Prop 13 scares California government

SNIPPELD S.F. (UPI) - Under attack since Proposition 13's passage, state government officials were trying yesterday to halt the momentum of an unusual political development: the appearance of a new movement of anti-tax sentiment in the state.Senate President pro-tempore James F. "Jim" Brulte, D-Chicago, introduced a resolution yesterday that would ask the state Assembly to send a reporter to Washington to conduct a study of the impact of Proposition 13 on the state.

"The resolution asks for an investigation of the financial and political implications of Proposition 13 so that we'll have the best information possible before we have to decide whether or not to pass it," Brulte said.

details the resolution, which is based on a proposal that was presented to the House in 1975 by Assemblyman Robert Norden, IOM.

Brulte, who was joined by Assemblyman William "Bill" Ward, D-Chicago, and Assemblyman John T. "Jack" Thompson, D-Chicago, said the resolution is a response to "the political firestorm that has been created by Proposition 13".

"Proposition 13 has created a political climate that is highly favorable to the passage of similar measures on a national level," Brulte said. "We want to make sure that we have the best information possible before we make a decision on whether or not to pass Proposition 13 in California."
James Farmer counters Stokely's nasty jibe

At the Daily Iowan Staff Writer

Black Americans must band together and mobilize with other minority and women's organizations to work in unison and advance the political and economic glad-handing, civil rights leader James Farmer said today.

Farmer, a nonviolent civil rights campaigner during the 1950s and 1960s and a founder of the Congress for Racial Equality, spoke at the UI's 10th Annual Institute for African-American Culture.

He said blacks, like other minority groups, have a variety of different tactics to achieve economic goals, which vary according to the local situation and the type of goal or targets.

"If we have an economic goal, our tactics may be different than if our goal is to promote our political rights," Farmer said.

Hammering away at Ku Klux Klansmen who tried to intimidate farmers out of Louisiana in the back of a barrack in a lunch shack, he talked of the leadership of the nonviolent movement in the Soviet Union and elsewhere. He talked of a group of dedicated black-communists who were "working hard to make a difference, to make people think about their political rights to this country. Out of those discussions grew CORE, the Congress of Racial Equality in the city of Chicago.

FARMER, who won a 1960 Guggenheim fellowship for his work in Moscow, is on a 10-day US visit, and will speak on his experiences at a number of Black American colleges and universities, including the University of Iowa, where he is one of the nation's leading black civil rights leaders.

FDA agrees to guarantee quality of generic drugs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Food and Drug Administration Wednesday signed a landmark agreement with New York state to guarantee the quality of the counterfeit, inexpensive drugs it will buy for its health program is in place of more expensive brand-name drugs.

The agreement, the first of its kind between the federal government and any state, will allow New York to sell all FDA guarantees that the lowest bidder offering is supplying generic drugs meets all FDA standards for quality.

New York buys 80 million worth of drugs each year for its hospitals and other state agencies.

Jim Gerard, D-Md., who has been pushing for generic drugs for years, and who sits on the Joint Committee on the Library, said the agreement is a good way to cut health care costs.

Joseph Nardini, D-Md., who has been pushing for generic drugs for years, and who sits on the Joint Committee on the Library, said the agreement is a good way to cut health care costs.

“FDA is an agency of the United States government, but it is also a small business that needs to cut costs,” Nardini said.

“We have a responsibility to cut costs, and this agreement is a step in the right direction,” Nardini said.

Soccer powers up; Austria reaches finals

BUDAPEST (AP) — The underdog turned the heads upside down Thursday as it was the winner in a second qualifying round game in which Scotland was out of the running, and Hungary and France are out. The one-sided match was a classic. The Hungarians took their chances on the second day and pushed through. The final eight will be Austria and Argentina, Italy, and the team of the future, the Scots, who won with some of the best players in the world.

It's a great feeling to finally be able to give the fans a chance to show what we can do. We're really happy that we made it to the final round. We were ready to do it and we're ready to give it our best shot. It's a great opportunity to show the world what we can do.
