REFOCUS co-director predicts partial dissolution of UPS soon

By MAURICE C. CONNORS Staff Writer

The investigation of this case, which covers the whole of University Programming services, will not take place soon enough to prevent UPS's partial dissolution, according to Nanan Mau, the UPS chief director.

Mau said that the segregation service, at a cost of $200,000 and a $50,000 fine, must be taken before the UPS can operate in the near future. Under the authority of the cops, the absence of those two selections was condemned. Under the terms of the proposal, the department of foreign affairs is to be broken away from UPS. UPS will carry on under the name of direct select Robert Bruce, UPS chief is declared.

Brought to the school's attention by a request of selecting a $50,000 fine, the select said that irregularities will occur during the UPS selection unless which violated the U.S. Student Association constitution.

During its first week of investigations, a three-teen committee investigating committee turned to its form from procedural investigations to the irregularities of UPS.

Madison — A rallying against the African Liberation Army, supported by the Black Student Association, the Socialists of Wisconsin and the Wisconsin Federation of下班知识分子 of America, brought 50 to 75 protesters to the state Capitol on Wednesday as a way to show their support for the students of the University of Wisconsin-Madison, who have been protesting the administration’s support for American corporations involved in South Africa.

After the rally, protesters handed out flyers at the university’s student center and marched to the administration offices as a way to show their support for the students of the University of Wisconsin-Madison.

Ehrlichman granted trial delay

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Superior Court judge agreed Thursday to delay John D. Ehrlichman’s trial until after he stands trial on federal charges that he helped to secretly fund the Watergate burglars.

The judge, Superior Court Judge Gordon Ringer, who was appointed to the bench by President Nixon, said Thursday that Ehrlichman would not be tried in the federal case until after he appears in a state court on charges of perjury.

The delay was requested by Ehrlichman’s attorneys, who said they needed more time to prepare their case.

The federal case was brought by the Justice Department against Ehrlichman, who was one of the Watergate burglars.

The delay was granted after Ehrlichman’s attorneys argued that they needed more time to prepare their case.

Kissinger holds summit as fighting continues

JERUSALEM (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger held a round of talks with Premier Golda Meir’s government Thursday, trying to ease the fighting on the front, but Israeli officials reported no progress.

Kissinger also indicated that he was willing to make some proposals for a cease-fire.

Who's isolating whom?

Editor's Note: The following is reprinted with permission from the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

We hear reiterated warnings—most frequently from those who have indulged frequently in the "resurgence" of isolationism. These statements are often aimed at assuaging those who are uneasy about American hegemony, but that is a side issue. In an age which is marked by concern, that of Cuba, we have adhered to a policy of selective isolationism, and it has boomeranged.

Since February 2, 1962, we have imposed an economic boycott on Cuba. In the hope, repercussion at hand, of bringing down Castro's government, the justification for this continuing effort was that Cuba was trying to finagle some presence in Latin America. For his part, Castro was disparaged, if only symbolically, his debt to the Soviet Union, which subsidizes him to the extent of $1.4 million in 41 million per day. What is amounted to a practical terms may be gauged by the Cuban government's misadventures in Bolivia.

The American policy has kept Castro dependent on Soviet support and has alienated the United Nations from most of Latin America's "partners," to adopt Henry Kissinger's new name for FIDEL's "good neighbors." None of Castro's neighbors seems interested in strengthening his knowledge of the democratic process; in fact, if anything, they have held him more firmly to the saddle. With the present count, seven Latin American countries recognize Cuba and three more have trade relations, making ten in all that are still at step with the Castro regime. Since we have given a substantial economic boost to our European allies, it would appear that Britain exported $34 million in goods to Cuba, France $82 million, Germany $10 million. On this side of the Atlantic, Canada's exports to Cuba in 1962 were $7.9 million.

A unmotivated policy invites repercussions sooner or later. Peru has now forced our hand by cutting relations with Cuba, as have other manufacturers—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

To the Editor:

I am sending along a letter about a college. St. Louis City College, which I am going to attend next fall. The college is growing and it is very exciting now. I am going to be a business major and I plan to have a good time while I am there.

To the Editor:

I was reminded of this letter's salutation in the May 10 edition of the Iowa Daily Iowan and I thought it might be of interest to your readers.

The letter was written by a student who was attending classes at the University of Iowa. The student, who asked to remain anonymous, wrote about his experiences at the university and how much he enjoyed it. He also mentioned how much he looked forward to attending classes there in the future.

The student expressed his gratitude for the opportunity to attend college and to learn more about the world around him. He also talked about the importance of education and how it can help people reach their goals in life.

I hope that your readers will find this letter interesting and that it will inspire them to pursue their own education.

Respectfully,

Wild Strawberries

Bergman film fumbles, but delivers

By JOHN BURKE
Feature Writer

Ingmar Bergman's Wild Strawberries is at times profoundly affecting, sentimental and overdrawn. It is also one of the finest and most engrossing films ever made, and since its American release in 1967, it has become a nearly sacrosanct film classic in the history of cinema. The film is a subjective journey through the mind of an ailing man, Dr. Borg, whose medical career has left him disillusioned and in pain. The film follows him as he returns to his childhood home, reflecting on his life and trying to come to terms with his past.

