Briefly

‘Bakke’ won’t hurt, Califano says

Washington (UPI) — Federal Housing Administration and Urban Development Secretary C. F. Calistro said on ABC’s “This Week” that he was optimistic the Bakke decision would not have a serious impact on minority housing because of a lack of publicity.

Calistro said that the Supreme Court decision, which found that race could not be used in evaluating housing applications, could be ignored by those who believed in minority housing.

New massacre in Rhodesia

Johannesburg (Reuters) — Black nationalist guerrillas massacred 17 youths Friday in a village near Salisbury.

The guerrillas killed 12 men and five women, police said. The deaths were the latest in a series of incidents in which black guerrillas have killed 300 people in the past nine days, according to police estimates.

Two of the victims were killed at a police station.

Goals for with juries in heading off an estimated day’s also was the largest demonstration off limits road leading to the airport.

Israel agrees to peace talks with Egypt, Mondale reports

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin today said he was willing to begin peace talks with Egypt.

“Bakke’ won’t hurt, Califano says

Washington (UPI) — C. F. Calistro, who heads the Urban Development Agency, said on ABC’s “This Week” that he was optimistic the Bakke decision would not have a serious impact on minority housing because of a lack of publicity.

Briefly

israel agrees to peace talks with Egypt, Mondale reports

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin today said he was willing to begin peace talks with Egypt.

The decision, which was expected to be announced today, was based on a letter from Egyptian President Anwar Sadat, who has been negotiating for peace in the Middle East.

In a speech to his Cabinet, Begin said he was willing to open negotiations with Egypt, which has been at war with Israel since 1948.

“I believe this is an opportunity for the region to move forward in the search for peace,” Begin said.

Begin added that he would be willing to discuss all issues, including the status of the West Bank and the Gaza Strip.

While the decision was welcomed by many in the region, it also raised concerns about the future of the Palestinian Authority, which has been in control of areas of the West Bank and the Gaza Strip since 1996.

Syrians clash with Christians in Beirut

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Syrian troops opened fire on Syrian Christians in the Christian quarter of Beirut, killing at least one person and wounding several others.

The Syrian government has ordered the Syrian Army to restore order in the Christian quarter, which has been a scene of unrest in recent weeks.

Kamel encourages peace efforts, warns of Egypt’s drive to regain territory

CAIRO, Egypt (UPI) — Foreign Minister Farouk Karam said yesterday that Egypt will continue its efforts to achieve peace in the Middle East, but that it will not be drawn into negotiations if they are not based on a just and comprehensive plan.

Karam said that Egypt is willing to participate in any peace negotiations that are based on the原则 of the principle of “land for land.”

He added that Egypt is prepared to make concessions in order to achieve peace, but that it will not be drawn into negotiations if they are not based on a just and comprehensive plan.

Weather

We’re feeling so good as the Philadelphia Phillies this season, and it seems like the weather is cooperating with us. It’s a beautiful day outside and the sun is shining bright.

Reporters call for Section 8

WASHINGTON, D.C. (UPI) — A reporter from the Associated Press has called for the government to make Section 8 housing more available to low-income families.

The reporter, who wished to remain anonymous, said that the government should make Section 8 housing more available to low-income families.

Regional leaders call for Section 8

ABERdeen, Wa. (UPI) — Regional leaders in the region called for the government to make Section 8 housing more available to low-income families.

They said that the government should make Section 8 housing more available to low-income families.

President Carter says he will support efforts to improve Section 8 housing

WASHINGTON, D.C. (UPI) — President Jimmy Carter said today that he would support efforts to improve Section 8 housing.

Carter said that he would support efforts to improve Section 8 housing.

The President said that he would support efforts to improve Section 8 housing.

Inside

Judith Green on ‘Vanities’
NEW trial ordered in rape case

Vernon nuclear plant shown to have cracks

For those who prefer the sound of music to the sound of speakers...

Infinity's Qe. $105.

In the Daily Iowan

Decline and fall of the pupfish

The Daily Iowan

Takes

WAINSCOTT, N.Y. — The Interior Department is taking a step off the endangered species list for one of its most striking and colorful members.

