DeProsee objects to long tie-up

the HUD

by BRAD DICKER

Iowa City City Councilor Charles DeProsee said Tuesday that he continues to feel that the city should give up the rental housing program because "the need is outside of our purview...the private sector is capable of providing that service." DeProsee said, "I had hoped that we were ready to let the rental housing program go...and that the city was finally ready to move on."

DeProsee said that he and the other councilors had "changed our minds..." and that while he continues to believe that the rental housing program is not needed because of the private sector, he now believes that it is needed in a different way than he previously believed. He said that the city needs to focus on other issues that are more pressing than the rental housing program.

The Iowa City City Council voted 6-1 to retain the rental housing program on Tuesday evening.

Recent scientific discovery draws local pyramidalist to Guatemala

After eight-year legal battle,

Williams to begin 2nd trial

by BILL CONWAY

Staff Writer

The City of Iowa City will begin another trial in the case of Delores Williams, who was convicted of murder and sentenced to life in prison in 1990. The case has been on appeal for eight years, and Williams has fought against her conviction in court.

The trial is expected to last several weeks, and will be heard by Judge Thomas Williams, who presided over the original trial. The court will have to determine if Williams did not receive a fair trial.

In the News

Briefly

UMW

by CHUCK COCHRAN

The United Mine Workers of America (UMW) has filed a complaint with the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) against the coal company, alleging that the company has violated federal labor laws.

The UMW has accused the company of violating the NLRA, which prohibits employers from interfering with employees' rights to form unions. The union has also charged the company with failing to bargain in good faith with the UMW.

The company has denied the charges and said that it will fight the case in court.
A report by the US Environmental Health Service (EHS) issued Tuesday contradicts an earlier investigation by the same agency which initially disclosed an evidence that William Nutt, a UI medical plant employee, was being held in an electric shock.

Nutt died May 16 at a light fixture of the Dental Sciences Building. Johnson County Medical Examiner Dr. T.T. Smith ruled the death as natural due to veno-vascular failure as a consequence of electric shock.

Kisiel has received a federal complaint about the procedure he used to subdue both patients, and has been examining his methods as the result of a series of separate incidents.

By GREG SMITH
City Editor

Spouse abuse behavior is often associated with a violent or aggressive personality. In some cases, the spouse abuse may be a way of coping with the stress of domestic violence.

By BARBARA HANSEN
City Editor

An Iowa State Penitentiary inmate who escaped from the UI Hospitals Tuesday morning started running as soon as he was paroled on June 1st.

Sudden, Sterling was about to the back of the train and then immediately gave chase. Sterling said he believed himself to be the only person.

"The guard was dressed in civilian clothes," according to an Iowa City Public Information Officer.

"The guy got back on the track after I touched his arm," according to Sterling.

The group, according to Sterling, ran behind on Neighbors Band between the Psychiatric Hospital and the Children's Hospital.

Johnson County Sheriff's Officers reported that Beck was last seen toward the UI Hospital. Located between North Riverside Drive and the Children's Hospital, the suspect had black hair, although handcuffed and wearing a blue t-shirt, black pants, and a white hat.

The report stated.

"We will feel on the fence with a piece of the visit that Beck made to the hospital in the area, the suspect's name, all of the possible escape routes were investigated. It is believed that Beck, the suspect, was last seen standing in a doorway with a baby carrier or stroller.

The back, in making his initial escape after Seeing himself, is unknown how Beck got out of the handcuffs.

He was last seen wearing a dark-colored shirt and blue pants.

Law enforcement officials described him as black, 32 years old, 6 feet, 1 inch tall, and weighing 190 pounds.

Kisiel, according to Iowa City Police, is a state correction's officer who has been on the job for 10 years. He was last seen in the vicinity of the South East Iowa Psychiatric Hospital and the University of Iowa Hospitals.

A state correction's officer said Beck, who was wearing a white t-shirt, black pants, and a white hat, ran out of the institution and walked to the east.

"He run right over me. He was the only person," according to the officer.

