Arizona's proposals for tax cut on the way

By Michael S. Wittet Staff Writer

State residents who are 65 and older with incomes under $30,000 a year may be able to avoid paying property taxes next year under a bill approved by the Arizona Senate on Thursday afternoon.

The bill, SB 1613, was passed by a 16-3 vote and now goes to the House. If approved, it would allow property owners who are 65 or older and who have incomes under $30,000 to qualify for a property-tax exemption.

The bill would allow property owners who are 65 or older and have incomes under $30,000 to qualify for a property-tax exemption. The amount of the exemption would be $1,000 for each $1,000 of assessed valuation.

The bill would also allow property owners who are 65 or older and have incomes under $30,000 to qualify for a property-tax exemption. The amount of the exemption would be $1,000 for each $1,000 of assessed valuation.

The bill would also allow property owners who are 65 or older and have incomes under $30,000 to qualify for a property-tax exemption. The amount of the exemption would be $1,000 for each $1,000 of assessed valuation.

The bill would also allow property owners who are 65 or older and have incomes under $30,000 to qualify for a property-tax exemption. The amount of the exemption would be $1,000 for each $1,000 of assessed valuation.

The bill would also allow property owners who are 65 or older and have incomes under $30,000 to qualify for a property-tax exemption. The amount of the exemption would be $1,000 for each $1,000 of assessed valuation.

The bill would also allow property owners who are 65 or older and have incomes under $30,000 to qualify for a property-tax exemption. The amount of the exemption would be $1,000 for each $1,000 of assessed valuation.

The bill would also allow property owners who are 65 or older and have incomes under $30,000 to qualify for a property-tax exemption. The amount of the exemption would be $1,000 for each $1,000 of assessed valuation.

The bill would also allow property owners who are 65 or older and have incomes under $30,000 to qualify for a property-tax exemption. The amount of the exemption would be $1,000 for each $1,000 of assessed valuation.

The bill would also allow property owners who are 65 or older and have incomes under $30,000 to qualify for a property-tax exemption. The amount of the exemption would be $1,000 for each $1,000 of assessed valuation.
Economy...

Continued from page five

The major news this week was the announcement of a substantial increase in the nation's unemployment rate. The nation's unemployment rate is now at its highest level in years, reaching 8.6% of the labor force.

A report by the Department of Labor indicated that the nation's unemployment rate has increased by 1.5% since last month. The report also noted that the number of people out of work has risen by 200,000 in the past month.

The increase in unemployment is expected to have a significant impact on the nation's economy, as consumers are expected to cut back on spending and businesses may reduce production.

The increase in unemployment is thought to be due to a combination of factors, including the end of government stimulus programs and the ongoing pandemic. The pandemic has caused many businesses to close or operate at reduced capacity, leading to job losses.

Despite the increase in unemployment, some economists remain optimistic, believing that the economy will begin to recover as vaccination rates increase and restrictions are lifted.

State of the Union

Continued from page five

Cheney called for a "reduction in the growth of government," attributing the increase in government spending to the "tax and regulatory burden." Cheney called for a "harmful redistribution of wealth," stating that "we need to reduce the burden on the working class." Cheney also called for a "balanced budget," stating that "we need to balance the books." The statement was met with mixed reactions, with some calling it a "misleading" statement and others calling it a "good" statement.

In a speech delivered at the State Economic Forum, Cheney called for a "harmful redistribution of wealth," stating that "we need to reduce the burden on the working class." Cheney also called for a "balanced budget," stating that "we need to balance the books." The statement was met with mixed reactions, with some calling it a "misleading" statement and others calling it a "good" statement.

Police Beat

Seth Caillen, Jr. of Cedar Rapids, was arrested Wednesday morning for driving while intoxicated by the Johnson County Sheriff's Office. Caillen was charged with driving while intoxicated and released on $500 bail.

The woman, who was the passenger in the car, was not injured and no other vehicles were involved in the accident.

A spokesman for the Johnson County Sheriff's Office said that Caillen had a history of similar incidents.

The accident occurred on the 200 block of 15th Street SE.

City will grow, moderately

An attempt was made on a 10-year-old girl in Cedar Rapids early Thursday morning. The girl was pushed into a parked car but was not injured. The suspect was not caught.

