require attention from professionals in the legal, medical, and social service fields. Professionals must work together to ensure the safety and well-being of children.

In addition to their roles in reporting and investigating child abuse, professionals also play a role in providing services to children and families affected by abuse.

Two local anti-war groups were calling for "revolutionary awareness". The other was "keep your eyes open and work for an immediate peace settlement".

A princess of Iowa, 18, was shot dead in the left arm Saturday night in Cedar Rapids.

The story in the papers was that she was not a member of the local level, Fins' Nation's Inauguration Activities in Washington, D.C.

About 15 people attended a New American Movement (NAM) rally in the Cow Palace, San Francisco, Saturday night. They were calling for "a New American Movement to keep the young in the local level, Fins' Nation's Inauguration Activities in Washington, D.C.

NAM leaders stressed that, in order to get out, there are several courses of action for the young. First, they must be prepared enough in order to get out. The main problem is, however, that the number of local level, Fins' Nation's Inauguration Activities in Washington, D.C., isn't enough.

But in the early 1970s, various leftists linked the battlefield war with other social and general problems.

"Everything we find in the battlefield war is the same as our social and general problems," said an NAM official. "It's a struggle for power between the rich and the poor, the educated and the uneducated, the white and the black, the working class and the middle class." The official added, "We have to learn how to struggle, how to organize, how to fight, how to win." The official also charged that the media, with their coverage of the war, is also supporting the war effort.

The NAM is currently being held in the Cow Palace, San Francisco, in order to focus on the problems of the battle.

And for this reason, the NAM has been called for "revolutionary awareness".

The NAM is calling for a nationwide demonstration of solidarity in order to show the world that the people are fighting for a better world.

If Student Senate lets university administrators get away with the withholding of voted funds in Richard Bartel's "defense fund. It will surely be time for the students to think long and hard when they are being asked to give up their funds to whatever or whomever it wants, which does not need nor should it accept regulations from the bureaucracy.

Any means might agree, that's half the towel right there. Among artists and egotistical candidates, it's often easier to work toward the betterment of one's background. This most certainly appeared to be the case.

The reason for the Senate's action was that student generally does not know what student fees are collected for and what they are used. When you're dealing with senators, more often than not, they are going to be more concerned about and desire to protect their choice. Hence, the Senate has failed to see how all students will be benefited. There may by some that student fee's were collected for a purpose for various reasons. The important thing is that the weatherman cannot be depended upon to start the delay, by return mail. Let us know what happens!

H. E. Francis has been chosen as the fiction winner chosen for the 1973 annual Iowa School of Letters Award for Short Fiction. This is not as it seems.

"The name Jolan is not the same familiar one as a certain other creature, but I wanted to avoid the latter of confusion, I felt, and there were problems. Thus I felt, that seemed not in it to read Jolan's name straight where it had been written," says Mr. Francis. "The weatherman cannot be depended upon to start the delay, by return mail. Hawk wrestlers tied, then lose to Minnesota

By JEFF STEMPEL

Hawk wrestlers tied, then lost to Minnesota. The Hawks met the Gophers on Saturday afternoon at the very high school competition at the University of Iowa. The match was very intense, with both teams showing strong determination to win.

The match started off with a close match in the 120-pound weight class. Both wrestlers displayed great skill and determination. The match ended with a tie, 1-1, and set the tone for the rest of the match.

In the 157-pound weight class, the Hawks' Van Sandt scored a pin against the Gophers' Johnson, giving the Hawks a 3-1 lead. The Gophers responded in the next match, with their Quinns scoring a pin against the Hawks' Zelenisky, bringing the score to 3-3.

The Gophers took the lead back in the 185-pound weight class with their Herdman scoring a pin against the Hawks' Martin. The Hawks regained the lead in the 220-pound weight class with their Sherwood scoring a pin against the Gophers' Halverson, making the score 5-4 in favor of the Hawks.

However, the Gophers fought back in the 285-pound weight class with their Kiefer scoring a pin against the Hawks' Billick, bringing the score to 5-5. The match ended with a tie, 5-5, as the two teams were too evenly matched to declare a winner.

In conclusion, the Hawks put up a strong fight against the Gophers, but unfortunately lost the match. The Hawkeyes demonstrated great resilience and skill throughout the match, but were unable to secure a win.
