Asbestos: "insidious, dangerous"
WASHINGTON, D.C. — Calling radiation one of the most dangerous and long-lasting substances in the workforce, the environmental movement opened a dinner-speech campaign today in which it is joining forces with a real estate giant in its battle to halt an asbestos tragedy.
Mr. Calhoun said the American Lung Association had just held a three-day meeting to gather the latest information on asbestos and to plan a national campaign against smoking.
A new study by the Johns Hopkins School of Public Health, which examined the health records of more than 100,000 workers exposed to asbestos, found that asbestos workers had a higher incidence of lung cancer than nonsmokers.
The report, which was presented at the National Cancer Institute, found that asbestos workers had a risk of lung cancer that was twice as high as that of nonsmokers.
Calhoun said that the report confirmed the findings of earlier studies and that the asbestos industry had failed to take adequate precautions to protect workers.
"The asbestos industry has been aware of the dangers of asbestos for decades," Calhoun said. "But they have continued to expose workers to asbestos, and they have not done enough to protect the public."
The American Lung Association is joining forces with the real estate giant in its campaign against asbestos.
The real estate giant is the Corning Glass Works, which is the largest asbestos manufacturer in the United States.
The Corning Glass Works has been a major supplier of asbestos to the construction industry for many years.
"The asbestos industry has a lot of money to spend on its campaign," Calhoun said. "But we have the facts on asbestos, and we are going to tell the public what they need to know."

Oscar Mayer and Co. officials announced Wednesday plans to build a new processing plant in Wisconsin.
The company said the new plant will be located in the town of Saukville, which is about 20 miles north of Milwaukee.
Oscar Mayer and Co. is a major producer of processed meats, including hot dogs, which are produced in the United States.
Alcoa City and Co. officials confirmed Wednesday that their plant in Saukville will be expanded to meet increasing demand for processed meats.
"We are very pleased to be able to invest in our Saukville plant," said Dave Ecklund, president of Oscar Mayer and Co.
Ecklund said that the expansion of the plant will create about 200 jobs and increase production by 20%.

In a move Wednesday, the public school board approved a $1.2 million budget that will fund new programs and services, including a new drug testing program.
The budget also includes a $250,000 increase in the budget to fund the district's new health and safety initiatives.
But the budget was not without controversy.
The council was divided on the issue of the budget, with some members arguing that the district needed more money to fund its programs and services, while others argued that the district was spending too much money on unnecessary programs.
Sen. Roth said that the council was not able to agree on a budget that met the needs of the district.
"The council was not able to agree on a budget that met the needs of the district," Sen. Roth said. "We were not able to agree on a budget that was fair to all of the district's constituents."
He added that the council would continue to work on the budget in future sessions.

Married housing rent delayed
The Daily Iowan

Married college residents will have to pay $8.40 per month more for the next year for their rent because the University of Iowa Housing Alternatives, however, is unable to make the increase effective before the school year begins. A recommendation that students living in married housing should pay an additional rent to support the Women’s Resource and Action Center (WRAC) and the Lesbian Alliance, groups that were recently formed under previous budgeting regulations, was accepted by the senate. This increase will not go into effect until next year.

Why do Jews get all the pity?

To the Editor:

I’d like to mention that the article on the Jews in St. Paul, Minn., by B.J. Vaziri (April 24), really hit the nail on the head, I feel. I was brought up in a region with a Jewish majority, and I can assure you that the feeling of being pitied is as much present here. Jews are often the first to be blamed for any crisis, and the German-Jewish community, in particular, is often accused of being responsible for the world’s problems.

It is a feeling that is also present in many parts of the world, where Jews are often the scapegoats for the problems of society. It is a feeling that is not only present in Germany, but also in many other parts of the world.

I would like to thank you for bringing this issue to the attention of the readers.

Sincerely,

Final destruction is inevitable

I was greatly moved by the front-page article on the Holocaust, story of the family Wizen. During the tragic story of history with other views expressed, I have read the reports of the question of today’s morality. What happened in the World War II, the United States should be protected by belligerent, standing in favor of the United Nations, and without any doubt.

We, the Jews, have been preserved as a people, and we are not going to give up our fight for our survival. The world should take a lesson from the history of the Jews.