The pupfish was among about 200 species of fish added to the endangered species list because of biological threats ranging from water pollution to overfishing.

The pupfish is found in the five ponds on New York’s Long Island, near the town of Wainscott. It is a bright blue fish with orange and yellow fins.

The federal government, in declaring the pupfish endangered, said the species was in imminent danger of extinction.

The decision was made after a study by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service showed that the pupfish was being wiped out by pollution, overfishing and other factors.

The pupfish was added to the list of endangered species because of the biological threats it faces. The species is found in the five ponds on Long Island, near the town of Wainscott.

The federal government, in declaring the pupfish endangered, said the species was in imminent danger of extinction.

The decision was made after a study by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service showed that the pupfish was being wiped out by pollution, overfishing and other factors.

The pupfish was added to the list of endangered species because of the biological threats it faces. The species is found in the five ponds on Long Island, near the town of Wainscott.

The federal government, in declaring the pupfish endangered, said the species was in imminent danger of extinction.

The decision was made after a study by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service showed that the pupfish was being wiped out by pollution, overfishing and other factors.

The pupfish was added to the list of endangered species because of the biological threats it faces. The species is found in the five ponds on Long Island, near the town of Wainscott.

The federal government, in declaring the pupfish endangered, said the species was in imminent danger of extinction.

The decision was made after a study by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service showed that the pupfish was being wiped out by pollution, overfishing and other factors.

The pupfish was added to the list of endangered species because of the biological threats it faces. The species is found in the five ponds on Long Island, near the town of Wainscott.

The federal government, in declaring the pupfish endangered, said the species was in imminent danger of extinction.

The decision was made after a study by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service showed that the pupfish was being wiped out by pollution, overfishing and other factors.

The pupfish was added to the list of endangered species because of the biological threats it faces. The species is found in the five ponds on Long Island, near the town of Wainscott.

The federal government, in declaring the pupfish endangered, said the species was in imminent danger of extinction.

The decision was made after a study by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service showed that the pupfish was being wiped out by pollution, overfishing and other factors.

The pupfish was added to the list of endangered species because of the biological threats it faces. The species is found in the five ponds on Long Island, near the town of Wainscott.

The federal government, in declaring the pupfish endangered, said the species was in imminent danger of extinction.

The decision was made after a study by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service showed that the pupfish was being wiped out by pollution, overfishing and other factors.

The pupfish was added to the list of endangered species because of the biological threats it faces. The species is found in the five ponds on Long Island, near the town of Wainscott.

The federal government, in declaring the pupfish endangered, said the species was in imminent danger of extinction.

The decision was made after a study by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service showed that the pupfish was being wiped out by pollution, overfishing and other factors.

The pupfish was added to the list of endangered species because of the biological threats it faces. The species is found in the five ponds on Long Island, near the town of Wainscott.

The federal government, in declaring the pupfish endangered, said the species was in imminent danger of extinction.

The decision was made after a study by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service showed that the pupfish was being wiped out by pollution, overfishing and other factors.

The pupfish was added to the list of endangered species because of the biological threats it faces. The species is found in the five ponds on Long Island, near the town of Wainscott.

The federal government, in declaring the pupfish endangered, said the species was in imminent danger of extinction.

The decision was made after a study by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service showed that the pupfish was being wiped out by pollution, overfishing and other factors.

The pupfish was added to the list of endangered species because of the biological threats it faces. The species is found in the five ponds on Long Island, near the town of Wainscott.

The federal government, in declaring the pupfish endangered, said the species was in imminent danger of extinction.

The decision was made after a study by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service showed that the pupfish was being wiped out by pollution, overfishing and other factors.

The pupfish was added to the list of endangered species because of the biological threats it faces. The species is found in the five ponds on Long Island, near the town of Wainscott.

The federal government, in declaring the pupfish endangered, said the species was in imminent danger of extinction.

The decision was made after a study by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service showed that the pupfish was being wiped out by pollution, overfishing and other factors.

