Ford urges vote of confidence

WASHINGTON (AP) - An emotional billiant for major all-Republican Democratic gains, President Ford urged Americans to vote Tuesday in these elections in the gad's political system — a system congealing with venomous evil and corruption.

"We will not go to vote for Democrats on Tuesday and Monday. We will be voting for the American way - the American way to make America work again," Ford said.

The President's address from the White House balcony marked the first major television address of his second term, which begins Jan. 1.

In a message that is both personal and political, Mr. Ford said his administration faces "the serious issues of the day" - including "the threat of nuclear power" and "the threat of economic decline."

Mr. Ford said the administration has been "very successful" in dealing with these issues, and he called on Americans to vote for Republican candidates.

Many polls have shown that the current Republican legislative majority is not enough to overcome two Democratic leaders in Washington, D.C., President Ford and Speaker of the House, who have challenged the President's leadership.

The President expressed hope that the current Republican legislation will hold the line in the Senate against the Democratic advance.

The latest AP poll, based on reports from two hundred areas, showed that the President's party is ahead in most states, but the margins are very narrow.

The President said that if the Democrats have a majority in the Senate, they will "probably" be able to "pass some of their bills," but that he expects the President to "be able to move our agenda." which has soared.

An Associated Press survey shows grocery sales on meat and eggs have been up as much as 5 percent or more than the average.

During September, the AP survey showed all but one of the 50 states was up in cities and towns only.

The biggest savings in the survey were in the cities as a result of lower rent.

The latest check showed that during October, the bill for

Postscripts

Corrections

By MARIA LAWSON

A Johnson County grand jury investigation is underway in response to complaints about the local drug situation.

A grand jury session was held on January 20th in the Johnson County Courthouse.

Christiansen Science

By MARIA LAWSON

UPS Travel

UPS Travel Agency, 105 First Avenue South, will be open during normal hours.

Radio Club

The ISU Radio Club will hold its meeting on Thursday, November 10th at 7:00 p.m.

Folksonks

The ISU Radio Club will present a variety of programs on Thursday, November 10th.

Bible Study

Every Sunday morning at 10:00 a.m.

Iowa Needs JOHN CULVER IN THE U.S. SENATE

Robert Burns discusses BICYCLE PATHS AT THE STATE HOUSE

I present to the board of supervisors that we should improve bicycle-path systems in the city of Cedar Rapids.

The board agreed to the proposal and will work with the city council on the project.

Let's Talk Issues!

Robert Burns discusses BICYCLE PATHS AT THE STATE HOUSE

I presented to the board of supervisors that we should improve bicycle-path systems in the city of Cedar Rapids.

The board agreed to the proposal and will work with the city council on the project.

Re-elect Bob Burns

Democrat for County Supervisor

Paid for by Bob Burns Committee, Diane Seelman, Treasurer

Iowa Needs JOHN CULVER IN THE U.S. SENATE

Robert Burns discusses BICYCLE PATHS AT THE STATE HOUSE

I presented to the board of supervisors that we should improve bicycle-path systems in the city of Cedar Rapids.

The board agreed to the proposal and will work with the city council on the project.

Let's Talk Issues!

Robert Burns discusses BICYCLE PATHS AT THE STATE HOUSE

I presented to the board of supervisors that we should improve bicycle-path systems in the city of Cedar Rapids.

The board agreed to the proposal and will work with the city council on the project.

Re-elect Bob Burns

Democrat for County Supervisor

Paid for by Bob Burns Committee, Diane Seelman, Treasurer

A career in law—

without law school.

What can you do with only a bachelor's degree? There is a way to improve the quality of life in your community without going to law school.

Iowa Needs JOHN CULVER IN THE U.S. SENATE

Robert Burns discusses BICYCLE PATHS AT THE STATE HOUSE

I presented to the board of supervisors that we should improve bicycle-path systems in the city of Cedar Rapids.

The board agreed to the proposal and will work with the city council on the project.

Let's Talk Issues!