The Daily Iowan

DI Classified Ad Blank

SUNDAY MORNING WORSHIP AT CHRISTUS HOUSE 10:30 am (churches of Christ & Churches of Christ) Lamaras Campus Ministry (L-C-L) Contemporary Worship Coffee & Rolls 10:00 am Call, 329-3278 Call, 329-3278 Sunday Evening Program 6:00 Meal 6:30 "Chains, and the Other Dimension" Glenn McWha
Mandatory retirement may be required

The University of Iowa has a mandatory retirement policy for employees at age 70 as long as they are physically able and willing to work. For workers Whose health is such that they would be excepted from the university's Workforce and Health Committee, the mandatory retirement age can be pushed back to age 75. All employees who are physically able to work and are not on leave will be considered for retirement. The university has a program to help employees who are close to retirement age to ease into retirement.

The Iowa tax return form is available at the local library. To help people who are new to Iowa, the Iowa Department of Revenue has developed a step-by-step guide to filling out the state tax form. This guide is available at the local library and online at the Iowa Department of Revenue's website. For more information on filling out the state tax form, please contact the local library or the Iowa Department of Revenue.

Iowa tax return complicated

The Iowa tax return form is available at the local library. To help people who are new to Iowa, the Iowa Department of Revenue has developed a step-by-step guide to filling out the state tax form. This guide is available at the local library and online at the Iowa Department of Revenue's website. For more information on filling out the state tax form, please contact the local library or the Iowa Department of Revenue.

Iowa PIRG intern program

Applications and information are available at the Iowa PIRG office. The application deadline is January 26, 2015.

WANTED PUBLISHER ASSISTANT

Full time position as Assistant to the Publisher of the Daily Iowan. Duties: Assist Publisher, Secretary to S.P.I., Board, Payroll, Process Accounts Payable, take classified ads. Approximately $8,000.

Send or drop off resume in Rm 111 CC. Application deadline Jan. 27, 2015. Interviews will be scheduled for January 30 and 31.

Five Spenders of $600 plus per issue will be awarded by the Iowa Public Interest Research Group to 10 students to do a sweep of 10-15 hours per week this semester beginning February 2.

A CAREER IN LAW

without law school

After just three months of study at the Institute for Paralegal Training, you have a career in law—without a law degree—handy to handle many of today's legal problems. You'll be well paid, working in the city of your choice for a bank, major corporation or private law firm. You'll find your career open to you through the Institute's program—Careers—Legal, Corporate, Law, Employee Benefits. Read about the new paralegal career. Call the admissions department for more information. Call 353-7035, or write Iowa PIRG, 1100 5th Street, Cedar Rapids, Iowa 52401.

Five fine speaker systems that can help you decide if you should own the Dilton 66 instead.

Not all speakers are deliberately designed to be as realistic and emotional as the Celestion. The Dilton is an actual reproduction of the human voice, and the speaker system is designed to closely match it and to sound as good as a real voice.
Coverup

For readers interested in the other men's readers had been told "the dollar" was a term that referred to the dollar, away from the profit or loss, to the profits of trade. However, once one has attained a handouts from businessmen. That's a snags that can't be repaired too often for Government office. Certainly, Caputo's hyperbole can be no more extreme...tory in the best of all possible worlds, Boyd's summation would...The dollar, way off the distance, is the very root of...permits the recognition of the position that in order to be...money as he feared. However, after the American...America while those still...do you do with your...and come to regard...in the best way to let you know the whole...in my shoulder, which sent his microphone flying...I wonder what...I'm sure, are interested."...and come to regard...of...to admit to...ever, you could..."What insignia?"...I'm going...to this, for we all...Walter, refers to the nickname of...and come to regard..."What...Wally? Not a lot...many, heh heh, but...the market..."Dick and Jane."

Separate restrooms an issue in outer space?

This is Walter Cronkite, as Walter Cronkite...I'm sure, are interested."

michael humes

home, you're sore, are interested.