The pupfish was added to the list of endangered species because of the biological threats it faces. The species is found in the five ponds on Long Island, near the town of Wainscott.

The federal government, in declaring the pupfish endangered, said the species was in imminent danger of extinction.

The decision was made after a study by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service showed that the pupfish was being wiped out by pollution, overfishing and other factors.

The pupfish was added to the list of endangered species because of the biological threats it faces. The species is found in the five ponds on Long Island, near the town of Wainscott.

The federal government, in declaring the pupfish endangered, said the species was in imminent danger of extinction.

The decision was made after a study by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service showed that the pupfish was being wiped out by pollution, overfishing and other factors.

The pupfish was added to the list of endangered species because of the biological threats it faces. The species is found in the five ponds on Long Island, near the town of Wainscott.

The federal government, in declaring the pupfish endangered, said the species was in imminent danger of extinction.

The decision was made after a study by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service showed that the pupfish was being wiped out by pollution, overfishing and other factors.

The pupfish was added to the list of endangered species because of the biological threats it faces. The species is found in the five ponds on Long Island, near the town of Wainscott.

The federal government, in declaring the pupfish endangered, said the species was in imminent danger of extinction.

The decision was made after a study by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service showed that the pupfish was being wiped out by pollution, overfishing and other factors.

The pupfish was added to the list of endangered species because of the biological threats it faces. The species is found in the five ponds on Long Island, near the town of Wainscott.

The federal government, in declaring the pupfish endangered, said the species was in imminent danger of extinction.

The decision was made after a study by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service showed that the pupfish was being wiped out by pollution, overfishing and other factors.

The pupfish was added to the list of endangered species because of the biological threats it faces. The species is found in the five ponds on Long Island, near the town of Wainscott.

The federal government, in declaring the pupfish endangered, said the species was in imminent danger of extinction.

The decision was made after a study by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service showed that the pupfish was being wiped out by pollution, overfishing and other factors.

The pupfish was added to the list of endangered species because of the biological threats it faces. The species is found in the five ponds on Long Island, near the town of Wainscott.

The federal government, in declaring the pupfish endangered, said the species was in imminent danger of extinction.

The decision was made after a study by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service showed that the pupfish was being wiped out by pollution, overfishing and other factors.

The pupfish was added to the list of endangered species because of the biological threats it faces. The species is found in the five ponds on Long Island, near the town of Wainscott.

The federal government, in declaring the pupfish endangered, said the species was in imminent danger of extinction.

The decision was made after a study by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service showed that the pupfish was being wiped out by pollution, overfishing and other factors.

The pupfish was added to the list of endangered species because of the biological threats it faces. The species is found in the five ponds on Long Island, near the town of Wainscott.

The federal government, in declaring the pupfish endangered, said the species was in imminent danger of extinction.

The decision was made after a study by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service showed that the pupfish was being wiped out by pollution, overfishing and other factors.

The pupfish was added to the list of endangered species because of the biological threats it faces. The species is found in the five ponds on Long Island, near the town of Wainscott.

The federal government, in declaring the pupfish endangered, said the species was in imminent danger of extinction.

The decision was made after a study by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service showed that the pupfish was being wiped out by pollution, overfishing and other factors.

The pupfish was added to the list of endangered species because of the biological threats it faces. The species is found in the five ponds on Long Island, near the town of Wainscott.

The federal government, in declaring the pupfish endangered, said the species was in imminent danger of extinction.

The decision was made after a study by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service showed that the pupfish was being wiped out by pollution, overfishing and other factors.

The pupfish was added to the list of endangered species because of the biological threats it faces. The species is found in the five ponds on Long Island, near the town of Wainscott.

The federal government, in declaring the pupfish endangered, said the species was in imminent danger of extinction.

The decision was made after a study by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service showed that the pupfish was being wiped out by pollution, overfishing and other factors.

The pupfish was added to the list of endangered species because of the biological threats it faces. The species is found in the five ponds on Long Island, near the town of Wainscott.

