Regents have denied Wheel Room alcohol policy requests

By ERICH HARDKIN

The Iowa City Express, a university newspaper, reported that John Dean will speak at the UI Foundation dinner, as the University of Iowa has announced that he will speak at the UI Foundation dinner. The report was published in the Daily Iowan, which is the student newspaper of the University of Iowa. The Daily Iowan is a daily newspaper that covers local news, sports, and campus events.

The decision not to end in a close vote — the proposal just a score in the Senate — was announced Friday by the UI Foundation board. The board voted 6-3 to approve the policy.

The implications of Rodriguez's statement being made today, and perhaps today is to deny the board its majority, said the UI Foundation board. The board has not yet decided what to do.

Dean's press conference was held in the UI Foundation board room. He said that he believed the board's decision was the right one.

"I don't like to see people "In my view, it is necessary to consider the implications of Rodriguez's statement before making a decision," he said.

Dean, who is a law professor at UI, said that he believed the board's decision was the right one.

"I don't think we should have a vote on the policy," he said. "I think it's important to consider the implications of Rodriguez's statement before making a decision."

Abortion conviction stirs controversy

By JOHN BOWIE

"More and more poetry is going to be published because they didn't allow the authorities to do what they did," said Kathy Koff, a Florida resident in charge of the Washington D.C. branch of the National Abortion Federation. "It was a trial that could have ended in the death of the fetus during a procedure." In November, the Supreme Court ruled that a doctor who killed the fetus during a procedure could be charged with murder. The verdict will send shock waves into the medical community, said Koff.

Koff was one of the six doctors who were convicted. The Supreme Court ruled that a doctor who killed the fetus during a procedure could be charged with murder. The verdict will send shock waves into the medical community, said Koff.

In the past two years the North Vietnamese have dominated the political scene in southern Indo-China. The current administration of President Thieu is a mere puppet. There are signs that his deficiencies are well known and that the time has come for a change. The North Vietnamese may use this opportunity to bring about a peace settlement.

A number of factors could aid the North Vietnamese in their bid for victory. The South Vietnamese have yet to come to grips with the revolution in the country. Despite many manpower weaknesses and other problems, the North Vietnamese have been able to take advantage of the situation and gain a great deal of ground. They have been able to rebuild the South Vietnamese military and to create a more effective and mobile army.

The迏rominaia of the)o at the Ch. Minh Trail is important in order to keep the enemy from advancing into the south. One of the major tasks of the North Vietnamese army now is to prevent any invasion by enemy forces. The South Vietnamese forces must be prepared to deal with this threat.

Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap, who supervised the development of the North Vietnamese military in the early 1950s, is now in charge of the defense of the south. He has emphasized the importance of using local resources and has called for the use of guerilla tactics. He has also put great emphasis on the use of propaganda and on the importance of the civilian population.

The North Vietnamese can expect to face several challenges in the coming years. The American military presence in the area, as well as the presence of other foreign forces, may make it difficult for the North Vietnamese to achieve their goals.

The United States has a role to play in the resolution of this conflict. The United States has provided military assistance to the South Vietnamese in the past and has been involved in the negotiation of peace agreements. The United States should continue to support the South Vietnamese in their efforts to achieve a peaceful resolution to this conflict.

When was the last time you voted for the board of directors at the local bank?

Not likely you ever could. But there is a savings institution where you can act as an owner in deciding what happens to your money. It's your Credit Union. If you're eligible by membership, it pays a dividends, not interest. You can write for a copy of the rates. We pay high, substantial returns on your savings. And when you become a member, you get a share of the cooperative's profits, which is called a dividend.

You and your dates get to vote for the Board of Directors (or, in a co-op, for the committee) if you're so inclined.

If you're the U of I faculty or staff, you're eligible!

HOLM NIPS KILGORE AS IOWA ROMPS OVERS, 34-31

By Brian Schmitz

Iowa beat KU by 31 points Saturday afternoon at KU, taking the Big Eight lead outright for the season. The Hawkeye's defense was outstanding and Holm, the nation's top scorer, was in top form. Iowa has won four straight and is still a threat in the Big Eight this season.

In the Big Eight, Iowa is alone in the lead with a 28-5 record.

Hawkeye coach Bob Allen said of Holm, "Iowa's other player, Terry Drake, also played well, but we knew we had to get Holm going, and we were able to do that. He scored 11 points in the first half and then added 11 more in the second half."

Holm, who leads the nation in scoring with 28.1 points per game, scored 22 of his 31 points in the second half, lifting Iowa to a 70-45 margin over KU. Drake added 11 points and Bob Noble added 10 in the victory.

Iowa had trouble with KU's defense in the first half, but Holm was able to get things rolling in the second half. The Hawkeyes were able to outscore KU by 15 points in the second half and had a decided advantage in free throws, 16-2.

Iowa will travel to New York next week to play in the Big Eight championship game. The Hawkeyes are playing well and are in good shape for the Big Eight title.

Blood test

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two University of California campuses say they have devised a test to detect dangerous and often fatal blood clots before they occur, in an effort to save lives.

The test requires a tiny sample of the patient's blood, which is drawn and sent to a machine at the UC Medical Center here with his or her release. Dr. Mark Redon, an associate professor of medicine who pioneered the experimental device, said the test is not inexpensive.

Redon said the machine is being tested by using an anticoagulant to slow the patient's blood. Then, after the patient's blood is drawn, the machine will analyze the blood clot and determine whether or not the patient is at risk.

Ethiopia

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — Ethiopia's government has ordered the United States to reduce its military presence by up to 100,000 in the coming years.

The move comes after a series of meetings between Ethiopian and American military leaders, including former Defense Secretary Donald H. Rumsfeld, who met with Ethiopian prime minister Meles Zenawi last week.

The Ethiopian government has lowered its military presence in the country by 20% since 2001, but this is the first time that the government has formally announced its intentions to reduce its military presence.

Edelin

BOSTON (AP) — Dr. Kenneth C. Edelin, the Boston university professor of obstetrics and gynecology, and Monday died in a hospital in Boston.

Edelin was known for his work in obstetrics and gynecology, particularly in regards to the prenatal diagnosis of fetal abnormalities.

Energy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Bush's energy package to restore the nation's energy independence has failed to pass Congress, despite efforts by the president and his supporters to push the bill through.

The energy bill, which was introduced in Congress in June, would have provided $25 billion in new incentives for oil and gas exploration, as well as increased tax credits for alternative energy sources.

The bill failed in both the House and Senate, with many Democrats and Republicans opposing it due to concerns about its cost and potential impact on the environment.

Autos

DETROIT (AP) — The nation's car dealers are urging the government to extend cash rebates on new models to the spring because, they say, the program is proving successful.

Car buyers, who now buy 60% of new cars sold, and the end of the month is a time when buyers believe the sales will take off in the spring. They also believe the sales will increase during the month of March.

Brian Stagner, a spokesman for the National Automobile Dealers Association, said the program is helping to increase sales of new cars. He said, "The program is a great way to get new customers into the showroom and to keep them coming back."

Clear

Cloudy today with a chance of snow later in the afternoon and evening. Low today in the mid-40s, highs today in the mid-50s. Wednesday should bring more clouds and showers, with a high in the mid-50s.
