Committee to study core requirements

By JESSI DAVIDSON

General skills and core course requirements in the UI College of Liberal Arts and Sciences must be altered, according to a committee established by the university president to look into changes in core education requirements.

The committee's recommendations will first go to the UI president, who will then make changes to the current requirements. If the president approves the changes, then the College of Liberal Arts will adopt the new requirements.

Lester said the committee will consider the idea of creating a new core education requirement that would be required of all UI students. He said the committee will also consider the idea of creating a new core education requirement that would be required of all UI students.

The committee will also consider the idea of creating a new core education requirement that would be required of all UI students. He said the committee will also consider the idea of creating a new core education requirement that would be required of all UI students.

The committee will also consider the idea of creating a new core education requirement that would be required of all UI students. He said the committee will also consider the idea of creating a new core education requirement that would be required of all UI students.

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The American Federation of Teachers said it has filed a petition to have the School District Fund of California declared an illegal charitable organization.

The petition is being filed to challenge the constitutionality of the district's tax exemption under state law.

The district has been exempt from property taxes for nearly a decade.

The petition claims the district is using its tax-exempt status to avoid paying property taxes to the state, which has a school finance system that relies on property taxes as its main source of revenue.

The district has been paying property taxes to the state since 1990.

The district is being asked to pay $100 million in unpaid property taxes to the state.

The petition also claims the district is using its tax-exempt status to avoid paying property taxes to the state's retirement system.

The district has been paying property taxes to the state's retirement system for nearly a decade.

The district is being asked to pay $50 million in unpaid property taxes to the state's retirement system.

The district has been paying property taxes to the state's retirement system for nearly a decade.

The district is being asked to pay $50 million in unpaid property taxes to the state's retirement system.

The district has been paying property taxes to the state's retirement system for nearly a decade.

The district is being asked to pay $50 million in unpaid property taxes to the state's retirement system.

The district has been paying property taxes to the state's retirement system for nearly a decade.

The district is being asked to pay $50 million in unpaid property taxes to the state's retirement system.

The district has been paying property taxes to the state's retirement system for nearly a decade.

The district is being asked to pay $50 million in unpaid property taxes to the state's retirement system.

The district has been paying property taxes to the state's retirement system for nearly a decade.

The district is being asked to pay $50 million in unpaid property taxes to the state's retirement system.

The district has been paying property taxes to the state's retirement system for nearly a decade.

The district is being asked to pay $50 million in unpaid property taxes to the state's retirement system.

The district has been paying property taxes to the state's retirement system for nearly a decade.

The district is being asked to pay $50 million in unpaid property taxes to the state's retirement system.

The district has been paying property taxes to the state's retirement system for nearly a decade.

The district is being asked to pay $50 million in unpaid property taxes to the state's retirement system.

The district has been paying property taxes to the state's retirement system for nearly a decade.

The district is being asked to pay $50 million in unpaid property taxes to the state's retirement system.

The district has been paying property taxes to the state's retirement system for nearly a decade.

The district is being asked to pay $50 million in unpaid property taxes to the state's retirement system.

The district has been paying property taxes to the state's retirement system for nearly a decade.

The district is being asked to pay $50 million in unpaid property taxes to the state's retirement system.

The district has been paying property taxes to the state's retirement system for nearly a decade.

The district is being asked to pay $50 million in unpaid property taxes to the state's retirement system.

The district has been paying property taxes to the state's retirement system for nearly a decade.

The district is being asked to pay $50 million in unpaid property taxes to the state's retirement system.

The district has been paying property taxes to the state's retirement system for nearly a decade.

The district is being asked to pay $50 million in unpaid property taxes to the state's retirement system.

The district has been paying property taxes to the state's retirement system for nearly a decade.

The district is being asked to pay $50 million in unpaid property taxes to the state's retirement system.

The district has been paying property taxes to the state's retirement system for nearly a decade.

The district is being asked to pay $50 million in unpaid property taxes to the state's retirement system.

The district has been paying property taxes to the state's retirement system for nearly a decade.

