Leach: Public wants Saturday mail

By Tom Drury

All those who testified at a congressional hearing Tuesday in opposition to the United States Postal Service's plan to shut off Saturday mail deliveries did a yeoman's service in explaining why, in their view, Saturday mail delivery is worth the extra cost to the US government.

Saturday mail delivery, they said, is a valuable service to the public.

Small opens race for Doderer's seat

The state Senate is expected to hear proposals from the two men who are running for the seat long held by Franklin D. (Frank) Doderer, who was defeated in last month's Republican primary.

Both men, Republican Bruce Greer and Democratic State Representative John Doderer, are running in the race for the seat vacated by Doderer in the 74th District.

(Vote in the Senate is worth twice as much and your influence is worth twice as much in the House.)

“Your vote in the Senate is worth twice as much and your influence is worth twice as much in the House,” said Greer.

Currently chairing the House Commerce Committee, Greer also serves as the Education Policy and Fiscal Priorities Committee chair.

Iowa House passes two initial revisions of property tax laws

The Daily Iowan

Iowa House passes two initial revisions of property tax laws

The Iowa House passed a bill that would delimit the amount of property tax breaks for homeowners. The legislation was introduced as a response to the 2015 tax bill passed in the previous session of the legislature. The new bill expands the definition of property tax breaks, allowing for a broader range of tax breaks for homeowners. The legislation also includes provisions for taxing land that is developed for residential use.

Ad ban shuns almighty dollar

To the Editor: This letter is addressed to the UI administration regarding the issue of advertising. As a student for the past seven years, I have evened to say that every time there was a question of money versus student rights, the UI decided in favor of the UI bill. I feel that UI has not addressed the case with future schedule of course books.

ERA faults lurk in the fine print

To the Editor: If you have read the fine print of the proposed ERA amendment,

You are mistaken. The proposal permits a redefinition of a right of welfare so as to be applicable to those who may be in need of it, thereby making it available to those who are not without need. The ERA is a new idea, and it would be a mistake to think of it as being an extension of the old ideas of welfare. The ERA is a new idea, and it is necessary to think of it as being an extension of the old ideas of welfare.

Sincerely,

Robert Murray

Cronin chosen school 'super'

By Peter Graziano

Dr. David Cronin, acting Iowa City school superintendent, has been selected superintendent of schools for the 1978-79 school year. He will begin his position at the beginning of the September Board meeting Thursday afternoon.

The 35-year-old offensive line coach at the University of Iowa was selected from a field of candidates, one of which was the resignation of Martin Ludwig Martin.

Cronin said he did not know he was the choice of the Board until the final decision was made Thursday afternoon.

"I was really surprised," he said. "I thought maybe there could be a better candidate. I really wasn't too sure that I would get the job."

Cronin will replace Dr. David Wintt, who has served as interim superintendent since the resignation of Martin Ludwig Martin.

The school Board was aided in its search for a new superintendent by consultants Robert L. Jones and Fred W. Farnham Jr., both of Center City, Mo.

The school Board held interviews with seven candidates, including Cronin, over a period of six weeks.

Cronin said that as superintendent he would try to promote suburban integration and coordination of services between the city and county schools.

"There have been some problems over integration and lack of coordination," he said. "I think there have been a lot of problems that we can improve."

Cronin will begin his new job in September, but has agreed to begin immediately and work weekends for a period of time before he begins his regular duties.

UI Hospital plans two-story addition

UI Hospitals and Clinics have started negotiations to build an addition to the hospital. The hospital already plans to expand the current hospital to accommodate the needs of 123,000 patients treated by the UI Health Care system.

The project, estimated at $30 million, is to be completed by 1979 and is expected to increase the hospital's current bed capacity of 415 to 540 beds.

The $30 million price tag is expected to be funded by a capital campaign and a state bond issue, and the federal government is expected to contribute $10 million.

The hospital officials expect to begin raising $20 million in January and plan to begin raising $10 million in February.

Steve Freedkin, UI spokesman, said the hospital currently has 1,325 beds and has an additional 253 beds that are used in the community hospital.

A new floor will accommodate 700 patients, and the hospital will expand to 1,200 additional beds.

