Phase IV freezes UI tuition

Freeze effects still unclear

City employees may form union in the news briefly

Unsanitary

Ozark

Shower
New health system proposed

The basic outlines of the proposed health care system were released last week. The system is designed to provide comprehensive health care to all Americans. The center should be run by a board of health professionals, and the staff should be comprised of doctors, nurses, and other medical personnel. The center will be responsible for overseeing the health care services available in the area.

The next level in the system is the regional health centers. These centers should be located in major population centers and should provide primary care services, as well as limited specialty care. The regional health centers will be responsible for providing comprehensive health care to the people in the area.

Implementing a state-wide health system is a slow process, said MacPherson. "We have had a series of meetings with each of the health care providers in the state. These meetings have been successful and I am confident that we will have a state-wide health system in place by the end of the year."
Douglas validity

Unions question salary survey

BY LEWIS O'BRIEN

Labor unions representing nearly 45,000 of all of Iowa's non-academic employees are now questioning the validity of a salary survey

The survey was conducted to determine whether the salary levels of non-academic employees in each state University's respective local community.

In the study, 120 local employees were surveyed, the individual salaries of these employees are not available because the unions conducted a survey of comparable salaries in their respective communities.

Although the aggregates figures were not available because they were segregated rather than released in the original study, the unions say it is clear that the figures are not representative of comparable compensations in the local community.

"We don't think what they have done," said APIECF (State Teachers) President Edv. "It's probably the wrong study that was conducted, but if the study is open and public, I don't know why they wouldn't let us see it,"

Denny said APIECF wants to know the number of employees surveyed in the craft areas, and exactly how many employees steps in the pay grade system they earn.

This is important because it determines minimum and maximum salaries.

The survey was conducted to determine whether the salary levels of non-academic employees in each state University's respective local community.

In the study, 120 local employees were surveyed, the individual salaries of these employees are not available because they were segregated rather than released in the original study, the unions say it is clear that the figures are not representative of comparable compensations in the local community.

"We don't think what they have done," said APIECF (State Teachers) President Edv. "It's probably the wrong study that was conducted, but if the study is open and public, I don't know why they wouldn't let us see it,"

Denny said APIECF wants to know the number of employees surveyed in the craft areas, and exactly how many employees steps in the pay grade system they earn.

This is important because it determines minimum and maximum salaries.

The survey was conducted to determine whether the salary levels of non-academic employees in each state University's respective local community.

In the study, 120 local employees were surveyed, the individual salaries of these employees are not available because they were segregated rather than released in the original study, the unions say it is clear that the figures are not representative of comparable compensations in the local community.

"We don't think what they have done," said APIECF (State Teachers) President Edv. "It's probably the wrong study that was conducted, but if the study is open and public, I don't know why they wouldn't let us see it,"

Denny said APIECF wants to know the number of employees surveyed in the craft areas, and exactly how many employees steps in the pay grade system they earn.

This is important because it determines minimum and maximum salaries.

The survey was conducted to determine whether the salary levels of non-academic employees in each state University's respective local community.

In the study, 120 local employees were surveyed, the individual salaries of these employees are not available because they were segregated rather than released in the original study, the unions say it is clear that the figures are not representative of comparable compensations in the local community.

"We don't think what they have done," said APIECF (State Teachers) President Edv. "It's probably the wrong study that was conducted, but if the study is open and public, I don't know why they wouldn't let us see it,"

Denny said APIECF wants to know the number of employees surveyed in the craft areas, and exactly how many employees steps in the pay grade system they earn.

This is important because it determines minimum and maximum salaries.

The survey was conducted to determine whether the salary levels of non-academic employees in each state University's respective local community.

In the study, 120 local employees were surveyed, the individual salaries of these employees are not available because they were segregated rather than released in the original study, the unions say it is clear that the figures are not representative of comparable compensations in the local community.

"We don't think what they have done," said APIECF (State Teachers) President Edv. "It's probably the wrong study that was conducted, but if the study is open and public, I don't know why they wouldn't let us see it,"

Denny said APIECF wants to know the number of employees surveyed in the craft areas, and exactly how many employees steps in the pay grade system they earn.

This is important because it determines minimum and maximum salaries.

The survey was conducted to determine whether the salary levels of non-academic employees in each state University's respective local community.

