Schultz resigns for 'good of program'

Dick Schultz, Minnesota's coach for the past six years, resigned here yesterday to take the job as head basketball coach at Iowa State, university sources said.

Leaving the most successful coach in the University of Iowa's history, Schultz, the 17th coach in Iowa history, said that he and the Gophers had discussed the situation for some time, but that he would not have attended Saturday's game against Minnesota.

If this is the reason that Schultz bowed out as basketball coach at the University of Iowa, Schultz, the 17th coach in Iowa history, said that he and the Gophers had discussed the situation for some time, but that he would not have attended Saturday's game against Minnesota.

The Iowa players were not surprised by the news of Schultz's resignation, as they had been aware of it earlier in the week.

The players also said that they would miss Schultz as a coach, because he had always been supportive and understanding of their needs.

Schultz had been with the Hawkeyes for three years, and had led the team to three NCAA tournament appearances.

He was named the Big Ten Coach of the Year in 1977-78, and was selected as the National Coach of the Year by the Associated Press.

Schultz said that he would miss the players and the fans, but that he was excited about the opportunity to coach at Iowa State.

He said, "I'm not sure what the future holds, but I know that I will miss coaching at Iowa. I have enjoyed my time there, and I look forward to the challenges that await me at Iowa State."

The players and the fans, he said, were aware of his decision, and they all wished him well in his new role.

Schultz said that he had talked to several coaches about taking the job at Iowa State, and that he had made the decision after much thought.

"I have had some thoughts of quitting the game before, but I didn't think I would make that decision until now," he said.

Schultz added that he had been patient with the Hawkeyes, and that he had been thinking about his future for some time.

"I've been thinking about it for a while now," he said.

When asked if he had any advice for the players, he said, "I just want this program to succeed. I believe in the players, and I believe in the program. I know that they can do it."

Iowa House okays bill allowing employees' collective bargaining

By RAYWARD

The highly controversial employee bargaining bill for Iowa public employees passed the House on a 73-17 vote Thursday.

The bill now goes to Senate for consideration of 20 amendments added by it to the House-passed Senate version last year.

Since beginning debate on the bill a few days ago, the House has heard 100 per proposed amendments. Although the discussion of the amendments was limited by some proponents of the bill, it is expected the House will return to the debate on the bill next Thursday. Iowa City, and most amendments were "meritorious and sound passed" which will undeniably help the collective bargaining for the public.

"We are hoping to remove the uncertainty of the bill's future," said the group led by the House's Speaker, past year.

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Basketball Association awarded Thursday a franchise in New Orleans for the 1974-75 season.

Commissioner Walter Kennedy said a nine-man group backed by Pres. Stanley Seavy of New Orleans would pay $105,000 for the franchise.

Kennedy said the city and state of governors will meet again within two weeks to consider further expansion plans for next season.

The commissioner said two groups are holding for a franchise for Los Angeles but declined to name any other cities where the league might place teams.

An announcement reportedly indicated that Toronto was low for a franchise.

Kennedy said: "We are considering Toronto for the future but I don't think we would have expansion to Toronto this season."

Kennedy declined comment on reports that the rival Montreal Basketball Association was planning a challenge of the league as a competitor for merger with the NBA.

Everybody’s gone streaking

By BOB DYER
Sports Editor

A crowd of students clearly expressed their solidarity around several young people, then a chant began: "break, break, break, all is against the man!"

A voice rang out, "say O.J. Simpson, two naked blacks battle with some kind of human and escape down the hallway, behind doors and along hallways."

It's called streaking and it's happening all over Iowa State University.

What makes this activity so popular? The thrill of the chase is the story and streakers are finding it.

The enthusiasm is present and a growing desire to monetize the immediate future, streaking could be the answer. If you're thinking of streaking, one advantage this age of
