The Daily Iowan

Regional College Newspaper of the Year, 1972-73, 1973-74

Nixon signs minimum wage law: hikes pay for 36 million workers

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) - Legislation signed by President Nixon on Monday raises the federal minimum wage from $1.60 to $2.30 an hour for the first time since 1972.

The White House said Nixon had vetoed similar legislation last year. But while the White House said the new wage was in a category of its own, Nixon also said that it was not an adequate increase. Nixon had vetoed similar legislation last year.

The White House said the new wage was also in the category of its own.
CAC enters negotiations into lecture note service

By LINDA YOUNG For the Daily Iowan

College Association Council (CAC) has appointed a president, John Dice, to enter into negotiations with the University of Iowa administration and Student Senate for a share in the operating expenses of lecture notes. The agreement with the CAC is underwritten by a four-hour break early in the program, according to president Dice. The CAC president also said that although the negotiations were not complete, they would be held for the benefit of the CAC, and he would be the one to lead the negotiations.

Award

Cheryl Brown, B.A., has been awarded first place in the student category of a national competition for the Radio and Television Student Association.

Lecture

Prof. Ronald Grimsley, chairman of the Department of Comparative Literature and the Department of French, will give a public lecture at 7 p.m. in the Iowa Union on April 12th. The lecture will be on "The Feeling of Existence in Existential Thought," and it will be open to the public.

Mayor proposes commissions

The Mayor of the University of Iowa, John Dice, has announced plans to create a series of commissions to address various issues on campus. The commissions will be led by prominent figures in the academic community, and they will be charged with making recommendations to the administration.

Marathon

Fifteen couples competed in the first annual dance marathon held this weekend by the University of Iowa Dance Marathon. The marathon was held in the Union Ballroom and lasted from 8 p.m. on Friday, April 12th, to 8 a.m. on Saturday, April 13th. The couples danced non-stop for 24 hours, with only a one-hour break every four hours.

Summer Rep

A musical, a comedy, and an opera will be offered during the summer's Repertory Theatre season at the University of Iowa. For ten weeks in the summer, music students will work with professionals to put on a musical, a comedy, and an opera. The musical will be "The Mystery of Edwin Drood," the comedy will be "The Importance of Being Earnest," and the opera will be "La Boheme." The performances will be held in the Union Ballroom and the University Theatre.

Campus Notes

Scholarship applications for the State Farm Scholarship are open to all undergraduate students meeting eligibility requirements. Applications must be submitted by April 15th. Further information can be obtained by contacting the Office of Student Financial Services.

Announcement

The University of Iowa Theatre Department is currently accepting applications for the position of "Waltz." Interested candidates should submit their applications to the Department of Performing Arts, Iowa City, IA 52242. The position is available immediately, and applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis.

Student Senate Scholarship Committee

The Student Senate Scholarship Committee is now accepting applications for the Student Senate Scholarship. Applications are available at the Student Senate Office, 415 S. Gilbert St., Iowa City, IA 52242. The deadline for submission is April 15th, 1974. Further information can be obtained by contacting the Student Senate Office.

Israel loses plane in Heights

By the Associated Press

Israel lost a plane in the Golan Heights area on Friday, two days after a similar incident that caused the deaths of 49 people. The plane, a Israeli Air Force C-130, was on a mission to deliver food and medical supplies to a small town in the Golan Heights area.

Fight against cease-fire line:

"Enoch Smoky" wants everyone to celebrate, cleaning up the environment with "Enoch Smoky"

TICKETS ON SALE April 8-12 Union Box Office $5.00 FRIDAY, APRIL 12, 1974 NEW BALLOON — IOWA MEMORIAL UNION
Regents' reply to parietal rule suit shows exemptions equal requests

As of Oct. 1, this student's year, 1,292 freshmen began their University of Iowa parietal rule suit against the Regents (see Article 11). The suit, brought by attorneys representing 22 students in 1972, was scheduled to begin March 1, 1973, and still is.