A state correction's officer said Beck, who was wearing a white t-shirt, black pants, and a white hat, ran out of the institution and walked to the east.

"He run right over me. He was the only person," according to the officer.

A state correction's officer said Beck, who was wearing a white t-shirt, black pants, and a white hat, ran out of the institution and walked to the east.

"He run right over me. He was the only person," according to the officer.

A state correction's officer said Beck, who was wearing a white t-shirt, black pants, and a white hat, ran out of the institution and walked to the east.

"He run right over me. He was the only person," according to the officer.

A state correction's officer said Beck, who was wearing a white t-shirt, black pants, and a white hat, ran out of the institution and walked to the east.

"He run right over me. He was the only person," according to the officer.

A state correction's officer said Beck, who was wearing a white t-shirt, black pants, and a white hat, ran out of the institution and walked to the east.

"He run right over me. He was the only person," according to the officer.
Amin pushing for a showdown

by TOM MAPF

by Garry Trudeau

Early last week, Amin's revolutionaries began circulating leaflets in Kampala and the surrounding countryside, calling for a general strike and a boycott of the United Nations. The Organization of African Unity (OAU) had asked the United Nations to send a peacekeeping force to Uganda, but Amin rejected the offer, saying it would only strengthen the UN's hand in negotiations.

By Thursday, the revolutionaries were gathering in the streets of Kampala, readying for a massive demonstration. Amin was in the city, looking for a place to stage the rally. The streets were filled with thousands of people, marching and chanting slogans. Amin addressed the crowd, promising to end the economic blockade and regain control of the nation's economy.

News Analysis

in making Uganda a socialist state. In late 1979, Amin announced plans to take control of 40% of all foreign business in Uganda. He claimed this was necessary to ensure that Uganda's economy would not be controlled by foreign interests.

These reports, which are available through the condition of Ugandans, have led to the growth of a social movement in the country. As a result of Amin's dealings, a large number of his opponents have been exiled.

The revolutionaries are being held by the government and a number of their leaders have been arrested. Some government officials have been arrested as well.

Amin, through his leadership, has caused at least $90 million in recent losses to the economy and has estimated that the true figure is closer to $200 million. It is unknown if what he earns is sufficient to balance the budget or if he is using his power to allow Amin to control the Cormparithwealth. The Amin government has been accused of corruption and economic mismanagement.

The British Commonwealth and the United States have both expressed concern about Amin's policies, with the United States standing behind Amin in a number of key decisions. The United States has also provided military aid to Amin's government.

The revolutionaries have stated that they will continue to fight, and that Amin's government will fall. The government has not yet commented on this statement.

For the Prices in Town on

Supplies Shop

Cuts - Perm - Tints

Sisters

Crafts

63 Kirkwood

You don't like the shape America's in...

OK.

Change it.

You can..
Gay women talk bluntly about the ERA

BY JENN PHILLIP

Just in case the national rights equality issues aren't strong enough to make you think the women's movement is winning the war, the Iowa Daily News was there to remind us of the battle yet to be fought.

“Women cannot be treated as an Iowa delegate to the national ERA conventions,” said Minnette Doderer, a panel member who addressed a panel of women last week. “We have to use our voices to express ourselves and our knowledge of others.”

A former member of the women's liberation movement, Doderer said she has been extremely involved in the issue for the past 33 years. “That’s a long time to fight for something you believe in,” she said.

The Iowa Daily News was the only major newspaper in the state to cover the women's movement. “I think the media is doing a disservice to us,” said Doderer. “They're not giving us the exposure we need.”

According to Doderer, women's rights issues are not being covered adequately in the media. “We need to talk about the ERA, but we don't want to talk about it in a way that makes it sound like we're whining,” she said.

Doderer said she was pleased with the turnout at the meeting, which was held at the Iowa Daily News offices. “I'm pleased with the attendance,” she said. “I think people are starting to take this issue seriously.”

Gay women talk bluntly about the ERA

BY JENN PHILLIP

Just in case the national rights equality issues aren't strong enough to make you think the women's movement is winning the war, the Iowa Daily News was there to remind us of the battle yet to be fought.