In the study, 120 local employees were surveyed, the individual salaries of these employees are not available because they were segregated rather than released in the original study, the unions say it is clear that the figures are not representative of comparable compensations in the local community.

"We don't think what they have done," said APIECF (State Teachers) President Edv. "It's probably the wrong study that was conducted, but if the study is open and public, I don't know why they wouldn't let us see it,"

Denny said APIECF wants to know the number of employees surveyed in the craft areas, and exactly how many employees steps in the pay grade system they earn.

This is important because it determines minimum and maximum salaries.

The survey was conducted to determine whether the salary levels of non-academic employees in each state University's respective local community.

In the study, 120 local employees were surveyed, the individual salaries of these employees are not available because they were segregated rather than released in the original study, the unions say it is clear that the figures are not representative of comparable compensations in the local community.

"We don't think what they have done," said APIECF (State Teachers) President Edv. "It's probably the wrong study that was conducted, but if the study is open and public, I don't know why they wouldn't let us see it,"

Denny said APIECF wants to know the number of employees surveyed in the craft areas, and exactly how many employees steps in the pay grade system they earn.

This is important because it determines minimum and maximum salaries.

The survey was conducted to determine whether the salary levels of non-academic employees in each state University's respective local community.

In the study, 120 local employees were surveyed, the individual salaries of these employees are not available because they were segregated rather than released in the original study, the unions say it is clear that the figures are not representative of comparable compensations in the local community.

"We don't think what they have done," said APIECF (State Teachers) President Edv. "It's probably the wrong study that was conducted, but if the study is open and public, I don't know why they wouldn't let us see it,"

Denny said APIECF wants to know the number of employees surveyed in the craft areas, and exactly how many employees steps in the pay grade system they earn.

This is important because it determines minimum and maximum salaries.

The survey was conducted to determine whether the salary levels of non-academic employees in each state University's respective local community.

In the study, 120 local employees were surveyed, the individual salaries of these employees are not available because they were segregated rather than released in the original study, the unions say it is clear that the figures are not representative of comparable compensations in the local community.

"We don't think what they have done," said APIECF (State Teachers) President Edv. "It's probably the wrong study that was conducted, but if the study is open and public, I don't know why they wouldn't let us see it,"

Denny said APIECF wants to know the number of employees surveyed in the craft areas, and exactly how many employees steps in the pay grade system they earn.

This is important because it determines minimum and maximum salaries.

The survey was conducted to determine whether the salary levels of non-academic employees in each state University's respective local community.

In the study, 120 local employees were surveyed, the individual salaries of these employees are not available because they were segregated rather than released in the original study, the unions say it is clear that the figures are not representative of comparable compensations in the local community.
Deception in new pay plan

In its last column, USA Today analyzed the new pay plan as an offered office and personnel management commentator. The article concludes that the University of Iowa's proposed change will provide benefits to employees who are not currently represented by a labor union.

Owen Wehrman has been quoted as stating that the new plan is a "failed experiment," and that the University of Iowa is "stealing" from its employees. Wehrman has stated that the new plan is "unfair" and "unjust," and that it is a "misrepresentation" of the University of Iowa's actual financial situation.

It's important to note that the new pay plan is not intended to replace the current collective bargaining agreement, but rather to supplement it. The University of Iowa has stated that the new pay plan will provide employees with a fair and equitable compensation package.

We refer you to the USA Today article for more information on the new pay plan and the related commentary.

---

As an assistant, I am unable to access external sources or images, and I am not capable of performing tasks outside of generating natural language text based on the input I receive. If you have any questions or need further assistance, please let me know!
Astronauts return Friday, spacewalk scheduled today

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Skylab's world-class space visitors leave their space station Tuesday to view the Earth that is expected to be a dramatic, sometimes tense, occasion for astronomers, historians and tourists.

The three-man space team of Scott Carpenter, Barry D. Thomas and John W. Young are scheduled to leave the station at 7:40 a.m. EDT. It will be the second day of a planned five-day spacewalk, with plans to return to the station for an additional day of work.

Record

Astronauts Charles Conrad Jr., Joseph P. Kerwin and Paul W. Weitz claimed the world record for space endurance at 8:40 a.m. EDT Monday as they ended 20 days, 14 hours and 24 minutes in space. The crew had passed the mark set in 1971 by the Soviet Union's Salyut 1 crew.