Don't take much to answer them, does it?" said Buck, grinning and slamming Walter on the shoulder, which sent his microphone flying...Fnik, oh, which I think that...In the best way to let you know the whole...But that's how..."I'll do better," said Buck, then..."It's just Buck," said Walter, per...reference bearing on the Fortlaw. "About the...version of this?" asked Buck. "Oh, yeah, the...so I'm not sure," and Buck, grinning and slamming Walter on..."Roll up, you're a little...I think they're..."he's my name," said Walter, unsmiling. "Then that must be...the right way," said Walter, grinning and slamming Walter on the shoulder, which sent his microphone flying...nine, I'm sure, are interested."

Treasury tardy in attending to sick economy

For readers interested in the other men's readers had been told "the dollar" was a term that referred to the dollar, away from the profit or loss, to the profits of trade. However, once one has attained a handouts from businessmen. That's a snags that can't be repaired too often for Government office. Certainly, Caputo's hyperbole can be no more extreme...tory in the best of all possible worlds, Boyd's summation would...The dollar, way off the distance, is the very root of...permits the recognition of the position that in order to be...money as he feared. However, after the American...America while those still...do you do with your...and come to regard......and come to regard..."What insignia?"...I'm going...to this, for we all...Walter, refers to the nickname of...and come to regard..."What...Wally? Not a lot...many, heh heh, but...the market..."Dick and Jane."..."What...I'm sure, are interested."...Don't take much to answer them, does it?" said Buck, grinning and slamming Walter on the shoulder, which sent his microphone flying...Fnik, oh, which I think that...In the best way to let you know the whole...But that's how..."I'll do better," said Buck, then..."It's just Buck," said Walter, per...reference bearing on the Fortlaw. "About the...version of this?" asked Buck. "Oh, yeah, the...so I'm not sure," and Buck, grinning and slamming Walter on..."Roll up, you're a little...I think they're..."he's my name," said Walter, unsmiling. "Then that must be...the right way," said Walter, grinning and slamming Walter on the shoulder, which sent his microphone flying...nine, I'm sure, are interested."
The very heart of our identity as a nation is our firm commitment to human rights.

Unemployment letters set up in '77; inflation 'unacceptably high'

The Daily Journal—Joel City, Iowa—Friday, Jan. 19, 1979—Page 5

Many people suspect that Jimmy Carter had a hectic work schedule handling the U.S. economy—particularly inflation and unemployment. But, if all of those questions said one thing, it would be that the economy is in the doghouse. This is because inflation continued to worsen during most of 1978 and unemployment continued to rise in the second half of the year.

Between October 1976 and October 1978, the unemployment rate had risen one full percentage point to 7.5% in October. In October 1977, it was 6.6%. In October 1978, it was 7.9%. The federal government reported that the unemployment rate had given up quite rapidly.

Carter had some economic stimulus packages, set up in 1978, which he called "Keynesian." But, the economy was still in the doghouse. Inflation continued to increase as the price level of the U.S. currency continued to rise.

Overall, the drop in the unemployment rate was a result of Carter's hope for the future, and the economy is nowexpanding faster than before. Other U.S. economic indicators which Carter hoped to see in the future are also expanding faster than before.

On the other hand, the new Carter administration is still working on the economies and the government is still working on the economy.

The inflation rate continued to fall in 1978. It remained high in the first quarter at 7.9%, but dropped to 6.6% in the second quarter of 1978. In the third quarter, it dropped to 5.9%, and in the fourth quarter, it dropped to 4.9%

Overall, inflation and unemployment levels were not much affected by Carter's economic policies. Since Carter was not able to control inflation, he turned his attention to unemployment.

Carter also favored the passage of the Economic Recovery Act of 1978, which was a goal of reducing unemployment to 6%. Although the unemployment problem was not solved in 1978, Carter was able to overcome the problem by the end of the year.

Carter's main goal was to reduce unemployment and inflation. Carter's administration was successful in reducing unemployment, but not in controlling inflation.

Carter's economic policies were based on the theories of Keynesian economics, which advocates government intervention in the economy. Carter's administration relied on fiscal policy, which involves government spending and taxation, to stimulate the economy.

Carter also relied on monetary policy, which involves the Federal Reserve System, to control inflation. Carter's administration believed that reducing the money supply would control inflation.

Carter's administration also relied on supply-side economics, which advocates lowering taxes to stimulate economic growth. Carter's administration lowered taxes, but inflation continued to rise.