The federal government, in declaring the pupfish endangered, said the species was in imminent danger of extinction.

The decision was made after a study by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service showed that the pupfish was being wiped out by pollution, overfishing and other factors.

The pupfish was added to the list of endangered species because of the biological threats it faces. The species is found in the five ponds on Long Island, near the town of Wainscott.
'Vanities' displays stellar portrayals, superb staging

By JUDY GREEN
Staff Writer

Vanities is a twisted comedy that follows three high school classmates through their college sorority days into the promises and perils of real life. The play is an engaging and perceptive portrayal of the transition from foolish adolescent fantasies to adult realities.

The three women are constantly involved in the play's major themes: their struggle to be entirely themselves while pursuing a world that promises to be real, but in a physical sense that ultimately changes. The play vividly illustrates the women's growth and their changing notions of the world around them.

The three women are onstage throughout the play, and we are thus able to see the physical changes that are occurring and parallel to their emotional evolution. The dialogue is sharply focused, funny, and believable. The women's speech is unforced and natural, and each movement was integral to the overall perspective. The play is an almost musical theatrical event and a superb staging of the three women's lives.
High goals at Elderhostel

In a note that would cause emotions to rise in the heart of the nation, the Elderhostel Institute announced today that it is expanding its mission to include the entire country. This new initiative, which will see the establishment of Elderhostel centers in every state, is expected to have a profound impact on the way Americans view and engage with the Elderhostel.

The Elderhostel, a well-known organization that offers educational opportunities to older adults, has traditionally focused on providing programs in specific regions. However, the new plan will allow the Elderhostel to reach a much broader audience, providing opportunities for learning and personal growth to people of all ages.

The Elderhostel will be expanding its reach through partnerships with existing organizations, as well as by establishing new centers in underserved areas. The organization is also committed to ensuring that its programs are accessible to all, regardless of income or background.

In addition to the expansion of its geographic reach, the Elderhostel is also planning to increase the diversity of its offerings. The organization will be partnering with a variety of institutions to bring a wide range of educational opportunities to its participants.

The Elderhostel's new mission is expected to have a positive impact on the country's social fabric, as it will provide opportunities for intergenerational learning and engagement. The organization is confident that its new initiatives will be welcomed by people of all ages and backgrounds.

Battle over Seabrook enters new phase

In a move that could have far-reaching implications for the future of the Seabrook nuclear power plant, the state of New Hampshire has announced its determination to stop the project.

The decision was met with mixed reactions, with some expressing concern about the potential impact on the local economy, while others welcomed the move as a step towards protecting the environment.

New Hampshire Governor John Sununu, who announced the decision, cited concerns about the safety of the plant and the potential for environmental damage as reasons for the decision. The governor also expressed concern about the high cost of the project and the long delays in its development.

The decision to halt the project has been met with mixed reactions. Some have welcomed the decision as a step towards protecting the environment, while others have expressed concern about the potential impact on the local economy.

Letters

Dear Editor,

I am writing to express my deep concern about the current state of the Elderhostel. As a long-time participant, I have seen firsthand the positive impact that the organization has had on my life and the lives of many others.

However, I am日益 increasingly concerned about the organization's direction and its ability to continue providing the high-quality educational opportunities that have made it such a cherished institution.

I urge the Elderhostel leadership to recommit to its core mission and to ensure that it remains focused on providing meaningful learning opportunities to all.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Water, water everywhere

Even though the amount of water in the state of New Hampshire has not changed significantly over the past year, there are still areas where water is scarce. In some parts of the state, people are facing water shortages due to drought conditions.

Governor Sununu has announced a new initiative to address the state's water needs, which includes funding for water conservation programs and incentives for water-efficient practices.

In a statement, Governor Sununu said, "Water is a precious resource that we must use wisely. We must ensure that we have enough water to meet the needs of our communities and our environment."

The governor has also called on local communities to take action to conserve water and urged residents to be mindful of their water usage.

In addition to the state's efforts, local communities are also taking steps to address water shortages. Some towns have implemented water conservation measures, while others have invested in new infrastructure to increase water supply.

