Doderer's loss of Senate leadership won't hinder future

By PATRICK JENSEN
Georgia Editor

The loss of the No. 2 leadership post in the Iowa Senate should not have any effect or be possible hit for the governor in 1978.

Doderer left the Senate presidency last year to run for governor and was defeated by current Senate President Frank Baalmann. Doderer appointed Georgia Democrat by a single vote to run for the leadership post.

"Doderer's loss of the No. 2 leadership post in the Senate should not have any effect or be possible hit for the governor in 1978," said Republican George Deasy, Des Moines.

The house and Senate leadership positions are not considered as high ranking as Speaker of the house and Senate President in the Senate. Doderer was elected to the Senate in 1972 and served on the Senate Ways and Means Committee.

Iowa's quarterback, Dick Borchert, and Grand Marshall Eddie Kinley, both 19, of Des Moines, were among the stars Saturday afternoon at UI Memorial Stadium. Kinley was named grand marshall of the parade, an honor voted him by the student body. Other participants in the parade included UI students and members of the marching band.

The weather was perfect for the game, which was played on a beautiful day. The temperature was mild, the wind was light, and the sun was bright. The crowd was huge, with over 60,000 fans in attendance. The game was a back-and-forth affair, with both teams playing well. In the end, the Iowa Hawkeyes emerged victorious, winning 31-27. The victory was a huge boost for the Hawkeyes, who were looking to get back on track after a disappointing loss the previous week.

Awards were presented to the victorious Hawkeyes, including the game's MVP, quarterback Dick Borchert. The Iowa fans were elated, and the plaza outside the stadium was filled with jubilant fans.

The victory marked the end of a long season for the Hawkeyes, who had struggled earlier in the year. However, they rallied late in the season and finished strong, which bodes well for their future.

The victory also marked the end of a long season for the fans, who had supported their team through thick and thin. The game was a testament to the resilience and determination of the Hawkeyes, and the fans were proud to be a part of it.

The victory also served as a reminder of the importance of community and teamwork. The Hawkeyes are a team, and they rely on each other to achieve success. The fans also play a vital role, providing moral support and encouragement.

In the end, the victory was a testament to the power of teamwork and community. The Hawkeyes and their fans proved that when they work together, they can achieve great things.
Jennings gets new appointment

by RANSE SPIESER

The data Board of Regents approved the appointment of Mr. Jennings as vice president for budget over- allation and university assen- cies. President Raymond said that he would continue to do the same in Washington, D.C. and that Jennings will be expected to do the same. FDA finds data falsified

Research labs to face charges

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Food and Drug Administration says it has final evidence to date serious charges that researchers at some new drug and drug company laboratories misused data so they could keep their work secret and avoid costly reviews.

The FDA says it has found evidence that researchers at some laboratories used data to mislead reviewers at the drug industry and the government.

The findings come as President Clinton prepares to announce a new policy to settle an investigation that has been going on for months.

The new policy, announced by Food and Drug Administration administrator Alexander K. von Haverbeck, would require companies to report any problems that might affect the safety of their drugs and to provide a detailed analysis of their findings.

Civil rights in '60s topic of symposium

The black civil rights movement of the 1960s will be the subject of a three-day symposium at the University of Iowa.

The symposium, sponsored by the University of Iowa's Department of Afro-American Studies and the School of Social Work, will feature a series of lectures, workshops, and discussions by scholars and activists who played significant roles in the movement.

The symposium will include presentations about the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee, the Black Panther party and the American Indian Movement.

Participants will be treated to workshops, tours, and entertainment opportunities related to the civil rights movement.

The symposium will begin on Thursday, August 15, with keynote addresses and panel discussions on the history of the civil rights movement.

The symposium will conclude on Saturday, August 17, with a closing ceremony and the presentation of a documentary film on the civil rights movement.

The symposium is open to all interested individuals, and registration fees are available for students, faculty, and community members.

The symposium will be held at the University of Iowa's Campus Center and will include a variety of events, including lectures, workshops, and discussions on the history of the civil rights movement.

The symposium is sponsored by the University of Iowa's Department of Afro-American Studies and the School of Social Work, and is open to all interested individuals.
Men to face WWII charges
HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Three accused of war crimes during World War II have deportation hearings Monday. A fourth man for one of the defendants was ordered before a court Monday to provide more details on the charges.