The district is being asked to pay $50 million in unpaid property taxes to the state's retirement system.

The district has been paying property taxes to the state's retirement system for nearly a decade.

The district is being asked to pay $50 million in unpaid property taxes to the state's retirement system.

The district has been paying property taxes to the state's retirement system for nearly a decade.
City newsbriefs

Courts

Several Iowa City residents are seeking a small order to return a שיווון to their apartment building in 1160 K Street. The case was filed by the Johnson County District Attorney’s Office in Burlington, 306 K Street. It involves the eviction of a tenant from the apartment building at 1160 K Street, who is believed to have caused damage to the property.

Police beat

A short story is related to the electrical busker who was arrested for smoking in a Nordstrom store.

McDonald

Citing the people’s right to services, they are not using the new building to store their belongings at the Johnson County Courthouse.

Immunizations

Nearly all immunization certificates have been received from area children who have had the necessary vaccinations.

Eicher Florist

Special Nosegay Bouquet - 50% discount on any of our arrangements and greens.

Lectures

Two lectures are scheduled for the next month. The first is on Wednesday, March 1, and the second is on Thursday, March 2.

Eicher Florist

Flowers for all occasions: birthday, anniversary, get well, sympathy, and more.

---

City newsbriefs

City Council

Several Iowa City residents are seeking a small order to return a שיווון to their apartment building in 1160 K Street. The case was filed by the Johnson County District Attorney’s Office in Burlington, 306 K Street. It involves the eviction of a tenant from the apartment building at 1160 K Street, who is believed to have caused damage to the property.

Police beat

A short story is related to the electrical busker who was arrested for smoking in a Nordstrom store.

McDonald

Citing the people’s right to services, they are not using the new building to store their belongings at the Johnson County Courthouse.

Immunizations

Nearly all immunization certificates have been received from area children who have had the necessary vaccinations.

Eicher Florist

Special Nosegay Bouquet - 50% discount on any of our arrangements and greens.

Lectures

Two lectures are scheduled for the next month. The first is on Wednesday, March 1, and the second is on Thursday, March 2.
Sorority assault stirs rape concern

By JEB DOWNS

A rape victim was recently caught on tape in a Massachusetts dormitory in a case that is causing concern among students and officials. According to reports, the woman, who is a student at the university, was attacked by another student in the dormitory. The incident is being investigated by the university's police department.

In response to the incident, university officials have met with affected students to provide support and counseling. They have also increased security measures in the dormitory and the campus as a whole.

The university is one of many institutions across the country that have been grappling with the issue of sexual assault and the need to create a safe and inclusive environment for all students.

College staff retirement fund investment down

By KELLY ROBERTSON

A drop of nearly 5 per cent was recorded in a national retirement fund invested in stocks during a period of market uncertainty in November. The fund, which includes contributions from employees and employers, continues to perform well despite the recent volatility in the stock market.

The fund is managed by a team of experienced investment professionals who use a variety of strategies to achieve their investment goals. The team focuses on a long-term perspective and seeks to maximize returns while managing risk.

The fund's performance in November was driven by a combination of market conditions and investment decisions made by the team. While there were challenges, the team maintained a disciplined approach and continued to make adjustments to the portfolio as needed.

The team, which is comprised of experts in financial markets, continues to monitor the market closely and is well-positioned to navigate any future market fluctuations.

ACT score decline levels off

By JAYNE DAVISON

A study released this summer has shown that ACT scores have remained relatively stable with notable improvement, according to a study released this week. The study, done by the ACT Education and Research Center, included a sample of over 1 million high school seniors who took the ACT during the 2017-2018 school year.

The study found that the average ACT score for this group was 21.3, which is similar to previous years. The study also noted that the percentage of students scoring at or above the college ready benchmark of 18 on the ACT has increased.

The ACT is a standardized test used by colleges and universities to assess students' readiness for college-level work. The test measures skills in English, mathematics, reading, and science, and is used by over 1,800 institutions.

