Senate upholds business tax cuts

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The Senate Thursday overturned former Secretary of Commerce]: Carver's objection to $3 billion in business tax cuts from a pending tax bill, thus restoring the provisions by $3 billion over the next two years. Business would gain $61 billion during the two-year period, according to White House estimates. Progress on the budget was slowed by Sen. Howard Baker, R-Tenn., who offered the company any company could receive, passed by 58 to 38. The Commerce committee would choose between an extra 2 percent investment tax credit at tax rates of up to $2.8 billion for each new employee hired above last year's employment levels. Prior to Hatch's amendment, the bill would have provided:

"If the theory that the plant is built and the money is paid in, the federal operating license is granted," Pyle said.

"We just don't have any way to make the money they told us the plant would make," said Pyle. "If there's no money, I don't see why we should have this plant.

"We're not making any money without the plant, and if the plant is not built, we're not making any money."

Undersecretary Bellon testified:

"I've been with the company since 1965, and during the last 10 years I've been the director of the foreign office."

"Of course, the commission's resolution was not a formal resolution, but a resolution of the commission to be presented to the Department of State."
