By NANCY STEVENS
Executive Editor

The Iowa City Council
voted Tuesday night to pass a revised noise ordinance which would make
loud noise in the neighborhoods of the University Campus, central Iowa City
and the University s
front campus area illegal.

The ordinance, which followed a workshop meeting the night before,
would make any loud noise
which disturbs the peace
illegally.

The new noise ordinance
would take effect April 1.

House and Senate

At the council's formal
meeting Tuesday morning,
the council members
heard about a bill from Senator George Nolte,
which would set maximum
noise levels for automobiles
and trucks. The bill would set maximum noise levels
at 65 decibels, the
maximum noise levels for
automobiles and trucks.

The bill would also establish a procedure for enforcing the ordinance.

The council members voted
to approve the ordinance,
which would go into effect
April 1.

ton, D.C., a former advisor to President Lyndon B. Johnson,

accept the government's statement that American prisoners of war in Vietnam

being treated humanely is a statement released

by his office.

Democratic Party, said he was

Local abortion studied to prepare for Iowa law

By MARY WALLRAGH

Members of the Abortion Counseling Service, located in the Women's Health Center in Des Moines, are preparing for the possible enactment of Iowa's new abortion law. They are studying the consequences of such a law to help in determining the best possible response the service can make to such a situation.

Service has been operating for only a year and is expected to face its first test next month when the law is to be enforced. The law requires that any clinic attempting to perform an abortion be able to carry on a program of counseling for prospective patients. Under the new law the normal counseling period is extended from three to six months.

The service, which is run by the Planned Parenthood of the Midwest, is one of the few in the country that has been open for a year. It has operated in Milwaukee and Chicago.

The new law also requires that any clinic attempting to perform an abortion have a registered physician or dentist available within 20 miles to advise the patient if the abortion is unsuccessful. The service has been in contact with other clinics around the country to determine their reactions to such a law.

"We have had a lot of contacts and energy, and that will continue," Dr. Charles Donohue, director of the service, said. "We will be able to help other clinics in the Midwest and beyond."

Mass transit or 'hot rod Lincoln'

People want to use the limited use of private cars as long as it isn’t their car being limited.

The Opinion Research Corporation (according to Editorial Research Reports) found that 97 per cent of the motorists wanted legal and public support to limit the use of private cars and 42 per cent preferred driving to public transportation to solve a great deal of the city traffic.

Among the college-educated it was 75 per cent. However only 56 per cent would use the tax system that limited the use of their own cars, and 42 per cent preferred driving to public transportation to solve a great deal of the city traffic.

People want to cut down on traffic congestion and air pollution more than to increase the number of traffic lanes.

A transportation concept that has shown promise is in the small cities of the U.S., such as Caracas, U.S.A., a minus picks customers up at their door for less than what it costs to use a taxi. Many systems operate in St. Paul, Minn., Ariz., Minn., Tallahassee, Florida, and Manchester, N.H., according to Nation’s Cities.

Freeways are popular with everybody, and the Department of Transportation has studied free public transportation.

The cost of free service along with the necessary transit improvements which authorities feel are essential costs in the absence of private cars would probably cost more. (Caminus seems to manage in Iowa City.)

Proposers of no-fare improved mass transit believe it would have an even better effect than freeways. The United Automobile Workers of America are in the city of Al Capone.

"For the most part, it seems to me, we need to set the times for final exams under the best circumstances and have them at approximately that time for final exam time."

"In Batavia, N.Y., Ann Arbor, Mich., Tallahassee, Fla., and others according to Nation’s Cities, April 1972."

Businessmen don’t want to cut down on traffic congestion and air pollution according to Nation’s Cities.

In Europe, no-fare mass transit has not always been successful. In Paris, traffic congestion and air pollution have increased according to Nation’s Cities.

In the early morning to be tested at approximately that time for final exam time."

"I am sure that with some must must be in Washington could work miracles."

"A letter from former congressman, the White House authorizations to give the spokeswoman to the list of people."

Factory's product lies?

Every single time I walk downtown Yeezy, I pass the "Factory Furniture Co." I've been doing it for more than 30 years. The Factory Furniture Co. is what I call it, and I'm pretty sure it's what the workers call it too. They tend to call people who are too busy or eccentric to fabricate their own furniture. The Factory Furniture Co. is a for-profit operation for the people who find themselves in a steady situation. –R.L.

Pressure cooker gasket

In 1963 I bought a "Pressure Seal" pressure cooker pot. I need a gasket for the lid, part number 1013, and I can't find any stores that carry the replacement gasket. I've seen the gasket at Reynolds Metals Co. and the West Bend Co. in my research. Neither company was of much help. I've been trying both the Reynolds Metals Co. for some time now, but they refuse to help me. They've been closed now for two months. We only accept members who are currently enrolled in a University or a high school. We've only been closed for the past two months. –J.C.

The pressure cooker gasket is a metal piece that is fitted around the edge of the lid to create a seal. It is necessary for the cooker to function properly and to prevent steam from escaping during cooking. If the gasket is damaged or missing, the cooker will not seal properly and may be dangerous. –J.C.