The efforts to conserve water are expected to have a positive impact on the state's water supply and help to ensure that future generations will have access to this vital resource.
Kinks rock flawlessly; Murphy flaccid

By DAVID ALBERT
Staff Writer

When people speak of the Kinks, they think of the mod band that rose on the scene as part of the British Invasion. But there was another Kinks, the band that played at Woodstock, that also rose to fame as part of the British Invasion. This other Kinks was a band that played at Woodstock, and they were known for their hit song "Lola." In 1969, the band released their self-titled album, which contained the hit song "Lola." The album was a huge success, and it helped to cement the band's place in rock history.

Music

Lola is the band's most famous song, and it's a great example of their sound. The song is a catchy pop tune with a strong rhythm section and a memorable chorus. The lyrics are about a man named Lola who's looking for love, and the song is all about the ups and downs of relationships.

Packages

The band released a series of packages in the 1970s and 1980s that were designed to capture the essence of their sound. These packages included live albums, box sets, and compilations of their greatest hits. Some of the most popular packages were "The Kinks Are the Village Green Preservation Society," "The Kinks Are the Village Green Preservation Society," and "The Kinks Are the Village Green Preservation Society."

DI Classifieds 353-6201

HELP WANTED
WANTED: Janitor, 353-2207.
WANTED: Bartenders and cocktail maculate, $5.75, 351-1636.
WANTED: Receptionist, 353-1720.
WANTED: Janitor, 353-2207.
WANTED: Babysitter, 353-1720.
WANTED: Bartenders and cocktail maculate, $5.75, 351-1636.
WANTED: Receptionist, 353-1720.
WANTED: Janitor, 353-2207.
WANTED: Babysitter, 353-1720.
WANTED: Bartenders and cocktail maculate, $5.75, 351-1636.
WANTED: Receptionist, 353-1720.

POSTCARDS

Corrections

The Public Library and The Spirit That Moves Us are now both available from the rack may be borrowed from the rack may be borrowed from the rack without any restrictions.

Postscripts

"Little" magazines

The Public Library and The Spirit That Moves Us are now both available from the rack may be borrowed from the rack may be borrowed from the rack without any restrictions.

DI Classifieds 353-6201

HELP WANTED
WANTED: Janitor, 353-2207.
WANTED: Bartenders and cocktail maculate, $5.75, 351-1636.
WANTED: Receptionist, 353-1720.
WANTED: Janitor, 353-2207.
WANTED: Babysitter, 353-1720.
WANTED: Bartenders and cocktail maculate, $5.75, 351-1636.
WANTED: Receptionist, 353-1720.
WANTED: Janitor, 353-2207.
WANTED: Babysitter, 353-1720.
WANTED: Bartenders and cocktail maculate, $5.75, 351-1636.
WANTED: Receptionist, 353-1720.

THE WAR WHERE YOU SCORE

All draft beer, bar liquor and wine is going for 50¢ price
Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday
(no cover charge on all three nights)

Tuesday you will receive a Free Drink ticket at the door for everyone!
7:30-10 PM

WOODFIELDS

Our business is your good times
221 W. Washington, above Nemos
Doors open at 7:30 pm

Monday thru Wednesday
3-fers
till 11pm No Cover Charge coming Thursday...
50¢ Highballs $1 Pitchers
till 10pm

NOW WE'RE OPEN 7 DAYS A WEEK!

GRAND DADDY'S
505 E. Burlington

THE DAILY IOWAN

The following areas need community volunteers.

200 Avenue, 8th St.
Coralville
S. Dodge, N. Summit, Governor, Whiting
S. Clinton, S. Linn, Dubuque
S. Clinton, E. Benton, E.

25-30 Bedroom;
3rd floor apartment.

1 Bedroom, quiet area.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.

3rd floor apartment.
Angels gain share of AL West lead

By United Press International

Pitch-hitter Tony Saunders of the Los Angeles Angels stopped the Seattle Mariners cold Tuesday night at the Kingdome, providing the club with another convincing victory in the feeble American League West.