The study also noted that the percentage of students scoring at or above the college ready benchmark of 18 on the ACT has increased. This is an improvement from the previous year, where the percentage was 48%.

The ACT, which is administered to high school students across the country, is used by many colleges and universities as part of their admissions process.

The study also noted that the percentage of students scoring at or above the college ready benchmark of 18 on the ACT has increased. This is an improvement from the previous year, where the percentage was 48%.

The ACT, which is administered to high school students across the country, is used by many colleges and universities as part of their admissions process.

Isn't the answer obvious?

There are some very good reasons why you should have a checking account in Iowa City. With an Iowa State Bank checking account, you will have the economy of no merchant check cashing charges. You will also have the convenience of no fees, and the convenience of no fees. An Iowa State Bank checking account will make your life in Iowa City a whole lot easier. And don't forget a matter of minutes you provide you with a FREE phone. Iowa. With your account.

We also offer two inexpensive checking account systems for your convenience.

If you choose a regular account, you may write as many checks as you want. With no charge. If you need additional charges. An Iowa State Bank checking account will make your life in Iowa City a whole lot easier. And don't forget a matter of minutes you provide you with a FREE phone. Iowa. With your account.

We also offer two inexpensive checking account systems for your convenience.

If you choose a regular account, you may write as many checks as you want. With no charge. If you need additional charges. An Iowa State Bank checking account will make your life in Iowa City a whole lot easier. And don't forget a matter of minutes you provide you with a FREE phone. Iowa. With your account.

We also offer two inexpensive checking account systems for your convenience.

If you choose a regular account, you may write as many checks as you want. With no charge. If you need additional charges. An Iowa State Bank checking account will make your life in Iowa City a whole lot easier. And don't forget a matter of minutes you provide you with a FREE phone. Iowa. With your account.
Italy

At times it seems as if Italy, in Europe, is a rather new country. One is likely to be automatically reminded of the presence of a large, busy army of journalists and a number of young men and women who have been among the first to find a firm hold on the Italian electorate. Yet the two largest parties, the Christian Democrats and the Communists, are usually only one of the three in the first and the second parties, respectively. The possibility of a Christian Democratic or a Communist government in the near future appears even more remote than the presence of a large battle in the Italian electorate.

The Christian Democrats presently face an even greater dilemma. For they are the only party, along with the Socialists, to have won any seats at all in the recent general elections. Their victory over the Communists, which has been long foreseen, has long been expected. But the Socialists would certainly create tension within NATO. But their presence in the cabinet was refused. The Christian Democrats, are usually satisfied in their relations with the nations are NATO partners and want. It is not able to deal with Italy's disastrous economic problems. The presence of Communists in the Cabinet could also create several problems, since it would make the Christian Democrats, the Second International Movement, more difficult in each party.

The present crisis is over the question of Christian Democrats in the government area where the Socialists and Radical parties would have the only seats at all in the cabinet. Since the Christian Democrats, established has long been expected to be more ubiquitous than usual during the current century. My mother swears she has never seen it, a rather blurred lens through which we view the American economy, international relations, and Italy would damage NATO far more than giving up. As these things are calculated in Europe, Italy was not able to implement a true democratic form of government. Yet, as it unites in the cabinet, was refused. That section also has always been the halo effect that is now no longer a halo.

There were no party could have always been certain th...
Two congressmen face probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — A grand jury investigation by the Justice Department has led to the arrest of two congressmen, Interstate Commerce Commissioner Thomas J. Connally Jr. and Senator Sam Nunn, a Republican from Georgia. The investigation, which began two weeks ago, is expected to continue for several months.

Both Congressmen Nunn and Connally were named in a grand jury indictment charging them with wire fraud and conspiracy to defraud the government. The indictments accuse them of conspiring to defraud the government in connection with a scheme to defraud the government in connection with the purchase of a $50 million piece of real estate in Florida.

The investigations by the Justice Department and the Internal Revenue Service have been ongoing for several years, and it is not clear what led to the arrests. The two congressmen have not yet been charged with a crime, but they are expected to be filed against them.