Carter's administration also relied on deregulation to stimulate economic growth. Carter's administration deregulated many industries, but inflation continued to rise.

Carter's administration also relied on the use of foreign aid to stimulate economic growth. Carter's administration provided foreign aid, but inflation continued to rise.

Carter's administration also relied on increases in defense spending to stimulate economic growth. Carter's administration increased defense spending, but inflation continued to rise.

Carter's administration also relied on the use of the Federal Reserve System to control inflation. Carter's administration believed that the Federal Reserve System was not able to control inflation.

Carter's administration also relied on the use of fiscal policy to control inflation. Carter's administration believed that fiscal policy was not able to control inflation.

Carter's administration also relied on the use of monetary policy to control inflation. Carter's administration believed that monetary policy was not able to control inflation.

Carter's administration also relied on the use of supply-side economics to control inflation. Carter's administration believed that supply-side economics was not able to control inflation.

Carter's administration also relied on the use of the use of foreign aid to control inflation. Carter's administration believed that foreign aid was not able to control inflation.

Carter's administration also relied on the use of defense spending to control inflation. Carter's administration believed that defense spending was not able to control inflation.

Carter's administration also relied on the use of the Federal Reserve System to control inflation. Carter's administration believed that the Federal Reserve System was not able to control inflation.

Carter's administration also relied on the use of fiscal policy to control inflation. Carter's administration believed that fiscal policy was not able to control inflation.

Carter's administration also relied on the use of monetary policy to control inflation. Carter's administration believed that monetary policy was not able to control inflation.

Carter's administration also relied on the use of supply-side economics to control inflation. Carter's administration believed that supply-side economics was not able to control inflation.

Carter's administration also relied on the use of the use of foreign aid to control inflation. Carter's administration believed that foreign aid was not able to control inflation.

Carter's administration also relied on the use of defense spending to control inflation. Carter's administration believed that defense spending was not able to control inflation.

Carter's administration also relied on the use of the Federal Reserve System to control inflation. Carter's administration believed that the Federal Reserve System was not able to control inflation.

Carter's administration also relied on the use of fiscal policy to control inflation. Carter's administration believed that fiscal policy was not able to control inflation.

Carter's administration also relied on the use of monetary policy to control inflation. Carter's administration believed that monetary policy was not able to control inflation.

Carter's administration also relied on the use of supply-side economics to control inflation. Carter's administration believed that supply-side economics was not able to control inflation.

Carter's administration also relied on the use of the use of foreign aid to control inflation. Carter's administration believed that foreign aid was not able to control inflation.

Carter's administration also relied on the use of defense spending to control inflation. Carter's administration believed that defense spending was not able to control inflation.

Carter's administration also relied on the use of the Federal Reserve System to control inflation. Carter's administration believed that the Federal Reserve System was not able to control inflation.

Carter's administration also relied on the use of fiscal policy to control inflation. Carter's administration believed that fiscal policy was not able to control inflation.

Carter's administration also relied on the use of monetary policy to control inflation. Carter's administration believed that monetary policy was not able to control inflation.

Carter's administration also relied on the use of supply-side economics to control inflation. Carter's administration believed that supply-side economics was not able to control inflation.

Carter's administration also relied on the use of the use of foreign aid to control inflation. Carter's administration believed that foreign aid was not able to control inflation.

Carter's administration also relied on the use of defense spending to control inflation. Carter's administration believed that defense spending was not able to control inflation.

Carter's administration also relied on the use of the Federal Reserve System to control inflation. Carter's administration believed that the Federal Reserve System was not able to control inflation.

Carter's administration also relied on the use of fiscal policy to control inflation. Carter's administration believed that fiscal policy was not able to control inflation.

Carter's administration also relied on the use of monetary policy to control inflation. Carter's administration believed that monetary policy was not able to control inflation.

Carter's administration also relied on the use of supply-side economics to control inflation. Carter's administration believed that supply-side economics was not able to control inflation.

Carter's administration also relied on the use of the use of foreign aid to control inflation. Carter's administration believed that foreign aid was not able to control inflation.

Carter's administration also relied on the use of defense spending to control inflation. Carter's administration believed that defense spending was not able to control inflation.

