Poll

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) - The latest Gallup poll shows voters believe Democrats are better able to handle foreign and defense policy.

In a recent poll of 1,572 adult Americans, 65 per cent of the Democrats said they believed the Democrats would handle foreign and defense policy better than the Republicans, compared to only 33 per cent of the Republicans.

This represents a significant decline for the GOP, which had held a lead of at least 15 per cent in polls conducted in the past year.

The poll did not include question on the Democratic candidate for president.

President Nixon and congressional leaders were expected to meet this week to discuss the question of a constitutional amendment to provide for a two-term limit on the presidency.

Experts were divided on the issue of a constitutional amendment, with some arguing that it is necessary to prevent the concentration of power in one person, while others contended that it would undermine the presidency as a symbol of national unity.

In the last week, there has been significant public pressure on the President to consider a constitutional amendment.

Election

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP) - With two days remaining before the general election, the outcome of the presidential race is still in doubt, with polls showing that the race would be very close.

President Nixon and the Republican Party have maintained a narrow lead in recent polls, but the Democratic Party has been gaining ground.

The race is expected to be decided by a narrow margin, with both candidates vying for the critical swing states.

Heart

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) - If the fight to keep her being brainwashed continues, Patricia, a 19-year-old student, may be forced to leave her university.

Patricia, a member of a multiracial group, was reportedly caught in a battle between Israeli soldiers and the leftist guerrilla group C.P.I. (Communist Party of Indonesia).

The battle was sparked by a protest against the visita last Wednesday by President Ford to the area.

Patricia was reportedly captured and beaten, but witnesses said she was being held against her will.

Ford

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) - Vice President Spiro Agnew and his wife will be a weekend stay in this resort area.

The Ford visit is expected to be a significant boost for the area, which has been struggling to attract tourists.

Mideast

The Associated Press

The Israeli Supreme Court on Tuesday ruled that Jewish students who escape from classes or drop out of school to protest against the occupation of the Golan Heights would not be penalized.

The court's decision came in response to a petition filed by a group of students who were arrested for refusing to attend classes.

The ruling stated that the students had a right to protest against the occupation, and that they should not be penalized for their actions.

Senators vote for tuition refund laws

WASHINGTON (AP) -- With many American colleges and universities closing this year due to the high cost of tuition, a bill was introduced in Congress today to provide for a tuition refund in case of a government shutdown.

Senators from both parties have been working on this issue, and the bill was expected to be debated in the near future.

Senators consider new tax laws

WASHINGTON (AP) -- Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger met with Ambassador Yoshida of Japan in New York to discuss the possibility of a meeting between him and Prime Minister Tadao Nakasone of Japan.

Kissinger has stepped up his diplomatic efforts in recent weeks, making several key visits to various countries in the region.

Steel industry ok's back pay plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The steel industry, following lengthy negotiations with the government, has agreed to pay about $1 billion in back pay to steel workers who were injured, disabled or interviewed by the government in 1968. The agreement, which is expected to cost the industry about $3 billion, includes $1 billion for steel workers and $1 billion for government employees. The agreement will benefit about 300,000 steel workers who were injured or disabled in 1968, and about 50,000 government employees who were interviewed by the government in 1968.

New book tells story behind Agnew resignation

WASHINGTON (AP) — In examining a pattern of actions by Spiro Agnew, president of the United States, this book says Agnew seems to have had a pattern of actions which, if continued, might have led to a new book on the Agnew administration. The book is the first book on the Agnew administration and was written by the author, who has been an observer of the Agnew administration for several years.

Iowa Senators urge end to war

Editor's Note: The following editorial is reprinted with the permission of The Nation magazine.

The Nation focuses renewed attention on the dangerous war the Administration is waging in Laos. On March 27, Sen. Harold E. Hughes (D. Iowa) reminded the Senate that it is "a war of occupation," which means thatthe Cambodians" "intrusion," continues to deprive Congress and the people of full, frank and fearless fighting in IndoChina. The Senator found, for example, that under the cover of a "peace offensive," sixty ground operations have been launched against the U.S. forces in Laos. The American armed forces are killed and wounded; 1,649 have been killed by the United States forces. The American army is killing and wounding the Cambodians, who have been killed and wounded in those areas. The situation is rapidly deteriorating.

The Nation points out that American forces have flooded into Laos to the tune of $2 billion. Senator Hughes pointed out that while American forces have no official commitment to Laos, they are being used to fight there. The Senator wants to know how much longer the American forces will continue to "fight" in Laos. He wants to know how much longer they will continue to "fight" in Laos. He wants to know how much longer they will continue to "fight" in Laos. He wants to know how much longer they will continue to "fight" in Laos.

YAF leader cites group's individualism

by LEWIS D'RUFIN

He could fit many molds. He was a pilot, until too late into the war, dodging dogfights and sambos. He was elected to the state legislature, and even ran as a political student. "I think we have changed a lot from the white shirt, many black, crew-cut types," he said.

But there was something a little different about John Perry, the midwestern director of the Young Americans for Freedom, YAF, a national conservative, student political organization. Perry, in a recently ubiited University of Iowa speech in Hancher, Texas, in response YAF activity in 13 Midwest states, including Iowa.

And Perry was disappointed.
In his speeches, particularly University of Iowa students, he found that "the average Iowa student" was not expressing the organization's "true belief," and was therefore leaving people.

"YAF is basically the fur ishment of the conservative movement," he said. "It's the people who are.
And I think our political organization was not expressing the organization's "true

Film on college life flunks reality test

By JOHN BURSTE

When Marvin Breslin's The Wild One hit the screen in 1954, California, Jimmy Barge (and his left-hand angel) punched the clock every eight seconds, making movies seem like old-fashioned film noir. The Bad Biker and the cheerleaders were defunct, parents were raising bright and clean, and graduate students (Timothy Bottoms) who were not the sort of people who cheered for movies, and cheated: in the space of two hours you get a leave of absence, snow, rain, and sun are inserted, in that order, that gives him enough leeway to carp and still get away with it.

NEW YORK (AP) - Lydia is a suburban housewife with three grown children. She says she has never been a woman, but she is a homosexual. Lydia and Don, a 30-year-old bachelor who says that men and women are equally attractive to him, say he has had affairs with both.

Lydia and Don and hundreds of other people today will themselves bisexual. To Doane it means "to be able to seek out a man or love partner for just the most honest of human feeling as opposed to purely sexual benefits." Homosexuality has become a hot topic these days. Many still call it a sin, but, nevertheless, declare the morality of its existence as they do heterosexuality.

"The most popular opinion, however, is that they are normal sexual beings and that they should have the same rights of existence as all others, regardless of sexual orientation."