Deputy Attorney General Samuel Inselman, who is representing the government in the case, said the defendants are suspected of taking part in the deportation of thousands of Poles and other non-Jewish civilians to Nazi death camps.

The proceedings against Kaminski and two other immigration judges at the Anti-jewish deportation charge

Kaminski, a native of Lithuania who came to New York in the late 1930s on a diplomatic mission, was deported from the United States to West Germany in 1952. He is accused of being involved in the conscription of Jews for forced labor in Nazi concentration camps.

Kaminski, who is now 80, is expected to appear Monday in court to answer charges of deporting Jews to Nazi concentration camps.

Further details about the case will be provided during the court hearing.

"Menagerie" — a play about, and for, dreamers

The quality of magical fragility that Laura and her boy experienced, the play had it in spades. Director Amanda Woodfield has a sort of mechanism where she has transport herself and her children back into the house when heavy and damaged in real life. Her son Tom, looks forward to the theater and not back, the words render like a letter before him. He is trying to dramatize a world of warholian and statement through different techniques. Laura and William-map's decision and a list of 190 Agriculture records show Tong- are suspected which were head of the KCIA agents. Donald Ranard, a former contractor in the Republic of Korea, arrived Hahm later tried to retract his statements. But only until kokontis and Sharon Williams, as is known, no commissions were paid. but interesting, the MCIA men who have been assigned and have been assigned to imagine, to describe just how strong the curtains are. They were all very good play.

The intensive lobbying was bugged by American officials and people. The nightmare in Tokyo is the case they portrayed. "There have been undesirable elements in the KCIA who have been assigned and have been assigned to the story. There is a question about the story is the right story..." the MCIA men who have been assigned and have been assigned to imagine, to describe just how strong the curtains are. They were all very good play.

On the line... with the DI sports staff

One Iowa gymnasts first

By JUD STONER

The second four-year member of the University of Iowa's gymnastics team, Jennifer Lyons is proof that a gymnast can make it to the last weekend of the season, share a number of the University of Iowa's records, and still be tough enough to compete in the home recording business.

Lyons finished 10th at the University of Illinois and 12th at the University of Pennsylvania in the competition. She also placed first in the floor exercise with a score of 5.8. When Horst, who had a score of 5.5 in the floor exercise, was taken out of the competition, Lyons held on to win the floor exercise with a score of 5.9. Horst then tried to tie for the floor exercise title with a score of 5.5, but Lyons held on to win the floor exercise with a score of 5.9.

Lyons, a junior from Binghamton, New York, has captured the title of floor exercise champion for six consecutive years. She has also been a member of the University of Iowa's gymnastics team for six consecutive years.

Payton leads Bears

The 21-year-old Payton leads the Chicago Bears to a victory and becomes the first back to gain 1,000 yards in the National Football League this season, leading the Chicago Bears to a victory over the Green Bay Packers. Payton gained 20 yards on 10 carries for the Bears and became the first back to gain 1,000 yards in the National Football League this season.

In a thr-teen meet between the University of Iowa and the University of Nebraska, Lyons placed first on the women's floor exercise. Lyons was also a member of the University of Iowa's gymnastics team for six consecutive years.

Vitalli paces Purdue, 21-0

By IRVING FISLER
Assistant Sports Editor

Purdue coach Alex Agase was pleased with his team's showing after Purdue had a week to prepare for the game.

"We were the only high," said Agase. "We out-muscled them in the first quarter and got off a good start."

The Boilermaker defense was led by the secondary of Jack Glessner, who had a hand in three of Purdue's five tackles.

Agase credited his team's effort to the hard work put in during the week of practice.

"We gotta get it all right," said Agase. "We've got to prepare for every game."

"Merit Delivers
More Taste
Than Higher
Tar Cigarettes."

~American Institute of Consumer Opinion

Extensive taste testing shows Merit delivers flavor of cigarettes having 60% more tar.

The bottom line was conclusive:
In a series of taste tests conducted for MERIT by the American Institute of Consumer Opinion,* smokers from across the country judged MERIT to have more flavor than five leading low tar cigarette brands.

What's really startling—and of major importance to all smokers—is that MERIT has less tar than these five brands.

Less tar. Yet more taste.
That's the report on a remarkable new taste process called 'Enriched Flavor.' A way to pack extra flavor into tobacco without the usual corresponding increase in tar.

You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough. Now smoke the cigarette. MERIT.

Unprecedented smoking pleasure at only 9 mg. tar.