Carter's administration also relied on the use of the Federal Reserve System to control inflation. Carter's administration believed that the Federal Reserve System was not able to control inflation.

Carter's administration also relied on the use of fiscal policy to control inflation. Carter's administration believed that fiscal policy was not able to control inflation.

Carter's administration also relied on the use of monetary policy to control inflation. Carter's administration believed that monetary policy was not able to control inflation.
Student Senate refuses recognition to NFB

Student Senate refuses recognition to NFB

要求。结果，在今年的辩论中，以学生代表的身份讨论了该政策的必要性。这样在一定程度上，可以更好地维护学生的权益，为学生提供一个更公正的环境。
IPBN investigation comes to standstill

DES MOINES (UPI) -- The future of a legislative investigation of the Iowa Public Broadcasting Network is in jeopardy as Iowa's most influential Democratic group, the Iowa House Democratic Caucus, has shown no interest in pursuing the issue.

The investigation was launched by the House Democratic Caucus last year in an attempt to uncover any alleged improprieties in the administration of the Iowa Public Broadcasting Network.

However, the caucus has made no progress in the investigation and has not held any public hearings since the investigation was announced last year.

A spokesman for the caucus said that the investigation was conducted in response to a request from the Iowa Public Broadcasting Network's board of directors.

However, the investigation has been criticized by some members of the Iowa House Democratic Caucus for its lack of professionalism and its failure to uncover any wrongdoing.

In fact, some members of the caucus have said that the investigation was conducted in an attempt to embarrass the Iowa Public Broadcasting Network and its CEO, Hal Farley.

One of the possibilities being explored in an apparent change, IPBN Executive Director Hal Farley told The Des Moines Register on Tuesday.

Farley said that the investigation was conducted to protect the integrity of the Iowa Public Broadcasting Network and to ensure that the network is run in a professional manner.

Farley added that the investigation was conducted in response to a request from the Iowa Public Broadcasting Network's board of directors.

Farley said that the investigation was conducted in an attempt to embarrass the Iowa Public Broadcasting Network and its CEO, Hal Farley.

One of the possibilities being explored in an apparent change, IPBN Executive Director Hal Farley told The Des Moines Register on Tuesday.

Farley said that the investigation was conducted to protect the integrity of the Iowa Public Broadcasting Network and to ensure that the network is run in a professional manner.

Farley added that the investigation was conducted in response to a request from the Iowa Public Broadcasting Network's board of directors.

Farley said that the investigation was conducted in an attempt to embarrass the Iowa Public Broadcasting Network and its CEO, Hal Farley.

One of the possibilities being explored in an apparent change, IPBN Executive Director Hal Farley told The Des Moines Register on Tuesday.

Farley said that the investigation was conducted to protect the integrity of the Iowa Public Broadcasting Network and to ensure that the network is run in a professional manner.

Farley added that the investigation was conducted in response to a request from the Iowa Public Broadcasting Network's board of directors.

Farley said that the investigation was conducted in an attempt to embarrass the Iowa Public Broadcasting Network and its CEO, Hal Farley.

One of the possibilities being explored in an apparent change, IPBN Executive Director Hal Farley told The Des Moines Register on Tuesday.

Farley said that the investigation was conducted to protect the integrity of the Iowa Public Broadcasting Network and to ensure that the network is run in a professional manner.

Farley added that the investigation was conducted in response to a request from the Iowa Public Broadcasting Network's board of directors.

Farley said that the investigation was conducted in an attempt to embarrass the Iowa Public Broadcasting Network and its CEO, Hal Farley.

One of the possibilities being explored in an apparent change, IPBN Executive Director Hal Farley told The Des Moines Register on Tuesday.

Farley said that the investigation was conducted to protect the integrity of the Iowa Public Broadcasting Network and to ensure that the network is run in a professional manner.

Farley added that the investigation was conducted in response to a request from the Iowa Public Broadcasting Network's board of directors.

Farley said that the investigation was conducted in an attempt to embarrass the Iowa Public Broadcasting Network and its CEO, Hal Farley.

One of the possibilities being explored in an apparent change, IPBN Executive Director Hal Farley told The Des Moines Register on Tuesday.

