Leach addresses local, national, world issues of concern

JD Leach, 123-456789

The Iowa State University was the site of the 13th annual JD Leach conference for students, faculty, and staff members. Accompanying Leach were members of the United States Senate staff, all of whom were local residents.

Energy

A House subcommittee recently recommended that the interior department's budget be increased by 100%, and it said that it should be increased by 100% by 1980. The proposal was expected to be opposed by Congress, but Leach said, "We ought to be careful about the amount of money we are investing in energy research." He added that the budget was essential to the future of the country.

The use and preservation of Iowa's natural resources have been increasing in recent years, Leach said. "It is essential that we do nothing to waste these resources," he urged.

Racism

"I don't think that we should have to come to terms with the fact that racism is a problem," Leach said. "We must try to understand why people feel that way and try to help them understand that racism is not a valid reason for discrimination.

Bank robber "mastermind' of jail break out

Iowa City, Iowa—A bank robber saying he had questioned a jail inmate before his escape has been identified as a former inmate.

The man, who has not been named, is the only suspect in the escape, which occurred early Saturday morning. He was caught trying to break into a car at about 5 a.m., police said.

The bank robbery occurred about 10 minutes before the escape. The suspect is described as a man in his 50s, 5 feet 10 inches tall, with short brown hair and wearing a black shirt.

The suspect is believed to have been inside the bank shortly before the escape.

The bank was closed at the time of the robbery, but the suspect left before the robbery was reported.

The suspect is believed to have stayed in the area near the bank for a short period of time before leaving.

The bank robbery occurred about 10 minutes before the escape.

... In the country that only knew armed heros and Polarguard movement - walls are plastered with posters and posters, the people keep up a fierce and unrelenting struggle against the official government. Plane and political parties are the only organized group, and the people fight on to save their revolution. But this may be misleading. For example, if you ask the people, they may give you the answer that half of those who voted for the candidates say they didn't vote for the candidates because the candidates were too short for the long-banned campaign.

In any case, the polls agree that the turnout will be very heavy - at least 60 percent of the electorate is expected to vote. If the weather does not prevent some of the people from voting, some counties may see the highest turnover of voters ever recorded. At stake in the elections will be seats in the senate, and the people will go to the polls for their first free election in the hands of the people at the polls agree. If Suarez is defeated, he will be asked to make up for its loss with the party or candidate they were going to vote for.

The injustice of bras

Pulaski County Circuit Court judges have been concerned about the dress of Pulaski County jurors and have let it be known that they want jurors to wear bras.

District Judge Anthony Ortwein, who oversees the jury pool, said that the judges have received complaints from both male and female jurors that some jurors were not wearing bras and that they feared that the judges might penalize them or exclude them from serving. Ortwein said that the judges were also concerned about the impact of the issue on the fabric of the community.

The judges have been discussing the issue with their colleagues in other counties and have agreed to take a more relaxed approach to the issue in the future.

Physician’s dismissal ignors contributions to medicine and UI

The College of Physicians and Surgeons at the University of Iowa is considering the dismissal of an assistant professor who has been accused of sexual harassment.

The assistant professor, who has been on the faculty for more than 10 years, is accused of making inappropriate comments to a student and of touching her inappropriately. The university has received complaints from other students and faculty members about the professor’s behavior.

The university is investigating the allegations and has placed the professor on administrative leave. The investigation is expected to take several weeks.

The professor is a well-respected member of the medical community and has made significant contributions to the field of medicine and to the university.

The university is committed to creating a safe and respectful environment for all members of its community and is taking all necessary steps to ensure that such behavior does not occur in the future.

The university is also committed to protecting the rights of all members of its community and is providing resources and support to the student and other members of the community who may have been affected by the professor’s behavior.

Wishing these matters resolve amicably, we encourage the parties to engage in open and respectful communications, to seek guidance from trusted advocates, and to seek legal counsel as needed.

Punish those implementing illegal orders

President of the Association of Medical and Educational Staff of the University of Iowa, has made it clear that the university will not tolerate any form of discrimination, retaliation, or harassment by any of its employees.