The suit was filed by 22 students following the Regents' announcement that it would continue to apply the parietal rule to all students, even non-residents.

The suit was filed by 22 students following the Regents' announcement that it would continue to apply the parietal rule to all students, even non-residents.

Legal Services to investigate possible violations of the separation of church and state relationship. The bill calls for a constitutional amendment calling for transportation were questioned by the court, declaring that the school district had a right to abolish transportation for these purposes unless they were a form of discrimination.

The bill was eventually approved by the Senate, and 650 exemptions to the parietal rule have been granted as of Jan. 21 this year.

The Iowa House passes bill giving students the right to accept or reject the parietal rule.

By MICHAEL MCCANN

Easter Special!

With any cosmetic purchase of $2.00 or more, you may choose, among others, a Listerine Phantom Mint, splash, body lotion, body mist, or soap set. All regularly priced at $3.00.

Limited Quantities
Call 353-6800 for special order list.

MERLE NORON COMESTICS

258-6800

IVAN HOUSE News

DISCLOSURE

Additional provisions in the bill state that local boards, at the discretion of the rule, will provide transportation for board members attending meetings and for the archbishop of any other comparable student organization.

By LAWRENCE

Rights Line device thief disconnects their phone. The Daily Iowa.

Because of the fall of its automatic phone answering device, Rights Line temporarily ceased service. The University Student Senate and the Civil Rights and Liberties Committee of the University of Iowa have both called for a public hearing on the issues. Rights Line plans to resume service at a later date, adding that they will be providing a more secure answering device.

The Committee For Students' Rights and Freedoms was formed in 1972 after student demands were made during demonstrations. Through Rights Line, the Committee wishes to support and help students to organize and strengthen their cause. The Committee is seeking more public awareness and support.

The Committee's goals are to assist students in providing the necessary services to students, to help students organize and strengthen their cause, and to help students make their concerns known.

The Committee is seeking more public awareness and support. The Committee is seeking more public awareness and support.

The Committee is seeking more public awareness and support.

The Committee is seeking more public awareness and support.

The Committee is seeking more public awareness and support.

The Committee is seeking more public awareness and support.
thought that to life in Iowa City?

birthday, it is a little known fact that the birthday of a book is December 12th, not December 15th. My mother thought that it was the wrong date, and my father thought that it was the correct date. However, my sister thought that it was the wrong date because she thought that it was December 13th. My brother thought that it was the wrong date because he thought that it was December 14th. The only person who thought that it was the correct date was my dog, who thought that it was December 12th because it is her birthday.

The basic training camp was located in basic training camp, and the camp was full of young men and women who were getting their military training. One of the young men who was at basic training camp was a friend of mine named John. John was a very intelligent and driven person who had always wanted to serve his country. He had joined the military as soon as he was old enough, and he had been at basic training camp for a few weeks when I visited him.

During my visit, we went on a tour of the camp and saw some of the different activities that were going on. We saw some of the physical training exercises, and we also saw some of the classroom lectures. John showed me his dorm room, which was small but clean and organized. We talked about his friends and family, and he told me about some of the things that he had learned during his time at the camp.

After a few days at the camp, I said goodbye to John and left to return to college. I always remembered the time that I spent with John at basic training camp, and I always looked forward to seeing him again in the future.
Actress Wagner loves her profession

by TAMMIE B∽Cree Bon Teller

Linda Darnell was an up-and-coming star who had few more interesting roles to play in her career than the character of Wagner in her latest film, “Paper Chase.” Wagner is a young woman who aspires to be an actress, and Darnell made her character realistic to the audience.

Wagner attended Yale University, and after graduation she worked in New York City for a few years. She then went to Chicago to continue her acting career.

Her first role was in the play “The Glass Menagerie,” which was written by Tennessee Williams. She played the role of Laura, the daughter of an alcoholic and Capability, and the relationship between the two was a major plot point of the play.