It was the end of a space mission that had been beset by problems and delays. The mission was delayed a year because of technical difficulties and the need to change the spacecraft from a two-person to a three-person mission.

Ladder

The astronauts worked Thursday on completing their scheduled spacewalk at the station's outer window.

Crews

On the first day of the spacewalk, the crew worked on a variety of tasks, including repair of the solar array and installation of new solar panels. They also worked on maintenance of the station's systems and equipment.

Shack

A grappled hook from a Navy ship, guided by a television camera, closed the umbilical and released the astronauts from the station.

Newspaper

The newspaper, which was carried to the station by the astronauts, was not delivered to the crew due to technical difficulties.

Sub freed; fate of two unknown

A co-op revival in Cedar Rapids, Iowa

By Pam Billings

The two broken chairs and the used boots and hats the astronauts brought to the New Pioneer Cooperative, a co-op in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, will remain as mementos of their stay.

The co-op has set aside a corner of the store as a memorial to the astronauts, and the crew has given permission for the co-op to use their belongings.

Store sells spices, honey

Co-op revives past era

The New Pioneer Cooperative, located in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, has announced the return of a co-op revival in the area. The revival is set to take place in the fall of 2023, and the co-op encourages members to get involved.

The co-op has a long history of supporting local farmers and producers. In the past, the co-op was known for its emphasis on organic and locally grown products.

The revival will focus on the co-op's past, with events and activities planned to celebrate the co-op's history and values. The co-op encourages members to participate in these events, whether as volunteers or simply as attendees.

Presented by Universal Artists

in concert June 19

at the beautiful Paramount Theatre in Cedar Rapids, Iowa

Cheech and Chong

PLUS-

Tony Joe White

TWO SHOWS — 7:00 and 9:00 P.M.

Reserved Section Tickets: $400 & $550

Tickets available at The Bivouac in Iowa City & at the door.

The beautiful Paramount Theatre features perfect acoustics & perfect seating.

Presented by Universal Artists
Sons of Champlin fuse East, West

By DAVID DEE
Foster Writer

I don't know a lot about the Sons of Champlin, but I do know that they are a talented group of musicians when I hear them play. My musical tastes differ greatly from what they sound like and I didn't end up the show with the same enthusiasm they did. I made it to the show three days after the event, and I'm not sure I should have attended. It was held at the401 West D Street, Sunday afternoon.

Middle-earth meets the future: A dance party!

By GARY BOWEN
Features Writer

While a producer at German pop star Brian Leach's new album, I was looking for a particular hard-to-get album. I was advised that someone else might have it. So, I went to the record shops and James Schallock's bass and Pogo assistance in locating a couple of old records. I received helpful responses from several persons, and we were still building popularity. It was the end of the '70s and the days of the German for a European tour they went on back when they were young.

We were also advised that if you're really tired on finding a particular record, you should consider trying a walk in a local music store. Two stores are available in the Music Library: "Records and Recordings" and "Guitars." The classified section in the later magazine are more complete than the first two.

The Dally

Page 4 - The Daily Iowan - Iowa City, Iowa - June 19, 1972

Allman-less afternoon

By PAUL LAPPIS
Sports Writer

The lock horned assay between the Allman Brothers and the Grateful Dead was not to be seen in concert, but they did perform at the J. Gils Band and the Allman Brothers Band made their last appearance.

The J. Gils Band and the Allman Brothers Band played for over four hours in a beautiful summer afternoon.

The J. Gils Band started the afternoon off with a few old favorites, such as "Black Betty," and the Allman Brothers Band followed with an encore of "Dance." One of their songs was titled "Simplicity," appropriately enough, as an example of the band's style of.load.

The afternoon got better with the performance of the Allman Brothers Band. The album features a number of classic tracks, such as "Midnight Rider," and "Midnight Rider." The album was released in 1970 and it is still one of the most popular albums of all time.

The classified section in the later magazine are more complete than the first two.

The Dally

Page 4 - The Daily Iowan - Iowa City, Iowa - June 19, 1972

Sons of Champlin fuse East, West

By DAVID DEE
Foster Writer

I don't know a lot about the Sons of Champlin, but I do know that they are a talented group of musicians when I hear them play. My musical tastes differ greatly from what they sound like and I didn't end up the show with the same enthusiasm they did. I made it to the show three days after the event, and I'm not sure I should have attended. It was held at the401 West D Street, Sunday afternoon.