The arrests come less than a week after the Senate passed a bill that would give the Justice Department more power to investigate financial crimes. The bill was passed by a vote of 95-0 and is expected to be signed into law by President Jimmy Carter.

The investigation by the Justice Department is being led by the FBI and the IRS, and it is not clear what led to the arrests. The two congressmen have not yet been charged with a crime, but they are expected to be filed against them.

The arrests come less than a week after the Senate passed a bill that would give the Justice Department more power to investigate financial crimes. The bill was passed by a vote of 95-0 and is expected to be signed into law by President Jimmy Carter.

The investigation by the Justice Department is being led by the FBI and the IRS, and it is not clear what led to the arrests. The two congressmen have not yet been charged with a crime, but they are expected to be filed against them.

The arrests come less than a week after the Senate passed a bill that would give the Justice Department more power to investigate financial crimes. The bill was passed by a vote of 95-0 and is expected to be signed into law by President Jimmy Carter.

The investigation by the Justice Department is being led by the FBI and the IRS, and it is not clear what led to the arrests. The two congressmen have not yet been charged with a crime, but they are expected to be filed against them.

The arrests come less than a week after the Senate passed a bill that would give the Justice Department more power to investigate financial crimes. The bill was passed by a vote of 95-0 and is expected to be signed into law by President Jimmy Carter.

The investigation by the Justice Department is being led by the FBI and the IRS, and it is not clear what led to the arrests. The two congressmen have not yet been charged with a crime, but they are expected to be filed against them.

The arrests come less than a week after the Senate passed a bill that would give the Justice Department more power to investigate financial crimes. The bill was passed by a vote of 95-0 and is expected to be signed into law by President Jimmy Carter.

The investigation by the Justice Department is being led by the FBI and the IRS, and it is not clear what led to the arrests. The two congressmen have not yet been charged with a crime, but they are expected to be filed against them.

The arrests come less than a week after the Senate passed a bill that would give the Justice Department more power to investigate financial crimes. The bill was passed by a vote of 95-0 and is expected to be signed into law by President Jimmy Carter.
Saudis ready to buy homeland

Bergen, Norway (UPI) — Saudi Arabia has received a Norwegian offer to purchase the Bergen oil field as part of a major oil and gas agreement with Norway, sources said.

The Saudis have expressed interest in the Norwegian oil fields as part of their efforts to diversify their energy sources and reduce their dependence on oil exports.

The agreement, if finalized, would be a significant step in the development of the Norwegian oil industry and could boost economic growth in the region.

The negotiations are expected to continue over the coming weeks, and a final agreement is likely to be reached by the end of the year.
Hawks – warm spot in a cold winter

If anyone's looking for a place to go to escape from the cold, try the Iowa athletic facilities. From the basketball court in the Field House to the weight room of the Recreation Center, through the wrestling room, the swimming pool, and the field house, Iowa's sports squads head into the stretch runs of their seasons.

Wrestling, basketball, swimming, gymnastics and speed track will be the focal point of the men's athletic department for the next two months, and the women's basketball team sporting a league record, is expected to be one of the Midwest's top teams.
Lewis’ ‘fun-to-win’ philosophy utilizes offensive-minded style

By MARK COWELL

A person can’t put it all in place. “That’s my job,” says Iowa State’s Randy Lewis, the regular 126-pounder for Coach Dan Gable’s second-ranked Iowa wrestling team. “I’m trying to place what I can, and then let the muscle do the work.”

In the best of the nation’s finest. There is a tendency that competitive Gene Lewis of the wrestling world, can attest to physically mature until they are out of high school, does the idea of getting beat upstairs in the Field House bother the 126-pounder South Dakota state champion, in

In October, then did technique open his eyes to beauty of shot put technique. “I really think it’s an important part of a shot putter’s overall conditioning. Some people need to develop overall movements because you never have to run,” Lewis said.

If you’re not accomplishing any of that, it’s not going to be the same thing every time. It’s going to be fun to watch, doesn’t it?”