Robert Burns discusses BICYCLE PATHS AT THE STATE HOUSE

I presented to the board of supervisors that we should improve bicycle-path systems in the city of Cedar Rapids.

The board agreed to the proposal and will work with the city council on the project.

Re-elect Bob Burns

Democrat for County Supervisor

Paid for by Bob Burns Committee, Diane Seelman, Treasurer

A career in law—

without law school.

What can you do with only a bachelor's degree? There is a way to improve the quality of life in your community without going to law school.
Amendments called ‘housekeeping changes’

Constitutional changes are silent issues

By VALENCIA KLEFFEN

The Iowa Senate has approved a constitutional amendment that would allow the Iowa Legislature to authorize the Iowa Board of Regents to distribute $200 million in financial aid to low-income students. The amendment was approved by a vote of 34-0 in the Senate on Monday.

The amendment, introduced by Sen. William Medalia, R-Des Moines, would provide the legislature with the authority to authorize the board to distribute the funds. The amendment would be consistent with the Iowa Constitution and the need to support low-income students, said Medalia.

The amendment would also allow the legislature to authorize the board to distribute the funds to students who meet certain criteria, such as being from low-income families or attending a four-year college.

The amendment was opposed by Sen. Mark Koziol, D-Mason City, who argued that it would create a new entitlement program that would be difficult to fund.

The amendment was approved by a vote of 34-0 in the Senate on Monday.

---

Iowa students to gain from $200 million financial aid package

By MARK KLEFFEN

Governor Kim Reynolds on Monday signed legislation into law that will provide $200 million in financial aid to low-income students at Iowa colleges and universities.

The legislation, SB 1271, was introduced by Senator William Medalia, R-Des Moines, and passed unanimously by the Iowa Senate last week.

"This legislation is a major step forward in ensuring that Iowa students have the opportunity to pursue their dreams," said Governor Reynolds. "We must do everything in our power to make college affordable for all Iowans."
Four Out of Ten Students
See Justification for Terrorism

While they don't necessarily think that terrorism and kidnap are effective political tools, over four out of ten of the 130 students selected at random believe that terrorism is a means of obtaining real political results in the United States, Western Europe, or the United Nations.

The topic? The use of political terrorism.

In late Sept., Secretary of Defense Forrestal expressed considerable disapproval of the use of terrorism as a political tool. When a fair number of respondents agreed, Forrestal said, "I think it is justified because of the inherent internal problems we have in this country."

An interesting sidelight was gained into the visibility of official criticism when, over a period of six months, five statements were utilized.

When asked if circumstances existed under which political terrorism might be justified, however, respondents allowed that terrorism might be justified.

Most agreed "somewhat" with the statement: "There are circumstances when political terrorism is justified."

DI Endorsements? IN THE EDITOR

This letter is in reference to the Iowa-TIles., November 1972 endorsements by The Daily Iowan, Vol.

The use of terrorism as a political tool might be justified in the United States if the balance of power within congress were to be turned over to the Democrats. If the Democrats were to lessen the influence of the Republicans, the possibility would be a diplomatic counter-embargo to compete with the United States.

DI itself did endorse political candidates, but the number of DI staff did endorse candidates.

DI did endorse political candidates, but the number of DI staff did endorse candidates. While a fair number of respondents agreed with the statement, it appears that there were enough DI staff members to have made it happen.

The possibility of a full-scale military operation are far from certain.

The United Nations is still a powerful international body, but it is not as strong as it once was. The possibility of a full-scale military operation is not as likely as it once was. The possibility of a full-scale military operation is still a possibility, but it is not as likely as it once was.

The United Nations is still a powerful international body, but it is not as strong as it once was. The possibility of a full-scale military operation is not as likely as it once was.
Evidence obtained from Bittman

Hunt memo jolts cover-up trial

By NICK PERSEY

Nov. 6, 1973

Off your vegetables rarely goes behind the scenes of a presidential election. However, even having lost some presidential and vice-presidential campaigns, Bissinger has more than his share of lessons to teach on the inside of Washington's often opaque politics.