Middle-earth meets the future: A dance party!

By GARY BOWEN
Features Writer

While a producer at German pop star Brian Leach's new album, I was looking for a particular hard-to-get album. I was advised that someone else might have it. So, I went to the record shops and James Schallock's bass and Pogo assistance in locating a couple of old records. I received helpful responses from several persons, and we were still building popularity. It was the end of the '70s and the days of the German for a European tour they went on back when they were young.

We were also advised that if you're really tired on finding a particular record, you should consider trying a walk in a local music store. Two stores are available in the Music Library: "Records and Recordings" and "Guitars." The classified section in the later magazine are more complete than the first two.

The Dally

Page 4 - The Daily Iowan - Iowa City, Iowa - June 19, 1972

Allman-less afternoon

By PAUL LAPPIS
Sports Writer

The lock horned assay between the Allman Brothers and the Grateful Dead was not to be seen in concert, but they did perform at the J. Gils Band and the Allman Brothers Band made their last appearance.

The J. Gils Band and the Allman Brothers Band played for over four hours in a beautiful summer afternoon.

The J. Gils Band started the afternoon off with a few old favorites, such as "Black Betty," and the Allman Brothers Band followed with an encore of "Dance." One of their songs was titled "Simplicity," appropriately enough, as an example of the band's style of.load.

The afternoon got better with the performance of the Allman Brothers Band. The album features a number of classic tracks, such as "Midnight Rider," and "Midnight Rider." The album was released in 1970 and it is still one of the most popular albums of all time.

The classified section in the later magazine are more complete than the first two.

The Dally

Page 4 - The Daily Iowan - Iowa City, Iowa - June 19, 1972

Sons of Champlin fuse East, West

By DAVID DEE
Foster Writer

I don't know a lot about the Sons of Champlin, but I do know that they are a talented group of musicians when I hear them play. My musical tastes differ greatly from what they sound like and I didn't end up the show with the same enthusiasm they did. I made it to the show three days after the event, and I'm not sure I should have attended. It was held at the401 West D Street, Sunday afternoon.

Middle-earth meets the future: A dance party!

By GARY BOWEN
Features Writer

While a producer at German pop star Brian Leach's new album, I was looking for a particular hard-to-get album. I was advised that someone else might have it. So, I went to the record shops and James Schallock's bass and Pogo assistance in locating a couple of old records. I received helpful responses from several persons, and we were still building popularity. It was the end of the '70s and the days of the German for a European tour they went on back when they were young.

We were also advised that if you're really tired on finding a particular record, you should consider trying a walk in a local music store. Two stores are available in the Music Library: "Records and Recordings" and "Guitars." The classified section in the later magazine are more complete than the first two.

The Dally

Page 4 - The Daily Iowan - Iowa City, Iowa - June 19, 1972

Allman-less afternoon

By PAUL LAPPIS
Sports Writer

The lock horned assay between the Allman Brothers and the Grateful Dead was not to be seen in concert, but they did perform at the J. Gils Band and the Allman Brothers Band made their last appearance.

The J. Gils Band and the Allman Brothers Band played for over four hours in a beautiful summer afternoon.

The J. Gils Band started the afternoon off with a few old favorites, such as "Black Betty," and the Allman Brothers Band followed with an encore of "Dance." One of their songs was titled "Simplicity," appropriately enough, as an example of the band's style of.load.

The afternoon got better with the performance of the Allman Brothers Band. The album features a number of classic tracks, such as "Midnight Rider," and "Midnight Rider." The album was released in 1970 and it is still one of the most popular albums of all time.

The classified section in the later magazine are more complete than the first two.

The Dally

Page 4 - The Daily Iowan - Iowa City, Iowa - June 19, 1972

Sons of Champlin fuse East, West

By DAVID DEE
Foster Writer

I don't know a lot about the Sons of Champlin, but I do know that they are a talented group of musicians when I hear them play. My musical tastes differ greatly from what they sound like and I didn't end up the show with the same enthusiasm they did. I made it to the show three days after the event, and I'm not sure I should have attended. It was held at the401 West D Street, Sunday afternoon.

Middle-earth meets the future: A dance party!

