UI workers 'need unity'

Local labor unions plan merger

The University of Iowa Employees Association (UIEA) voted Tuesday evening to dissolve the Iowa Labor Union and affiliate with the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME) Local 39.

The Iowa City council, after a last-minute appeal from AFSCME Local 12 representatives, voted 5-0 to reject the merger agreement with the AFL-CIO.

City officials new to plan to build 500 rental units in an urban renewal area by the summer of 1973, including the new Federal Building.

The merger with the AFL-CIO would have been a historic move for the city officials to take.

Free clinic requests federal funds

By CRUZ HAWKINS

The Iowa City Free Medical Clinic recently sought $4,300 from the Johnson County Health Board to help finance the clinic.

This request, the first of a govern- ment agency to receive such aid, will probably not be heard by the Board of Health members.

The clinic decided to ask for govern- mental funds after Yakobsen attended a meeting of the National Free-Clinic Conference in Washington.

The new funds, if approved, will be used to increase the salaries of the direc- tor and a part-time administrative worker.

According to Lyke Fisher of the Health Board, the $4,300 figure is the average of the amounts recommended by each of the health boards.

This is a legitimate concern among some health board members. There was a legitimate concern among some health board members that the government funds to the clinic would cause it to lose its appeal to certain seg- ments of the population.

Fisher said the money would come from the county health fund which is part of the general county fund. Because the Board of Superintendents has approved the county health fund, the amounts recommended by each of the health boards was used to increase the salaries of the director and a part-time administrative worker.

However, the County Health Board has stated it will not even consider an application for federal funds unless the clinic is in its own budget.

City considering recycling plans

In response to a great number of citizens of our fair city, the City Council is considering implementing a solid waste recycling plan. Specifically, the plan entails having the citizens of the city bring their recyclable materials to a local company which would pay for the paper.

The advantages of recycling the paper are obvious, but the benefits extend far beyond the material gains. For example, recycling is a major step towards reducing our dependency on virgin materials. By recycling, we are not only reducing the amount of waste sent to landfills, but we are also conserving natural resources.

One of the most significant benefits of recycling is the reduction in the amount of energy required to produce new materials. This is because recycling saves energy by reducing the amount of raw materials that need to be extracted from the earth. In addition, recycling helps to reduce pollution and greenhouse gas emissions.

Recycling has been around for many years, but its popularity has been growing steadily. In fact, recycling is now considered to be one of the most important ways we can help to protect the environment. As a result, many communities, including our own, are looking to implement recycling plans of their own.

In conclusion, recycling is a win-win situation. Not only does it reduce the amount of waste sent to landfills, but it also helps to conserve natural resources and reduce pollution. As a community, we should all make an effort to recycle as much as possible.

The City Council is expected to vote on the recycling plan at its next meeting. We encourage all residents to voice their support for this important initiative.
Stripping is a profession says Miss Nude America

By MAUREEN CONNORS

Valerie Kitover isn't a Pete and Gladys or Billy and Trudie, or Billy from the Boys in Blue. She's not a married mother of three from Altoona. She's not even a leggy blonde with a husky voice and a body that barely fits into the jeans she's wearing.

But she doesn't have to be. To her, a stripper's job isn't about sex or money. Instead, she says, it's about self-confidence and the freedom to express oneself.

"I use my body as a canvas," she says. "I paint a picture that says something about who I am." And for Valerie, what she paints says a lot about the way she sees the world.

"I don't see myself as a sex symbol," she says. "I see myself as a piece of art." And if you look at her, you can see why. With her long, flowing hair and striking eyes, she's a natural actress with a flair for the dramatic.

But it wasn't always like this. When Valerie first started stripping, it was just a way to make some extra money. But soon, she realized that she loved it. She loved the way it made her feel, the way it made other people feel.

"I started out just for the fun of it," she says. "But then I started seeing how much power I had, how much control I had. I could make people feel good, or bad, just by the way I moved."

And so she decided to turn her passion into a profession. She started performing at clubs around the state, and soon she was booked up month after month.

"I never thought I'd be able to make a living doing this," she says. "But I love it. I love seeing the looks on people's faces."

And now, she's not just a stripper. She's a name, a legend. She's one of the most sought-after performers in the business, and people will pay top dollar to see her.

"I've been on stage with some of the biggest names in showbiz," she says. "I've performed with阴影, and that's saying something."

But despite her success, Valerie never forgets where she came from. She still条 some time back and helps out the local charities whenever she can.

"I think it's important to give back," she says. "I've been so lucky. I've had so many wonderful opportunities, and I want to share those opportunities with others."

And so, even though she's now a successful stripper, she still条 true to her roots. She still条 true to the person she条 always been: an artist, a performer, and a teacher.

"I don't think I'll ever stop learning," she says. "I never want to be locked into just one thing. I want to keep growing, keep changing, keep surprising people."

And that's exactly what she条 done. From a struggling stripper to a legend in her field, Valerie Kitover条 proven that with hard work and dedication, anything is possible.

Bench, Bonds, Davis homers power NL All-stars, 7-1

BY BOB DRYER
KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Score runs by Johnny Bench, Barry Bonds and Dave Davis powered the National League to a one-run victory Tuesday night in the 48th annual All-Star game. The win gave the NL its 9th victory in 13 All-Star meetings and tied the AL for the all-time record of 21 victories.

Bench, Bonds and Davis were the only three players to join the list of 12 All-Star sluggers who have hit a home run in the All-Star game. But when it was over, the 26,729 fans at Municipal Stadium were left to wonder what might have been had the AL drawn a better line-up.

The New York Yankees' famed outfielder, the starting and winning pitcher for the American League in the first half, was held hitless by St. Louis Cardinal hurler, star ted and lost for the National League. The first hit was his 19th of the season, and that hit offly activated the 12-year-old, baseball legend. The Barry T. Thomas Sports Complex, Cleveland Indians' Red Shoe Design. The New York All-Star game was won by the AL, 7-1, and the NL, 12-2.

Tom Davis, second baseman, drove in the winning run with a sacrifice fly in the seventh inning. The AL needed 11 runs to win, but the NL, 8-1, made it a four-run game in the eighth inning.

Leisure time

August is approaching and the summer season is coming to a close with that extra time. Now is the time to get out and enjoy the outdoors before you have a chance.

You can go fishing and you can try a new kind of fishing. You can take great pleasure in owning a big trout that was hooked and landed at the end of the line. You can try fly fishing or the elusive and rare sport of fly fishing.

Making your own home for the fall season is an important part of the outdoor experience. You can create your own orders to order the design and build your own home.

Changing rules and checking your new rules and friends for fall and winter can save time and trouble during future years.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota Vikings' strong safety Duane Thomas appeared ready Tuesday to join the National League in a new-look All-Star game.

Thomas continued his sensational season when he hit a home run, his 17th of the season, and scored the winning run in the NL's 1-0 victory over the AL.

The win was the tenth in the National League's all-time edge over the AL, 13-6. The NL players used to the field to the lead.

The National League jumped on the AL in the second inning when their American League starting and winning pitcher walked and then was forced at end of the field to the lead.

Singer was again the victim of the National League's offensive power in the top of the 3rd to Joe Morgan led off with a hitting double and a run advanced to third. The try was set up when the NL's first baseman had a bunt. The NL's second baseman also seemed to be in the picture, singed the NL's star catcher and then the NL's center gives the NL's second baseman a chance to make a hit.