Bissinger's book, "The 42nd Annual Scopio Celebration," is a unique look at the dynamics of the political process, particularly in the area of presidential campaigns.

The book is divided into two parts: the first part covers the election campaign itself, while the second part focuses on the aftermath of the campaign and the role of the media in shaping public opinion.

In the first part, Bissinger takes the reader inside the minds of the candidates and their strategists, providing a glimpse of the pressures and stresses that are part of presidential politics. He also provides an in-depth look at the role of the media in shaping the campaign and the public's perception of the candidates.

The second part of the book delves into the aftermath of the campaign, examining the role of the media in shaping public opinion and the impact of the campaign on the candidates' careers. Bissinger also provides a detailed look at the role of the media in shaping the perception of the candidates and their policies.

Overall, "The 42nd Annual Scopio Celebration" is a fascinating and informative read for anyone interested in the dynamics of presidential politics.
The European Discovery of America: The Spanish Voyages of 1492-1526
By Samuel Eliot Morison
Harcourt Brace Jovanovich, New York, 1970

A deep sea-lover for his subject allows Samuel Eliot Morison's new work, The European Discovery of America: The Spanish Voyages of 1492-1526, to reveal his passion for the subject. Morison's expertise and thorough research make this an fascinating and informative book, well worth reading.

Both seaward and inland, Morison brings unique qualifications to the task. After Pearl Harbor he was commissioned in the United States Navy, and he saw action in six battles of World War II. In 1964 he joined the Harvard faculty and since 1968 he has been E. Carter Mattison Professor of History. He is the author of numerous books about American History, many of which are about Columbus and his voyages, and he wrote a 12-volume History of United States Naval Operations in World War II.

This happy marriage of facts and interests has provided extraordinarily fine results. As a native of the province, he followed Columbus across the Atlantic. His narrative is smooth and readable, and he infuses it with his own love for poetry and adventure. And his empathy for the subject makes him an unusual author. As he says in his preface, he "followed Columbus across the ocean, reading him to see the land he was so interested in." In his own words, he is "not a religious man, but a lover of land." The men wanted to find a new route to the Indies, and they expected to find a source of gold. The island they found was useless to complain. But "Columbus' "discovery" was the first step in a journey that would change the world.

Morison states that the parallel of European myth was always "corresponding with practice, gallant, and errant love." All of the explorers carried this myth as a part of their "mental baggage," but only Ponce de Leon "wants to prove the object of a legend." When Morison says, "it must be em- phasized that the Falcon of Youth was a product not of a religious myth, and none of Love loved it by trying to land where he expected to land in order to pluck the pomegranate of the sky." Phenix Florida, the "Falcon of Youth." Sometimes writing in the present tense, sometimes in the past, Morison always strives to make the reader feel as though he were there, to see the sights, to live the experiences, to understand the contributions and adventures which belief helps.

Marlene Dietrich in DESIRE directed by Frank Borzage
THE FLAME OF NEW ORLEANS directed by Rene Clair
COMEDY FILM SOCIETY
Mon. & Tues., 7 p.m. Only $1.00
bijou THEATRE

Iowa Center for the Arts Production of

FISHER ON THE ROOF

Hancher Auditorium
Nov. 8, 9, 13, 14, 15, 16, 8 p.m.
Nov. 10, 3 p.m.

Now on sale to all of its patrons from student union or on phone 415.
Until students a.r.e sold out, 36. 50
Then union students 10. 50, 30
Tickets available at Hancher Box Office

Last opportunity to purchase University Theatre Season Tickets at reduced rates.

Girls! Girls! Girls! Amateur
GO-GO Contest
EVERY TUES.-6:30 P.M.
S$100
in the winner.
$25
in the contest.

100 winners are eligible to enter the Miss Sports (13th Contest) to be held December-February-11th grand prize.

