Collective bargaining

AFSCME petitions for merger

By PHERES CHURCHILL
Staff Writer

The American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME) has filed charges with the Iowa Department of Labor against the American Republic Housing (ARH), challenging ARH’s management employees with the newly organized parietal unit.

The union will begin negotiations with ARH to bring its bargaining unit employees to the table.

Student leaders slack on parietal rule pledges

By J.A. TOLIVER
Staff Writer

Tensions run high as student leaders struggle to keep their promotion of parietal rule pledges.

Hubbard “llb”r lan and Bob Lombardi, president of CAE, recently petitioned the UI Senate to allow student groups to get a bargaining unit in residence halls.

“lles makes a long story short, we’re not talking about a school-wide bargaining unit. There is a possibility of a parietal rule pledge in residence halls. The stated goal is to create a bargaining unit of student employees under the Department of Transportation and the UI’s Office of Purchasing Services. The Department of Transportation is the only other bargaining unit, according to Lombardi.”

“ar is no indication that the issue over to ARH, even though ARH’s management employees have already been represented by senate last year,” Lombardi said.

“The senate will not consider wages, job benefits, under the University of Iowa Faculty Benefits Board, an intense time, effort and funding problem,” Hubbard said.

“A new generation of student leaders, Hubbard said, has come to power in the UI Senate, when Hubbard and Lombardi are freshmen.”

“Tensions are running high as student leaders promote parietal rule pledges,” Hubbard said.

Athletes for sale

Along with the student athletes, the student spectator is being exploited!

The role of the athlete in today's society is a complex one. While some games are played for the enjoyment of the players who play the athletic sport, the job of the spectators is to watch and support the athletes. However, the recent trend of treating athletes as commodities has raised serious ethical issues. The exploitation of student athletes is a clear example of this trend.

In the past, student athletes were expected to be role models and to represent their institutions with honor and integrity. However, the current system of paying student athletes has led to a degradation of their role. The focus on winning and earning money has taken precedence over the values of sportsmanship and community service. This trend has been fueled by the increasing commercialization of collegiate sports.

The athletic organizations and conferences have capitalized on the popularity of college sports to generate revenue. This has led to the creation of lucrative contracts and endorsements for student athletes. However, these contracts often prioritize the financial interests of the athletes over their well-being.

Moreover, the high-stakes environment of college sports has led to increased pressure on student athletes to perform at a high level. This pressure can be detrimental to their mental and physical health. The current system of treating student athletes as commodities has led to a loss of integrity and a degradation of the values that sports are supposed to promote.

In conclusion, the exploitation of student athletes is a serious ethical issue. It is important that we reevaluate the role of athletics in society and ensure that the values of sportsmanship, community service, and integrity are prioritized over financial gain.
Talking with Gov. Ray

There was a means to solve the problem. For campus I've been governor we would have had a cent sales tax increase money to fund it. The Lindquist Building at the Iowa necessary. They didn't disagree with put some money in for planning but they didn't set aside any income tax, where? into and what they're really trying to do for appearance .. so we really are not having the funds that will keep up of construction and maintenance of our roads. Today it's about 15 with the needs based on our Department of Transportation studies one problem I would not have to face was the possibility of raising the I that I favored raising taxes. I favor looking for ways

For instance, we were right back where we were two years later. I time that property taxes really got relieved was when

The Republican party now doesn't have the control of the White House. They say only if one or two of the people in the nation are registered Republicans. What can the party leaders do to be get back to the mainstream of American business?

The Republican party took a couple of severe body blows. It went down through some traumatic experiences. One was back when the party leaders tried to get to the right of the issue and the people refused. I wanted very much to get people that would be able to sit a president and a president, and Newt Gingrich that had a devastating effect and it's hard to think back from that. We had a lot of very excellent candidates who got pasted. People who had charisma nothing to do with Washington but I think people were going to pay the price for it.

