Health ‘revolution’ created in China

By JIM KIRKENDALL

A health revolution is under way in the People’s Republic of China. The revolution was brought back from a recent visit to the mainland by Miss Irene Kirkendall, state director of the Iowa Freund of Mission Aid.

Miss Irene, a nurse working with the migrant workers in Manhattan, was a member of the American Health Delegation that visited China for three weeks in February and March. The delegation, headed by Dr. Michael DeBakey, was sponsored by the China American Relations Foundation.

The delegation was presented by Dr. DeBakey with Dr. K. H. Wang, chairman of the Chinese Medical Research Institute.

The delegation visited a number of hospitals, health centers, schools and universities in China.

The Chinese are promoting a two child family.

Kirkendall told the Iowa State Medical Society that the Chinese have been examining our systems, and are adopting some of them. She said the Chinese have been examining our systems, and are adopting some of them.

Acupuncture

Acupuncture according to Miss Irene is used quite effectively as an anesthetic in China. "I am totally convinced of the effectiveness of acupuncture as an anesthetic," she reported.

In acupuncture, needles are inserted at key spots on the body, either manually or electrically. This produces an anesthetic effect.

In the operations the Chinese witnessed, Sister Irene said that every patient is prepared verbally for the acupuncture with understanding and explanation of the procedure. The needle is then inserted into the body and acupressure is practiced.

Anesthesia

After a recent round of tests, the acupuncture points aren’t necessary that the patient fully conscious.

Sister Irene said she witnessed an operation that had a very long operating time. During the operation the man was conscious with the doctors who described what they were doing. He also drank and ate some snacks and talked during the procedures.

Anesthesia is also being used during childbirth but is not used for children because the Chinese believe protection naturally obliterates, she said.

Birth control

The Chinese are promoting a two child family. Consequently, they use the same form of birth control methods available here are available in China. According to Sister Irene, they are working at a contraceptives that would require only one injection per month.

The group visited China between Feb. 14 and March 14, and the trip was discussed by Dr. DeBakey with President Nixon three weeks ago.

City urban renewal land to be sold at ‘fixed price’

By SCOTT WRIGHT

Iowa City’s urban renewal land goes up for bid Friday. The bidding period closes Oct. 20, when the city begins the process of choosing a developer on the basis of the quality of the proposals submitted.

The 11-square parcel will be sold at a ‘fixed price’ of $2,225,835—80 per square foot—established by the Iowa City Council Tuesday.

The city’s price is based largely on three factors:

— A two-apartment building on an assumption that parcels would be sold as separate businesses, and the other based on the city’s current plan to set the land aside as a single development.
—The second price is for the land in its order for its urban renewal project to remain smooth.

An alternative is the city’s policy concerning when one developer must acquire individual parcels—a change made to justify the established price.

Director reveals loophole in new Sunday liquor law

DES MORGAN, Iowa—The director of the Des Moines and Liquor Control Department said Monday Iowa can avoid certain problems by the new policy.

Assemblyman John T. Gallagher explained.

"We don’t intend to sell liquor, but we have to hath the intent of the legislature," he said.

According to urban renewal director Jack Klaus, the operation based on the city’s plan to sell the land as a single unit was much lower than the other appraisal because the developer would have to acquire the land by acquisition, which could not be developed for several years.

The low appraiser was by a physician and as a result, the city would not be able to sell for the same amount of money even up to 10 years in taxable land on the real market.

So the city actually altered the value of the land to meet its financial needs by changing the conditions of its sale. Under the new policy, the developer can request the city’s acquisition schedule—presentation of a plan that would make payments for any land in no profit, or loss.

Acquisition by the developer was to have been around $2,400, and the final purchase will come in 1976, said Klaus.

The Richard Nixon choir

Well, boys and girls, Dick has done it again. And whether you like it or not, Nixon has been upstaged by all of his predecessors—by all the greats in this choir, but before you precipitate the poor man and his family, let me say that he, too, has done only what others have done for the purpose of spreading the word. I can buy this reasoning and don't mind the struggle of a convict to be released. I think that's the trouble with convicts.

Just imagine the historical significance of Nixon being upstaged by all of his contemporaries. The real question is: Can Nixon have been upstaged by all of his predecessors? You bet. But before you precipitate the poor man and his family, let me say that he, too, has done only what others have done for the purpose of spreading the word. I can buy this reasoning and don't mind the struggle of a convict to be released.

Cyclists have long been marked on the sidewalk between Becher Auditorium and the Union.

Project GREEN's bicycle committee has recently been denied federal funding for its proposed 3.5 mile path between Iowa City and the Coralville Reservoir. Committee member Bob van der Zee said the group was surprised that the proposal was rejected.

"It's a shame," Dooley said. "The project is a great idea that will benefit everyone." He added that the group will continue to work on the project.

"The Johnson County Board of Supervisors Tuesday unanimously committed $6,000 from federal revenue sharing funds for primary construction of the bicycle trail." According to Van der Zee, the project has been in the works for several years, and the group has been working on it for the past four years.

"It's a shame," Dooley said. "The project is a great idea that will benefit everyone." He added that the group will continue to work on the project.

But, the Iowa City Police Department and Transportation and Safety Department have been getting a lot of calls from people who are unfamiliar with the bicycle trail.

"We get a lot of questions," said Police Department spokesman John Bowers. "People are asking how to get to the trail and what it's like." He added that the department has been working on the project for several years and has been getting a lot of calls from people who are unfamiliar with it.