The university is committed to providing a safe and respectful work environment for all of its employees, and to ensuring that all employees have equal opportunities for professional growth and advancement.

The university is also committed to protecting the rights of all members of its community and is taking all necessary steps to ensure that such behavior does not occur in the future.

Senate undertakes summer research

Inhattah, J. Smith

The U.S. Senate has undertaken several research studies in accordance with a resolution passed on the Senate floor.

On Tuesday, Senator Smith announced that the Senate Research Committee, which comprises Senator Smith and several of his colleagues, will review the nation's research programs and policies. The committee will examine the effectiveness of existing research projects and consider ways to improve them.

"The Senate has a responsibility to ensure that our research programs are effective and efficient," said Senator Smith. "We need to make sure that our research dollars are being spent wisely and that we are getting the best possible results from our investments."

On the other end of the spectrum, I’d like to follow a student-oriented approach. My impression is that Congress will increase funding of universities. Leach noted that "the roll of the dice is going down, which is mainly a demographic effect. I think the elder private colleges will be hit and the public colleges will be hit."

Inmates diversions aid in escape

FEBTUS, Texas (UPI) — Inmates at Drury Mountain State Penitentiary in western Texas are using diversions to escape the prison with a suspicious ease.

"We have no evidence there was an actual break," said a state Corrections Commission official. "It’s possible, but we can’t be sure.

"We’re looking at the possibility of an operation, but we’re not sure.

"We know there were a large yard, and other inmates scrambled to escape when another inmate climbed to the top.

"I don’t know whether it was a fake fight or a real one, but it was a fight." Strode said.

"I don’t know what happened, but we’re looking into it.

"I don’t know whether it was a well-planned operation or not."

House leader Stokes: 'Ray's escape set-up'

Cleveland (UPI) — Ray Hooks, director of the House Select Committee on Assassinations, said he fears for the safety of the prison population north of the wall.

"I saw two men. They were scrambling as hard as they could."

"I don’t know whether it was a real fight or not, but it was a good fight."

Hurdler Moses erases record

LOUISVILLE (AP) — After winning a gold medal and setting a world record in the 440-yard hurdles at the Montreal Olympics, hurdler Ervil Moses was quoted if he might lose interest in track and field.

"No, Moses answered, it's a shame. "I mean, I don't expect to repeat a lot of my run," he explained. Moses proved the field's championship determination a year later, setting a world record of 46.23 in the 440-yard hurdles at the Montreal Olympics, breaking his own mark of 46.5.

"I know I can run faster, too," he said. "I'm not in the shape I was in Montreal, naturally, but everything is working and I was able to run faster." The 1945 world record of 47.0, which is considered one of the greatest moments in track history, is held by the late Bob Mathias, who won gold medals in the 400 and 440 hurdles in 1948 and 1952.

Pistons select King in 4th round

Benson heads list of Big Ten draftees

Brice King was both a little surprised and disappointed when he answered a phone call from Detroit Pistons General Manager Bob Kauffman Friday afternoon. After being chosen as the number one pick, King was hoping to be selected by the Detroit Cougars.

King did not sign with the Detroit Pistons on Friday; however, he has decided to sign with the franchise for the next four years.

"I'm not sure what to say," King said after being chosen. "I'm happy, but disappointed. I was hoping for a different team." Despite not being selected by the Detroit Pistons, King said he was looking forward to joining the franchise.

"I'm excited to be a part of the franchise and to be able to contribute to their success," King said.

Mickey Taylor said after the best of both sides of the Triple Crown winner, Seattle Slew good and lucky

Seattle Slew has been named the Triple Crown winner for the year.

Seattle Slew, trained by Bob Baffert, won the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes.

The win was significant because it marked the first time a horse had won all three Triple Crown races.

Seattle Slew was owned by the Triple Crown Stable, which is owned by the late Charles S. Howard, who helped finance the horse.

Seattle Slew was a very popular horse and had a loyal following.

"Seattle Slew has been a great horse for our stable," said Bob Baffert. "He has been a very good horse and has done a lot for us."

Seattle Slew's victory in the Triple Crown was a significant event in the history of horse racing.
