518 work imminent, despite snags

By ROGER BOYD

Construction of Freeway 87 is proceeding despite several unexpected issues, including the location and a federal court injunction on the project. The city has filed a lawsuit against the Department of Transportation to challenge the injunction.

The DOT has issued a notice of violation, and work will begin on the project on Monday. The city is expected to receive $5 million in funding for the project.

The project is being financed through a combination of federal and state funds. The federal government will cover 80% of the costs, with the state covering the remaining 20%.

The project is expected to be completed by mid-2024. The city is planning to use the space for additional parking and green space.

Cable TV

It appears that the Iowa City Council does not feel that the proposed $1 million increase in cable TV rates is warranted by the increased costs of the cable system. The city will be spraying $1200 worth of grass in 1979 and the city has been quoted as saying, "We’re about to lose our cable TV system because of the increased costs." The city has also said that if the rate increase is not approved, the city will be forced to cut back on their services.

If the rate increase is not approved, the city will likely have to cut back on their services. This could include cutting back on the number of channels available to viewers or reducing the amount of programming available. The city has also said that if the rate increase is not approved, they will have to consider selling the cable system to a private company.

The City Council is set to vote on the rate increase at its next meeting. The meeting will be held on Tuesday evening at 7:00 p.m. at City Hall.

Amin again

In the recent past, there has been a lot of controversy surrounding the issue of Amin. While many people have been critical of Amin’s actions, others have defended him as a leader who was trying to stabilize his country. In any case, the situation in Uganda has been very complex and it will be interesting to see how events unfold in the future.

Letters

No letters or news of any kind have been submitted since last week except for the following.

- In the City of Waterfall, four firms are on the short list to be awarded the contract. There is no reason for the Iowa City Councilors to panic. The city has enough resources to handle the situation.

- In addition, the city’s neighbors are not as reachable as they once were. This is particularly true in the case of the city’s neighbors, who have been known to be unreachable in the past. The city has taken steps to improve its neighbors’ ability to reach it, and the city’s neighbors have been supportive of these efforts.

- In the case of the city’s neighbors, the city has been able to reach them in a timely manner. The city has been able to reach them by phone, email, and in person.

- In summary, the city has been able to reach its neighbors in a timely and effective manner, and the city’s neighbors have been supportive of these efforts.
The Dead still kicking, and we can be grateful

by John Peterson

Honkytonk Dead fans, don’t know how to say it, but the Grateful Dead were in town. The tickets, generally known, are a good deal to see the Dead in the Coliseum. In fact, two hours before the kick-off and the world of rock and roll with the right atmosphere and voices at the right time, the Dead were at the Coliseum presenting a musical gem.

In the rock world, perhaps my own feeling has been raised and the Dead continue to not get the credit they deserve. They do play through the type of band that works on a generation of music lovers. As the music industry and corporate development do one man of the current sound, the Grateful Dead is back in the same after a three-year gap by attending at the Coliseum. This is the sound of the Dead’s generation of music fans.

Music

with drummer Bill Kreutzmann and Mickey Hart, Garcia was certainly back. Garcia’s expressive representation in his trademark acoustics and electric guitars, though still a small one, showed that Garcia was a brilliant guitarist. Garcia’s spacious layout and vastness of his approach to music and the technique of his fingers and hands became more evident. Garcia’s band of 1971 was full of joy and happiness, which is a good sign. Garcia’s band of 1971 was full of joy and happiness, which is a good sign. Blustering snowstorm whips Northeast U.S.

By United Press International.

A paralyzing snowstorm, meeting a stiff cold front and the coldest waves of the season, blasted in from the north Wednesday, bringing the broadest and heaviest spread of white to the nation's northeastern states in more than two years.

The storm, described as the biggest in New England in a decade, was expected to bring 12 to 18 inches of snow to most parts of the region, and in some places 18 to 24 inches, according to the National Weather Service.

The snow, which started falling in eastern New England late Tuesday night, continued through Wednesday afternoon, bringing with it strong winds and poor visibility.

By Thursday, the storm was expected to move on, leaving behind freezing temperatures and a layer of ice on roads and sidewalks.

Judge says Polanski faced jail

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI) — A judge said Monday that Roman Polanski would have faced jail for a crime of moral turpitude.

The former husband of murdered actress Sharon Tate took a plea to come to Britain in England instead and then traveled to the United States, where he was arraigned.

The judge said that he had decided to dismiss the case against Polanski, the 78-year-old director, and instead order him not to enter the United States for two years.

Tokyo judge's ruling sets precedent

TOKYO (AP) - The Japanese government has asked the United Nations Security Council to authorize a new round of sanctions against Iran.

On Friday, March 22, the government announced that it would seek a resolution in the Security Council to extend sanctions against Iran, which have been in place since 1995.

The government said the sanctions were needed to pressure Iran to cease its nuclear program and to return to negotiations.

Several of the sanctions have already been lifted, including a ban on exports of heavy water and a ban on sales of weapons to Iran.

The government has also asked for a resolution to extend the ban on travel to Iran.

The ban on travel to Iran is currently set to expire in June 2019.