The Honest Graduate
321 2nd Avenue, Coralville

CARD

E T C

101 S. DuVieux

CROSSWORD PUZZLE

ACROSS
1. Oregon (11)
2. Pasteur (11)
3. British spheres (11)
4. 1957 (11)
5. Temple of the Sun (4)
6. Ponce de Leon (11)
7. Why (11)
8. Poet (4)
9. School (5)
10. The by (5)
11. Right to (5)
12. Again (5)
13. Philippines (11)
14. 12 (11)
15. Again (5)
16. Poet (5)
17. Under (5)
18. Language (5)
19. Island (5)
20. Right (5)
21. Speech (5)
22. Right (5)
23. Right (5)
24. Right (5)
25. Right (5)
26. Right (5)
27. Right (5)
28. Right (5)
29. Right (5)
30. Right (5)
31. Right (5)
32. Right (5)
33. Right (5)
34. Right (5)
35. Right (5)
36. Right (5)
37. Right (5)
38. Right (5)
39. Right (5)
40. Right (5)

DOWN
1. A Masterpiece (11)
2. Back (11)
3. Back (11)
4. Back (11)
5. Back (11)
6. Back (11)
7. Back (11)
8. Back (11)
9. Back (11)
10. Back (11)
11. Back (11)
12. Back (11)
13. Back (11)
14. Back (11)
15. Back (11)
16. Back (11)
17. Back (11)
18. Back (11)
20. Back (11)
21. Back (11)
22. Back (11)
23. Back (11)
24. Back (11)
25. Back (11)
26. Back (11)
27. Back (11)
28. Back (11)
29. Back (11)
30. Back (11)
31. Back (11)
32. Back (11)
33. Back (11)
34. Back (11)
35. Back (11)
36. Back (11)
37. Back (11)
38. Back (11)
39. Back (11)
40. Back (11)
Aaron closes career as 'discard'

By WILL GLENNERY

A Special Correspondent

NEW YORK (AP) — In the final years for Hank Aaron, as the Atlanta Braves' home run king of all time and a member of their Hall of Fame, the asterisks of his career will be a constant reminder of what might have been.

Aaron's career was marked by his status as a second-classer, a player whose status was determined by the color of his skin. But Atlanta is a sophisticated city, built on an intramural budget. This year, however, the Intramural Coed Basketball tournament. Slebos has even gone a step further and this year the 1M tournament.

The great Babe saved his best for last, driving in the winning run on an inside-the-park home run in the 13th inning to win the 1927 World Series. The Braves wanted no more of it. Thus the saga of Hank Aaron would continue.

by the color of his skin. But Atlanta is a sophisticated city, built on an intramural budget. This year, however, the Intramural Coed Basketball tournament. Slebos has even gone a step further and this year the 1M tournament.

The great Babe saved his best for last, driving in the winning run on an inside-the-park home run in the 13th inning to win the 1927 World Series. The Braves wanted no more of it. Thus the saga of Hank Aaron would continue.

by the color of his skin. But Atlanta is a sophisticated city, built on an intramural budget. This year, however, the Intramural Coed Basketball tournament. Slebos has even gone a step further and this year the 1M tournament.

The great Babe saved his best for last, driving in the winning run on an inside-the-park home run in the 13th inning to win the 1927 World Series. The Braves wanted no more of it. Thus the saga of Hank Aaron would continue.

by the color of his skin. But Atlanta is a sophisticated city, built on an intramural budget. This year, however, the Intramural Coed Basketball tournament. Slebos has even gone a step further and this year the 1M tournament.

The great Babe saved his best for last, driving in the winning run on an inside-the-park home run in the 13th inning to win the 1927 World Series. The Braves wanted no more of it. Thus the saga of Hank Aaron would continue.

by the color of his skin. But Atlanta is a sophisticated city, built on an intramural budget. This year, however, the Intramural Coed Basketball tournament. Slebos has even gone a step further and this year the 1M tournament.

The great Babe saved his best for last, driving in the winning run on an inside-the-park home run in the 13th inning to win the 1927 World Series. The Braves wanted no more of it. Thus the saga of Hank Aaron would continue.