Committee urges arms sale delay

Press

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee urged the administration to temporarily withhold arms sales to Egypt and Saudi Arabia, according to a summary of the panel's findings obtained by the Associated Press.

The panel, led by Sen. Joe Biden, D-Del., said the United States should delay the sale of military equipment to the two nations until the crisis in the Middle East is resolved.

The Senate panel is considering an embargo resolution that the House has already passed.

The so-called "embargo package" would prohibit the sale of certain military equipment to Egypt and Saudi Arabia, as well as other nations.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee is scheduled to vote on the issue next week.

Pentagon to trade arms for troops

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon has reached a deal to trade arms sales for troops in a bid to ease tensions with Egypt.

The deal, which is expected to be announced in the coming days, would see the United States provide Egypt with some of its excess military equipment in exchange for the release of troops from Egypt's military service.

The agreement comes as part of a broader effort by the United States to improve relations with the Arab world.

The United States has long been a major supplier of military equipment to Egypt, providing it with a wide range of weapons and training.

However, the outbreak of the Arab Spring in 2011 led to a sharp decline in U.S. military sales to the country, as Egypt struggled to maintain its grip on power.

Despite this, the United States remains a key military partner of Egypt, providing it with a significant amount of military aid.

The new proposal aims to address this imbalance by trading arms for troops, which could help improve relations between the two countries.

The deal is expected to be announced in the coming weeks, with final details to be announced at a later date.

Workers protest worldwide in May Day marches

WASHINGTON (AP) — Workers around the world took to the streets on May Day to protest against a range of issues, including labor rights, economic inequality, and political repression.

In the United States, workers joined mass demonstrations in cities across the country, with thousands marching in New York City, Los Angeles, and Chicago.

Abroad, workers gathered in cities such as Sydney, London, and Tokyo, where they demanded better working conditions and an end to labor exploitation.

The International Workers' Day, also known as May Day, is a holiday observed in many countries to commemorate the struggle of workers for better conditions and rights.

The holiday was first celebrated in the United States in 1890, and has since grown into a major event in many countries around the world.
Iranians march to protest Shah's regime and celebrate Pentacrest. Participants included members of the Iowa City Transit System's advisory group made up of students, a faculty member and Dean Mohammad Pahlavi. What's happening out of town is no secret to them. Iran's march will be on the same day that the masks are worn, and the Pahlavi regime will be under attack.

By CAPITAL JOURNALS

But what is the mask all about? The mask is a symbol of resistance, a symbol of the fight against the Shah's regime. It is worn by people to protest the Shah's oppressive rule and to show their support for the Islamic Revolution. The mask is a powerful tool for the people of Iran to resist against the regime, and it demonstrates their determination to create a better future for their country.

The mask is a powerful symbol of resistance and solidarity, and it continues to be worn by people all over Iran to this day. It serves as a reminder of the struggle for freedom and independence, and it serves as a reminder of the strength and resilience of the Iranian people.

Council against 518, for bypass

The Iowa City Council Monday opposed the current proposal for the Iowa Road Improvement Project and asked the County Engineer to review the construction of the road. The council also voted to ask the State Department of Transportation for an alternative to the southern part of Iowa.

Council member Richard Steck believes the council should not go ahead with the project because the city's residents do not want the road. He said the council should consider other options before making a decision.

Service and maintenance are the two biggest factors that concern the council. The city is requesting a $1.5 million bond to maintain the road, and the City Council's Peoria street is used by 27,000 cars a day.

Bikeways in sad condition: parts broken, no curb cuts

Parts of the bikeway on the Coralville Reservoir have fallen apart, and the city has been forced to put on a temporary repair path.

A repair at the South Bend Bridge on Monday was made with a temporary repair path. The repairs will be made to the bridge and the sidewalk.

Police Beat

A dispute over a building's location in Coralville, Iowa, has led to a series of incidents.

The Coralville police department has responded to 15 calls about the building in the past month.

The building's owner, who is also the property manager, said the police have been called to the building several times in the past month.

Other crimes in the area include cars being stolen and a few break-ins.

The Colorado River is a vital resource for the American Southwest. Without it, the region would not be the rich and diverse place it is today. The river provides water for drinking, irrigation, and drinking, and it supports a wide variety of wildlife and vegetation. It is also a popular destination for recreation and tourism. However, the Colorado River faces many challenges, including drought, overuse, and pollution. It is crucial that we work together to protect and conserve this precious resource for future generations. To learn more about the Colorado River and its importance, please see the links below.

Myers and Leach employment vs. spending?

The Employment-Hawkins bill and the proposal of increased employment across the board are opposed by the majority of the country, according to Leach. The program, he maintains, will be too hard to keep from falling back into other programs such as social security.

Leach said he was advocating targeted employment programs that go into minority groups, large employers and young people.

Man climbs 19 floors to post whale banner

CHICAGO (UPI) - Joe Healy climbed 19 stories in near freezing temperatures and was whisked off in a police van by Friday afternoon.

"He didn't even pick it up a week ago," said Chief Deputy Fire Marshal Charles Henry. A 19-story window had been broken in one of the many floors of the building. He was greeted by applauding friends.

"If he's in, he's in," Mayor Harold Washington said as he watched the banner being raised. He was awarded a fine of $35.

The haunting, gentle music of falling water

By Von V. Stover

Judging by its looks, you wouldn't think much of it as a musical instrument. However, for many Africans, the mbira is indeed a musical instrument. It is a type of musical instrument that is played with a metal stick. The mbira is also known as the jew's harp. It is a small, portable instrument that is made of wood and is used to create a variety of sounds. The mbira is particularly popular in Shona culture. The mbira is a traditional instrument that is used in many African cultures. It is a symbol of strength and wisdom. The mbira is an important part of African music and culture.