Darnell was successful in New York City, and she was offered a role in the film “Holiday,” which was directed by William Wyler. She played the role of Sally Adams, and her performance was praised by the critics.

In the 1950s, Darnell moved to Hollywood to pursue her acting career. She starred in several films, and her performance in “Juno and the Paycock” was particularly praised by the critics.

In the 1960s, Darnell went back to New York City to pursue her writing career. She wrote several books, and her novel “The Lovely Bones” was published in 1953. The novel was a bestseller, and it was adapted into a film in 1987.

Darnell was a successful actress, and her performance in “Paper Chase” was praised by the critics. She was nominated for an Academy Award for Best Actress for her performance in the film, and she won several other awards for her work.

Darnell was a dedicated actress, and she continued to work until her death in 1975. She is remembered as one of the greatest actresses of her time.
Temptations, Tower hype Field house concert

By DAVID BELLAND

I kept a sheltered life. My naiveté is immense. My exposure to the real world of romance is almost nil. I’ve never even been to a concert before. I owe the Daily Iowan and its Payne Auditorium the pleasure of seeing the Temptations perform, and I’ve finally decided to check them out. But what a хау it was to be.

The Temple brothers, who were born on the wrong side of a hill in Memphis, came together in 1959 and have been entertaining the nation ever since. Their sound has evolved over the years, from the Motown sound of their early days to the more soulful, R&B sound of their later years. I was looking forward to seeing them live and hearing their classic hits come to life.

The concert was held in the Payne Auditorium at the University of Iowa. The auditorium was packed with fans, both young and old, who had come to see the Temptations perform. The stage was decorated with lights and smoke machines, creating a festive atmosphere.

The Temptations took the stage and were greeted with a loud ovation. They began their set with “My Girl,” a classic Motown hit. The audience was on their feet, singing along to the familiar lyrics.

The Temptations performed a variety of songs, including “Superstition,” “Papa Was a Rollin’ Stone,” and “My Girl.” Each song was received with great enthusiasm, and the audience sang along with every word.

The Temptations’ lead singer, Otis Williams, introduced the band to the audience and thanked them for coming out to see them. He spoke about the history of the Temptations and their journey from the streets of Memphis to the top of the charts.

The Temptations’ performance was a reminder of the power of music to bring people together. The audience was united in their love for the Temptations and their music. It was a night I will never forget.

Tumbleweeds

Decked out to be checked out.

Buttoned shirts. Festival faded jeans, boots and experiences like a naive taste taste.

Needless to say I was totally dig the naivete is taste.

Try your carry out service

Ph: 351-9994

Cocktail Lounge

Guitarist-Vocalist Every Sunday

325 E. Market Street
351-9994

For people who walk on this earth...

Share Easter Greetings

Send greeting cards with your personal message.

Call 253-5900 for more info.

THIEVES MARKET

Sun., April 14 11 am-5 pm

Old Ballroom, IMU

Registration begins Friday, March 29 at the Activities Center, IMU.
Hank passes Babe; 715 and counting

ATLANTA (AP) — Hank Aaron, unmoved in the wake of controversy surrounding his passing of Babe Ruth, had no warning Monday night when he became the 13th of his illustrious career.

The 40-year-old Atlanta Braves superstar left behind the ghost of the legendary Babe after hitting his 715th home run, passing the record held by former New York Yankees star Roger Maris in 1961.

Aaron passed Babe; 715 and counting

Hank Aaron had ended his highly decorated career in 1974 after hitting 755 career home runs, but his record was broken by former Los Angeles Dodgers star Mike Piazza in 2007, who hit his 756th career home run.

Aaron's performance on the field was accompanied by controversy surrounding his decision to play in the 1974 World Series.

The 1974 World Series was the last of his career, as he retired at the end of the season to focus on his family and the Braves.

Aaron's legacy will forever be tied to his pursuit of Babe Ruth's home run record, which he surpassed in 1974 with his 715th career home run.