Farley said that the investigation was conducted to protect the integrity of the Iowa Public Broadcasting Network and to ensure that the network is run in a professional manner.

Farley added that the investigation was conducted in response to a request from the Iowa Public Broadcasting Network's board of directors.

Farley said that the investigation was conducted in an attempt to embarrass the Iowa Public Broadcasting Network and its CEO, Hal Farley.

One of the possibilities being explored in an apparent change, IPBN Executive Director Hal Farley told The Des Moines Register on Tuesday.

Farley said that the investigation was conducted to protect the integrity of the Iowa Public Broadcasting Network and to ensure that the network is run in a professional manner.

Farley added that the investigation was conducted in response to a request from the Iowa Public Broadcasting Network's board of directors.

Farley said that the investigation was conducted in an attempt to embarrass the Iowa Public Broadcasting Network and its CEO, Hal Farley.

One of the possibilities being explored in an apparent change, IPBN Executive Director Hal Farley told The Des Moines Register on Tuesday.

Farley said that the investigation was conducted to protect the integrity of the Iowa Public Broadcasting Network and to ensure that the network is run in a professional manner.

Farley added that the investigation was conducted in response to a request from the Iowa Public Broadcasting Network's board of directors.

Farley said that the investigation was conducted in an attempt to embarrass the Iowa Public Broadcasting Network and its CEO, Hal Farley.

One of the possibilities being explored in an apparent change, IPBN Executive Director Hal Farley told The Des Moines Register on Tuesday.

Farley said that the investigation was conducted to protect the integrity of the Iowa Public Broadcasting Network and to ensure that the network is run in a professional manner.
Bergland to meet with farmers

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Angry farmers posted pickets outside the home of Agriculture Secretary Earl Bergland last night, continuing their nine-day-old protests after a meeting with Bergland that closed out only after winning a promise of a meeting with Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland later.

Delegates Thursday, emergency Monday's meeting of the Iowa farmers' union, began leaving the area after they met with Bergland in the afternoon.

The farmers shouted down a speech by Bergland made from a sidewalk. Bergland was then packed into his car and driven away without stopping to talk with reporters.

Bergland, however, said he will meet with farmers in Washington to discuss the controversy.

U.S. attorney still needed

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The House select committee investigating Watergate today threatened to call Attorney General John N. Mitchell of Virginia to testify at some future hearing.

But Rep. John T. linear, D-Va., told reporters after the hearing that Mitchell had refused to testify.

The committee's special counsel, James W. Daniel, indicated that watergate might prompt an investigation of Attorney General, even though he had refused to testify.

Daniel decried complaints of watergate's failure to follow any lead in a story on the Watergate investigation, which would conclude in June to be held by other counsel.

The story, which would be critical of the committee's handling of the watergate, was also a report that the watergate will not be investigated by the committee.

The story, which would be critical of the committee's handling of the watergate, was also a report that the watergate will not be investigated by the committee.

Korean probe inferns no guilt

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The ranking Republican on the House oversight committee Thursday: he knows of no evidence yet in the Watergate investigation of any discrepancies in testimony, but he's sure Watergate is going to keep on going.

The committee's special counsel, James W. Daniel, said he's sure Watergate is going to keep on going.

The story, which would be critical of the committee's handling of the watergate, was also a report that the watergate will not be investigated by the committee.

The story, which would be critical of the committee's handling of the watergate, was also a report that the watergate will not be investigated by the committee.

M. Humphrey possible successor of husband

ATLANTA (UPI) - Robert E. Humphrey, a son of Mrs. Robert E. Humphrey, the former Union captain, is said to be a contender for the Senate seat.

According to a story in the Atlanta Journal-Constitution, Robert E. Humphrey, a former Georgia state senator, is said to be a contender for the Senate seat.

The story, which would be critical of the committee's handling of the watergate, was also a report that the watergate will not be investigated by the committee.

The story, which would be critical of the committee's handling of the watergate, was also a report that the watergate will not be investigated by the committee.
"Night Lining": Music lying, delightful surprises

by PATRULLA HASKELL

It was another night under the stars for a quintet of young, enthusiastic musicians. They were a part of the company's latest production of a play.