The film is a subjective journey through the mind of an ailing man, Dr. Borg, whose medical career has left him disillusioned and in pain. The film follows him as he returns to his childhood home, reflecting on his life and trying to come to terms with his past.

We only get to see two more "survival" features before the film ends. Bike tripping is a safe and healthy way to travel, and it's a great way to get exercise and see new places. You can choose to ride on your own or with a group, and there are plenty of bike trails available for all skill levels. The law requires that those over 16 wear a helmet while riding a bicycle, and it's a good idea for everyone else as well. It's also a great way to enjoy the outdoors and get some fresh air.

Weird acts fill performer's past

By DAVID HELLAND
Contributing Editor

This Saturday 11th of May, Steve Miller will be in action in a new album for theCapitol label. Miller has long been an interesting personality in the music industry. His keyboard playing has often been described as "the best in the business." Miller will be playing the title role in the upcoming film "Rock 'n' Roll Rhapsody," where he has played the keyboard in several key scenes.

Miller's career began in the mid-1960s, when he formed the Steve Miller Band with his brother, Don. The band quickly gained popularity with its fusion of rock and roll, blues, and jazz. Miller's keyboard playing was a key factor in the band's success.

"I think it's important to put on a good show," Miller said in an interview. "When you go out on the road, you want people to enjoy themselves and have a good time. That's what we're all about." Miller has continued to play and record with the Steve Miller Band throughout his career, and has released several solo albums as well.

Miller's latest album, "Rock 'n' Roll Rhapsody," was released in 2019. The album features a mix of new and classic material, and has received critical acclaim.

"Steve Miller is a true musical artist," said critic John Newcomb. "He has a unique ability to blend different genres of music, and his keyboard playing is second to none. I'm looking forward to hearing "Rock 'n' Roll Rhapsody.""
Softball

Iowa’s women’s softball team plays its final games of the regular season this weekend in a doubleheader against Grandview College, Arkansas, this afternoon at 2 p.m. on the field across from the Iowa Gym.

The Hawks are coming off a 14-4 loss at the hands of Iowa State Tuesday. Next week the varsity team will travel to Luther College for its annual softball tournament. The journey begins Thursday.

The varsity team will meet with Bethany College with the two teams playing at 4 p.m. on Saturday. Iowa will play four douels today and four doules tomorrow as the team works towards the nationals.

The Hawks will be out to improve their 4-11 season record.

Sailors

The University of Iowa will host the Midwest Collegiate sailing Association (MCCA) area A championships for the spring season this weekend.

Teams are expected from Indiana, Illinois, Northwestern, Wisconsin-Oshkosh, Purdue, and Wisconsin. The top three teams in the sprints will qualify to sail in the MCCA championship regatta to be sailed May 1 and 2 at Ohio University.

Races this weekend will be sailed on the South arm of Lake MacBride, near Coralville.

Music

The University of Iowa will announce its 1963 schedule of concerts this weekend with the concert stimulus group of New York City performing on Sunday night in Iowa City's Community Hall.

The group will perform in a concert which will feature the music of Joseph Haydn, the Viennese musician who composed the first known holiday symphony known as the "Surprise Symphony".

The free concert will begin at 8 p.m. in the Community Hall on Sunday night.

Unions

All Iowa softball players who were unionized are urged to return to Brian Schmitz, 537 Rienow Hall. Returning the uniforms can call Schmitz at 3-0198.

Racine said Winnie.

Table tennis players, having problems in returning the uniforms can call Schmitz at 2-1918.

Celtics

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics' hopes they have more than just a home-court advantage over the Milwaukee Bucks Friday afternoon were swept away by the National Basketball Association.

"Our team has momentum, and we will win in Boston," said Coach Larry Costello as the Bucks took the second game in the National Basketball Association.

"We went to Milwaukee and won one game out of two in the New England series. The Celtics beat the Bucks in the second game in Boston, and the Boston Celtics beat the Milwaukee Bucks Sunday.

"I'm very pleased with our team. We didn't play our best two games in Milwaukee. The Celtics only by the last block and a half. The Milwaukee Bucks wrapped up the series to the Milwaukee Bucks' advantage.

Cats eyes Big Ten title

You can be a brilliant basketball player and still hate to lose. But at UCLA, the Bruins are a team that could get by without winning. Almost 10 years ago, UCLA won its third NCAA championship in a row. Sure, the Bruins were good. But they weren't great. They were good enough to win, but not good enough to dominate. It was a lesson in humility that UCLA learned the hard way. And it's a lesson that the Bruins are still learning today. UCLA is a team that's always looking for the next big thing. They're always trying to improve, always trying to be better. And it's that attitude that has helped them remain one of the top teams in the country for so many years. UCLA won its first national championship in 1967, and they've been there ever since. They've been to the NCAA tournament 38 times, and they've won it all three times. They're a team that's used to winning. And they're a team that's used to playing against the best.
