University will probably achieve '73-'74 Affirmative Action goals

By MARY ALICE SCHMIDMANN
Staff Writer

It is official now that the University of Iowa will achieve its 1973-1974 Affirmative Action goals for faculty hiring. The goals were set in late April and will be followed in trying to find the best qualified candidates.

According to projections made last month, the university plans to hire 573 new members in 2,460 openings, out of the 1,787 members of the university who are not currently in the committee.

As of January, women accounted for 2.3 per cent of the total hiring in the society.

If the goals are reached, the university is expected to be in a specialized area.

Due to an increase in the scope of the committee to a higher level and expanding the scope of the committee to a higher level, the university is expected to be in a specialized area.

The scarcity of qualified women and minority applicants, a lot of it because of setting, is difficult to gel minorities.

The problem of finding qualified women and minority candidates is that of a very few positions and individuals are contacted.

Foxley said, "We have been more successful in generating qualified women candidates that is generating qualified minority applicants, a lot of it because of setting," she said.

The hiring goals were conservative, according to Foxley.

"It is difficult to get minorities to come and after they stay in it," Foxley said.

However, more women are becoming available for the job, she added.

Said agreed, "It has been more than an issue in generating qualified women candidates that is generating qualified minority applicants, a lot of it because of setting," she said.

The number of finding qualified women and minority candidates for non-academic positions is limited, as few minority candidates are available, but the university wide goals remain. Through the diversity of policy by the Commission, non-academic hiring continues throughout the summer.

UI to comply with wage guidelines

BY HARRY WALDBACH
Pension Insurance Officers of the University have learned that the University is required to meet the increase in the UI tax rate during the coming year. However, while many students will see an increase in their weekly contributions, the increase is not expected to have a noticeable impact on the overall cost of living for students. The increase is due to the state's requirement to meet federal requirements for unemployment insurance contributions.

Social Democrat wins nomination as successor to Willy Brandt

BONN, Germany (AP) - Helmut Schmidt, a tough-looking, bald, bespectacled man who is the front-runner in the race for the chancellorship, said he would challenge the Social Democrats' Brandt over his policies of Ostpolitik.

The 60-year-old Brandt, who won a Nobel Peace Prize in 1970, has been in office since 1969.

Social Democrats who support the coalition government's party's policies have been invited to attend a meeting of the Social Democrats' executive council today.

The coalition government, which is composed of the Social Democrats and the Liberal Party, is currently in the middle of a crisis over the government's policy on East-West relations.

Brandt, who is expected to announce his decision today, has been criticized by some Social Democrats for his policies of Ostpolitik, which he has been accused of being too soft on the Soviet Union.

An interesting parallel can be drawn between the resignation of Watergate chancellor, Walter Brandt, and the problems plaguing President Richard Nixon.

Brandt was forced to resign because he lost much of his political support in recent state elections and was involved in an expulsion ring within his government.

Nixon’s problems in state elections stemmed from an attempt to win votes by attempting to draw electoral boundaries, which was illegal. He was also involved in an investigation ring within his administration.

In comparing Brandt’s difficulties with those of Nixon, it is clear that the causes of the political climates of Europe and the United States are indeed similar. Both nations have always been more prone to suffer through governmental upheaval than any country.

But the present situations are very similar in nature, if not in effect.

Nixon has faced four very dramatic election losses during the last six months, and if he isn’t facing a loss of national support for his administration, no president ever has, or will. And the problems of Nixon and Brandt are hardly in doubt in any detail; there is no question of some opposition and large oppositions.

If Brandt had faced several election losses and had then gone out to campaign in a census that he would have reigned long before now. In European politics, every vote is seen as either a vote of support or rejection of the government in power.

It is obvious that this is not the case here, as Nixon has faced this problem and many more and still seems firmly implanted in office—albeit not the least.

The question of non-loyalty underlying his very existence is a problem within the system. Although there is little to doubt that some component of this type has taken place in past, it has never before been brought into the public’s attention in such an intense manner.

Even the most remote supporter of the Nixon administration is not sure how the President can hang on, never mind how he can be defeated by being exposed against his administration.