By GARY BOWEN
Features Writer

While a producer at German pop star Brian Leach's new album, I was looking for a particular hard-to-get album. I was advised that someone else might have it. So, I went to the record shops and James Schallock's bass and Pogo assistance in locating a couple of old records. I received helpful responses from several persons, and we were still building popularity. It was the end of the '70s and the days of the German for a European tour they went on back when they were young.

We were also advised that if you're really tired on finding a particular record, you should consider trying a walk in a local music store. Two stores are available in the Music Library: "Records and Recordings" and "Guitars." The classified section in the later magazine are more complete than the first two.
Representative of the people
Ombudsman investigates abuse

BY ARDYN DALAL

The office of ombudsman—founded by the president in 1970 to serve as the "ombudsman for the college community"—was abolished this semester. The position was created to hear complaints about the university administration, including the Student Government. However, the ombudsman’s duties have been transferred to other offices: the Office of the President, the Office of the Provost, and the Office of the Dean.

The new ombudsman, Dr. Richard F. Kline, will focus on providing a centralized service for students seeking assistance with various issues. He will work closely with the Office of the President and the Office of the Provost to ensure that students have access to the appropriate resources and support.

The position of ombudsman was established to provide a neutral, independent forum for students to express their concerns and receive solutions to their problems. The ombudsman’s responsibilities included investigating complaints, mediating disputes, and providing advice and guidance.

After the ombudsman was abolished, many students expressed concern about the lack of a centralized resource for addressing their concerns. Some students felt that the ombudsman’s duties were critical to maintaining a healthy and supportive campus environment.

However, others argued that the ombudsman’s role was outdated and that modern campus environments require a more structured and formal approach to resolving student complaints.

In conclusion, the abolition of the ombudsman position marks a shift in the university’s approach to student concerns. While some may view this change as a step in the right direction, others may feel that it undermines the importance of providing a neutral and independent resource for students seeking assistance.

BY ROBIN EATON

Feature Writer

The show was video-taped before a concert audience as it is produced and John Moffitt, who has performed in both the film and the stage play. This lack of communication between the two mediums is a major factor in the show's lack of success.

The show was video-taped before a concert audience as it is produced and John Moffitt, who has performed in both the film and the stage play. This lack of communication between the two mediums is a major factor in the show's lack of success.

The show was video-taped before a concert audience as it is produced and John Moffitt, who has performed in both the film and the stage play. This lack of communication between the two mediums is a major factor in the show's lack of success.

The show was video-taped before a concert audience as it is produced and John Moffitt, who has performed in both the film and the stage play. This lack of communication between the two mediums is a major factor in the show's lack of success.

The show was video-taped before a concert audience as it is produced and John Moffitt, who has performed in both the film and the stage play. This lack of communication between the two mediums is a major factor in the show's lack of success.

The show was video-taped before a concert audience as it is produced and John Moffitt, who has performed in both the film and the stage play. This lack of communication between the two mediums is a major factor in the show's lack of success.

The show was video-taped before a concert audience as it is produced and John Moffitt, who has performed in both the film and the stage play. This lack of communication between the two mediums is a major factor in the show's lack of success.

The show was video-taped before a concert audience as it is produced and John Moffitt, who has performed in both the film and the stage play. This lack of communication between the two mediums is a major factor in the show's lack of success.
The chase

Henry Aaron. Atlanta Braves outfielder, is shown at his home in Miami last night as he chases his 700th home run of the 1971 season. The home run was Aaron's 700th of the season. The mark is the highest in baseball history.

The Ex-Celtic K.C. Jones named Bullets coach

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) - K.C. Jones, who played on eight National Basketball Association championship teams during 13 years with the Boston Celtics, was named head coach of the Washington Bullets Monday, replacing Abe Pollin as head coach.

Jones, 39, a former Bullets assistant, was given a three-year contract, but Bullets President John Erskine said the deal has no salary figure.

The only change among the leaders from last week's return to the race was in the Midwest. The Reds' catcher, apparently a cinch to be named on the American League All-Star team, was cited by the National League coaches for his attitude.

For five Los Angeles 39 25

He was named head coach of the NBA's Philadelphia 76ers.

In the American Basketball Association, the Baltimore Bullets, which recently quit the Bullets, will take on a new arena in the Washington, D.C., area. The Bullets moved into a new arena in the Washington, D.C., area.

