Miners hit with Taft-Hartley

Carter may punish leaders who defy order

WASHINGTON, D.C. — President Carter invoked the Taft-Hartley Act today to stop a coal miners' strike, warning that those who defy orders to return to work will suffer punishment.

In a move that could escalate the long-running battle over wages and working conditions, the president said he would begin legal action to force the strikers to return to work.

The strike, which began in February, has involved thousands of miners in a coal field near the town of Whitesburg, Ky.

Carter said he was acting to protect the nation's energy supply and to prevent the spread of unrest.

Fat chance!

A small group of UMW miners near Whitesburg, Ky., were some of the few who continued to work today. They said they would resist the government's order to return to work.

The UMW miners said they would continue their strike until the government agreed to their demands for better working conditions and higher wages.

In the meantime, the number of coal miners on strike across the country has increased, with some miners refusing to return to work.

Union leaders to Carter edict: 'No way, bud'

By United Press International

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Union leaders today denounced the president's order to return to work, calling it an attempt to undermine their efforts to improve working conditions.

They said they would continue to fight for better wages and working conditions, regardless of the government's order.

'Another strike' publisher Larry Flynt cloakingly wounded in shooting

By James Worthy

NEW YORK (UPI) — Publisher Larry Flynt was shot in the chest Monday, but he is expected to survive.

Flynt, who founded Hustler magazine, was shot outside his home in Atlanta.

A manhunt is underway for the shooter, who is believed to be a member of a rival motorcycle gang.

Black fraternities to meet with IFC

By ROY DUNN
Staff Writer

The Interfraternity Council (IFC) and the presidents of the 22 Greek fraternities will meet today to hear a presentation by the fraternities' leadership on the resolution.

The meeting is scheduled, according to the IFC president, to begin at 4 p.m. in the athletic center.

"I think the purpose of the meeting is to review the proposal and answer any questions about it," said the IFC president, who added that the meeting will be open to the public.

"There will be a discussion about the proposal and any concerns or questions from both sides," he said.

The resolution was introduced by the Speaker's Bureau of the Interfraternity Council of the Iowa City (ICIC) and the Iowa City Fraternity Association (ICFA).

The resolution calls for the establishment of a permanent task force to address the concerns of the fraternities and to ensure that the fraternities are treated fairly.

"We have been working with the fraternities on this resolution for some time," said the IFC president. "It is important to us that we address the concerns of the fraternities and that we work to ensure that they are treated fairly and with respect.

"We believe that the resolution is a step in the right direction," he said.

The meeting will be held in the athletic center and is open to the public.

"We encourage everyone to attend and to participate in the discussion," he said.

Students favor bowling alley survival

By TERENCE DAWSON
Staff Writer

A proposal to open a new bowling alley on the campus of the University of Iowa was met with enthusiasm by students at a recent meeting.

"I think it's a great idea," said one student. "We need a place to bowl and have fun, and this would be the perfect place for it.

"I think it would be a great addition to our community," said another student.

The proposal was presented by the Student Government Association (SGA) and the Student Senate.

"We believe that the proposal is a good one and that it would benefit the students," said the SGA president.

The proposal is expected to be voted on by the Student Senate at its next meeting.

"We are looking forward to hearing the results of the vote," said the SGA president.

To the Editor:

Your recent columns have caused me to read more carefully about the IFC distortions. In particular, I have been following the developments of the SAIC and the DI outbreaks. It appears that the IFC is playing a significant role in the dissemination of false information and manipulation of public opinion. The role of the IFC in these matters is becoming increasingly evident, and I believe it is necessary to address this issue in the upcoming meetings of the International Council.

Letters

Declarations and real facts

The recent developments in the region have raised important questions about the role of the IFC. While the IFC claims to promote democracy and human rights, there is growing evidence that it is actively engaged in manipulating public opinion and suppressing dissent. The recent disturbances and outbreaks in the region have been linked to the activities of the IFC, and it is essential to address these issues in a transparent and accountable manner.

Let not the sun go down upon your wrath

I am writing to express my concern about the role of the IFC in the recent disturbances and outbreaks in the region. The IFC has been accused of playing a significant role in manipulating public opinion and suppressing dissent. It is essential to address these issues in a transparent and accountable manner.

The number is almost gone from the building as workmen lower the "5" of the Chicago Daily News Saturday. After 39 years the building is "5"

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Monday agreed to vote, without debate until later, on two treaties with Panama that would determine the fate of the Panama Canal. The treaties, which were signed by President Donald Trump, would transfer control of the canal to Panama.

The Senate voted 40-28 on the treaties, with 12 senators voting present or absent. The vote was the first of its kind in the Senate since the 1860s, when Congress passed the Morrill Act, which created the United States Army.

The treaties, which would take effect in 2021, would give Panama control of the canal and the surrounding land. The treaty with Panama, which was signed in 1977, would allow Panama to control the canal's operations and maintenance.

The Senate also voted 40-28 on a treaty with Peru, which would transfer control of the Peruvian Amazon basin to Peru. The treaty was signed in 1992.

The treaties are the result of negotiations between the United States and the countries involved. The treaties would take effect on Friday, March 11, 2021.
Paper bras, girdles and nudes alter Old Brick's atmosphere

The local brick, as puffed by Gerald Ford, was to be the backdrop for the opening of the show. Old Brick, Iowa City's second-oldest building, was to be shown in all its architectural glory.

The sensory overload, according to the organizers, was not just limited to the art. The smell of freshly baked bread filled the air, and the sound of jazz music echoed through the building.

The show, which was titled "Old Brick: A Centennial Celebration," was held at the old brick building on the corner of 3rd and E Streets.

The building, which was built in 1895, was one of the oldest buildings in Iowa City.

The event was sponsored by the Iowa City Arts Commission and the Iowa City Public Library.

The event featured a variety of art, including paintings, sculptures, and photographs.

The atmosphere was lively, with people of all ages attending.

The event was a success, and the organizers plan to hold similar events in the future.

Moscow censors art of 9 nonconformists

The Moscow censors have banned books, paintings, and sculptures by nine artists who are considered nonconformists. The artists include Boris Kuznetsov, Yevgeny Vuchetich, and Andrey Talalayev.

The censors理由 were that the artists' work was "anti-revolutionary." The artists were given the option to appeal the decision, but they chose not to.

The ban is part of a larger crackdown on free speech and artistic expression in Russia.

The artists have been given the option to appeal the decision to a higher court, but they have not chosen to do so.

Pain abbreviates Drake's career

George Washington left the U.S. Presidency with tears of joy in the eyes. He felt that the country's future was secure. But he must have turned to the people of the nation feeling the same way, feeling that the country's future was secure. But he must have turned to the people of the nation feeling the same way.

Drake turned down his recent season, but he will return to the economic recession. In his first interview, Coach Lute Olson was asked if he had spoken with Drake about the possibility of playing basketball again, and he said, "I have no idea what he's going to do."

And in the end, I'm sure Drake will have to say that if he ever played basketball again, it would have been a decision that he made for himself. But if he ever played basketball again, it would have been a decision that he made for himself. It's tough to have a heart attack when you're 36, but he has a heart attack when he's 36.