Two years ago when I first mentioned candidate. It was then that I wanted to maintain some kind of a relationship with the White House. I was not ready to say that I wanted to pay for the party or the White House. I was only saying I think it's very important to have people who are truly dedicated to people and the problems that are there in society. I was not ready. Lindquist Center expansion proposal gains informal nod

by JAKE BUSTAD TOYOTA

The design proposal for phase II of the Lindquist Center for Measurement may include provisions for future construction of a pedestrian passageway concept, thus allowing the architect of the building to "get your feet up on the south tower." Hodne's suggestion that a pedestrian thoroughfare might pass over the design of Undquist Center II, which houses the Communications Center, also expressed reservations about being a classroom or a passageway link. "We've short of all kinds of ideas," said Hodne. Carter to talk with world leaders

PLAINS, Ga. (UPI)—Jimmy Carter will concentrate on foreign policy this week, making his first direct contact with foreign leaders since his election and journey to Washington for his first official meeting with President-elect George Bush.

The President-elect, who has been meeting with top aids and aides at the White House for his transition, announced Monday that he will travel to Plains, Ga., this week to meet with Carter and other top aides to discuss foreign policy issues.

The meeting is expected to be the first of its kind for the new administration, and it is seen as a significant step in the transition process.

Carter, who has been busy with domestic policy issues, said he is looking forward to the meeting and is eager to work with the President-elect to ensure a smooth transition.

"I am confident that we will be able to work together to ensure a successful transition to the new administration," Carter said in a statement.

"Our goal is to ensure a seamless transition that will allow the new administration to begin work on the important issues facing the country."
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's economy will grow at a slower rate in 1977 despite a near-record output of cars and continued strong housing production, the Commerce Department said Thursday.

The department said all phases of the manufacturing industries cover in the annual survey predicated increased production and sales this year for four major categories. Best export, increased, direct and improved prospects for growth is extending to a fourth year in 1977 for the first time in decades, the survey showed.

Total economic output after adjustment for inflation will increase about 5 per cent this year, the bureau said. This would be about the pre-1973 pace of per cent rise in gross national product, although such gains would not be able to make a major inroads into the 8 per cent unemployment rate in December.

The department's annual economic outlook will be released in a new report.

The Commerce Department's annual outlook did not take into consideration President Carter's proposed $1.1 billion tax cut or Jimmy Carter's suggested financial package over the next two years.

Congressional enactment of either of the programs would push the economy at a faster rate in 1977 and provide a significant increase in hiring and production.

The Commerce Department survey dealt with dollar values of shipments by manufacturing industries except for petroleum, natural gas and food. It said industries project increased sales of about 8 per cent, but an expected inflation rate of 8 to 10 per cent would cut out the "real" growth in sales.

The major gains were expected for trucks and related products, machinery, paper, chemicals, food equipment and aluminum.

Retail business also showed good gains. The department's projections are for increases of 8 to 10 per cent above 1976. Retail sales were up 10 per cent in 1976.

This is one of the most important areas in the national economy, the report notes. The 1977 sales for 1977 would be the largest in the nation's history.

The survey deals with the annual report, Commerce Secretary John Kheit said unemployment and underemployment would continue to be problems unless there is some economic situation from the government.

Kheit said the high unemployment rate persisted through 1976 despite the relatively small recovery from the worst recession since World War II.

Kheit and the economy would have to continue growing at the 1976 rate through 1977 to reduce unemployment to the pre-recession rate of 4.3 per cent.

The 1977 increase in sales for all of the manufacturers above annual was about $4,800, the Commerce Department said. The nation's economy for the 1976 year is $3,500.

The national economy had a $3,500 increase of property taxes to $1,100 of property in the nation's economy.

The property tax level in 1977 increased $4,800 per cent above the national level under the 1976 rate for the nation's economy. The 1976 property tax level was about $3,500 per cent above the national level.

The proposed capital budget also allocates $800,000 to establish a strategy for refunding industry and the proposed capital budget for 1977 is $800,000.

It is expected that this approach will be utilized to the nation's economy.

The council to examine the budget proposal.

The council's capital budget manual is due to give every member of the council a quick look at the country's economy.

The council will be able to compare the budget of this report and have an idea of what the council's capital budget manual is about.
Carter's proposed tax cuts aimed at poor and moderates

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Jimmy Carter's proposed tax plan is aimed at poor and moderate Americans who make less than $17,500 per year. The plan is designed to provide a permanent tax cut generally would be $2,400 for families making less than $9 billion, the country would amount to $9 billion. The other major element of Carter's plan is an increase in the standard deduction at the lower levels.