Saunders, a right-hander, was sharp against the M's as he fashioned his first complete-game shutout in his last six starts. He allowed seven hits and struck out four in a 9-0 victory that extended the Angels' winning streak to five games.

Saunders was the winner, while Dave La Torre was the losing pitcher. It was the 14th consecutive victory for Saunders, who is 2-0 in that span.

The Angels (59-49) increased their lead to 11 games over the Seattle Mariners (48-60) in the AL West, which boasts the poorest mark in the major leagues.

Saunders labored through much of the game, but managed to get through seven innings. He walked three batters and retired 20 of the first 27 Mariners that he faced.

Saunders held Seattle to singles until the fifth inning, when the Mariners scored three runs. The game remained 0-0 until the seventh, when the Angels burst for four runs on four hits.

Saunders (7-7) retired 17 of the final 18 batters he faced.

Tony Saunders struck out 12 in his six innings.

Saunders' big day was the latest in a string of impressive performances by Los Angeles starters.

Rogers leads Western Open

By United Press International

Mike Rogers led off the Los Angeles Angels with a perfect game at the Western Open Tennis Championships in Dallas.

Rogers, a 21-year-old right-hander, was on his game from the beginning, retiring the first six batters he faced. He allowed only two hits in six innings, keeping the Angels' lead in the AL West at 11 games.

Rogers, who has a 3-9 record this season, is the latest in a string of impressive performances by Los Angeles starters.

Scoreboard

In other National League play, Atlanta outlasted San Francisco 3-2 on Tuesday night at the Polo Grounds in New York. Dale Berra of the Mets and Don Gullet of the Giants tied the game at 2-2 with solo home runs.

By United Press International

Mike Rogers led off the Los Angeles Angels with a perfect game at the Western Open Tennis Championships in Dallas.

Rogers, a 21-year-old right-hander, was on his game from the beginning, retiring the first six batters he faced. He allowed only two hits in six innings, keeping the Angels' lead in the AL West at 11 games.

Rogers, who has a 3-9 record this season, is the latest in a string of impressive performances by Los Angeles starters.

Scoreboard

In other National League play, Atlanta outlasted San Francisco 3-2 on Tuesday night at the Polo Grounds in New York. Dale Berra of the Mets and Don Gullet of the Giants tied the game at 2-2 with solo home runs.

By United Press International

Mike Rogers led off the Los Angeles Angels with a perfect game at the Western Open Tennis Championships in Dallas.

Rogers, a 21-year-old right-hander, was on his game from the beginning, retiring the first six batters he faced. He allowed only two hits in six innings, keeping the Angels' lead in the AL West at 11 games.

Rogers, who has a 3-9 record this season, is the latest in a string of impressive performances by Los Angeles starters.

Scoreboard

In other National League play, Atlanta outlasted San Francisco 3-2 on Tuesday night at the Polo Grounds in New York. Dale Berra of the Mets and Don Gullet of the Giants tied the game at 2-2 with solo home runs.

By United Press International

Mike Rogers led off the Los Angeles Angels with a perfect game at the Western Open Tennis Championships in Dallas.

Rogers, a 21-year-old right-hander, was on his game from the beginning, retiring the first six batters he faced. He allowed only two hits in six innings, keeping the Angels' lead in the AL West at 11 games.

Rogers, who has a 3-9 record this season, is the latest in a string of impressive performances by Los Angeles starters.

Scoreboard

In other National League play, Atlanta outlasted San Francisco 3-2 on Tuesday night at the Polo Grounds in New York. Dale Berra of the Mets and Don Gullet of the Giants tied the game at 2-2 with solo home runs.

By United Press International

Mike Rogers led off the Los Angeles Angels with a perfect game at the Western Open Tennis Championships in Dallas.

Rogers, a 21-year-old right-hander, was on his game from the beginning, retiring the first six batters he faced. He allowed only two hits in six innings, keeping the Angels' lead in the AL West at 11 games.

Rogers, who has a 3-9 record this season, is the latest in a string of impressive performances by Los Angeles starters.