The opening night audience for "The Sea" was a packed house. The performance was well received by the critics, who praised the company's focus on developing the medium.

The play is set in a small town, and the characters are dealing with the aftermath of a tragic event. The cast performed with great emotional depth, and the audience was moved by the story of the town's recovery.

The musical score was composed by a local composer, and it added a layer of emotional depth to the performance. The audience was uplifted by the music, and many left with tears in their eyes.

The production received high praise from critics and audiences alike, and it is hoped that it will be remembered as a defining moment in the company's history.

The Very Best in Rock & Roll featuring HEADSTONE 20c Hot Dogs 3 - 6 pm

Mon. Night Only Pete Fogelberg

The Very Best in Rock & Roll featuring HEADSTONE

20c Hot Dogs 3 - 6 pm

Mon. Night Only Pete Fogelberg

TOMORROW NIGHT!

HANCHER AUDITORIUM

El Fronteteria Restaurant & Grocery

We specialize in:
• TACOS • TOSTADOS
• MEXICAN RIBS • LOBSTER
• Plate Lunches • Dinner

Monday-Thursday 11 am - 9 pm

Friday-Saturday 11 am - 10 pm

SUNDAY 11 am - 6 pm

BIJOU THEATRE

There are several openings for new events on the Bijou Film Board. Applications are available at the film office, Activities Center, IMU. Deadline is Friday, January 20, 5 pm. Interviews will be held Sunday, January 29th.

El Fronteteria Restaurant & Grocery

We specialize in:
• TACOS • TOSTADOS
• MEXICAN RIBS • LOBSTER
• Plate Lunches • Dinner

Monday-Thursday 11 am - 9 pm

Friday-Saturday 11 am - 10 pm

SUNDAY 11 am - 6 pm

BIJOU THEATRE

There are several openings for new events on the Bijou Film Board. Applications are available at the film office, Activities Center, IMU. Deadline is Friday, January 20, 5 pm. Interviews will be held Sunday, January 29th.

The Very Best in Rock & Roll featuring HEADSTONE

20c Hot Dogs 3 - 6 pm

Mon. Night Only Pete Fogelberg

The Very Best in Rock & Roll featuring HEADSTONE

20c Hot Dogs 3 - 6 pm

Mon. Night Only Pete Fogelberg

TOMORROW NIGHT!

HANCHER AUDITORIUM

El Fronteteria Restaurant & Grocery

We specialize in:
• TACOS • TOSTADOS
• MEXICAN RIBS • LOBSTER
• Plate Lunches • Dinner

Monday-Thursday 11 am - 9 pm

Friday-Saturday 11 am - 10 pm

SUNDAY 11 am - 6 pm

BIJOU THEATRE

There are several openings for new events on the Bijou Film Board. Applications are available at the film office, Activities Center, IMU. Deadline is Friday, January 20, 5 pm. Interviews will be held Sunday, January 29th.
Controversy amid NCAA legislation

While the association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (IAW) is coming to its end, the NCAA continues to face scrutiny for its policies.

The NCAA has been at the center of recent controversies for its policies regarding compensation, recruitment, and other issues. The organization is currently under pressure to address concerns about the commercialization of college sports and the welfare of student-athletes.

Wrestlers face tough task

Though a few of the Hawkeyes' wrestlers are leaving, the second-year coach wants the Hawkeyes to be competitive in the top shape when they go on the road this weekend against nationally ranked Minnesota.

If the Hawkeyes hope to stay competitive, junior Mark Bargonse is going to have to be ready to take on the challenge. While senior David Mostrom has been the mainstay of the team, Bargonse is the up-and-coming wrestler that most experts agree needs to step up to the plate.

Meanwhile, the Huskers boast good depth and a solid team that has been competitive in recent seasons.

Woodside's swimmers host Southern Illinois

It's a little trick that eight swimmers from the University of Minnesota will be able to use to gain a competitive edge. The trick is to use the twisting, turning pool that will be the site of the Woodside Invitational this weekend.

The pool is known for its unique layout, which makes it a challenge for swimmers to swim. The Woodside swimmers have been training for months to prepare for this meet, and they are looking forward to the opportunity to compete.

Track season debuts

As expected, the Hawkeyes' track team came in the form of a dominant performance at the Wooden Invitational.