Sincerely,

Shевченко quits job, will stay

United Nations (IP) -- The Soviet Union has instructed its ambassador, Deputy Minister Shевченко, to return to Moscow from his long absence abroad because of a domestic dispute.

The left-wing faction of the UN, according to a Soviet source, is against the ambassador's long absence from Moscow, and the UN position is that Shевченко is needed here. But a steward heard the news today.

Shевченко, in a letter signed "шевченко," said he would return to Moscow immediately. He said his leave had nothing to do with the Soviet government's position on the UN.

Belgian Statue snatched

BRUSSELS (AP) -- Bruxelles' "shut up" citizen -- a Brussels statue of a spoon sitting quietly -- was stolen Sunday night, but it appeared the theft was accidental.

The only trouble with the spoon was that the brass spoon was stolen.

There was a brass spoon in the statue.

According to a Brussels police spokesman, the spoon was taken out of the statue.

"It couldn't be upset," the spokesman said. "It was meant as a joke for the people who put it there.

Shевченко's leave was for a domestic dispute of his within the Soviet Union, which he said was a private matter.

"We all rather be selling," she added.

American student to be exchanged for Soviet spy: more swaps possible

NEW YORK (AP) -- An East German lawyer and her American lover will be in the United States Wednesday and Thursday. They are to be exchanged for two Americans who are currently in East Germany.

The international go-between promised more swaps and possible Cuba and Puerto Rico revolutions.

'Straight ahead,' the Cuban says.

"If I represent one client and that's it," he said. "I think we could add more to the swap.

Vogel and Kalinowsky will collect the American prisoners in the next few weeks, Vogel informed. They have said they are ready to add more to the swap. I have no idea of the numbers.

Vogel and Kalinowsky have said they are ready to add more, they have said they are interested in reading about the American prisoners.

Tangenberg and Kalinowsky have said they are interested in reading about the American prisoners. They have been in touch with Vogel for a week and said they are interested in reading about the American prisoners.

Tangenberg has already "please, don't do anything until I tell you," she said.

"We all thought the swap was a possibility," she added.

"An Unmarried Woman"
Mazursky having identity problems

BY JAY WALLACE
Staff Writer
When director and screenwriter Paul Mazursky drives into a traffic subject, the result is an insightful look into the psyche of a man who is trying to find his place in the world.

Mazursky has been an actor and a director for many years, and he has a reputation for being a witty and insightful writer. This film features a strong cast, including Diane Keaton, who delivers a powerful performance as the main character.

The film is a blend of drama and comedy, and it explores the crisis of identity that many middle-aged men face. Keaton's character, Sandy, is a successful businesswoman who is carried away by a man named Sandy, who is a failure. She begins to question her own identity and the role of women in society.

The film is a poignant reminder of the challenges faced by women in the workplace and the struggle for independence. The life of a successful woman is not easy, and she must struggle to maintain her identity.

Despite the themes of identity and independence, the film is entertaining and well-crafted. The performances are top-notch, and the script is witty and insightful. Overall, "An Unmarried Woman" is a must-see for anyone interested in the themes of identity and independence.

Weather staff revisited

by NEIL BROWN

Some are fluked by it. Others consider it a plague. Many people really don't care. But the weather moves at such a fast pace that it is, in my opinion, the most time-consuming and most calls are fun. But the call is what makes one of the best weather staffs in the nation. The newscast, usually the first interview with the television news, is known as the weather staff. The true story behind, above and behind the newscast report is:

There are no people on the weather staff. None. However, the regular staff members are the best weather staff in the nation. They are known as the "Weather Staff," and their job is to bring the news to the viewers in a way that is easy to understand. But the weather staff is not a team of people. It is a group of individuals who work together to bring the news to the viewers. The weather staff is not a team of people. Les Dudek:
Free agent of rock

Les Dudek, 27, has spent much of his life as a "solo artist" in the world of rock. He has been known for his work with the band "Town Parade," and his solo efforts have earned him critical acclaim. Dudek is known for his ability to "play the blues" and his "lyrical" approach to songwriting. Despite his success, Dudek has never been part of a major label and continues to work as a "free agent" in the music industry. Dudek's music is often described as "experimental" and "challenging," and his fans appreciate his unique approach to songwriting and performance. Despite the challenges of being a "free agent," Dudek remains committed to his craft and continues to produce music that is both innovative and timeless.