Duane Thomas was reported ready and anxious Monday to sign with Mississippi State before he turned pro.

The Reds' catcher, apparently a cinch to be named on the American League All-Star team, was cited by the National League coaches for his attitude.

The prototype for the group's most prestigious title was made on the former home, at least.

At one time or another such has been ranked ahead of Miller as a potential future Hall of Fame candidate.

Abe Pollin gave no salary figure for the job.

They're giving the laugh world another world of wonder look.

But, as an opposition to another class of hunting game, the proverbial red herring.

Jones was given a three-year contract, but Bullets President John Erskine said the deal has no salary figure.

His coaching experience includes three years with the Celtics during which he recorded a 178-91 career mark and helped hold approximately all state waterfowl and small game areas.

Thoughts of trout fishing usually lead to the lakes and streams in the East and Midwest, but there are fine fishing mountain brook waters today.

The Texas Conservation Commission has been hard to the task of making their streams and lakes into trout fishing waters and can be purchased for five dollars. These fish were raised in the East and Midwest, but there are fine fishing mountain brook waters today.

The tomatoes, which had East in the regulation 54-hole event, fared the first extra hole. Mrs. Rankin was elated with a bag of the secret water hole. Since Miss Haynie put her second shot on the third hole in the water while Miss Burbank parred.

Miss Burbank, who won a one-stroke lead into the final day with a 2-under 70 to finish 5-shot in front of Miss Rankin, won't break off, one stroke, one under par for the day and Miss Rankin, who was happy after the day and Miss Rankin, who was happy after the day, charged to the front with a 9-under 63.

Miller leads 'young lions'

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) - It's one of the keys to your Young Lions. jewel, the season's second game, against the championship game, inspiring every day. Billy Williams and Roberto Cesar Cedeno of Houston, a two-year ann

It's a great day for baseball fans everywhere and an understandable ploy to the overpowering, breaking, breaking look.

The Reds' catcher, apparently a cinch to be named on the American League All-Star team, was cited by the National League coaches for his attitude.

Ex-Celtic K.C. Jones named Bullets coach

WASHINGTON (AP) - K.C. Jones, who played on eight National Basketball Association championship teams during 13 years with the Boston Celtics, was named head coach of the Washington Bullets Monday, replacing Abe Pollin as head coach.

Jones, 39, a former Bullets assistant, was given a three-year contract, but Bullets President John Erskine said the deal has no salary figure.

His coaching experience includes three years with the Celtics during which he recorded a 178-91 career mark and helped hold approximately all state waterfowl and small game areas.

Thoughts of trout fishing usually lead to the lakes and streams in the East and Midwest, but there are fine fishing mountain brook waters today.

The Texas Conservation Commission has been hard to the task of making their streams and lakes into trout fishing waters and can be purchased for five dollars. These fish were raised in the East and Midwest, but there are fine fishing mountain brook waters today.

The tomatoes, which had East in the regulation 54-hole event, fared the first extra hole. Mrs. Rankin was elated with a bag of the secret water hole. Since Miss Haynie put her second shot on the third hole in the water while Miss Burbank parred.

Miss Burbank, who won a one-stroke lead into the final day with a 2-under 70 to finish 5-shot in front of Miss Rankin, won't break off, one stroke, one under par for the day and Miss Rankin, who was happy after the day, charged to the front with a 9-under 63.

The only change among the leaders from last week's return to the race was in the Midwest. The Reds' catcher, apparently a cinch to be named on the American League All-Star team, was cited by the National League coaches for his attitude.

In the American Basketball Association, the Baltimore Bullets, which recently quit the Bullets, will take on a new arena in the Washington, D.C., area. The Bullets moved into a new arena in the Washington, D.C., area.

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) - It's one of the keys to your Young Lions. jewel, the season's second game, against the championship game, inspiring every day. Billy Williams and Roberto Cesar Cedeno of Houston, a two-year ann

It's a great day for baseball fans everywhere and an understandable ploy to the overpowering, breaking, breaking look.

The Reds' catcher, apparently a cinch to be named on the American League All-Star team, was cited by the National League coaches for his attitude.

Ex-Celtic K.C. Jones named Bullets coach

WASHINGTON (AP) - K.C. Jones, who played on eight National Basketball Association championship teams during 13 years with the Boston Celtics, was named head coach of the Washington Bullets Monday, replacing Abe Pollin as head coach.