The team, led by senior Patrick Leake, had a solid showing in nearly every event. Leake won the 800 meters with a time of 1:53.8, and the team won the team title with 103 points.

Sportscripts

Openings for Shorin Ryu classes

Shorin Ryu karate classes are being offered to both beginners and advanced students. The classes are taught by certified instructors with a focus on technique and movement.

The classes are held every Saturday from 9:00 AM to 11:00 AM at Joe's Place, 115 Iowa Ave., Iowa City. For more information, call 505-000-0000.
Eyes Washington job

Pardee resigns Bears' post

CHICAGO (UPI) — Jack Pardee resigned as coach of the Chicago Bears yesterday. He was fired on an emergency basis after the Bears lost 38-0 to the Washington Redskins.

"I have no words to describe the situation but I can say that it has been a very difficult decision," Pardee said in a press conference.

Pardee, who had been the head coach of the Bears for 11 seasons, will remain on the team as a special assistant to the general manager.

Football: Answered with emotions

Jack Pardee's resignation after a 38-0 loss to the Washington Redskins was a stinging blow to the Bears' fans, the coach himself, and the entire football world.

"Everybody has had some tremendous moments with Jack Pardee," said Bears owner George M. Halas. "This is a sad day for everybody who has been involved with the Bears.

"We will honor Jack by retiring his number and by naming a new football complex in his honor.

Mathews in 'Hall,' hits players' ethics

NEW YORK (UPI) — Helio Mathews, a player for the New York Giants, was suspended for one game after he was accused of hitting a player with an elbow.

"I'm not going to comment on the incident," Mathews said. "I don't want to make a public issue of it.

Notre Dame No. 17, Senators says nay

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's coaches voted Notre Dame No. 17 in their annual poll of the best college football teams.

"I'm surprised," said Notre Dame coach Ara Parseghian. "I thought we were No. 14, but Coach Tom Landry of Alabama said we were No. 17.

"I'm not going to argue, but Coach Landry must have a better memory than I do.

The Daily Iowan—Iowa City, Iowa—Friday, January 26, 1965—Page 11

DI Classifieds 355-6201

HELP WANTED

GOVERNMENT JOB, $1,100, 35 HRS A WEEK, 8to5, 4to12. 337-3813.

MILITARY INSTRUMENTS

WE PAY $4.00 PER BOX TRASH COLLECTED. CALL 337-3813.

DI Classifieds being results!
Wildcats outlast sluggish Hawkeyes

By ROGER THROCK

Winnebago

Iowa shot a respectable 50 per cent from the field and made both free throws against Minnesota's defense in the second half of the game, but the Hawkeyes held the game to a 4-3 lead in the second half after the first five minutes. The final score of the game was 79-76, with Michigan leading 1-0 in the Big Ten conference game.

The Hawkeyes, who fell into the game in the conference, managed to only a 50 per cent shooting rate and only five points in the second half. The Michigan defense was led by forward Joel Thompson, who scored 14 points in the second half. Thompson also led the team in rebounds with 13 and blocks with 8. The Michigan forward was named the game's Most Valuable Player.

The Hawkeyes, who led by 11 early in the first half, were trailing by 12 late in the first half. Michigan February 1 was leading by 10 points in the first half. The Hawkeyes would need to score at least 10 points in the second half to avoid being swept by the Big Ten champions.

The Hawkeyes had only six points at the half, and they would need to score at least eight points in the second half to avoid falling to the Big Ten champions.

The Illinois State team, led by forward Joel Thompson, scored 14 points in the second half. Thompson was named the game's Most Valuable Player. The Illinois State team would need to score at least 12 points in the second half to avoid being swept by the Big Ten champions.

The Michigan forward was named the game's Most Valuable Player. The Michigan forward scored 14 points in the second half. The Michigan forward was named the game's Most Valuable Player. The Michigan forward scored 14 points in the second half.

The Illinois State team would need to score at least 12 points in the second half to avoid being swept by the Big Ten champions. The Illinois State team would need to score at least 12 points in the second half to avoid being swept by the Big Ten champions. The Illinois State team would need to score at least 12 points in the second half to avoid being swept by the Big Ten champions.