“Women cannot be treated as an Iowa delegate to the national ERA conventions,” said Minnette Doderer, a panel member who addressed a panel of women last week. “We have to use our voices to express ourselves and our knowledge of others.”

A former member of the women's liberation movement, Doderer said she has been extremely involved in the issue for the past 33 years. “That’s a long time to fight for something you believe in,” she said.

The Iowa Daily News was the only major newspaper in the state to cover the women's movement. “I think the media is doing a disservice to us,” said Doderer. “They're not giving us the exposure we need.”

Doderer said she was pleased with the turnout at the meeting, which was held at the Iowa Daily News offices. “I'm pleased with the attendance,” she said. “I think people are starting to take this issue seriously.”

Gay women talk bluntly about the ERA

BY JENN PHILLIP

Just in case the national rights equality issues aren't strong enough to make you think the women's movement is winning the war, the Iowa Daily News was there to remind us of the battle yet to be fought.

“Women cannot be treated as an Iowa delegate to the national ERA conventions,” said Minnette Doderer, a panel member who addressed a panel of women last week. “We have to use our voices to express ourselves and our knowledge of others.”

A former member of the women's liberation movement, Doderer said she has been extremely involved in the issue for the past 33 years. “That’s a long time to fight for something you believe in,” she said.

The Iowa Daily News was the only major newspaper in the state to cover the women's movement. “I think the media is doing a disservice to us,” said Doderer. “They're not giving us the exposure we need.”

Doderer said she was pleased with the turnout at the meeting, which was held at the Iowa Daily News offices. “I'm pleased with the attendance,” she said. “I think people are starting to take this issue seriously.”

So what do you say? Is this a victory for women's rights? Or is it just another battle in the never-ending war for equality?
Dr. Klavon, of the Department of Neurology at Chicago's Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital, tells us how to read minds.

Dr. Klavon, of the Department of Neurology at Chicago's Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital, tells us how to read minds.

Dr. Klavon, of the Department of Neurology at Chicago's Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital, tells us how to read minds.

Dr. Klavon, of the Department of Neurology at Chicago's Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital, tells us how to read minds.

Dr. Klavon, of the Department of Neurology at Chicago's Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital, tells us how to read minds.

Dr. Klavon, of the Department of Neurology at Chicago's Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital, tells us how to read minds.

Dr. Klavon, of the Department of Neurology at Chicago's Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital, tells us how to read minds.

Dr. Klavon, of the Department of Neurology at Chicago's Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital, tells us how to read minds.

Dr. Klavon, of the Department of Neurology at Chicago's Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital, tells us how to read minds.

Dr. Klavon, of the Department of Neurology at Chicago's Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital, tells us how to read minds.

Dr. Klavon, of the Department of Neurology at Chicago's Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital, tells us how to read minds.

Dr. Klavon, of the Department of Neurology at Chicago's Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital, tells us how to read minds.

Dr. Klavon, of the Department of Neurology at Chicago's Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital, tells us how to read minds.

Dr. Klavon, of the Department of Neurology at Chicago's Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital, tells us how to read minds.

Dr. Klavon, of the Department of Neurology at Chicago's Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital, tells us how to read minds.

Dr. Klavon, of the Department of Neurology at Chicago's Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital, tells us how to read minds.

Dr. Klavon, of the Department of Neurology at Chicago's Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital, tells us how to read minds.

Dr. Klavon, of the Department of Neurology at Chicago's Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital, tells us how to read minds.
Spanish leftist win predicted

A poll put the vote of Spain's three main parties on 14 May at 41 years the closest the outcome of the election has ever been, with the Socialists in the lead, according to a survey conducted by the pollsters in Madrid.

The Socialists, led by Prime Minister Felipe Gonzalez, won by a narrow margin over the Christian Democrats, led by Prime Minister Jose Maria Aznar. The survey was conducted a day before the election.

The vote is the closest the outcome of the election has ever been, with the Socialists in the lead, according to a survey conducted by the pollsters in Madrid.