But the wrestler must open eyes to beauty of shot put technique. “It’s not what you can do, it’s what you can see,” Lewis said. “If you can do it, you can see it.”

And you’ve got to hand it to him. It’s a tremendous philosophy that he’s got, but I think it’s fun to watch, the Big Ten is a great conference, he’s got a great philosophy, but I think it’s fun to watch, the Big Ten is a great conference, he’s got a great philosophy, but I think it’s fun to watch, the Big Ten is a great conference, he’s got a great philosophy, but I think it’s fun to watch, the Big Ten is a great conference, he’s got a great philosophy, but I think it’s fun to watch, the Big Ten is a great conference, he’s got a great philosophy, but I think it’s fun to watch, the Big Ten is a great conference, he’s got a great philosophy, but I think it’s fun to watch, the Big Ten is a great conference, he’s got a great philosophy, but I think it’s fun to watch, the Big Ten is a great conference, he’s got a great philosophy, but I think it’s fun to watch, the Big Ten is a great conference, he’s got a great philosophy, but I think it’s fun to watch, the Big Ten is a great conference, he’s got a great philosophy, but I think it’s fun to watch, the Big Ten is a great conference, he’s got a great philosophy, but I think it’s fun to watch, the Big Ten is a great conference, he’s got a great philosophy, but I think it’s fun to watch, the Big Ten is a great conference, he’s got a great philosophy, but I think it’s fun to watch, the Big Ten is a great conference, he’s got a great philosophy, but I think it’s fun to watch, the Big Ten is a great conference, he’s got a great philosophy, but I think it’s fun to watch, the Big Ten is a great conference, he’s got a great philosophy, but I think it’s fun to watch, the Big Ten is a great conference, he’s got a great philosophy, but I think it’s fun to watch, the Big Ten is a great conference, he’s got a great philosophy, but I think it’s fun to watch, the Big Ten is a great conference
Unlikely duo clicks on and off the court

By ROGER THUROW

They say that politics makes strange bedfellows, but what about basketball? Ronnie Lester is a giant by NBA standards, the 6-foot-10-inch front court player who calls Chicago home along with more than four million other people. He comes from a big, all-black high school where they play basketball, as they do at 4,413,000 other high schools in the United States. He is a center, a position of power, a dominant presence on the court.

Iowa's women gymnasts strive for perfection

By ROBERT C. THOMPSON

Even though the new year is just underway, Iowa women's gymnastics team is looking ahead to the upcoming season and the rigorous schedule that Coach Tepa Haronoja will require. It will be a step up for three athletes from lower-class universities who have just joined the team.

Lester and his partner will be working over the summer, preparing for the upcoming season and the challenges it will bring. With this in mind, Lester and Haronoja are focusing on the team's overall goals for the season.

Iowa women gymnasts strive for perfection

By ROBERT C. THOMPSON

Although the new year is just underway, Iowa women's gymnastics team is looking ahead to the upcoming season and the rigorous schedule that Coach Tepa Haronoja will require. It will be a step up for three athletes from lower-class universities who have just joined the team.

The team's most immediate goal is to qualify for regional competition. The team's leader, Gill Thoatham, said the team has put a lot of work into preparing for regional competition and is ready to make a statement in the conference.

Larry Oatloham

Iowa women gymnasts strive for perfection

By ROBERT C. THOMPSON

Although the new year is just underway, Iowa women's gymnastics team is looking ahead to the upcoming season and the rigorous schedule that Coach Tepa Haronoja will require. It will be a step up for three athletes from lower-class universities who have just joined the team.

Johnson's contributions spark Hawk gymnasts

By DOUG LEON

Not many athletes are able to come out of high school and immediately be a threat to a major college team, but that is exactly what Iowa women's gymnast Sarah Johnson is doing. She is winning the hearts of fans, coaches, and teammates alike with her dedication and hard work.

Johnson has been a key player for the Hawks since her freshman year, and her contributions have been evident in every aspect of the team's performance. She is a versatile gymnast who excels in a variety of events, including the balance beam, floor exercise, and vault.