A grand jury investigation begun by a subpoena to the Iowa City Press-Citizen, a subsidiary of the New York Times Co., has led to the arrest of a former Iowa City police officer.

The officer, arrested in October, was charged with perjury.

The police department had been investigating the officer for two years.

The investigation began after the officer had been indicted in a 1976 case of perjury.

The officer was arrested on a charge of perjury.

The trial is expected to take place in December.

ASSASSINATION sparks rioting in Nicaragua

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (UPI) - It was late Saturday morning when the President of Nicaragua, Anastasio Somoza, was killed. It was the first time in history that the head of state of a country had been assassinated.

Somoza, 57, was the grandson of NICARAGUAN President General Juan N. Somoza, who ruled the country from 1933 to 1939.

The assassination took place in the presidential palace in Managua, the capital city. The President was shot multiple times by a man who entered the palace and opened fire.

The exact details of the assassination are still unclear, but it is believed that the shooter was a police officer who had been involved in the recent unrest.

The assassination has sent shockwaves through the region, with other leaders calling for peace and stability.

 thì, the United States, has condemned the assassination and expressed condolences to the people of Nicaragua.

The assassination has also raised questions about the stability of the government and the future of the country.

The United States has a long history of intervention in Nicaragua, with the CIA playing a role in overthrowing the leftist Sandinista government in 1990.

The assassination could potentially lead to a new wave of unrest, with the government struggling to maintain control.

The assassination has also raised questions about the role of the United States in the region, with some calling for a rethink of its foreign policy.

The assassination has left the country in a state of mourning, with people gathering in the streets to pay their respects.

The assassination has also raised questions about the future of democracy in the region, with concerns that autocratic leaders may seek to maintain power.

The assassination has also raised questions about the role of the international community in promoting democracy and human rights.

The assassination has left the country in a state of shock, with people struggling to come to terms with the loss of one of its most important figures.

Iowa hosts Boilermaker swimmers

IN YONE BRADSHAW
Daily".

It'll be business as usual for the University of Iowa women's swimming team as they head to Purdue this weekend. The Hawkeyes will face the Boilermakers and the Big Ten champion Purdue Boilermakers in a dual meet at Purdue's Lavon Pool on Saturday. Kick off is at 1:00 P.M. at the Best Western Inn. The Hawkeyes are coming off a strong showing at the Big Ten Championships, where they placed fourth in the team standings. The women's team is led by senior co-captain Camille Providence, who has been a key contributor to the team's success this season. Providence has been a consistent performer in the pool, setting records and breaking personal bests throughout the season. The Hawkeyes are looking to continue their strong performance against Purdue and come away with a victory. It's sure to be an intense matchup between two strong swimming programs, and the Hawkeyes will need to bring their A-game to have a chance at winning. The meet will be followed by a meet preview and a meet summary, which will provide a detailed analysis of the Hawkeyes' performance against the Boilermakers. Michigan zone defense baffles Iowa

By ROGER THUROW
Sports Editor

Michigan gave Iowa a strong dose of mid-season medicine — a zone defense — and knocked the Hawkeyes flat on their backs with a 72-71 victory Thursday night.

"They just played Iowa's game against Iowa's zone," said Iowa guard Ronnie Lester, who contributed 12 points.

"We never start to gain the zone. We like to play man-to-man defense, and we didn't do that tonight," Iowa coach Bob Knight said.

"In the second half, we were facing a man-on-man defense, and when things went wrong, you can't really blame the players. It's just that we weren't about to be stubborn," Knight said.

"We just couldn't do anything against that zone in the second half," said Iowa Coach Lute Olson, who moved the ball and I'm very happy with our play in the first half and I'm disappointed in our zone leadership. The zone is a tough zone to get the ball in against the zone, and it just locks you in.

After getting into early foul trouble, Michigan guard Johnnie Orr entered the game and the Hawkeyes were down 14 with 11:23 to play. The Hawkeyes would manage only 10 points and the Wolverines would cool with the game, building a 16-point cushion general than in the second half.

"Michigan really lived up to the zone defense we'd heard about, and when things went wrong, you can't really blame the players. It's just that we weren't about to be stubborn," Knight said.

"I've never been a big fan of zone defense, and when things went wrong, you can't really blame the players. It's just that we weren't about to be stubborn," Knight said.
