Carter labels public works bill "inflationary," -vows veto

"We've got to get in a position for a budget that the American people can afford," said the president.

"It costs too much, it's too wasteful." - President Carter

The Senate will consider the president's fiscal year 1979 budget next week, Carter said.

Limits on adult businesses passed; council okay parking ramp plans

By JOHN DEMPSTHY Staff Writer

As an ordinance to prohibit the locating of adult businesses within 500 feet of each other was introduced at a special meeting, an amendment was made (by Mayor Hammer) to have the zoning ordinance read twice before a vote is taken on the second reading.

The council also approved the plans for a new parking ramp to be built adjacent to the new Burlington St. Church. The ramp will be 300 feet long and 100 feet wide. It will be a concrete structure with a capacity of 500 cars. The project is expected to cost $200,000. The ramp will be ready for use by late summer.

Anti-parietal petition launched

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A statewide anti-parietal petition drive organized by student groups at Iowa universities is being launched Friday in Des Moines.

"We are fighting against the parietal rule," said Joanne Clough, president of the Iowa State University Parietal Reform Committee. "The parietal rule was introduced in 1967 and has been a cause of frustration and concern for students over the years. It limits the number of students who can live in residence halls and requires that students have parental approval.

The petition drive is being led by students at Iowa State University, the University of Iowa, Iowa State University, and the University of Northern Iowa. The goal is to gather signatures from at least 10,000 students statewide in order to force a referendum on the parietal rule.

"We are fighting for the rights of students," said Clough. "The parietal rule is outdated and unfair. It restricts our freedom of choice and infringes on our rights as adults."

The petition drive is being supported by a network of student groups across Iowa, including the Iowa Student Senate, the Iowa Student Association, and the Iowa Student Government.

"We are united in our fight against the parietal rule," said Matt Johnson, president of the Iowa Student Senate. "This rule is a relic of a bygone era and it's time for it to be abolished."

The petition drive is expected to continue for several weeks, and organizers are encouraging students to sign the petition and spread the word to their peers.

"We need your support," said Clough. "Together we can make a difference. Let's work towards a future where students have the freedom to live where they choose and make decisions for themselves."

Cartier's shaky rally

J. Carroll's phalanx has been present for at least the past week but he may have been hoping for a larger crowd. The rally was scheduled for Carville, Louisiana, but J. Carroll was unable to make it.

There is no question that J. Carroll's phalanx is a force to be reckoned with. However, it is not clear if they will be able to make a difference in the upcoming election. The phalanx consists of a group of supporters who have been following J. Carroll's campaign and are willing to lend their support. However, it is not clear if they will be able to mobilize enough voters to make a significant impact.

The phalanx is made up of a diverse group of supporters, including former J. Carroll supporters, people who are new to politics, and those who are simply interested in supporting a candidate who is different from the norm.

Despite the challenges, J. Carroll's phalanx has been very effective in mobilizing supporters. They have been able to attract a large crowd to the rally and this is a testament to their hard work and dedication.

It is clear that J. Carroll's phalanx is a force to be reckoned with, but it remains to be seen if they will be able to make a difference in the upcoming election.

Cloak and dagger

No defense from an Eastern European country can affect our security as much as it does. Our government is not only responsible for our own security, but also for the security of our neighbors. We must do everything in our power to protect our citizens and our allies.

The recent attack on our embassy in Carville, Louisiana, was a clear threat to our security. The embassy was destroyed, and several people were injured. This is a clear example of how important it is to protect our citizens and our allies.

The United States government has made it clear that we will not tolerate any threats to our security. We will do everything in our power to protect our citizens and our allies, and we will not hesitate to use force if necessary.

Bob Krause

Theodore Olmsted, a long-time observer of Russia, has dismissed much of the concern over the Russian threat. Krause said that while most Americans are concerned with the possibility of a military confrontation, he is more concerned with the political changes that could occur in the event of a war.

Krause is the state equivalent of Birkhead, and said that recent developments in Russia are a cause for concern. He said that the United States and its allies must be prepared to take action if necessary.

The Administration is clearly a different one from that of the late Robert Ray, Krause said. He said that the state equivalent of Birkhead is to be on the lookout for developments in Russia.

Krause also defended the state equivalent of Birkhead, saying that his policies are sound and that the state is in good hands.

The House of Representatives is to investigate the Treasurer's office for two reasons, Krause said. He said that the investigation is to determine if the Treasurer's office is handling state funds properly, and to determine if the Treasurer's office is following the law.

Krause also said that the Treasurer's office is to be investigated because of the recent sales tax investigation. He said that the Treasurer's office has been handling state funds properly, and that the sales tax investigation is to determine if the Treasurer's office is following the law.

Krause also defended the Treasurer's office, saying that it is doing a good job.

More ‘suicide missions’ by fanatical sect foreseen

CENTA, Bethesda (UPI) — A Roman Catholic bishop has condemned a sect that has been at war with the United States for 15 years for its "suicide missions" to kill U.S. políticians.

In a statement released today in Bethesda, Bishop Louis M. Crotty said the sect, known as the "Grey Men," has carried out more than 40 such missions since its formation in 1960.

The sect, which is based in Scotland, has been responsible for several deaths of high-ranking U.S. officials, including an assassin who killed U.S. Sen. John F. Kennedy in 1963.

Crotty said the sect’s objectives include "killing the American president," "killing the pope," and "killing the president of the United Nations." He said the sect’s activities are a "threat to world peace."
Jackson's bat lifts Yankees, 7-1

Kansas City (UPI) - Reggie Jackson, as reliable in the clutch as he is noted for his home run hitting prowess, delivered with his right bat and left arm Oct. 19 to hit two home runs, including a three-run blast in the eighth inning, to give the Yankees a 7-1 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers in Game 3 of the American League pennant race. It took a 1-0 lead in the best-of-five series.

The first game of the American League pennant race was a 6-4 Yankee win over the Los Angeles Dodgers in Hialeah, Fla., which was followed by a 4-3 Yankee victory in the second game. The Yankees have a 2-1 lead in the series.

The second home run by Jackson, a second-pitch hit to center field, gave the Yankees a 7-4 lead. The third home run of the series was hit by Dave Winfield, who went 4-5 with two doubles.

Yankees manager Bill Virdon said, "Jackson's two home runs were the difference in the game. He was a big factor in the outcome."

The Yankees' defense was good, with left-hander Bill Bonham pitching a five-hitter for the winning pitcher. The Los Angeles Dodgers' offense was feeble, with left-hander Bill Buckner pitching a five-hitter for the losing pitcher. Cowboys try to regroup after 9-5 loss

Newark (UPI) — Having dropped their last three games, the Cowboys try to regroup after Tuesday’s 13-7 loss to the Sooners.

The Sooners, who were playing their second game of the week, had two touchdowns and a field goal in the first quarter. They took the lead early in the fourth quarter and held on to win, 13-7.

The Cowboys, who had been leading 7-6 at halftime, were outplayed in the second half. They had 137 yards of total offense compared to the Sooners’ 256.

Coach Sherrill said the Cowboys had a chance to win if they had made some big plays early in the game. "We made a few big plays, and so did they, but we also made some big mistakes," he said. "We need to get back to the basics and start playing better defense."