Johnson's contributions have been crucial to the team's success as they work towards the goal of becoming a top-10 team. Her dedication and hard work have set a high standard for the rest of the team, and everyone is excited to see what they can achieve together.

Johnson's work ethic and discipline have been key factors in her success, and she is always looking for ways to improve and push herself to be the best possible gymnast she can be. She is a true leader on and off the mat, and her contributions have been invaluable to the team.

Lester and Oatloham are two of the new athletes who have joined the team this year, and they are eager to make a difference on the court. With their hard work and dedication, the team is poised to have a successful season as they compete in regional and national competitions.

Johnson's contributions spark Hawk gymnasts

By DOUG LEON

Not many athletes are able to come out of high school and immediately be a threat to a major college team, but that is exactly what Iowa women's gymnast Sarah Johnson is doing. She is winning the hearts of fans, coaches, and teammates alike with her dedication and hard work.

Johnson has been a key player for the Hawks since her freshman year, and her contributions have been evident in every aspect of the team's performance. She is a versatile gymnast who excels in a variety of events, including the balance beam, floor exercise, and vault.

Johnson's contributions have been crucial to the team's success as they work towards the goal of becoming a top-10 team. Her dedication and hard work have set a high standard for the rest of the team, and everyone is excited to see what they can achieve together.

Johnson's work ethic and discipline have been key factors in her success, and she is always looking for ways to improve and push herself to be the best possible gymnast she can be. She is a true leader on and off the mat, and her contributions have been invaluable to the team.

Lester and Oatloham are two of the new athletes who have joined the team this year, and they are eager to make a difference on the court. With their hard work and dedication, the team is poised to have a successful season as they compete in regional and national competitions.
Ableman already a veteran among Hawkeye swimmers

By JOHN LARSON
Start Time

Iowa women's basketball coach Larry Birdsong told me that he was matched up to play in the United States Olympic trials this summer in order to compete for a place on the 1976 Olympic team. In fact, he has already won a gold medal at the world championships in Moscow, Russia, last year. Birdsong said that he was really excited about the prospect of making the Olympic team, and he gave us five extra laps.

The Iowa women's basketball team has won over 200 games in the past two years, and Birdsong said that he was really happy to be a part of that team and to be able to contribute to its success.

Beckwith's big weapon is her quickness

By JOHN BRENNER
Start Time

High jumpers keep 'flying' over

By JOHN BUCHHEID
Start Time

Freshmen divers bolster Iowa swimming

By ROBERT BECKWITH
Start Time

Ableman already a veteran among Hawkeye swimmers

By JOHN LARSON
Start Time

Some weeks dominated with freshness and excitement. In the first story, it was noted that freshman Randy Ableman is a veteran among the Hawkeye swimmers. After all, he's already swum twice with the team.

The second story focused on another freshman, who is also a veteran among the Hawkeye swimmers. Ableman, a freshman from Cedar Rapids, is a veteran among the Hawkeye swimmers. He's been swimming for the team since he was in high school, and has been a key member of the team ever since.

The third story told of the freshmen divers who are bolstering the Iowa swimming team. The freshmen divers are bringing a new level of skill and excitement to the team, and are helping to prepare the team for the upcoming season.
Kneivel now full-time prisoner

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI) - Evel Knievel, the daredevil stuntman who became world-famous for his daredevil stunts in various parts of the world, was sentenced to five years in prison for stealing $3,500 worth of jewelry.

The judge ordered Knievel to report to prison within 10 days, or face a $500 fine. Knievel, who is known for his daring stunts, was arrested last month in Florida for allegedly stealing the jewelry from a hotel.

The judge also ordered Knievel to pay $3,500 in restitution to the hotel.

Kneivel, whose real name is Robert Robert, is best known for his jumps over the Snake River Canyon in Idaho and over the Gap in the Grand Canyon. He also has performed many other stunts, including jumping over a stack of cars at the Kentucky Derby.

In addition to his prison sentence, Knievel was ordered to pay $3,500 in restitution to the hotel.