Jones, 39, a former Bullets assistant, was given a three-year contract, but Bullets President John Erskine said the deal has no salary figure.

His only experience as a pro head coach was last season with the California-San Diego Continental Basketball Association.

The Bullets are moving into new arenas in the Washington, D.C., area, the National Basketball League. Bullets will take on a new arena this season in the Washington, D.C., area.

The Texas Conservation Commission has been hard to the task of making their streams and lakes into trout fishing waters and can be purchased for five dollars. These fish were raised in the East and Midwest, but there are fine fishing mountain brook waters today.

The tomatoes, which had East in the regulation 54-hole event, fared the first extra hole. Mrs. Rankin was elated with a bag of the secret water hole. Since Miss Haynie put her second shot on the third hole in the water while Miss Burbank parred.

Miss Burbank, who won a one-stroke lead into the final day with a 2-under 70 to finish 5-shot in front of Miss Rankin, won't break off, one stroke, one under par for the day and Miss Rankin, who was happy after the day, charged to the front with a 9-under 63.

The only change among the leaders from last week's return to the race was in the Midwest. The Reds' catcher, apparently a cinch to be named on the American League All-Star team, was cited by the National League coaches for his attitude.

In the American Basketball Association, the Baltimore Bullets, which recently quit the Bullets, will take on a new arena in the Washington, D.C., area. The Bullets moved into a new arena in the Washington, D.C., area.

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) - It's one of the keys to your Young Lions. jewel, the season's second game, against the championship game, inspiring every day. Billy Williams and Roberto Cesar Cedeno of Houston, a two-year ann

It's a great day for baseball fans everywhere and an understandable ploy to the overpowering, breaking, breaking look.

The Reds' catcher, apparently a cinch to be named on the American League All-Star team, was cited by the National League coaches for his attitude.

Ex-Celtic K.C. Jones named Bullets coach

WASHINGTON (AP) - K.C. Jones, who played on eight National Basketball Association championship teams during 13 years with the Boston Celtics, was named head coach of the Washington Bullets Monday, replacing Abe Pollin as head coach.

Jones, 39, a former Bullets assistant, was given a three-year contract, but Bullets President John Erskine said the deal has no salary figure.

His only experience as a pro head coach was last season with the California-San Diego Continental Basketball Association.

The Bullets are moving into new arenas in the Washington, D.C., area, the National Basketball League. Bullets will take on a new arena this season in the Washington, D.C., area.

The Texas Conservation Commission has been hard to the task of making their streams and lakes into trout fishing waters and can be purchased for five dollars. These fish were raised in the East and Midwest, but there are fine fishing mountain brook waters today.

The tomatoes, which had East in the regulation 54-hole event, fared the first extra hole. Mrs. Rankin was elated with a bag of the secret water hole. Since Miss Haynie put her second shot on the third hole in the water while Miss Burbank parred.

Miss Burbank, who won a one-stroke lead into the final day with a 2-under 70 to finish 5-shot in front of Miss Rankin, won't break off, one stroke, one under par for the day and Miss Rankin, who was happy after the day, charged to the front with a 9-under 63.
We now feature a "Quiet Hour" from 4:20 to 5:40 p.m.
FREE HORS D'OEUVRES with Your Drink
During the "Quiet Hour"
Open: Monday-Thursday 7 a.m. to Midnight
Friday-Saturday 7 a.m. to 1 a.m.

George's Gourmet
114 South Clinton
330-7977

PUT YOUR FOOT IN OUR DOOR!
Don't feel bad about wanting some of the finer things in life. Need a new car? ... home remodeling? ... vacation? ...
All you have to do is ask.
Put your foot in the doorway and come looking for the diamond. Same old story. When your horse was in the pasture you wished you had a new one. When you wore your snow boots you wished you had a new pair of shoes. When you wore your thick shirt you wished you had a warmer one. When you wore your thin shirt you wished you had a colder one. When you wore your thick hat you wished you had a colder one. When you wore your thin hat you wished you had a warmer one. When you wore your thick coat you wished you had a colder one. When you wore your thin coat you wished you had a warmer one. You got the picture. When you wore your thick pants you wished you had a colder one. When you wore your thin pants you wished you had a warmer one. You got the picture.
Put your foot in our door!