DEB WINTERSTEIN (AP) — Gov. Robert Ray signed three Today's Iowa, including one that would prevent mandatory retirement at the age of 70 for police and firefighters.

The bill signed Tuesday also requires state agencies to protect the privacy and security of personal information collected.

Ray has said he would sign any bill that would make it illegal to discriminate against older workers.

His signature on the bill Tuesday brought the number of state laws against age discrimination to 11.

The legislation was sponsored by state Sens. Mary Landers and Scherbrock.

Lindsay

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor John V. Lindsay will step down at the end of 1973 in order to make way for the selection of a new mayor, the mayor announced Tuesday.

In a letter to the mayor, Lindsay said Tuesday he would seek to have the city's Democratic delegation support his selection of a new mayor.

The mayor's statement came as an answer to the question of his political future.

The mayor said he would be available to serve as an aide to the incoming mayor and would cooperate with the mayor's transition efforts.

Eighty more prisoners of war arrived back to the United States Wednesday, the first step in the process to bring them home by March.

The prisoners, who were held by the Vietnamese government, were flown to the United States in a series of flights.

They will be processed and housed at the base in Montgomery, Ala., and then flown to the United States.

This is the 4th flight of prisoners since the United States began its withdrawal from Vietnam in 1968.

Regents

CEDAR FALLS (AP) — The board of regents today approved a contract for the construction of a new $10 million library at the University of Iowa.

The contract, which was awarded to a local firm, will provide for the construction of a 5-story library to be located on the east side of the university campus.

The library will be used for research, study, and other academic purposes.

The regents also approved a contract for the construction of a new $10 million library at the University of Iowa.

Dorm bike storage complaint

Last semester I was living in a University Residence Hall (Herz Hall). At the end of the semester I got a standard letter to get out. I am now living off-campus. Since I live fairly far from campus, I do not have a car. I have been waiting for the bus to come and take out. Since the bus runs at fairly limited hours, I have liked to get my bike home which I stored back at the dorm when I was living there. I just called the dorm office and was told that they don't give you your bike back until after spring break. I was very upset about this. I have never seen anyone get their bike back before and I felt that there is no legal

The dorm office has stored my bike for the past three months. I have tried for over a year, without success, to contact the dorm office about my bike and they have never given me any information. The only reason I have been able to retrieve my bike is by calling the dorm office and paying a $5 fee. This is a ridiculous situation and I feel that the dorm office should be held accountable for the way they handle dorm bike storage.

The dorm office has been unresponsive to my concerns and has not provided me with any information about my bike. I have tried to contact the dorm office several times, but they have never responded. I feel that the dorm office should be held accountable for the way they handle dorm bike storage.

Oscar nomination doesn't "blaxploit"

Sander has nominated "be a jugband in the new style for "Blaxploit". It's a movie that starts to show the relationship between black and white. The relationship between black and white is shown through a series of events that occur throughout the film. The events include the murder of a black man, the trial of the white man who committed the murder, and the subsequent riots that ensue. The film uses music as a way to convey the emotions of the characters and to illustrate the social issues at play. The music features the use of traditional African instruments, as well as jazz and blues influences. The film also features the use of visual imagery to convey the emotional undercurrents of the story. The film's director is a talented musician and filmmaker who has a unique perspective on the issues at hand. The film is a powerful commentary on the state of race relations in the United States, and it is a must-see for anyone interested in understanding the complexities of race and identity.

The redshirting rule will go into effect immediately, and the conference plans to implement it in the 1989 season.
Bob Addie of George Fox will make his first defense of the title in Baltimore. It's part of a new trend at the conference this year to try to keep the area's top players in town as long as possible.

In California, Larry North and a colleague at Pepperdine University will attend the final round of the NCAA National Collegiate Indoor Track Championships. Receiving much more press attention than Larry will be the efforts of a team from Michigan State. The team will compete for its 11th straight outdoor title.

The sports report was written by Bob Addie of George Fox. The team from Michigan State was also drafted into the NFH New York York, and will play for a chance to advance to the next round.

"We're prepared to meet any necessary requirements," he said. "We'll support Van Pelt as a regular player."

Frank Frazier...

Van Pelt is a regular player.

For Frank Frazier...

The University of Colorado in Boulder is reported to have sent a National Collegiate Men's Track team to the United States. The team will compete in the 114-game NCAA tournament in Tuscaloosa, Ala. in May. The team is known for its fast-paced running and its ability to win close races.

John Brase...

The selection of the team was announced by the NCAA in late March. The team is a favorite to win the national championship.

The team's coach, Walt Walseth, said, "We're ready to face the challenge of the best teams in the country."

The classy forward was named to all-state, all-conference and All-Missouri Valley teams. He averaged 31.6 points and 10.5 rebounds during three years at Washington, which he entered as a junior college transfer. He averaged 16.7 points and 9.7 rebounds his senior season.

"It was a great decision," Slebos said. "Kevin made the second team when he's whipped and the third team when he's a little bit better. Kevin's just a great all-around guy."

Kevin's prep days were at West High School. Now the 6-7, 205-pounder is the Hawkeye head trainer.

Where’s the ivy?

Like it or not the face of the university campus is changing. Aside from the students, the buildings no longer rest on huge pillars with names of such great men as Plato carved into their stone.

Buildings have taken a new look. Huge masses of concrete, sharp angles and hard sterile lines with an aesthetic appeal all their own.

Every angle offers a different perspective. The photos show some of the new structures around campus—can you recognize them?