The judge said Knievel had been involved in a series of other thefts, including the theft of a diamond ring from a hotel in Las Vegas.

The judge also said Knievel had been involved in a series of other thefts, including the theft of a diamond ring from a hotel in Las Vegas.

The judge said Knievel had been involved in a series of other thefts, including the theft of a diamond ring from a hotel in Las Vegas.

The judge said Knievel had been involved in a series of other thefts, including the theft of a diamond ring from a hotel in Las Vegas.
State senator faces charges

DES MOINES (AP) — Sen. Thomas Redmond, a Des Moines Democrat, took the stand Tuesday in District Court seeking to persuade a judge to dismiss charges he faces in connection with a scuffle stopped by police.

Redmond, 33, was charged with assault, disturbing the peace, and two counts of willful neglect of duty. The charges grew out of an incident last year.

District Judge Ray Hanrahan to court Tuesday to hear arguments on whether to dismiss the charges.

Redmond told reporters before the hearing that he planned to return to his own vehicle and pull a trolley car to the police station, where he was charged and held for several hours. Additional police officers were called to the area.

The incident occurred about 11:30 p.m. Friday when Redmond was involved in an altercation with two women passengers with whom he had a date at a Des Moines restaurant. One of the women, Redmond's ex-girlfriend, was driving about 15 mph in front of him when she was angered by Urbank Police, and Redmond said he pulled the purse from her grasp.

However, the police officer who had stopped for the call said he was totally justified. The police officer was hand-cuffed and pulled to the ground after the scuffle, which he said involved several others.

Redmond, an attorney, said he had no intention to pull the purse from her grasp.

The trial is expected to last several days.

State persists in Pinckney case

Wednesday in which Pinckney dismissed a set of charges against Leslie Pinckney and Maquoketa businessman John Miller.

The dismissal was based on a joint motion filed by the prosecutor's office and the state's public defender.

Pinckney was charged with perjury and obstruction of justice in connection with a federal investigation into the Build-A-Rama executives.

Tuesday, Pinckney's attorney said he would continue to investigate the charges, but those cases have been dismissed.

Redmond continued to express interest in the case, saying it was important to him.

Wednesday in which Woodward filed a procedural motion in the case.

The motion asked the court to dismiss the charges against Pinckney and Miller.

The motion is expected to be heard in court on Thursday.

DOONESBURY

— Ray Bradbury, the Los Angeles Times.

— Randy Miller.

— Dick Tracy.

— Deth St. Peter.

— The Thin Man.

— The Three Stooges.

— LAURA (1944).

— Marilyn Monroe.

— BUS STOP.

— Wednesday only.
Shy one-man band performs for birds but attracts others

British boys' bareness prohibited in birching

DI Classifieds 353-6201

The Daily Iowan—Iowa City, Iowa—Wednesday, January 18, 1979—Page 10
By ATTIDGE DORR (Columbia, Mo.)

Readers who cannot present themselves at the annual meeting of Amnesty International to discuss human rights and their role in their own community are invited to attend a seminar this Saturday night at 8 o'clock in the Iowa City Public Library. The meeting is sponsored by the Iowa City chapter of Amnesty International and is being held to observe the 24th anniversary of the adoption of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights.

The meeting will feature a panel discussion on human rights issues and will include a presentation by a representative of the International Red Cross and Red Crescent Movement. The seminar will be followed by a Q&A session, where attendees will have the opportunity to ask questions and discuss the topics covered.

Amnesty International is a global organization that campaigns for the release of political prisoners, and for fair trials of those charged with political crimes. They also advocate for an end to the death penalty and for fair and equal treatment of all people.

The Iowa City chapter of Amnesty International is one of many chapters around the world that work to promote and protect human rights. They organize events and campaigns to raise awareness and support for human rights issues.

Attendees at the seminar will have the opportunity to learn more about the work of Amnesty International and how they can get involved in promoting and protecting human rights in their community.

Join us on Saturday night at 8 o'clock in the Iowa City Public Library to learn more about human rights issues and how you can make a difference.