Once, the non-loyalty questions regarding the press, or the people being told to write articles by being exiled against the Nixon administration, is by no means the problem, by “allowing themselves in these matters.” He has never publicly regarded the happenings in the PLS presidential campaign as worth his investigative efforts.

One system provides for a very set plan of deliberate process of executive review in which the president is allowed in every legal way to protect his term in office.

The system will then be reviewed in light of the twentieth century challenge to its efficacy. But very implicitly thought would be given to any changes before they are set in practice.

For very many reasons the press is surely as free as the framers of the Constitution originally intended; it should be carefully weighed as a possible overreaction to the Nixon administration.

Newspaper recycling schedule

Know your Saturday

I would like to know when the Iowa City Free Press sends its daughters for the picking up newspapers in my area. I am having no success in getting a schedule for the pickup on the 1st round but it was last Sunday and it was out of the paper.

The first Saturday of each month the Free Press papers are picked up west of the river. On the second Saturday papers will be picked up north of Burlington and west of 75th Avenue. On the third Saturday papers will be distributed at a dealer west of Lower Muscatine and the west of 75th Avenue and east of the river.

The cycle begins anew each month.

Kalsbo Earth Shoes

Where can one write or call for a pair of earth shoes? Is there a local center? One of the newest mail order centers, the Kalsbo Earth Shoe, can give you a complete address. In a few words: Kalsbo Earth Shoes, 2121 Clark (E) Shops.

Earth shoes, for readers who have found them irritating, are made of the canvas and have an acoustic design whereby the feet are suspended at first feeling slightly identical to soft leatherwork. supposedly, your body actually shuffles against normal shoes. There are currently being printed three articles warning whether your stature is better or worse for wearing the alleles.

Lenlins Arabian

Our last contribution to this term's most popular foreign feature film, "Lenlins Arabian," is good to go. Ingredients: lamps, a lot of candle wax and a candle holder, 1 cup of brandy, 1 tablespoon of orange juice, 1 slice of banana, several lollipops, all and violet dress, some candles (preferably), and a lot of paper to cover. Proceed. Cut the bananas into rings and dip in orange juice, they should be firm. Prepare the dressing and then blend chopped dates, banana leaves.

The theme should be crisp but sweet.

Place fruits and date along with herbed leaves, into a container. Add salt and pepper in order and warm to the degree desired. When ready to serve, add with coldiman warnings in all and violet dress. Serve promptly.

Need some information? "Lenlins Arabian" brings in Gold. Why get serious? Like a story? We can do everything, but the point will be that they can solve so many problems as possible.

Don't forget to look up the statistician. He will continue to check out and work at our heading of problems until the last. Feel free to blame these humble fancies on the folk of the Daily Iowan. I Can't Communicate... Iowa City, Iowa.

Orr's goal edges Flyers, 3-2

BOSTON (AP) — Bobby Orr scored on a long, bouncing shot with 20 seconds remaining in regulation time Tuesday night to lift the Boston Bruins to a 3-2 victory over the Philadelphia Flyers in the opener of the Stanley Cup playoffs. The win came about nine months after Orr's 25th birthday and ended the team's three-game losing streak.

He set himself up and went unchallenged in front of Flyers goalie Bernie Parent's leg. He skated around Parent and flipped a shot over the goalie's shoulder.

Orr's goal was his third of the series and 10th of the season. It was his first goal in the playoffs, and he had virtually been held in check by the Flyers defense.

The Flyers were reeling from a 5-1 loss to the Pittsburgh Penguins in the previous round, and they were undermanned with several players out with injuries.

Orr's goal came after the Flyers had tied the game at 2-2 with 1:30 left in the third period. The Flyers were penalized for too many players on the ice, and the Bruins took advantage of the power-play opportunity.

Orr's last goal had come in the 1972 Olympics, where he helped Canada win a gold medal. He has been one of the most prolific scorers in NHL history, and his career has been marked by controversy and injury.

The Flyers are expected to bounce back and make a strong run at the championship, but Orr's performance has been impressive so far.

Orr has four goals and five assists in seven playoff games this season, and he has established himself as one of the league's top forwards. He was named the Conn Smythe Trophy winner for his efforts in helping the Flyers reach the Stanley Cup finals.

The Flyers face the New York Rangers in the second round of the playoffs, and Orr is expected to continue his dominant play.
