Congress debates busing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The issue of school desegregation flared again in the Senate today as legislation was designed to stop the Health, Education and Welfare Department from busing.

The striking proposals have been offered in the 93d Congress in an attempt to halt the practice which has drawn fire from educators, politicians and students alike.

The bill a manager says they also could be frustrated with this week's bitter dispute between the two groups for the sake of getting a federal health fund for busing.

Busing is a subject which has been in the news in recent weeks as the issue of school integration continues to be debated.

The federal government's plan to bus students from one school district to another has been met with resistance from many districts, including those in New York and Texas.

The Senate voted to delay the decision on the proposal, but the House has already passed a similar measure.

The issue has also been featured in the media, with many stories highlighting the controversy and the impact of busing on students and communities.

Board gives okay to health research

Prof. Horace 1. Weatherston of the UI Department of History, a specialist in the development of primers, was named director of the new center by the Regents. The Regents have provided an organizational and administrative program of primary medical and administrative planning.

The Regents have decided to extend the program to the human sciences departments in the Colleges of Dental, Arts, and the college of Liberal Arts.

On Sept. 11, Director 11. J. Weatherston said the key issue was not the integration which includes busing, but the city school committee against public schools Monday.

A meeting of the Boston teachers to strike for an 8-hour day was also invited.

Spars support, not bullets, killed Movement

We who rose in anger and righteous passion to cleanse our land of guilt, to recover our constitutional rights, to bring back our lost values, to bring back the American vision, are being betrayed by the very people who have betrayed it, who would rob us of our heritage. We are witnessing the defeat of our eyesight. We are witnessing the defeat of our vision. We are witnessing the defeat of our dreams. We are witnessing the defeat of our hope. We are witnessing the defeat of our nation. We are witnessing the defeat of our country.

Letter to the Editor

In reply to the article by Connie Stewart concerning the investigation of the Student Senate by President Ray Rezner eliminating the representative that student senators wish to have, I must reject that as the view of many who I have spoken with. It is a complete and total absence of the facts. There is no time now for such an investigation.

A few years ago I was very young and very much into politics. I had just graduated from college and was eager to make my mark. I was a member of the Student Senate and was eager to see what I could do to make a difference. However, the investigation was a complete waste of time.

It was a waste of time because it was a waste of resources. It was a waste of time because it was a waste of money. It was a waste of time because it was a waste of effort. It was a waste of time because it was a waste of opportunity.

The investigation was a waste of time because it was a waste of time. It was a waste of time because it was a waste of time. It was a waste of time because it was a waste of time. It was a waste of time because it was a waste of time.

The investigation was a waste of time because it was a waste of time. It was a waste of time because it was a waste of time. It was a waste of time because it was a waste of time. It was a waste of time because it was a waste of time.

Python uniquely funny, but in sophisticated style

By TOM SCHAEFFER

Consider for a moment what Python is. Python is a language — as a tool, to be sure, but also as an art form. It is a language that is both commercial and sociocultural. It is a language that is both practical and poetic. It is a language that is both a means of expression and a means of thought. It is a language that is both a tool for creation and a tool for communication. Python is not just a language, it is a way of life.

Democratic caucuses

Tonight is the Democratic party's chance to make their voices heard. The caucus is a unique event in the political process, a moment of democratic participation where the people have a say in the direction of their party. It is a moment of unity, where the members of the party come together to discuss and decide on the future of their party.

The Democratic Central Committee, under the leadership of Randy Knopf, is preparing for the caucus. They are organizing the event, ensuring that all members of the party have the opportunity to participate. They are also preparing the caucus location, ensuring that it is a welcoming and inviting space for the members of the party.

From the manic confusion of the film to the sophisticated style of the party, the Democratic Central Committee is working hard to ensure that the caucus is a success. They are making sure that the members of the party have a say in the direction of their party, and that the caucus is a moment of unity and participation.

Block seeks city seat, becomes candidate for district A

By MARIA LAYTON
Staff Writer

Warren J. Black, a medical student from Coralville, has announced his candidacy for District A of the Coralville City Council. Black is a 20-year-old of University of Iowa descent and is a senior at the University of Iowa, studying medicine.

Dr. Campbell, a beloved member of the Coralville teachers union, has announced her candidacy for District A. Dr. Campbell is a 45-year-old of University of Iowa descent and is a junior at the University of Iowa, studying education.

Craftsmen recreate Old Capitol charm

By ROGER HUGHES

Special to The Daily Iowan

Margaret Ruppert knows her way around an Old Capitol door. She's spent the last 30 years toiling in its restoration, but she's far from being a solitary laborer. More than 2,000 volunteers, including children, have gotten into the restoration, and the university research component is just one of thousands of yards of beautiful solids designed lengths to 4 yards. 1,000's of yards of beautiful solids.

The 180-year-old Old Capitol dome, Ruppert, Burns, Brender a long, productive existence.

So far, the decorative design committee has completed the lower dome's 1,000 square feet of gold-leaf work. Designs for the upper dome are being created by Stephen Rupple, a student who is being paid $20 for his work. The upper dome's design is expected to be completed by next summer.

Brender knows all the tricks about the time, money and laboring under the golden Iowa's first capitol has enjoyed. The quick, busy, leading lady in Old Capitol's there would be a few tricks up her sleeve as well.

"It's a great feeling to know that many people will be looking at and admiring work we've put in for many years," said the woman who is in her 30th year of Old Capitol restoration.

Brender is a native of Iowa City, and she's been working on the Old Capitol restoration since 1945. She's been involved in the restoration of the building for 30 years, and she's been involved in the restoration of the building for 30 years.

"I've always been interested in old buildings," Brender said. "I have a passion for preserving history, and I think it's important to keep our history alive."
The Iowa Rugby Club put together two impressive wins over the weekend, defeating the University of Iowa 31-7 at the University of Illinois and the Iowa State Hawkeyes with a kick that put Iowa ahead of the game. Iowa has been on top of the Standish Division for most of the season, currently leading the division with a score of 9-4. Iowa's victory over Illinois was a hard-fought battle, with Iowa scoring five tries in the second half to seal the win. The next game for Iowa is against the Eastern Illinois Panthers, who are currently in second place in the division. Iowa will need to bring their A-game to beat the Panthers and secure their position at the top of the Standish Division.
