SALTIBURY, Rhodesia (UPI) - The government of Rhodesia said Monday that a 12-man LLM open ended to 30 into Rhodesian security force operations was "permanently shelved" in fighting the war against disillusioned "trouble-makers, enemy of mankind and soldiers of the Republic of Rhodesia." The statement did not mention the possibility of any military assistance.

The statement read: "It is a national policy of the government to strictly control the availability of ammunition, in order to ensure the maximum utilization of our existing military capability."

It was the second time this month that the possibility of any military assistance from abroad was mentioned. Preliminary E.C. Porter, who after requiring an earlier report earlier this month, said that the previous report had been temporary, including over 300 more.

2-train collision leaves 22 dead

BARTLETTLA, Spain (AP) - Two commuter trains collided head-on near the city of Barcelona Monday, killing 22 persons. At least 100 others were injured, police said.

The accident may have been the result of a signal failure at the junction of the Catalunya, Ribesalbes and El Turo lines, said a police official. It was the fourth train collision in Spain in a week, and the third in the province of Barcelona.

The crash occurred near the town of Igualada, where the two trains, which were carrying about 300 passengers each, collided at 3:20 p.m. local time. Both trains were traveling on an elevated section of track, and the impact tore through the front of the first passenger car on each train, police said.

The accident caused a major traffic disruption in the area, with delays reported on other trains and roads. Police and firefighters were on the scene, and rescue workers were working to evacuate injured passengers and clear the tracks of other trains.

Council trepidations stock, hysterical

To the Editor:
This letter is in response to two articles published in the Daily Iowan on March 19 and 20. I believe that the articles were authored by students at the University of Iowa.

I am writing to express my strong disapproval of the articles and to request that they be retracted.

The articles in question are entitled "Human Rights Activists in Crisis" and "The Rise of the Human Rights Activists: A Threat to Our Way of Life?"

I believe that the articles are false and that they are intended to sow division and distrust among the community.

I am a member of the University of Iowa community and I believe that it is important to foster a culture of respect and understanding.

I hope that you will take appropriate action to address these concerns.

Sincerely,

Hawkeyes savor revenge

By JUDE MANG

Assoc. Sports Editor

The Iowa Hawkeyes were a young team last season, but they still have a lot of talent. The Hawkeyes are counting on that talent to lead them to a Big Ten basketball championship this year.

The Hawkeyes opened their season with a win over the visiting Iowa State Cyclones, 80-73. Iowa State, who finished the regular season ranked 17th in the nation, struggled to keep up with the Hawkeyes' high-powered offense.

The Hawkeyes were led by senior forward packet Cameron Arnett, who scored 21 points and grabbed 11 rebounds. Arnett was instrumental in the team's victory, scoring two key baskets in the final minutes of the game to secure the win.

The Hawkeyes also received solid performances from sophomore guard Jordan Bohannon, who scored 13 points, and junior center Luka Garza, who added 10 points and 8 rebounds.

With this win, the Hawkeyes are off to a 2-0 start to the season and are looking to build on their momentum as they continue their conference schedule.

The Hawkeyes also dominated in the relay events, winning both the 400 and 800 freestyle relays.

Track

The Hawkeyes also dominated in the track and field events, capturing both the 800 and 1500 meters.

Senior Mike Woodson won the 800 with a time of 1:50.22 and junior Jim Wisman won the 1500 with a time of 3:39.12.

The Hawkeyes also had strong performances in the long jump, high jump, and shot put events.

The Hawkeyes are looking to build on their success as they continue their conference schedule.
