Proctor to teach new language

By CHUCK HANKINS

This new experimental inter-

communication system is in use

at Kirkwood College and seems to be working well.

Dr. Herbert L. Jackson, professor of the Philosophy and Psychology department, is teaching

the course "New Language," which has been approved by Kirkwood

College governing body.

Dr. Jackson developed his new international language to be used in schools to teach young people

intercontinental understanding.

"The world language had to be universal, the same for all peoples,

and easy to learn," Dr. Jackson said.

Roman alphabet

The new language is called Esperanto, and is composed of the Roman alphabet.

"There was no Roman alphabet,

no other, and I thought that might be a good place to start," Dr.

Jackson said.

Syllabic definitions

Several attempts have been made over the years to develop an international language, but none

has been as successful as Esperanto.

"I tried to take the best expressions of many languages," Dr.

Jackson explained. "There will be some written and spoken, but can also be signed by use of hand signals. Dr. Jackson began to develop this new language because he believed there was a need for something that could be written down. He set out to create

"Vulpah," which translates to

"world speak." It is another attempts at a universal language.

This language was based on

German and was an extremely difficult language to learn. It also failed to catch on.

Dr. Jackson began to develop this second language because he knew that it could not be written.

He set out to create it.

Other features of the language

are a totally independent

vocabulary, no irregular

inflections in hand signals

by the position of the hand. Jackson had to come to three major changes in Esperanto,

one he said, to prevent it from becoming a real language. The language is based on German

and was an extremely

difficult language to

learn.

Dr. Jackson is teaching this new language to a dozen students in the course "New Language." There are five letter syllables and

specially assigned meanings to each of the groups. The language never caught on.

Pact furthers Bangladesh peace

NEW DELHI (AP) — India and Pakistan agreed Tuesday to release about 8,000 Pakistani war prisoners, thus removing the chief obstacle to final settlement of the December 1971 war.

The most of the men, agreed after 11 days of negotiations, was an overflowing good will recognized by each side as a result of the talks.

The 1971 war between India and Pakistan resulted in creation of the independent state of Bangladesh, formerly the eastern wing of Pakistan.

Leaders of the two delegations, F. N. Shaukat of India and Aitz Ahmad of Pakistan, signed the agreement in a ceremony in the conference room of the Foreign Ministry.

Pakistan's former prime minister, Zulfikar Ali Bhutto, said that the agreement a step towards the achievement of the objectives for which Pakistan entered the war.

Although Bangladesh did not take part in the negotiations, it has refused to treat with Pakistan until recognized by India as a separate nation. The agreement is also intended to try a small scale for alleged atrocities committed during the war.

The agreement is the result of long negotiations and cooperation between the two countries.

There are a few people in Iowa City who are working on the look of prison reform with the Iowa Prison Center. The Iowa Prison Center meets at 320 S. Iowa St. Last fall, it was formed for several years helping prisoners and individuals with the problems they face.

The Prison Center Inter­national is a non-profit organization that helps prisoners express their grievances and becomes more a part of the prison community. It is a newspaper written by prisoners and experts. The stories written by prisoners frequently carry frightening examples of the experience and opinion of the people who are incarcerated. It seems that many officials have an endless supply of ways to deny them their rights or problems with the facilities they face.

The Prison Center Inter­national has been publishing the Prison Center International for 20 years. The last 12 at the University of Iowa for 20 years. The last 12 at the University of Iowa for 20 years. The last 12 at the University of Iowa for 20 years.

"I am here at the hospital, the hospital was moved here. I never saw it before. I have been there for 20 years, but they would work for us or any other need there. I went there and I saw them. The people who had been there for a long time and they were in the hospital for a long time. And I went there too.

Iowa Motor Vehicle Inspection

Inadequate Inspection

Iowa needs to be mindful of the new automobile inspection law. I recently bought a car that was supposed to have been inspected. We took it to the local dealership, then to a dealer, then to a service center. But when we got it back, it was not inspected. We took it to a distributor, ran, cranked battery, was dead, and had had to buy a new one. Someone else might say it's not my fault, but it is.

The Motor Vehicle Inspection Division of the Iowa Department of Public Safety will be quick to point out our inexperience in this field. They can explain that our car was not in our possession, that we had no experience in the field, or that we had no knowledge of the inspection procedures. There are many who say it's not my fault, but it is.

As the Motor Vehicle Inspection Division of the Iowa Department of Public Safety, we would like to point out to you that our inspection procedures are not meant to be followed by the public. They are designed to inspect your car safely and efficiently. If your car is not inspected, it is possible that your car may be left in a dangerous condition.

The shocks and tires are another matter. A vehicle is the property of a house, not an owner of the car. The man who is responsible for the car is the driver. If he leaves the car with you, you are responsible for the car.

What is your problem and what you can improve your service? I can't help you there. But I can do my best to help you. Damages you may be entitled to be paid out of a settlement of the case or from the insurance company. If you brought the car to the repair shop for inspection and their estimate of the cost was not in line with the repair estimate, if they estimated that the cost was too high, and if you need to be paid, then you are entitled to be paid.

Green Bay great Nitschke retires

Great One

Veteran Green Bay Packer linebacker Ray Nitschke called it quits yesterday after a speaking in year career. Nitschke held a news conference in Green Bay to announce his retirement.

Nitschke, 38, announced the Green Bay defense through the National Football League championship season under Coach Bart Starr in 1966. In 13 seasons, he played 154 games and started in 133 of them. Nitschke was a nine-time All-Pro selection and was named to the NFL's all-time 50th anniversary team in 1994.

"I know about this when camp starts. But I'll still be there even though it wouldn't be. If I were still there, I'd want to helpudy if they needed help," Nitschke said he had been considering retirement for several years. "But I've always felt I could contribute anywhere."

Coach Dan Devine's answer from the news conference ranked many of the Packer fans. "Nothing should be read into that, of course."

"It's Ray's retirement, not mine, and I didn't want to detract from it," Devine said. "But he would be much more at ease if I didn't." Nitschke said he had discussed the matter with Devine, and praised him, was an old feeling between them." As I look back, I've been one of the most fortunate athletes who ever played this game," said Nitschke, a fullback at the University of Illinois. "I've had a tremendous career, and I've been given so much."

"No, there was no plan for anyone else to call the shots as Nitschke had been the Packer quarterback his entire career."

"I spent the last 15 years of my career here, the last 15 years of my career," Nitschke added. "I'm very fortunate to have had the opportunity to play for the Green Bay Packers, and I'm very fortunate to have been a part of this organization."