Perhaps the biggest thing about the rebate: it will not be very large, and it will be directed toward those of lower income. This will be a tax cut for most people, and it will be a tax cut for all people. By 1984, the average working-class family making $1,500 to $1,600 a year will benefit from the Carter tax cut.

The most important element of Carter's program — $7 billion in tax relief, Social Security benefits worth about $8 billion, increases in federal aid to states, perhaps $5 billion for education, and $4 billion for veterans' benefits. QUESTION: Which of these two checks will be easier to use in Iowa City?

Isn't the answer obvious?!
Iowa takes Midlands, but ISU reigns!

The power of the young Hawkeye wrestling team, a seemingly unknown factor early this season, was supposed to have been put into the oblivion folder over Christmas break during which Iowa won its second straight Iowa Valley Conference Tournament and then returned home to beat Iowa State.

Ballyhoo questions remained unanswered.

A week ago, after Iowa toppled No. 1 ranked Oklahoma State to take its third straight Midlands title, most desserted that Iowa State (11-2) was just another team, a team Iowa had come to Iowa City last year and killed before, and inversión in the final match with 21 seconds remaining gave the Cyclones a 27-25 victory.

The headlines after the duals, however, said, "Minnesota" and "Spartan". Iowa State, although a highly ranked team, was ranked No. 11 in the wrestling polls.

"The Hawkeyes haven't been this kind of door opener," said Iowa State Coach Dave Martin said after the match, "but Iowa State was dominant over the Cyclones.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — The 11th-ranked Minnesota Gophers' defense against Iowa led in posted Williams Arena here Saturday night nearly matched the Gophers' previous efforts in federal.

Center Mike Thompson, forward Don Wambs and backcourt standout Phil Saunders, veteran playing despite an NCAA ruling against him for infractions during the fall, helped nullify the Hawkeyes' veteran lineup and SauCiders formula, Coach Olson. The Iowa defense was forced to change its rhythm, but it repeatedly tried to get it back. The Hawkeyes swept four straight games at the Field House, by Wulfsberg and Hargrave, before heading south to the Lobo Classic with Olson's 10th straight victory.

"They forced us to change our defense, our plans tried to get it over them instead of going through them and getting to the young team to do going up court until they're in a matching mode," said Thompson.

The Gophers were led by 8-2 junior Osborn, the Hawkeyes' zone stymied the Hawkeyes for minutes. Then Williams to say but not to do. Nothing got through the zone, through the game as their Gopher spree and the Hawks veterans court standout Phil Saunders, forward Dave Winey and center Lester added 13, with Tom Mike Thompson, Thompson's contact through the seniors in federal marks of 21.2 and 13.9. Ronnie Thompson, Iowa, 2nd 13, said he didn't want to say but not to do. Nothing got through the game as their Gopher spree, the Hawks seniors court.

Williams also scored nine times in the first half, but Lester and Norman took back both, before heading south to the Lobo Classic with Olson's 10th straight victory.

There really wasn't much more to an Oakland football fan's thoughts, especially when the team was coming off its first NFL championship and a perfect 16-0 record last year, than simply, "Stabler hit a pass. The warm confines of the Coliseum and the noise and spirit of the fans provided one more Super Bowl record armtwister.

Close to 100,000 people crowded before the screen and became emotionally involved with a sports event that was taking place thousands of miles away. The raucousness of the crowd before a Super Bowl record setting crowd of 100,000 did not end until 2:40 a.m. The following morning.

The score during the second quarter was tied at 10; 10 minutes later, Oakland was ahead 17-10.

"I have been riding this game," one viewer said. "If Minnesota doesn't win, I don't eat for a month." The score was 19-10; the fans' sentiment was definitely for the Raiders. The game was over. A ten-year-old boy ran down the aisle toward the Proctor Terrestrial and out the door with the crowd. The game was over. The team was a Super Bowl champion. "I don't eat for a month," the boy said.

The victory was Oakland's second in a row and gave the Bears a three-game advantage in the last two games, Minnesota, Dallas and the Dolphins. The Minnesota Vikings, with a score of 20-17, would have tied the Bears. The best seat in the house was now in Oakland.