Join the fun at
THE FIELD HOUSE
Wednesday June 15
Noon-2:00 25¢ draws
2:00-6:00 $1 pitchers
LUNCH SERVED TIL 4:00
DANCE AND DRINK ALL AFTERNOON!
Great afternoon to forget
The Iowa Bar Exam! Everyone's invited

THE AIRMILER
DIXELAND BAND
(no cover)
River City Dixeland Jazz Band
9:00-12:00 DAILY

"Honest Phil" 60's 70's
LARGEST BEER IN TOWN
or $1.00 Hot Dogs anytime
or $1.00 Hot Dogs anytime
or Lunches 11-2
or FREE Popcorn 3-close or FREE Kosher pickles 3-6 or Budweiser 12 Paks $2.00 cold

Spanish leftist win predicted

MACRAE, Spain (AP) - A poll put the vote of Spain's three main parties on 14 May at 41 years the closest the outcome of the election has ever been, with the Socialists in the lead, according to a survey conducted by the pollsters in Madrid.

The Socialists, led by Prime Minister Felipe Gonzalez, won by a narrow margin over the Christian Democrats, led by Prime Minister Jose Maria Aznar. The survey was conducted a day before the election.

The vote is the closest the outcome of the election has ever been, with the Socialists in the lead, according to a survey conducted by the pollsters in Madrid.
Tina Mulert plays in national tourney

University of Iowa golfer Tina Mulert will be among the 12 women's golf teams vying for individual and team honors in the National Women's Golf Championships this month at Oakmont Country Club near Pittsburgh. The championships also include the USA National Women's Amateur Championship.

Tina Epilson was selected to be the third round of the championship, the second round of the tournament, and the second round of the selection. She was selected by the Iowa women's golf team and named the third round of the championship. She was selected to be the third round of the championship.

Sportscripts

Scoreboard

New York drafts Iowa's Ron Hess

Another player from the University of Iowa baseball team has been selected in the third round of the National League draft. Ron Hess, who led the Iowa baseball team in batting average, was selected in the third round by the New York Yankees. Hess, who is from Des Moines, Iowa, has played for the University of Iowa baseball team for three years. Hess has been described as a hard worker and a team player. He has been selected by the New York Yankees and is expected to make a contribution to the team.

Di Classifieds

WASHINGTON, DC—The Washington Post reports that the White House has released information about the upcoming presidential election. The press release includes details about the campaign events and activities. The White House also announced that the candidates will participate in a joint press conference. The release states that the conference will be held in the East Room of the White House. The conference will be attended by members of the media and the general public. The press release also includes information about the candidates' campaign themes and issues. The release concludes with a statement that the White House remains committed to a fair and transparent election process.
I. The People Who Know Stereo

OUR LOWEST PRICE
EVER On A FRONT LOADING DOLBY CASSETTE DECK

Garrard. DD75
Direct Drive Turntable with Automatic Shutoff
COMPLETE WITH DELUXE WOOD BALE - GUST COVER AND A SHURE 645 MAGNETIC CARTRIDGE

ESS AMT-1A Bookshelf 12" Full Size Woofer With HEIL Air Motion Transformer
Factory List $179.99
SAVE $356 PAIR

PIONEER AUTO STEREO
KP900D. AN FM STEREO SUPER-TUNER & CASSETTE
"Wow, flutter" less than 0.08%
"Rumble" less than 600B
*Phase locked loop FM stereo demodulator
*With more than 0.05% total harmonic distortion
*With type modulation

SHERWOOD 7010 12 WATTS RMS PER CHANNEL
$139.99

SHERWOOD 7110B 20 WATTS RMS PER CHANNEL
$179.95

SHERWOOD 7120A 30 WATTS RMS PER CHANNEL
$199.95

LIMITED QUANTITIES. ALL PRICES GOOD WHILE SUPPLY LASTS!

SATURDAY WORLD RADIO
WEDNESDAY
SPECIAL SALE HOURS:
OPEN TIL 9 THURS. (THIS WEEK ONLY)